AS TO COST OF ELECTRICITY

City Electrician Ordered to Make Report of Matter to Council.

ZIMMAN MAKES START ON NEW TACK

All Members of Council Agree on Matter and Michaelson Says Report Will Be Exhaustive and Impartial.

Following the reduction of gas rates, as a result of the fight over the street lighting contract, the city is to have a thorough investigation made to develop a possible basis for the compulsory reduction of charges for electric light and power service to private consumers by the Omaha Electric Light and Power company. In a resolution introduced by President Zimman and adopted unanimously by the council Friday morning, City Electrician Michaelson is directed to make a thorough inquiry of all vital conditions in the matter in cities of the country of 100,000 population or over, to compare these with Omaha, and to make a report setting forth the facts.

Officials Talk on Subject.

"It is a fact, as stated by City Clerk Eibourn and others that the electric light and power rates in Omaha are not justified by the cost of production, it is my intention to do all I can to bring about a reduction," said President Zimman. "The report of the city electrician, honest and made, will give the city officials authentic information to work on."

City Attorney Breen says he believes the city has the right to enforce "fair and reasonable" charges by the electric light company. He has not given the matter the careful investigation that a lawyer uses in the preparation of an opinion, but from general knowledge speaks as quoted. "I shall exert myself to the utmost to make this report reliable, impartial and exhaustive," said City Electrician Michaelson. "I shall begin work on it at once, probably first collecting all the statistics and data that the federal government may have compiled. This will be supplemented by inquiries direct to city officials and by all other trustworthy means that can be brought to bear."

Mayor Moore said he was glad to hear of the move. "If the electric street lighting contract had come up to me," said his honor, "I would not have signed it until satisfied that the private consumer is getting fair treatment. I hope the report will be unbiased and complete."

Will Insist on Hoye Ordinance. Although the gas company has voluntarily announced the reductions in charges to consumers, as promised, there is nothing to indicate that the contract matter is settled at the city hall. The council minority still declares that the Hoye ordinance, which makes the reductions a condition of the $25 street lighting agreement, must be passed. Mayor Moore sides with the minority and expressed the hope that the Hoye ordinance will pass. With City Attorney Breen and other officials he believes it is good business craft to have the full understanding in writing.

"Questions have been raised as to the legality of the Hoye ordinance in connection with the gas franchise, which allows higher rates than those enumerated," said President Zimman. "This apprehension I do not believe is warranted. The ordinance simply directs the terms of the contract, asks nothing more than the gas company has conceded, and if signed by both parties, of course, will be binding. It is good, however, only for five years and has a proviso letting the city back out after four years if it wants to put in a municipal plant. All that is wanted is a plain, business man's contract."

For the first eight months of the year the cost of maintaining the city electrical department was $2,355.96 and the income for the office was $2,717.79, making it almost self-sustaining. For August $273.79 was taken in fees, being the second largest month in the history of the office, the biggest being May 1, 1905, with $461.78.

ENGINEER EXPLAINS DELAY

Says Slow Work in Paving is Due to Contractors—Material Comes High.

Before the council Friday morning City Engineer Rosewater explained causes for the delay in paving operations and said it was due to slow work by E. D. Van Court and the Commercial Land company, who have contracts for much of the curbing. Van Court, he said, is now laying about 30 feet of curbing a day, but he says the Commercial Land company has not got a single street in proper condition for paving. Most of this matter was gone over in the Bee earlier in the week, but a new charge was registered.

"The Commercial Land company is to furnish Bedford stone curbing," said the engineer. "As a matter of fact, this curbing is about twice as expensive as the ordinary kind, yet the company induced property owners to sign for it and thus made the curbing contracts separate from the paving. The paving companies cannot do anything until the curbing is in. Even the mayor was fooled on the Bedford stone deal and signed for it. He now admits his mistake. The reason for the delay is due to the fact that the local agents simply can't get the stone here fast enough to proceed rapidly with the work. I don't suppose the city could get it any quicker if it compelled forfeiture of the contract. Again, it might have to let new contracts, these being matters for the attorney to determine.

"I intend to go into the matter fully and make a report with recommendations just as soon as I can. We must do our best to get more of this paving in this fall."

IRRIGATED FARMS IN THE LITTLE EMPIRE OF THE WESTERN SLOPE.

Profitable farm lands are scattered all along the line of the DENVER & RIO GRANDE RAILROAD, "Scenic Line of the World."

In the valleys of the Grand, Gunnison, North Fork and Roaring Fork rivers, and in the San Luis and Uncompangre valleys of Colorado, and the Farmington district of New Mexico—farming, stock raising and fruit growing are carried on in a way that is a revelation to the farmer in the east.

For those who desire to make new homes there is no other region that offers more and better advantages than western Colorado, a land of blue skies and sunshine, with a temperate and even climate, where the erstwhile desert needs but to be tilled and watered in order to verify "blissness as a rose." Several illustrated publications, giving valuable information in regard to the agricultural, horticultural and live stock interests of this great western section, have been prepared by the Denver & Rio Grande railroad and can be obtained by addressing:

MILLARD GLAD TO BE HOME

Senior Senator and Daughter Return from Six Weeks' Trip in Europe.

OLD WORLD APPLAUDS ROOSEVELT

Europeans Think President Has Achieved Great Diplomatic Victory in Bringing Russia and Japan Together.

Senator Millard and daughter arrived in Omaha Friday morning after a six weeks' trip to Europe. The senator Nebraska senator was on hand bright as a new dollar shortly after his arrival in Omaha, his appearance and bearing plainly indicating that the trip over the water had done him great good. The first thing that impressed visitors to returning Nebraska is that they look well and express the feeling that tires not and is springing perennially with health and vitality; and yet they insist that the ozone of this delightful prairie state is incomparable.

"The anticipation of getting home to all you know and love is the same feeling that impelled the Irish emigrant, returning to his native shores, to lift his hat as he entered Dublin bay and make that declaration the poet has immortalized, 'Old Ireland, out of the full of me heart I wish you the top of the mornin'.' "Nebraska," said the senator, "looks magnificent to me. Boy and man, I have known her moods for many, many years, and her adornments are steadily gaining on my sentiments and my love. In all sincerity I can say there is none to compare with my own state and my own people."

But One Sentiment.

With reference to the conclusion of the peace of Portsmouth, Senator Millard frankly spoke his belief. "There is but one sentiment existing among people I have met since my return. That is to the effect that our president has achieved by good judgment and strong effort something that could not possibly have been done by any European monarch. This is the sentiment on both sides of the water. Everybody expressed gratification that the chief magistrate of the American nation had the presence and determination to do, and did do what ought to be done. This is especially true for the reason that so long as the war existed there was a possibility of other nations becoming mixed up in it. The outcome is very pleasing."

On the question of international reciprocity Senator Millard said: "Nowhere is there any word unfavorable, so far as I could judge. The ways and wherefore do not concern the people. They seem to be friendly to the spirit of the proposition."

Emigrants in South America.

On another branch of international emigration, the senator had this to say: "The German government is giving special attention at this time to placing emigrants in Brazil, the Argentine Republic and other wide places of the same character in that section. I was struck by the strength of the German steamship companies in this connection. And let me say with all the emphasis possible that it is humiliating to Americans abroad to note that our flag does not show up on the seas as it was wont to do. We have practically no ships on the coast. Our commerce is carried on in or through the ships and companies of other nations. "Coming home one phase of the amenities of nations was forcibly presented to me. On the La Touraine, the ship we traveled on, were two engineers of the President's Son Not Only Kills Bear, but Gives Up Berth.

LET'S OLD COUPLE HAVE HIS LOWER COUCH

Takes Upper One and Refuses to Heed Protests of Venerable Man and Woman Against His Kindness.

President Roosevelt's desk is piled high with congratulations from the powerful men of the earth who pay tribute to him for his part in bringing about peace between Russia and Japan, but there is a fair doubt if even the pope's cablegram will give the president more satisfaction than news of an incident that happened in Omaha Thursday night.

Kermit Roosevelt was on his way home from a shooting tour in South Dakota with his father's old friend and comrade, Seth Bullock. In the baggage car was the hide of a bear that young Roosevelt had slain, but in accordance with orders from his distinguished parent the boy traveled alone and with a tight mouth. No idle boasts about bear killing for him. His father would hear the story and this was enough.

Comes in on Burlington.

The Burlington train on which the boy rode pulled into the Omaha station, the one that Elbert Hubbard says is the most artistic railway station in the country. The president's son had a nice, comfortable lower berth in a Pullman. A state room he disregarded as too luxurious after the life in the open. Most of the sleeping car passengers had retired. Kermit was fast asleep.

Lady, agent of the company, personally and in contempt terms denounces methods of life insurance companies, saying "the whole insurance proposition is a graft and a fake."

POLICE COURT MAVERICKS.

Alfred Miller, a bartender at the Schlitz bar, was Friday morning fined $5 and costs in police court, where he was arraigned on a charge of being drunk. A colored waiter testified he ordered two beers from Miller, received three, refused them, whereupon Miller dashed two glasses of beer in his face.

The firemen at five engine house No. 5, Eighth and Pierce streets, have lodged complaint with the police against Mr. and Mrs. Fred Craig, colored, who are said to make such nightly disturbances that the fire ladies are unable to sleep. The couple has been arrested. When arraigned in police court they pleaded not guilty. The Craig have figured in several recent police court trials.

Rev. C. W. Bristead and W. H. Hammond, plaintiff and defendant, shook hands and made up in police court Friday morning after Hammond was discharged, the complaint against him being that of keeping a vicious dog. Rev. Mr. Bristead alleged he was bitten by the Hammond dog on June 15, since which time the minister has been in London as a delegate to the World's Baptist congress. The plaintiff was due to leave Omaha a few days after the complaint was filed, so the case was set for trial for Monday. When assured Friday morning that the dog had mended his ways since the absence of the plaintiff, Rev. Mr. Bristead did not care to push the case. Mr. Bristead said he was treated by the ship physician all the way across the Atlantic on account of the bite of an Omaha dog and then was required to receive medical attention in London, as he was threatened with blood poisoning.

Do you honestly believe, that coffee sold loose (in bulk), exposed to dust, germs and insects, passing through many hands (some of them not over-clean), "blended," you don't know how or by whom, is fit for your use? Of course you don't. But is another story. The green berries, selected by keen judges at the plantation, are skillfully roasted at our factories, where precautions you would not dream of are taken to secure perfect cleanliness, flavor, strength and uniformity.

From the time the coffee leaves the factory no hand touches it until it is opened in your kitchen.

This has made LION COFFEE the LEADER OF ALL PACKAGE COFFEES.
