

OPENING MILLINERY EXHIBIT

FOR FALL 1905

BRANDEIS

Fall millinery now demands the attention of the world of fashion. To seek the first correct interpretation of authentic style in millinery, every well informed woman in Omaha instinctively turns to Brandeis'. Saturday will usher in the autumn season at the millinery style center of the west. A thousand hats await you here—a wealth of artistic creations revealing each mood and whim of accepted fall styles. We wish every woman in Omaha who admires beautiful apparel to be our guest today. Our great millinery section will show the largest, and, in point of fact, the only complete congress of styles available to women in this section of the country.

No previous season ever brought such a rich variety of individual styles to merit fashion's favor. The demands upon Brandeis' as leading exponent of millinery style in the west have been satisfied to the last degree. No intelligent effort has been neglected and no expense spared to bring to Omaha the very best that Paris and N. Y. can boast.

Exclusive Paris models from these designing artists—

- Caroline Rebeau,
- Charlotte,
- Paulette et Berthe,
- Mme. Louison,
- Esther Meyer,
- Mme. Tore,
- Vivot,
- Heitz Boyer.

Original style conceptions from these great New York designers—

- Joseph,
- Lichtenstein,
- Francois,
- Madame White,
- Marguerite,
- Bendel,
- Gately.

The hats pictured in this announcement are all original imported models sketched in our department.

Brandeis' marvelous assemblage of French patterns has been commented upon by every Eastern millinery expert who was abroad during the millinery buying season in Paris. Our New York representatives were sent abroad to make selections for Brandeis' in person. The extreme variety of the fall styles necessitated large purchases in order to secure a thorough exposition of styles.

Feathers and Trimmings

Falls most stylish garniture—wings, breasts, pompoms, tips, quills, ornaments, the large fashionable roses, jets, aligrettes, etc., etc. Every sort of trimming that will be popular shown in all varieties—a splendid showing at a range of moderate prices.

A glance at a few of the scores of Paris patterns to be seen at our opening reveals—

A stunning creation in the new moleskin shades—three long tips form a plume on one side of a flat topped crown, crown drapery of deep creamy satin. Puffed rosettes of the same underneath the crown in the back and over left ear.

A neat brown felt plateau, has upturned portions of brim draped with loose folds of velvet of deeper shade; at one side a small point of ostrich tip of corresponding shade, slightly tinged with dull pink—sheath of aligrette slants backward.

A large mushroom hat of black velvet, has facing of shell pink silk; around lower flat crown is a wreath of large pink roses and foliage and on the bandeau a chou of shell pink silk.

A remarkable model is a medium sized hat with a dome crown and a narrow rolled brim. Made of brown brush felt, crown covered with gray smoked silk. On either side are very large wings, the outside of pale brown and the inside of gray.

A hat of peacock blue velvet, turned up vertically in the back, has two half long feathers set against the brim, their tips curling forward. A fold of velvet encircles the crown, which is quite low, and tied in a cravat bow in front.

DISOBEDIENCE CHIEF POINT

Councilmen's Violation of Court's Order Made Main Part of Information.

JUDGE ALLOWS SLABAUGH TO AMEND

Councilmen Protest, but Finally Consents with the Record Showing He Waives No Right of Clients.

At the opening of the contempt hearing against five councilmen in Judge Sutton's court Friday morning the judge allowed the county attorney to amend his information, or rather to interline and modify it to show the accusation of disobedience of a court order as the prominent feature. Attorney Connell, for defendants, objected most seriously to the amendment or modification, but finally consented to it with the record showing that he thereby waived no right of his clients if, as he contended, the order of the court itself was unauthorized. He then proceeded to argue along the line, in some respects traversing ground already gone over, but with fuller emphasis on the claim that the order of the court, construing its terms strictly has not been violated at all, since the ordinance was not passed in proper form. The hearing is still in progress.

WOMAN HOUNDED TO DEATH

Repetition of False Story Drives a Massachusetts Stenographer to Commit Suicide.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Lorenson Berry, a carpenter of West Medford, Mass., today identified as that of his daughter Ella, the body of the young woman who committed suicide on Wednesday in the Hotel Manhattan. She was a stenographer in her home town, he said.

Mr. Berry declared that a letter had been on her vacation alone. Although the paper published a retraction, Mr. Berry added, the injury done her was great and she never recovered from it, but grew more and more downhearted and morose. "Wherever the daughter would go," Mr. Berry continued, "it would seem as someone was ready to point her out as a girl who had been mixed up in a disgraceful affair. Then she went away from home to seek employment in other cities. She would be a short time in a place when the story would reach the ears of her employers and she would be told that she could not remain. This happened several times until my child could not bear it any longer."

Elmer Berry, the dead girl's brother, who was with the father, said that a letter had been received by the family from the girl in which they were notified by her that she had decided to put an end to it. "I cannot bear this false stain upon my character," she wrote to her father, and I see nothing else for me to do than to kill myself. Please forgive me and believe that I would not do this thing if it were not that I am nearly out of my mind with grief and horror at the awful story which everybody seems to think is true."

OPENING OF THE BURWOOD

First Performance Will Be Given at the New Theater This Evening.

Last night the lights at the Burwood theater were given a final test and found to be in good working order, the company held a dress rehearsal of the play that is to be presented tonight, and the last details arranged for the opening tonight.

REDICK INVESTS IN OMAHA

Sells Los Angeles Property and Brings Money to Gate City, Where Real Estate is Cheap.

John I. Redick is selling his Los Angeles property and will invest his money in Omaha real estate. He has just sold a lot for $16,000 which he bought sixteen years ago for $4,000 and the investment has paid him 5 per cent interest since the purchase. He thinks Los Angeles values are high enough now and he will place his money in Omaha, where real estate is cheap and where he thinks he has a prospect of doubling his money in a few years.

RACE WAR IS STOPPED

HENDERSON, MO., Sept. 15.—Sheriff Henry and a posse of deputies today stopped the race riot trouble here and have restored peace by arresting a number of persons believed to have been implicated.

The arrests were made without violence and it is now believed there will be no further trouble. The race war resulted from the employment of negroes to replace whites in doing some of the heavier work in a lumber mill.

REFUGEES AT CINCINNATI

Two Hundred People Fleeing from Yellow Fever Reach Ohio City.

FIVE OF PARTY AFFLICTED WITH PLAGUE

Train Is Met at Depot by Ambulances and Sick Persons Are Taken to the City Hospitals.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—At least five persons suspected of having yellow fever, arrived here today over the Queen & Crescent line at 2:45 a. m. Those held are: Mrs. T. J. Roan of Tallulah, La.; Miss Anna Stone, Mrs. J. Stone of Tallulah, La.; Willie Walters Smith of Lake Providence, La., and Miss Stockner of Lake Providence, La.

The train consisted of 200 refugees from Lake Providence, La., and Tallulah, La., who were fleeing from the yellow fever.

Dr. Clark W. Davis, health officer of this city, being notified by General Passenger Agent Binsinger that he was bringing 200 people from the south up in a special, sent Dr. F. B. Lyle and an assistant to board the train at Lexington, examine the people aboard and wire him. Ambulances were at the train to receive the patients in response to a message from Dr. Lyle.

When the train reached Lexington several persons who were sick attempted to escape, but were caught by the police and forced back to the train. They were taken to the branch hospital on their arrival here.

All the other passengers of the train were allowed to go to their destinations, but the names and addresses of all were taken and they can be reached by the authorities if needed. Reports that a large number of these were also sick, were investigated by physicians during the day.

Fifty of the party of 200 came up to this city absolutely penniless, though each carried a lot of hand baggage. These fifty gathered together in a group at the Grand Central station. Congressman R. E. Hamadale of Lake Providence, La., was on the train and he and his family rendered every assistance to the stranded group of fifty.

At Tallulah, La., seventy-five persons boarded the train, but they did not get on at the station. Knowing they would have difficulty in getting out of town, which is in the heart of the fever district, they walked out a mile and half and when the engineer stopped for them the crowd of men, women and children got aboard. Some of these are among the penniless ones.

Later in the day after the physicians had been able to make a more thorough investigation the five suspected cases were declared to be genuine yellow fever and were isolated and arrangements made for proper care.

Early Passes Chattanooga.
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Two carloads of yellow fever refugees from Lake Providence, Tallulah and other Louisiana towns passed through the city this morning bound north.

Situation at New Orleans.
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15.—Report of yellow fever situation to 2 p. m. Friday:
Total to date..... 2,205
New cases..... 125
Deaths..... 1

RAMSEY TO MAKE A FIGHT

Will Not Step Out of Wabash Presidency at the Request of Gould.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Great surprise was expressed in the financial district of the city today when the public appeal of Joseph Ramsey, jr., president of the Wabash railroad, to the stockholders of the company to continue him in office became known. At the office of George J. Gould no statement could be obtained concerning Mr. Ramsey's action.

John P. Ramsey, son of the president of the Wabash, was seen today.

"At what do you estimate the holdings of the Gould party?" he was asked.

"I understand that they amount to 40 per cent," he replied.

"The next largest owners are the Rockefellers, are they not?"

"That is my understanding," replied Mr. Ramsey.

"My father," he continued, "has the support of several large stockholders in this fight, and, of course, expects to win. There has been some dissatisfaction as to the way earnings have been applied. The views of my father on this point have clashed with those of Mr. Gould."

"There are only two ways of getting over this difficulty—my father should leave the company or else the control should be turned over to the interests in sympathy with his views."

"Mr. Ramsey was asked to surrender the office of president and was doing so at once, but holders of large blocks of Wabash securities persuaded him not to do so. The same interests now wish him not to sever his connection with the company at the expiration of his term, which occurs on October 10, but to continue to be president, and they have pledged their support in a fight to secure the turning over of the control to individuals holding the same views that he holds as to the best way of operating the road."

"Are these individuals the Rockefellers?" Mr. Ramsey was asked.

"I really cannot say," he replied.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15.—If the majority debenture and stockholders of the Wabash railroad company honor me with their proxy to vote at the annual election on the second Tuesday of October, and I am placed in control of the company, the Wabash railroad will be operated entirely independent of all other interests than those of the debenture and stockholders themselves. I wish to deny emphatically this statement that there is any alliance on my part with the Vanderbilt or New York Central interests or with the Pennsylvania interests or any other interests which would prevent the handling of the Wabash properties for any other purpose than giving the returns to those who have their money invested there."

This statement was made today by Joseph Ramsey jr., the president of the Wabash, with whom the large Gould interests in the property is now at variance.

FIRE RECORD.
St. Joseph Furnace Store.
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 15.—Lightning struck the Hax-Smith Furniture company's store during a severe electrical storm and it was totally destroyed. Loss, $200,000, one-third on building; fully insured.

Curiosity May Cost Eyesight.
PIERRE, S. D., Sept. 15.—(Special Telegram.)—Charles Lundstrom of Bee Heights, while visiting the mill at this city today, attempted to examine the interior workings of the gas engine with a lighted match and was severely burned about the head and may lose his sight from the effects of the burns.

Celebrates Advent of Railroad.
DENVER, Sept. 15.—Hot Sulphur Springs, 115 miles from Denver, in Middle park, celebrated the completion of the Denver

Northwestern & Pacific railroad (The Moffat Denver-Salt Lake line) to that point and the inauguration of regular train service between the city and sports. An excursion train was run for the Denver Chamber of Commerce.

CZAR STOPS DISCRIMINATION
Imperial Ukase Abolishing Retaliatory Duties Goes Into Immediate Effect in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 15.—The imperial ukase abolishing the retaliatory duties on American imports was gazetted today and was placed in immediate effect at all the customs houses by telegraphic orders from the ministry of finance.

The ukase is as follows:
Acting on the recommendation of the minister of finance September 7 the emperor has decreed:

First—To revoke the order placing a heavier duty on certain goods of United States origin which are included under sections 82, 136, 151, 162, 173, 181, 167 B and 173 C of the general customs tariffs for European trade and to revoke also the necessity for showing a declaration of origin of manufacture.

Second—This order shall be published in the index of laws and telegraphic instructions shall be given to all customs houses to put it into effect at once.

The imports affected by the foregoing sections include resins, tans, finished and unfinished castiron, wrought iron and steel and manufactures thereof, such as boilers, tools, sewing machines, agricultural implements, traction engines and gas and water meters. These are now importable under the general European tariff and after January 1 under the schedules of the new Russo-German commercial treaty.
