TOKIO, Sept. 6.-10 a. m.-Rioting broke out here last (Tuesday) night in connection with the dissatisfaction over the result of the peace settlement. There were several clashes with the police and it is estimated that two were killed and 500 wounded. The rioting ceased at midnight. Police stations were the only property destroyed. TOKIO, Sept. 5 .- (Delayed in transmission.) The first turbulence attendant on the popular anger over the terms of peace arranged with Russia took place today. A mass meeting to protest against the tion of the government was called at closed the gates and attempted to prevent assemblage of the people. The municipality protested against the action of the police and finally the gates were thrown open and a large crowd gathered and voted in favor of resolutions declaring the nation humflated and denouncing the terms upon which the treaty of peace was arranged. The crowd was serious in its conduct. rather than angry, and the police handled discreetly. The gathering eventually dispersed in an orderly manner.

Later on, however, a crowd attempted to hold a meeting in the Shimito theater and the police dispersed it. A portion of the crowd then proceeded to the office of the Kokumin Shinbun, the government organ, and began hooting.

Mob Checked With Swords.

Three employes of the paper armed with and checked the attack and the police again dispersed the crowd. General sentiment throughout the country seems to favor reactionary measures. COOPERS HAVE GRIEVANCE but it appears clear that the majority of sult of the peace conference, however disappointing it may be.

Peace Terms Displeasing.

There has been no violence and have been increased. The police are caresituation and the force will be doubled leges, contrary to the law of the land. should any violence occur. If it does, its speedy suppression is assured. The government continues silent. The conservative element predict that the country will approve the settlement when its conditions are thoroughly understood. They declars that the present agitation does not | ance. represent either the ultimate sentiment of the people or a sufficiently strong minority to merit serious consideration.

Possibly public opinion will become more definite when the government informs the people of the actual results of the Portsmouth conference. There has as yet been final adjustment of the most serious issues

Badicals Are Active. Telegrams from Kobe, Nogoya, Osaka Sasebo, Kanazawa, Himeji, Kloyta and Tokoma expressed the popular dissatisfaction and dejection over the result. The minor radical papers have thrown off all restraint and pronounce it the greatest humiliation the country has ever suffered. They advise rious expedients.

The higher puddle classes, including comsilent, but their disappointment is evident. The general market, reflecting the attitude of depression, declined sharply at the opening today and trading was sluggish. The bulk of the people continue apathetic, while the hostilli f the radicals grows.

Beac of Public Opinion. TOKIO, Loga. 2-2 p. m .- (Delayed in transmission.) In a vigorous defense by the conservative journals supporting the government, and a fuller and better appreciation of the situation, confronting the country, public sentiment is showing some evidence of reaction. The argument that it is impossible for Japan to continue the bloody war merely for the purpose of securing indemnity is proving effective in allaying dissatisfaction. It is believed that when the government is free to explain fully the conditions of the settlement and the logic appertaining to them the reaction of sentiment will largely increase, The entire nation is keenly disappointed at the outcome. Nowhere throughout the empire has there been a step taken toward the celebration of the conclusion of peace. The radicals continue their campaign against the government, demanding the punishment of those responsible for the compromise. The forthcoming diet is cerbe turbulent, and it is predicted that the Katsura government will be forced

The declines in the market and the crop TAGGART onditions coupled naturally with the heavy obligations of the government have created a fear in some quarters that a financial depression and unsatisfactory business conditions are impending. A prominent banker said today to the Associated Press correspondent that the Tokio exchange was inacourate barometer of real conditions, as lately the exchange transactions have been largely speculative. The August settlement was the largest in the history of the exchange. The recent decline, he said, was the result of conditions within the exchange, and not correct reflection of general conditions. The banker added

DENVER, Sept. 5.-The main event of the Grand Army encampment. speaking from the view point of the rank and file, was the grand parade which occurred today. To the veteran the privilege of again keeping in step with comrades of the bivouse of '61 is one for which no hardship seenis too great to undergo, no ordeal too severe to undertake. Many who marched the end was reached and many others, weakened by age, fell out of line long before the journey was completed. These tottering old veterans, regretting their inability to remain in the parade and giving every evidence of their feelings, would be cared for by the persons nearest at hand, led to a place where they could rest and recover from their exhaustion. It was a common site to see a grayhaired soldier sitting on the curbing gazing wistfully at his more sturdy comrades as they passed him by. The ovation given the marchers was unstinted. The streets were packed with people and the windows and roofs along the line of march swarmed with, numanity. The cheering was continuous and the grizzled old warriors were kept busy bowing acknowledgements and raising their hats in courteous salute.

Light showers had fallen during the night, but the weather cleared this morning and the annual Grand Army parade has never taken place under more favorable auspices. Three Hours in Passing.

Three hours and five minutes were consumed by the procession in passing the grandstand, in front of which was the reviewing stand. On the latter stood the national officers of the Grand Army and distinguished guests and in the grandstand sat thousands of spectators. Colonel Har-Typothetae of America continued its con- per M. Orahood, chairman of the parade committee, estimated that 15,000 members of the Grand Army participated in the parade. Kansas carried off the honors for the largest representation, having nearly 2,500 men in line. The Colorado and Wyoming department came next, with 1,500. lilinois, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Ohio and Missouri had large delegations. Fifty bands and more than half that number of drum corps supplied music for the marchers. The most perfect arrangements possible for communication and emergency service were provided. Telephone stations were placed along the route of march, and assistants were in attendance every block or so. A horseman was unseated by his frightened mount and, in falling, broke a finger. A surgeon stationed nearby had set the injured member and the man was astride his animal and in line again before the procession had progressed two blocks from the place where the accident occurred. The only serious consequences of the strain of marching reported to those in charge was the case of John Donaldson of St. Louis. He was stricken with heart failure and was carried to a hospital in an ambulance. His recovery is doubtful. One Boy In Grey,

There were interesting features connected with the parade, but perhaps the most impressive was the appearance of an exconfederate soldier in the gray uniform of officer's feet, expiring soon after.
