ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 18.-Russia's naright of being consulted through their chosen representatives in the suggestion, Friday. preparation and repeal of legislation, today takes its place among the fundamental institutions of the empire. In a solemn manifesto Emperor Nicholas announces this morning to his subjects the again by announcing a still lower rate. fruition of his plans summoning the repre sentatives of the people, as outlined by him GRAND ARMY APPOINTMENTS. in a rescript issued on March 3 last, and fixes the date for the first convocation as Commander King Announces Armid-January and in a ukase addressed to the senate formally orders that body to register as the imperial will a law project formulating the nature, powers and proce dure of the new governmental organiza-

The manifesto, ukase and project are published this morning in special editions of the Official Messenger in St. Petersburg and Moscow. They will be given out for publication at noon to all newspapers throughout the empire, many of which are preparing to issue extra editions to signala momentous historical event, overhas been happily chosen with due regard to the poetical symbolism so dear to the Russian heart, for on this day is celebrated the religious feast of the transfiguration of Christ, with the bringing to the church of he first fruits of the new harvest.

Power of the Assembly.

The national assembly will be a consultative organization, in connection with the council of the empire, and not a legislative The powers of the emperor remain theoretically absolute. As the emperor is the supreme law-giver and autocrat, "the decisions of the council have only a recommendatory and not a binding force, though the rejection of any legislative measures by a two-thirds majority of both houses is sufficient to prevent that measure from becoming, law. The representatives of the will have not only the right to be heard on any legislation proposed by the government, but also can voice their desires on new laws and will have the right exert a certain supervision over budgetary expenditures.

The suffrage, though wide, is not universal. It is based on property qualification, the peasantry having a vote through membership in communal organizations. A considerable portion of the residents of the cities possessing no lands, together with women, soldiers, civil functionaries, etc., are without suffrage.

Text of the Decree.

The manifesto follows:

The empire of Russia is formed and strengthened by the indestructible solidarity of the emperor with the people and of the people with the smperor. This concord of emperor and people is the great moral force which has created Russia in the course of centuries by protecting it from all misfortunes and all attacks and has constituted up to the present time a piedge of unity, independence, integrity, material well-being and intellectual development. In our manifesto of February 24, 1968, we called to a close understanding all the faithful sons of the fatherland in order to protect the organization of the state by establishing on a firm basis the domestic life of the empire and then we devoted ourselves to the task of co-ordinating elective public institutions with governmental authorities and of removing the disagreements existing between them which had reacted so disastrously on the normal course of our national life.

Powers of the Assembly. The manifesto follows:

Powers of the Assembly,

The autocratic emperors, our ancestors, constantly had that object in view and the time has come to follow out their good intentions and to summon elected representatives from the whole of Russia to take constant and active part in the elaboration of laws, thereby attaching to the higher state institutions a special consultative body entrusted with the preliminary elaboration and discussion of measures, and with the examination of the state budget.

It is for this reason, that while preserving the fundamental law regarding the autocratic power, we have deemed it well to form a goaudarstvennaia douma (lower house of the assembly) and to approve the to form a gosudarstvennaia douma (lower house of the assembly) and to approve the regulations for elections to this douma, extending the validity of these laws to the whole territory of the empire, with such exceptions only as may be considered necessary in the case of some regions in which special conditions obtain. As regards the participation in the labors of the gosudaratvennaia douma of delegates from the grand duchy of Finland on quesrom the grand duchy of Finland on ques-ions concerning the empire in general and he grand duchy in particular, we will take special measures.

At the same time we have ordered the minister of the interior to submit immediately for our approbation regulations for the elections to the doums so that deputies from fifty governments and from the military province of the Don may be able to assemble not later than the middle of January 1998.

Much Power is Reserved. We reserve to ourselves entirely the car of perfecting the organization of the gosudarstvennata douma, and when the course of events shall have shewn the ne-cessity for changes corresponding comceasity for changes corresponding com-pletely to the meets of the times and the welfare of the empire we shall not fail to give at the proper moment the necessary directions give at the proper moment the necessary directions.

We are convinced that those who shall have been elected by the confidence of the whole people and who will thus be called upon to participate in the legislative work of the government will show themselves in the eyes of all Russia to be worthy of the imperial trust. In the virtue of which they have been invited to co-operate in this great work, and that in perfect harmony with other institutions and authorities of the state established by us they will contribute profitably and zeelously to our labors for the well being of our common mother. Russia, and for the strengthening of the unity, the security and the greatness of the empire, as well as for the tranquility and prosperity of the people.

Frayer for the Nation.

Prayer for the Nation. Prayer for the Nation.

In invoking the blessing of the Lord on the labors of the institution established by us and with unsinkable confidence in the grace of food and in the infallibility of the great historical destinies reserved by divine providence for our beloved fatherland, we firmly hope that with the help of God Almighty and with the combined efforts of all its sons Russia will emerge triumphant from the trying ordeals through which it is passing and will be born again in the strength, the greatness and the glory of its history, extending through a thousand years.

BLACK PESSIMISM REIGNS IN PORTSMOUTH

Break in Negotiations.

In the Six Days' Discussion They Have Vielded Nothing-Russia Accepts Seven Conditions Outright.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 18.-Black pessimism reigns at Portsmouth tonight. The prevailing view is that the fate of the peace conference is already sealed, that it remains is for the plenipotentiaries to meet this afternoon, upon completing the seriatim consideration of the Japanese terms, sign the final protocol, go through the conventions and bid each other farewell. In other words, that the meeting Tuesday will be what diplomacy calls the "seance d'adleu," but there is still room for hope of a comcement even still closer the ties that bind the powers will see the chance of peace I shipwrecked without a final effort and that pressure is being exerted especially at Tokio to induce Japan to moderate its terms is beyond question. Just what is being done or is to be done has not transpired. King Edward is understood to be now lending a helping hand and the finanburg the final issue will be decided. The and explained, but they have yielded not an iota of the substance of their original demands. M. Witte accepted outright seven of the twelve Japanese conditions, one in principle and four, including the main issues, indemnity and Sakhalin he rejected. The other, the limitation of sea power and the surrender of interned ships, might have been arranged had there been any prospect of agreement on the two points upon which the divergence seemed irreconcilable.

In the oral discussion of the terms, M. It is pointed out that the manifesto is timed like what the French call a coup de fondre, and that its significance is too plain to be questloned. It was to have passed in the United States congress to in a chance remark. This is that Taggart been issued last Saturday when the Ruspay a pension of $12 a week to wage-carn- was not in his right mind after he came sian reply was presented, but it was held over until the conclusion of the oral consideration of the Japanese terms. Meantime the terms had been published everywhere throughout Russia. The press, even the liberal press, had replied that Russia could not pay money for the privilege of getting out of Manchuria. The emperor had publicly proclaimed to his subjects on July 28 in reply to a telegram of the Oremburg clergy: "The Russian people can rely upon me, I will never conclude a peace humiliating or unworthy of great Russia."

The manifesto is Emperor Nicholas' answer to the Japanese demand for the payment of a war tribute. The grant of this broad reform is considered as virtually an appeal to the Russian people for support to regist It.

At Tokic it is impossible to tell what ylew will be taken. Peace probably can be even now secured by the sacrifice of the indemnity. Vague intimations tonight come from the Japanese side that "the demand for the cost of the war" might be moderated, but M. Witte's reply is that he will pay liberally for the maintenance of the Russian prisoners in Japan, "but not a kopeck for tribute." Views of Both Sides. The gravity of the situation from the Japanese point of view is contained in the following authoritative statement given to the Associted Press: I cannot say positively, because all things are possible, but I fear that the meeting on Fuesday will be the farewell session of the Vashington conference. Japan has done its tmost for peace. Russia now knows
