

BOARD SAYS CUT FORCES

Fire and Police Commission Makes Recommendation to Save Expenses.

WILL WAIT ON PUBLIC-SPIRITED MEN

Whether to Reduce Number of Patrolmen Before Influx of Foot-pads at Ak-Sar-Bea is a Question.

Reduction of the police force so as to save $2.65 and of the fire department in order to economize to the extent of $2.87, before the end of the year, was the vital recommendation in a report from the finance committee adopted by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners at a special meeting Tuesday morning.

In order to give public spirited citizens a chance to be heard on the subject and to propose plans of relief, or contribute money if they see fit, the commissioners will take immediate action in cutting down the force. It is planned to do this next Monday night if help does not drop out of the skies in the meantime.

Mayor Moore's decision to sign the resolution transferring $18,125 from the general levy fund to the fire fund, is all that saves the latter department from being cut in two. The amount represents money paid from the fire fund for fire apparatus bought in 1904. The city attorney says the bill should have been paid out of the general levy fund in the first place and that the fire fund should be reimbursed. In view of Attorney Brown's written commission to these views and his interpretation of the law in respect thereto, the mayor declined to be awed by Catherphobia and announced he would put his signature on the resolution.

The report of the finance committee to the commissioners, making the following showing for the fire fund:

Table with financial data for the fire fund, including receipts, balance available, and estimated shortage.

Equipment Already Inadequate. The fire department is in need of at least 50 feet of new hose, the present equipment being inadequate in case of serious fire, but there is no authority for the purchase of new hose under present conditions.

The declaration is made daily that the two departments must be reduced so as to absorb the estimated shortage before the close of the year. Whether or not the policemen should be cut down before the Ak-Sar-Bea festivities is one of the questions bothering the commissioners.

BUREAU AT NORTH PLATTE

Weather Observatory Will Be Established on Property Bought by the Government.

The government weather bureau has bought property at North Platte for the establishment of a weather bureau station there. The property is described as the west half of lot 2, block 130, North Platte, and the consideration was $3,800.

It is the intention to build a complete weather observatory there, with all modern appliances for observation and meteorological purposes. The bureau is gradually acquiring its own property in the smaller towns for weather observations, although this is the first instance in Nebraska where a purchase has been made outright. There are several such government owned observatories in Iowa and other states. In this state, as in Omaha, the observatories are in the postoffice buildings of the various cities where observatories are established at all.

THE CHANGE OF LIFE

Intelligent Women Prepare Dangers and Pains of This Critical Period Avoided by the Use of Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that the most critical period in a woman's existence is the change of life, and that the anxiety felt by women as this time draws near is not without reason? If her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy or congestion of any organ, it is at this time likely to become active and, with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden.

At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to begin their destructive work. Such warning symptoms as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, dizziness, headache, dread of impending evil, sounds in the ears, timidity, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when woman's great change may be expected.

BURGESS IN TERRIBLE DOUBT

Unable to Decide Whether to Run for Chairmanship Again.

HIS CONSCIENCE DEMANDS A HEARING

Cannot Determine Offhand Whether He Could Do Party Justice and Attend to Private Business.

Although the republican state convention is in haste to elect a Lincoln State Chairman, Burgess, who was in Omaha Tuesday, could not tell at 11:14 Tuesday morning whether he would "be a candidate for re-election or not."

"I really cannot tell yet," said Mr. Burgess, "whether I shall be a candidate for re-election or not. I don't just exactly know what to do about the matter, but at all events I wish you wouldn't say anything about it just yet and I will tell you as soon as I decide."

Burgess and Ed Sizer, postmaster at Lincoln and political manager of the Burgess element in Lancaster county, had just separated down Farnam street.

"We just happened to meet in Omaha this morning," said Burgess, referring to himself and Sizer, who he asserted, was up on "postoffice business."

"Well, er-ah-why later in the day," he replied. "Who and what are to determine it for you?"

"Oh, well, you see there are other interests."

Seizes the Suggestion. "I see you have been elected president of the American Protective association or something like that. I am in doubt."

"Yes, the American Order of Protection," quickly interposed Burgess, and then getting away from the thought of the anti-Catholic crusaders, he added, as if inspired by a splendid suggestion:

"Yes, you see that is it. I have been elected president of this concern, which is a beneficiary order, and I am just now deliberating whether I could conscientiously accept the state chairmanship again and do justice to that position while holding this other office. I am in doubt."

And then deep wrinkles made their appearance in Mr. Burgess' brow, denoting the profound study into which he had plunged over this intricate problem which was so harassing his brain.

"Yes, it is just that one thing which stands between me and a decision. I really don't know what to do."

But as he walked east on Farnam street he remarked that he would know "later in the day."

Burgess didn't say whether or not he felt it necessary to come to Omaha to "do business in the day" whether accepting the beneficiary job would prevent his being chairman again.

SIGNAL CORPS AT OLD FORT

Company Comes to Omaha from Fort Myer and One Will Come from West.

A company of the United States Signal Corps, under the command of First Lieutenant Lawrence B. Myers, arrived in the city via the Rock Island Tuesday afternoon to take station at Fort Omaha. The company comes from Fort Myer, Va., and numbers forty-six men.

The company proceeded to Fort Omaha from the Union station, where a couple of special street cars, the heavy baggage freight train and the regular station to the fort by wagons.

Upon arrival at Fort Omaha, the Signal Corps company relieved company M, Third United States Infantry, which has been doing garrison duty at the fort for a couple of months. Company M at once proceeded to its regular station at Fort Crook.

Another company of the Signal Corps is expected to arrive in the city from the Pacific coast during the present week. These two companies will constitute the Fort Omaha garrison for the present and until the additional new barracks are ready for occupancy.

It is quite probable that the additional companies will not be assigned to duty here until late in the winter, as the barracks will not be in readiness much before that time.

Captain Eugene O. Fecht, Signal Corps, Third United States Infantry, who is in command of the post at Fort Omaha, and is now en route from Benicia Barracks, Cal., to assume his duties.

COMMERCIAL CLUB AFFAIRS

State Association Expects to Hold Meeting in Omaha Some Time in October.

The State Association of Commercial Clubs, which was organized at Fremont last winter, expects to hold a meeting in Omaha sometime in October. At its meeting Tuesday the board of directors of the Commercial club of Omaha decided to ask the association to make the club room its headquarters during the meeting.

The club voted membership to G. M. Entrikin, division freight agent of the Washakie. The membership of Alfred Mead of the Northwestern, who will go to Brookhaven, Miss., was transferred to James A. Rockwell, who will take Mr. Mead's place in the local office. The membership of W. A. Schumacher, who has gone to Kansas City, was transferred to J. H. Shomer.

A communication was received from the Colorado State Commercial association to the effect that it would call a convention to meet in Denver in January to organize an association known as the Western Immigration congress to discuss and investigate immigration conditions so far as they pertain to the development of the states west of the Mississippi. The club was invited to send delegates.

INDIAN FOR STATE COURT

Silas Woods Probably Will Not Be Tried for Murder by Uncle Sam.

It is not probable that the government will undertake the trial of Silas Woods, the Omaha Indian, indicted for the murder of another Indian, George Phillips, in the summer of 1904, at Woods' home in Thurston county. While the case has not been dismissed in the federal court it probably will be in the event of a formal indictment being found against Woods in the district court of Thurston county.

NEW CREIGHTON SCHOOL OPEN

College of Pharmacy is Doing Business as an Active Department of the Great University.

The College of Pharmacy is the latest addition to the group of colleges composing the Creighton university. It has been in successful operation four years, known as the Omaha College of Pharmacy. It has been steadily growing under the management of the present dean, Edmund Thorp, M. D., Ph. G., who is a firm believer in hard, thorough and practical work by the students.

In the main-class room, which also contains the dean's office, the walls are lined with shelves containing the official drugs recognized in the United States pharmacopoeia. These are for the use of the students who are expected to familiarize themselves with them and be able to identify them. Crude drugs, such as roots, barks and flowers are provided and the student is required to make them of practical use, and become acquainted with their physical properties and their drug value. Each student is required during his course to manufacture from crude materials a set of one hundred samples fit to be used by any pharmaceutical chemist. A prize of considerable value is awarded for the best set of samples.

The study of botany, of physics, chemistry and the laboratory work of the junior year is done in the splendidly equipped laboratories of the dental college on the third floor of the building.

The studies in quantitative analysis, pharmacy, materia medica and the manufacture of chemicals by the members of the senior year are accomplished on the ground floor, which contains a pharmaceutical laboratory to accommodate sixty students. Each is supplied with a locker and drawers, gas and water, and with a set of working materials.

In the junior year there are five courses followed, and each course in turn is finished before another is begun. First, qualitative analysis, pharmacy and Latin (pharmaceutical and medical). Second: physics Latin and pharmacy. Third: organic and inorganic chemistry. Fourth: physiology and pharmaceutical chemistry and problems. Fifth: experimental chemistry and qualitative analytical chemistry. In the senior year the courses are: First, manufacturing chemistry and dispensing. Second: quantitative chemical analysis, drug assaying, physiological chemistry, urinalysis and toxicology. Third: materia medica and therapeutics and the fourth is pharmacy. Besides these courses, there are classes in commercial training, special lectures in materia medica, anaesthetics and first aid in emergencies, bacteriology, toxicology and pharmaceutical jurisprudence.

"The average age of our students is 21," says Dean Thorp, "a time of life, therefore, when a man is best fitted for hard mental study. We have two young women this year in the senior class, and seven in the junior. There are more women this year in the Creighton College of Pharmacy than in any other college of pharmacy in the United States. They take to pharmaceutical work and are very successful in it. They are delicate of touch in experimental work and possess accurate and analytical minds.

"Prospects for this year are very encouraging. On opening day we had fifty-one students and that means about two-thirds of our full attendance, but with the new superior facilities it would not be surprising if we reached the hundred mark this year."

PICNICKERS AT KRUG PARK

Woman's Catholic Order of Foresters Swell the Crowd Yesterday.

The annual outing of the Woman's Catholic Order of Foresters was held at Krug park yesterday. The attractions of the Foresters and the galling gun section of the Omaha Guards drew a goodly sized crowd and netted the Foresters a neat sum.

PLENTY OF ELECTRIC LIGHT

Power Sufficient to Provide for Ak-Sar-Bea, Despite Many New Demands Made on It.

No apprehension is felt but that the electric light company will be able to supply all the lighting needed in decorations and street lamps during the Ak-Sar-Bea festival. The capacity of the power house, due to the installation of new machinery, is capable of handling 30,000 more sixteen-candle-power incandescents than a year ago. Therefore the 125 new arc lights put in the city, each lamp consuming the equivalent of ten incandescents in current, the 2,000 new lamps at the Burwood theater and the large number of electric signs are not expected to hamper the general service. All of these take up only about one-fourth of the additional capacity.

PLAZA FOR POSTAL MEN

Question Arises Over Legality of Delivering Large Quantities of Cigarettes and Material.

The postoffice department is just now nearly overwhelmed with the influx of packages of cigarette papers sent here to miscellaneous addresses from New York and Chicago.

A peculiar question has arisen as to whether these packages should be distributed by the letter carriers under the state inhibition against the "sale, manufacture or giving away of cigarettes, cigarette paper, etc.," as provided by the Cigarette Law. The matter has been referred to the postoffice inspectors and they are in the dark as just what to recommend in the matter. However, the matter has been referred to the postmaster general. The Omaha postoffice inspectors know of no law that prohibits the delivery of these packages of cigarette papers, and as some ten or more bushels of the packages have already been received here, the carriers are directed to deliver them to the respective addresses, until orders to the contrary have been received from the postoffice department.

Busiest Winter in Association's History is Just Ahead, Says Secretary Wade.

Secretary B. C. Wade of the Young Men's Christian association, has just returned with his family from his vacation among the lakes of Minnesota.

"I return to find the association with the brightest prospects for the winter," he said. "It will be the busiest winter we have ever had, and that's the honest truth. Many more inquiries than usual have come regarding the night school classes, and more membership fees have been paid for the corresponding period of other years. The boys' night school opened last year with thirty students, whereas there are already thirty this year and the classes do not begin until next week. More are now enrolled in the men's classes than there were last year at the opening.

GREEN GOODS CIRCULAR OUT

Old Game is Once More Revived and Authorities Are on the Lookout.

The same old story of "green goods" circulars is again being resurrected in this state and the United States marshal and secret service department of the government have been asked to assist in the ferreting out of the origin of the circulars, copies of which have been sent these departments by the recipients. The letters, circulars, type-written cautions, instructions how to telegraph, the code number, and fake newspaper clippings, have been sent to numerous parties in the state and are gradually finding their way to the federal authorities at Omaha. The game is old and old, and very few people are caught by it now.
