Picturesque Majesty of Asbury Park's Justly Celebrated Baby Show.

HOUSEHOLD JOYS IN FLORAL BOWERS

A Week of Unbroken Festivities in Which Youth and Age Heartily Unite-Some Details of the Parade.

For six days every year Asbury Park, N. I., becomes a full fledged monarchy. The democratic spirit which is found there during the other 259 days disappears as by magic and the city revels the pomp and ceremony by which royalty is surrounded. The robe of simplicity and liberty is hidden under the rich folds of a regal mantie. The mayor and his staff and all high officials doff their badges of authority and pass the rule of the city over to the dainty little sovereign whose power is absolute, whose slightest wish is as a law unto the citizens of Asbury Park for the six carnival days of her

Her majesty is Titania, Queen of the Fairies, in whose honor many festivals are given, the climax of which is the great baby parade. Asbury Park's unique pageant, which was inaugurated fifteen years ago and since then has grown out of all sembiance to the simple little procession of babies in perambulators inaugurated by "Founder" Bradley. Titania, ruler for 1905, is a strikingly beautiful girl, with dark eyes and hair, democratic city with no thought of royalty rather petite, perhaps to meet the popular iden of royalty, but with all the daintiness her parents own one of the handsomest cottages in the resort.

There are maids of honor, courtiers, pages, flower girls and festivities and who will appear in official capacity at each of the series of functions arranged for the children's festival. This year there are to be ten maids of honor. Princess Cinderella, Prince Charming, lord high chamberlain, court jester and a host of minor subjects, who will accompany the queen whenever she makes her royal appearance in public.

In order to eliminate jealousy, which might spring up in the hearts of young girl visitors, the maids who wait upon Titania are selected from the largest hotels, the individual choice of the royal represeptative resting with the master of ceremonies of each hostelry.

When Queen Titania makes her entrance into the city of Asbury Park her approach will be proclaimed by heralds and trumpeters, clad in velvet and gold and mounted upon prancing chargers, who will ride up and down the shore announcing the glad tidings. The royal court will be established at Coleman Castle, which will be gally decorated to her honer throughout the entire fete week. Here she will hold sway, setting forth each day and night for the royal functions in a golden coach shaped like a huge shell, lined with delicate velvet, and drawn by six white horses in golden trappings. She will have outriders and a uniformed guard to protect her from mishaps whenever her majesty appears in public. The first entertainment of the carnival will be the coronation, at which the golden crown of the fairies will be placed upon the head of the youthful queen by the archbishop, the royal scoepter put into her slender hand and the ermine trimmed robe draped over her white shoulders. When this is done, attended by all the pomp and ceremony of a real coronation, Titania waves the magic wand, her subjects, young and old, bow down and pay her homage, and the six days' carnival reign over Asbury Park is begun. Following the coronation an entertainment is given in her honor, one in which bundreds of little children take part, many of them representing fairies. This occupies the time up to midnight, when Queen Titania, like Cinderella, disappears until the next night.

Some Royal Functions. The second entertainment is to be in the form of a queen's drawing room, where a reception will be held and distinguished personages will be presented to her royal highness. The coronation usually takes place in the Beach auditorium and the drawing room will be held in the Royal arcade, a pavilion standing at one end of the

On the third day there will be a festival in which the volunteer and paid firemen of the resort will participate, parading before the queen and courting her smiles of favor and her giances of approval. Then, on the following night, one of the unique features of the carnival, and a comparatively new one, the masque fete, will take place. Here high revelry will reign and the whole city will be given over to merrymaking. As soon as night falls Titania will be driven in her golden chariot to the royal pavillor erected in Ocean avenue. From this point for nearly a mile southward the avenue has been closed as a public thoroughfare. It has been fringed with electric lights and made gay with a border of fluttering ban-The royal pavilion each year is docked with silken flags and carpeted with crimson velvet. Upon the arrival of the royal party the signal is given for the beginning of the cession of maskers, numbering in the neighborhood of 10,000 gay revellers. They proceed down the lighted avenue and then visit the various hotels, which are decorated in their honor and have their ballsome thrown open to all who wear the Babies from every state in the union and nearly every country in the world have, one year or another, taken part in this unique show. Weeks before the date set for the parade mothers enter their children at the official booth on the boardwalk, and at the eleventh hour hundreds more entries come in, swelling the number until Asbury Park seems to fittingly deserve its name of the Children's Paradise. Eighty thousand people gather at the resort to witness the annual parade, grandstands are built to accommodate the vast throng, while as far as the eye can reach are gathered vast crowds of spectators ranged along the line of march.

When the long line of little children pass by in gala attire marching, being wheeled in baby carriages, go-carts, express wagons, toy automobiles, mounted on ponies, sitting in pony carts, or posing in symbolic attitude on a decorated float, they present a picture the like of which is not to be found elsewhere in the world. The carts and perambulators are entirely hidden beneath the lavish decorations thoughtfully planned and lovingly executed by mother hands. LONDON, Sept. 2.—The supplies of money exceeded the demand in the market today. Rates were easy. Discounts were firmer despite the cheap money. Trading on the Stock exchange was quiet but moderate investment buying and the strength of Japanese imparted steadiness. Consols at the opening hardened fractionally, but eased later. Americans opened weak, but the recent lower level induced fresh buying, which, with Wall street support, caused a hardening all around. Prices closed firm. Japanese was the most active amongst the foreigners. Internationals were steady under continental support. Japanese imperial 6s of 1904 were quoted at 106.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Peatures of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

Frices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Wet weather in the northwest was the principal cause for a firm wheat market here today. At the close December was up %c. Corn was up %c. Oats and provisions are practically unchanged.

The wheat market was firm the entire session, at the opening the December delivery was a shade to %c higher, at sixe to $1\cdot \text{0.81}\cdot \tex and Chicago reported receipts of 400 cars against 140 cars last week and 134 cars a year ago.

Threatened frost for the most northerly section of the corn belt caused a firm tone in the corn market. A report of five boatloads of corn taken for export helped to stimulate demand. The volume of trading, however, was small. The market closed at the highest point of the day. December opened unchanged to its higher, at 43½c to 63%c, sold between 42c and 43%c and closed at 43%c. Local receipts were 561 cars, with 241 cars of contract grade.

Firmness of other grains held the oats market steady notwithstanding the profittaking in the September option. December opened a shade higher, at 33%c, sold off to 25%c and closed at 25%c. Local receipts were 385 cars.

A 5c decline in the price of live hogs had a weakening influence on the provisions market early in the session. Later a fair demand from shorts caused a steadier tone. An estimated decrease in the world's stock of lard was an additional buillish factor. At the close October pork was up 5c, at $15.25%. Lard was off 24%c, at $2.02%. Ribs were unchanged, at $8.90.

Estimated receipts for Monday: Wheat, 55 cars; corn, 455 cars; oats, 279 cars; hogs, 28.000 head.

well at this point and there is no complaint to be made.

Freder buyers have just cause to file a protest, for the supply of feeders has been light so far this season. Buyers have plenty of orders and are anxious to fill them, but the stuff is not coming in fast enough to enable them to do very much. The demand this week was good and prices were strong to a dime higher.
