

KENNEY ON THE PRIMARIES

Congressman from the Second Address Large Meeting in Sixth Ward VOTERS TO BE RESPONSIBLE FOR TICKET

Party Factions Should Disappear in Face of Direct Choice and Differences Should End at the Primary.

Cries of "What's the matter with Kennedy for senator?" mingled with the applause at the close of Congressman John L. Kennedy's speech at a crowded meeting of the Sixth Ward Republican league in Idlewild hall last night. In part Congressman Kennedy said:

I consider it a duty to take part in every republican campaign when called upon to do so. Whatever candidates are nominated this fall I will be at all times in the call of the chairman of the committee and each candidate can depend upon me to do all in my power to elect him.

I have never known a county campaign in Douglas when the republicans had such good material to select from as it has this fall. There is no possibility that any man will be nominated for any of the offices who will not be a credit to republicanism. A week from tomorrow we are going into the first genuine direct primary that we ever had.

Some references were made tonight by Chairman Morearty that we have some factional differences and that the club is not recognizing them. It was the old style county conventions where delegates acted otherwise than as representatives of the people and traded one office for another, and no man stood upon his merits that brought this condition. This is a total change of method and the nearer we get to the people the better we will be governed and the more corruption we will have in high places.

My judgment is that the differences grew from causes that the differences should cease. Every good republican should stand by the primary law. I have declared full and free expression of the popular will. Let us forget we have had differences.

We are going into a campaign this fall not only with good candidates but with unusually good general conditions. The country was never more prosperous. The state of Nebraska today is a credit instead of a debtor. I will admit that there are certain elements of our people that are less prosperous. Large amounts of capital have been appropriated to themselves more business than their share. It is your duty and mine that they are limited so they will not get more than their share. We are going to have a man to administer them so as to give every man an equal chance. One of the great facts about Nebraska today is that we have a citizen who has always stood by the common people. He has been and is what the country needs.

Work Before Congress. I think that the coming session of congress will be one of the most important and interesting that Nebraska has ever known. There is the question of railway regulation that I presume will be pushed to the front. It is a question that may differ as to details that any measure that is introduced and passed on that subject, we all will be glad to see. I believe that the creature can never be greater than the creator.

Another of the important questions that is likely to come before congress is the revision of the tariff. The house is pretty nearly equally divided on this point, but the vast majority of a moderate revision of the tariff. Not that the principle of protection should be tampered with, but that no tariff made eight years ago can be suitable for conditions that exist today. The time to discuss the tariff is now, when the business of the country is at a standstill. My judgment is that the people of the west are anxious to have this question settled so as to give proper and reasonable protection where it is needed, and so as not to give certain interests an opportunity to profit more than is right and reasonable.

The greatest figure in the world's eye is Theodore Roosevelt. Every republican who has undertaken has carried through. He reached the presidency by the face of the shield he brought peace to the warring states and he has done what he has done but for the people. He is a man who is not within him. I believe that events will be such that he will be forced to be a candidate for president again.

Candidates Who Spoke. Before Congressman Kennedy spoke a large number of candidates launched their appeals to the voters. They were introduced by Chairman Morearty with ten minutes of infinitely encouraging and diplomatic talk. Among those who took the beseeched words were: Councilman Fred Hope and Tony Donahoe for sheriff; Charles Leslie, C. W. Haller and B. F. Thomas for county judge; E. J. Bodwell for county attorney; E. F. Bralley for coroner; Arvay Crawford for clerk; H. Tanky for police judge; H. E. Ostrom for county commissioner; Frank Bandle for county clerk; Candidates W. A. Foster, Kubat, Alstead and Moore for justice of the peace.

FIRE AND POLICE MATTERS

Board Will Assist Water Board in Making Test of Hydrant Pressure.

At the meeting of the Board of Fire and Police commissioners last night permission was given to the water board to use men and paraphernalia from the fire department to test the pressure of the water company, at a time to be selected by the city engineer.

The board took up the case of Policeman Thomas O'Connor, who was charged with being negligent in the discharge of his duties as a police officer. The charges set forth that Officer O'Connor was within a block of the place where Officer A. E. Heller was having trouble with a man who was being violently manacled from the fire department to test the pressure of the water company, at a time to be selected by the city engineer.

The resignations of Patrolmen A. F. Lamaker and Howard Sawyer, who resign to enter other fields, were received and accepted. A communication was received from King Ak-Sar-Ben asking that members of the fire and police departments be given an opportunity to participate in the day-long parade during the fall festivities. The communication was referred to Chief Donahue of the fire department, and these men will arrange for the participation of their departments.

The following firemen were given their annual leaves of absence: George Anderson, William Bohan, George Hill, Oliver Morrell, Robert Oliver and Zena Smith. Jailer Glover and Officer Goodrich of the police department were granted their annual leaves.

KRAUSES PLEAD FOR TRIAL

Convicted Land Fencing Attorneys Argue for New Hearing Before Judge Munger.

The arguments for a new trial in the case of the Krause brothers, who recently were convicted of fencing public lands contrary to law, were concluded before Judge Munger in the United States district court Friday evening. Judge Munger has taken the matter under advisement and will hand down his decision in a few days.

The motion for a new trial was argued by attorneys H. C. Noleman and C. C. Barker. The Krause brothers, their chief contention is the alleged unreliability of the principal witnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Osborn, upon whose testimony the accused was convicted. Affidavits were filed impeaching the character of these witnesses. Special District Attorney Rush, representing the government, argued against granting the motion on the ground that the conviction of the accused was complete, after a long and fair trial, and that the attempt to impeach the testimony of the Osborns at this time came too late. The time to impeach their evidence was during the trial and not now. He further held that even was the testimony of the Osborns completely eliminated, sufficient evidence had been produced from other witnesses to warrant the verdict of conviction as rendered by the jury.

DREXEL REFUSES TO ACT

County Clerk Will Not Put Ure and Ostrom on Ballot.

SAYS HE IS WITHOUT AUTHORITY Places Solomon and Tracy on Ticket, and the Other Two Men Decide to Resort to Mandamus.

County Clerk Drexel insists he will not place the names of William G. Ure and Henry Ostrom on the official primary ballot for the office of county commissioner. "I cannot do it," said the county clerk to Mr. Ostrom. "No court will attempt to compel a man to do an impossible thing, as I view it. There is no fifth district defined in this county, as the law requires, and I am going to stick close to the terms of the law in this matter. If you, Mr. Ostrom, or Mr. Ure, want to go on this primary ticket you must get an order from the proper authority."

As to Messrs. Solomon and Tracy, the republican and democratic candidates in the Third district, the county clerk said: "I will put the names of these two men on the primary ballot because I know the district in which they live and where they must run. In the case of the Fifth district there will be no candidates for county commissioner so far as this office is concerned. I feel that all my duty was discharged when I notified the county commissioners by letter that it would be impossible for me to make up the ballot properly unless they redistricted to comply with the new charter."

Some Hot Words. Chairman Kennard of the county board and Mr. Ostrom had some heated argument about the failure of the board to redistrict, and Mr. Ostrom denounced the failure to act as unwarranted.

Mr. Kennard took exception to this statement and presented a map of the districts to show that his own district was the only one tampered with in the Brunswick resolution, which the board refused to pass on Saturday.

The argument ended in nothing definite, but Mr. Ostrom then turned to the county clerk and insisted that he should put the two names on at large, as running for county commissioner in the Fifth district.

This Mr. Drexel flatly refused to do. He then announced that unless served with an order of court he will put no names on for commissioner in the Fifth district. Messrs. Ostrom and Ure have decided to go into court and ask Judge Redick for a mandamus to compel the county clerk to place their names on the primary ballot as candidates for the commissioner nomination in the Fifth district.

Council Opens Bids on Two More Small Road Issues.

BIG PREMIUMS OFFERED BY FIVE FIRMS Desirability of Local Securities Shown by the Proposals Made by Brokers for the Bonds New for Sale.

Bids for the sale of $50,000 general indebtedness bonds and $25,000 investment bonds opened by the city council last night. These bonds are to be issued to pay the cost of repaving Twenty-fourth street from A to Q street. Five bids were received as follows: Hoshier & Cummings, a partnership made up of Hoshier & Cummings, offered a premium of $2.00 on the $50,000 and $1.00 on the $25,000. Well, Roth & Co., Cincinnati, offered a premium of $1.75 on the $50,000 and $0.75 on the $25,000. Cincinnati, bid a premium of $2.00 on the general bonds and $1.25 premium on the investment issue.

W. J. Hayes & Sons, Cleveland, offered $200 premium and accrued interest for the $50,000 and $100 premium on the smaller issue; to print the bonds free of cost to the city. The Security Savings Bank & Trust company, Toledo, offered a premium of $200 for the general issue and a premium of $151 for the investment issue.

While the bid of Well, Roth & Co. was the highest, the bid did not mention the five years' option as did the others and it was inferred by the council that this option was not taken into consideration by the bidders. Clerk Gilin made a motion, Roth & Co. today on this matter. Owing to the desire to communicate with the Well people the council adjourned until Wednesday evening, deferring action on the bids until that time.

The next step towards presenting the proposition to construct a new sewer system was taken by the introduction of an ordinance accepting the sewer plans drawn by Engineer Andrew Rosewater last spring. This ordinance was to the judiciary committee for consideration.

An ordinance was read for the third time and passed changing the grade on Twenty-third street from D to F street. Councilman Queenan secured the passage of the ordinance. Mayor Quinn put more men to work on the street and put the streets in good condition at once. Queenan said that he had heard a great many complaints lately about the condition of the streets and he thought that repairs ought to be made at once. The mayor said the matter would be attended to.

Kiewit called the attention of the council to the necessity for the water and gas companies to bid service pipes to the curb lines on Missouri avenue and on Twenty-fourth street, so as to avoid tearing up the pavement when laid. The clerk will send a copy of the motion to the companies mentioned.

The finance committee reported in favor of the bid of Johnson & Skow of Omaha for the building of the new fire department building. Johnson & Skow's bid was for $12,000. Mayor Koutsky and Clerk Gilin were instructed to enter into a contract with the successful bidders for this building.

The mayor and clerk were instructed to issue certificates of indebtedness to the United States Standard Voting Machine company in the sum of $5,500 in payment for eight voting machines.

Schools Open with Large Attendance. The South Omaha public schools opened yesterday with an attendance of 4,083. This is over 200 more than the first day of last year. Four teachers were absent. Miss Eva O'Sullivan, Miss Penny, Miss Reid and Miss Ollis. These teachers have notified Superintendent McLean that they will be in attendance in a day or two.

Prof. Howarth, the new teacher of German, and Prof. Holcomb, teacher of physics another newcomer, were both on hand and well received by the pupils of the high school.

The attendance at the various schools is as follows: High school, 250; West Side, 40; Central, 40; Corbin, 25; Hawthorne, 25; Lowell, 213; Brown Park, 201; Field, 27; Madison, 25; Whittier, 23. Opening attendance on first days for girls: Nineteen hundred and two, 2,009; 1903, 1,740; 1904, 1,867; 1905, 4,083.

The argument ended in nothing definite, but Mr. Ostrom then turned to the county clerk and insisted that he should put the two names on at large, as running for county commissioner in the Fifth district. This Mr. Drexel flatly refused to do. He then announced that unless served with an order of court he will put no names on for commissioner in the Fifth district. Messrs. Ostrom and Ure have decided to go into court and ask Judge Redick for a mandamus to compel the county clerk to place their names on the primary ballot as candidates for the commissioner nomination in the Fifth district.

As an experiment, I divided my club into five sections and sent them out into the schools, hospitals, missions, and poor districts to sing to others, and the result is simply marvelous. Aside from the pleasure we have given, our club is growing in interest and numbers, and better still, we are now worth while."
