GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat and Corn Both Close a Little Easier.

TRADE GENERALLY IS FEATURELESS

Critical Point in Foreign Situation is Extent of Russian Shipments—Oats Are Steady, with Good Export Inquiry.

OMAHA, Sept. 9, 1905.

Wheat was strong during the greater part of the session, but closed a little lower. The recent change in sentiment and the resulting covering and buying for long account were enough to overcome the influence of fine weather, weak northwestern markets and the indifferent cable response to the markets in this country yesterday. The critical point in the situation abroad is the extent of the Russian shipments. September closed at 80¾c, December at 85½c and May at 82¼c.

Corn was quiet and in the end a little easier. Receipts ran about as expected, but it is said the volume will fall off soon. The country is selling nothing. September closed at 53¾c, old September at 55¼c, December at 45½c, old December at 45c and May at 42¼c.

Oats were quiet and steady. Early there was some weakness on the heavy overrun in Chicago receipts, but this was in a large measure recovered. Export inquiries continue good. September finished at 25¾c, December at 27¼c and May at 29¾c.

Liverpool closed unchanged to ½d lower on wheat and unchanged to ¼d lower on corn.

London statistics say France will have to import 32,000,000 bushels of wheat and the Indian crop is 50,000,000 bushels short.

Primary wheat receipts were 913,000 bushels and shipments 488,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 918,000 bushels and shipments of 416,000 bushels. Corn receipts were 697,000 bushels and shipments 850,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 997,000 bushels and shipments of 1,166,000 bushels. Clearances were 92,000 bushels of wheat, 44,000 barrels of flour, 144,000 bushels of corn and 199,000 bushels of oats.

The world's wheat shipments for Monday are estimated at about 8,300,000 bushels, of which quantity Europe will take about 7,000,000 bushels. There probably will be a fair decrease of breadstuffs on passage. Australian wheat shipments this week were 32,000 bushels, against 400,000 bushels last year.

A round lot of 10,000 tons of flour was sold at Minneapolis yesterday to go to China. All the leading markets reported large sales of flour, Kansas City selling 5,000 barrels. Export sales of wheat in all positions yesterday were 700,000 bushels. They included 300,000 bushels at Kansas City to go out by way of the gulf, exporters there being short and having to fill sales made in June for September shipment. The Atlantic seaboard sold 48,000 bushels No. 2 red and 344,000 bushels Manitoba for export.

One of the largest cash houses in the northwest wired: "The northwest movement is beginning to be of some size. We have been completely swamped with durum wheat and have had to reduce the price steadily. If this is followed by similar deluge of spring wheat, we really do not know where to look for a market for it tonight. The eastern mills are very indifferent. The Canadian crop will take our market all fall, and we are almost on a delivering basis with New York options and we probably will get there before long. We will have heavy carrying charges this whole year against the wheat bull."

WEATHER IN THE GRAIN BELT

Fair is the Prediction, Despite Appearance.

OMAHA, Sept. 9, 1905.

Showers occurred at points in the upper Missouri valley within the last twenty-four hours, but generally fair weather prevailed throughout the upper valleys and northwestern railway rains continued in Texas and rain is falling in southern Kansas this morning.

Temperature changes have been slight and unimportant in all sections since the last report and will probably be slight in the central valleys tonight and Sunday.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Clear weather in the northwest was the chief reasons for a somewhat easy tone in the wheat market here today. At the close wheat for December delivery was off ¼c. Corn is off ⅝c. Oats are practically unchanged. Provisions are a shade lower to 7½@10c higher.

The wheat market opened easier, with December off a shade to ¼@⅜c. Dry weather throughout Minnesota and the Dakotas was the main cause of the initial declines. As a result of improved weather conditions it was claimed that arrivals of new wheat at Minneapolis on Wednesday would show an enormous increase. Commission houses later became quite active purchasers. In consequence the market for a time showed considerable firmness. December advanced to 83c. The principal source of strength lay in large export business reported at the seaboard. Another bullish influence was continued demand from millers for cash wheat. The market soon yielded to persistent offerings from pit traders, prices selling back to about the opening level. The Michigan crop report was a bearish factor in the reaction. The wheat yield of that state is estimated at 30,000,000 bushels, as against 36,000,000 bushels last year. The market closed easy, with December at 82¼c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 235,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 913,000 bushels, compared with 918,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 508 cars, against 468 cars last week and 322 cars a year ago.

Sentiment in the corn pit was bearish as a result largely of the excellent weather for the maturing of the crop. Trading was very quiet. At the close prices were at the lowest point of the day. December opened unchanged to ¼c lower at 43⅝@43¾c, sold off to 43½c and closed at the bottom. Local receipts were 459 cars, with 306 cars of contract grade.

A liberal increase in local receipts caused some weakness in the oats market. Moderate purchases of May by a prominent commission house prevented any material decline in prices. December opened ¼@¾c lower to 27¼@27¼c, sold up to 27⅜c and closed at 27¼c. Local receipts were 336 cars.

Provisions were steady on a 5c advance in the prices of live hogs; offerings were small. At the close October pork was up 5c at $10.45. Lard was a shade lower at $7.70. Ribs were 7½@10c higher at $8.60@8.62½.

Estimated receipts for Monday: Wheat, 33 cars; corn, 517 cars; oats, 375 cars; hogs, 28,000 head.

CATTLE—As usual on the last day of the week there was nothing of any importance on the sale, the market being practically bare of supplies of all kinds.

This has been a week of large receipts, the total for the six days footing up 8,748 more than last week and 10,148 head in excess of the record for the corresponding week a year ago. While the big end of the receipts has consisted of western rangers as usual at this season, there has been quite a sprinkling of cattle from the feed lots and pastures of the corn belt.

The market on beef steers has been in very satisfactory condition all the week. Corn fed steers of desirable quality have been quoted as at least steady every day this week and occasionally strong. Good well-finished loads have sold up to $5.90. While range steers were quoted a little slow and weak one day the market was stronger again, and at the close of the week it would not be an easy matter to point out any material difference between prices now prevailing and those of a week ago.

The tendency of the market on cows and heifers has been toward a lower basis, still the changes in the market from day to day have not been very noticeable. On Monday the market was quoted as weak to lower, on Tuesday strong, on Wednesday and Thursday easier and on Friday steady. Taking the week as a whole the market is not over 10@15c lower.

There has been good active demand all the week for feeders having weight and good flesh and good to choice cattle of that description have been steady to strong every day. On the other hand cattle, even if good, but lacking flesh and light and thin, as well as common stockers and feeders have been slow sale and are 20@30c lower than a week ago.

HOGS—Today's trade on hogs was a good deal like yesterday's market, that is it opened up a little better, with prospects for a higher market and then turned out a disappointment. As was the case yesterday morning buyers picked out the light loads paying prices that looked a little higher but the trade was not active and it was slow work unloading. After the better lots were disposed of the market slowed down and became very dull and weak on heavy packing hogs. As a whole the market did not show much change, the hogs selling in about the same notches as yesterday.

The hog market has been decidedly unsatisfactory this week and still the change in prices has been very small. On Tuesday and Wednesday the market was quoted generally 5c lower for each day and every other day of the week it was slow and easier. In fact dullness has been the chief feature of the market for some days back and still at the close of the week prices are on an average, only about 10c lower than they were at the close of last week. Heavy packing hogs have been the hardest to sell and have been neglected to such an extent on some days that it was almost impossible for sellers to unload. Late arrivals at the yards have been especially hard to sell as the market was closed dull and easier almost every day and anything arriving late was almost certain to sell lower than the early market.

SHEEP—There were only five cars here this morning and one of them was direct to a packer, so that there was not enough of any one thing on sale to make a test of the market or establish quotations.

Receipts of sheep have been large this week, over 50,000 head having arrived at the yards during the six days, as will be noted from the table of comparative figures. In round numbers this is a gain over last week of 12,000 head and a gain over a year ago of 10,000 head.

The market this week has not been exactly to the liking of sellers, for the very good reason that prices have been on the down grade. The market started out on Monday steady, but on Tuesday there was a weakening all along the line. On Wednesday the market received its black eye. After twenty-four hours of steady rain the sheep arrived thoroughly wet and in no shape to sell, so that the market was the quietest and deadest that it has been at this point in a long time, in addition to being lower. On Thursday and Friday values remained just about steady at the decline. Now, at the close of the week, sheep are all of 25c lower than they were a week ago and lambs are 25@40c lower. Other markets have suffered in about the same proportion, the break in prices not being confined to this point by any means.

Feeding sheep and lambs at the close of the week are 15@25c lower than a week ago, the decline being due to the break on fat stuff. With prices on feeders so high, it is only natural that the market should follow down the fat sheep market. While there is a very large demand for feeders, buyers feel that they are paying high prices and so long as they feel that way they may be depended upon to take any advantage of favorable conditions to force values on a lower level.

Quotations on fat sheep and lambs: Good to choice lambs, $5.50@7.00; good to choice yearling wethers, $5.00@5.40; good to choice, old wethers, $4.65@4.90; good to choice ewes, $4.40@4.75.
