

SIX HUNDRED MILES DOWN

This Much of Orient Road is Laid and in Operation.

THOUSAND BY APRIL, SAYS DICKINSON

Vice President of St. Louis Road Moves His Family and Residence from Omaha to Kansas City.

"We have 600 miles of track laid and in operation and will have 1,000 miles by April 1," said Edward Dickinson, general manager and vice president of the St. Louis Orient road.

Mr. Dickinson is here arranging the removal of his household affairs from the old family residence on Park avenue to Kansas City, which will be his home. It was two years ago that he severed his connection with the Union Pacific as general manager, with which road he had spent about thirty-three years, and looking to Omaha seems to the Dickinsons a good deal like tearing life cords.

Mr. Dickinson was asked by a friend how he liked Kansas City. "Very well, what I have seen of it," he replied, "but my work here, however, I have been with the Orient has kept me out on the road most of the time, so there is a great deal about Kansas City that I do not know."

It will be recalled that Mr. Dickinson was urged for a long time by Arthur E. St. Louis to accept the position with the Orient, but that he hesitated, feeling a reluctance in laying down his work with the Union Pacific, at that time in the throes of a severe labor fight. He did, however, in the fall of 1903, after the strike had been settled in June, hand in his resignation—only two weeks or less prior to the time he left the company. On learning that he had succeeded in getting Mr. Dickinson, George Gould sent a personal telegram cordially congratulating Mr. St. Louis upon his triumph in getting such a man to manage his new road. Gould pronounced Dickinson the best man in the country for the place and repeated what his distinguished father, Jay Gould, had often said in praise of Dickinson as a coming power in the railroad world.

Crowds Hauled by Burlington.

"I can't see why some Denver people insist on belittling the number of people who were hauled into Denver during the period of cheap rates," said a prominent Burlington official. "We have nothing to gain at this time by giving out false reports, but here is the exact statement of the conductors who had charge of the trains. There were seventy-nine trains from the east and north which hauled 23,333 people. Add to this list the Longwood-Lyons eleven trains, with an average of 200 to a train, and you have a grand total of 31,533 passengers, according to the exact revised figures from the conductors reports."

"The operation of the trains, the making up of trains in the station was nearly perfect. The universal report is that the visitors had nothing but praise for Denver and that the arrangements for caring for the crowd were ample."

Norfolk and Freight Rates.

President E. M. Robertson and a committee of the Norfolk Commercial club conferred with General Manager Bidwell of the Northwestern Monday regarding the relations of the road with the mercantile interests of their city and the tributary territory. "The committee was in my office only a short time and no definite matters were submitted or brought up," said Mr. Bidwell. "It was understood on the outside that what the committee took the trouble to come down from Norfolk for was to make a protest on certain freight rates of the Northwestern applying to Norfolk and Norfolk territory."

Railway Notes and Personals.

General Manager Mohler of the Union Pacific returned from his Monday trip to J. A. Munroe, traffic manager of the Union Pacific, and wife returned from the east Sunday. General Superintendent Park of the Union Pacific returned from the west Monday morning. W. R. McKee, Jr., superintendent of motive power of the Union Pacific, and wife went to Chicago Monday. The Rock Island will bring in two cars of the men for the signal corps for Fort Omaha Tuesday. These come from Fort Meyer.

Hal Buckingham, chief clerk in the freight department of the Burlington, has returned from a drive with Lyle Stock Agent Elyer through Wyoming.

According to the latest advices received by friends in this city, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Burt are scheduled to sail from Dover October 6. Nothing definite is known of the plans of Mr. and Mrs. Burt after their arrival in New York. At last accounts they were in Austria.

FINLANDER GOES TO THE BAD

Tourist from the North Gets Too Much Aboard and Disturbs the Atmosphere.

A Finlander lent oar to the atmosphere at the Union station, Monday morning by driving away full care with a number of nips of bad whisky. Special Officer Fleming had the citizen from the far north sent to the police station for safe keeping until his train left. At police headquarters the Finn was registered at "John Doe No. 1," owing to the inability of the police to understand the Finnish language, which is one of the few languages not spoken on the police force. When Mr. Doe realized his predicament he soon sobered up and was allowed to proceed to his destination, San Francisco. He came direct from Finland to Omaha. Mr. Doe refused to talk for public print on the political situation in Finland or even the Russo-Japanese affair, intimating that was a "closed incident," diplomatically speaking.

CONTEMPT CASE GOES OVER

Five Councilmen Plead Not Guilty and Will Appear Wednesday.

DEFENDANTS' LAWYER ASKS FOR TIME

Back, Dyball, Evans, Huntington and Schroeder Are in Court and Released Without Giving Bonds.

Councilmen Back, Dyball, Evans, Huntington and Schroeder appeared before Judge Sutton, Monday morning at 10 o'clock to plead to a charge of contempt of court. The reading of the information was waived, also the issuance of summons, warrants or citation. A plea of not guilty was formally entered and the five city fathers were released without bond to appear at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

When Judge Sutton took his seat on the bench County Attorney Slabaugh announced himself in readiness to proceed at once. He offered the information ordered by the court and outlined its contents. He said it simply charged disobedience of the order of the court, regularly issued and served and said that all necessary details had been complied with.

Attorney W. J. Connell, acting for the accused officials said they would waive appearance at this time, as he wanted a reasonable time in which to look over the complaint and frame a special pleading, or answer. He thought he could be ready by Wednesday morning.

The county attorney and the court insisted that the defendants ought to be in court, so that all formalities might be complied with. After some sparring back and forth, a messenger was sent to notify the five councilmen, who soon appeared. Their presence put an end to the hearing for the day, because the court, after cautioning them to be present Wednesday morning, at once took an adjournment to that time.
