The moon is beautiful," he said. "The moon is beautiful to-night--bee how it gleams high overheod. All pure and clear and sliver white." She merely murmered soft and low: "The moon-The moon-Ah is that so?" "The stars are lovely, too," he sighed. "How marvelously do they gleam! As jewels scattered far and wide Upon the robe of night they seem." Her voice was like a babbling brook's: "The very glad you like their looks." And so he raved about the sky And all the lovely stars that shone. In somewhat of a freezing tone: "Yee, they are very fair to see." moon is beautiful," he said, he moon is beautiful to-night-In somewhat of a trivial to see, "Yes they are very fair to see,"" Dut. Oscar, have you noticed me?" -N. D. Nesbit, Few social events for the coming week are announced, but before Saturday arrives the calendar will undoubtedly be full. The Field club will be the center of social activities this week, for tomorrow the much. taiked of Middle West tennis tournament begins, and the members of the club are anticipating a gay week. Many social affairs for the visiting teams have been planned, so that the time when they are tot playing tennis will be well occupied. Many of the visitors have been in Omaha before, having played here last year or the season before and the members of the Field club are looking forward to meeting them again. Those who have not been in Omaha before, will not be strangers long. for the Field club members are very cordial. The club boasts of more pretty girls than any organization in Omaha, and after the tournament last year, there were rumors of several pretty romances.

pleasant camping party of young people near Ashland this week was suddenly broken up by the drowning of one of the members of the party, Mr. Charles Von Mansfelde, of Omaha. The death of Mr. Von Mansfelde cast a gloom over a large circle of his acquaintances in this city, where he was well-known and very popular among his associates. Among those in the party were Miss Ethel Tukey, Miss Fannie Cole and the Misses Von Mansfelde. of Omaha

A "kimono party" is the latest thing to reach Omaha in the way of entertainment. and was one of the affairs given for a popular visitor one of the warm mornings last week. A passer-by, if he had chanced the week for a stay of ten days in York, to pass along a certain street, would have seen on the broad veranda of one of the handsomest residences in Omaha, a bevy of pretty girls, attired in dainty, fetching kimonos, with their sewing and fancy work. Near by was a tea table from which were dispersed fudges, nuts, ices, lemonade and cake. All who were present pronounced the kimono party a great success.

Many people are away at present, and that probably accounts for the few dinners given at the Country club last evening. One of the largest was given by Mr and Mrs. Leonard Everett of Council Bluffs. in honor of Mrs. Johnson of St. Joseph. and another was the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Merriam, in honor of Miss Warfield, who is Miss Natalle Merriam's guest. LA SAVOIE BADLY CRIPPLED

French Liner Reaches New York with One of Its Shafts

Broken.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 .- The French line teamer La Savole limped into port today The total cost will be about $1,000,000 and partially disabled, one of its engines having gone out of commission on Thursday. The steamer had little trouble in working along under a single engine until the narrow channel leading up to the city was reached, and by that time the assistance which had been summoned by wireles telegraph was at hand. A tug boat helped the big liner around sharp turns in the narrow water pathway and it came up to its dock without accident. An examination had more fun Friday morning than if they of the engine disclosed the fact that the
