DEMOCRATS IN A DILEMMA

Result of Republican State Convention Leaves Them Adrift.

TO ENDORSE LETTON AND REGENTS

One Bourbon War Horse Would as Soon Vote for Anti-Corporation Republicans as Continue to Vote for Populists.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 17.—(Special.)—The democrats will hold their convention Tuesday to name a county ticket and select delegates to the state convention to be held the day following. A number of the wards held caucuses last night, and in the seventh precinct were adopted commending the republicans of the county for their stand on the question of endorsing Letton and the regents, and claiming the same has always been a populist contention. It is likely the populists of this county will not go to the trouble of holding a county convention as it would be impossible for them, without the old reliable Tibbick, to get a corporal's guard to attend such a convention.

That the democratic state convention will follow the example cited and endorse the republican state platform and so forth, is possible, but, of course, not probable. A Lincoln democrat who is really sincere in desiring the regulation of the railroads of the state, said the best thing the democratic state convention could do would be to recommend Governor Mickey and Treasurer Mortenson for their work as members of the state board of assessment, and to commend Morris Brown for his work as attorney general, and to top it all off by condemning the Union Pacific and Burlington railroads for paying their taxes. Then, by endorsing Commissioner Letton and the candidates for regents nominated by the republicans, a real movement for reform would have been accomplished by both parties, and the result would be to give the people, united, against the corporations. He thought that after voting for populists so long the democrats could not do better than vote this year for the anti-corporation candidates in the persons of the republican nominees.

Echoes of State Convention.

Lancaster county republicans have not "come out" of it, but are still fighting over their own candidates for the republican state convention. C. S. Allen, a member of the Board of Regents of the State university, came out first in a signed communication in which he took the people of Lincoln to task for not standing by John H. Ames in earlier form when the latter was being considered as a candidate for supreme judge. This morning Dr. Finney, one of the delegates, retaliated over his own signature by taking Judge Ames to task for trying to vote the delegation for a corporation candidate, after he had signed the fight, Dr. Finney said that the action of the delegation in splitting up in a fight was the best thing that could have happened and that it will prevent in the future the naming of delegates who can be pitched over into some other camp like so many of them. A local candidate is through with them.

Another Democrat for Governor.

A number of democrats in Lancaster county are busy just now in running P. E. McKillip of Humphrey for governor, even though the convention is a year from now. They are talking McKillip because of the splendid showing he made against Congressman McCarthy last year and of the fact that he secured all but three votes in his home precinct against his opponent. It is understood here that McKillip would prefer this time to take a throw at the governorship than to tackle the more professional fight a second time. It is said he can have the latter nomination without opposition, but his friends are going to insist that he make the race for governor.

It is claimed that Prof. Abbott of Columbus is showing his mind against the democratic vote than any republican nominee. This because Mr. Abbott is an old university boy and the editor of a newspaper. A democratic newspaper man was the following day in the suburbs of the republicans, and he is authority for the statement that Abbott will receive much democratic support. Whether the democratic editors will be strong enough to get the democratic state convention to endorse him to the question.

Testimony in Grain Case.

Attorney General Norris Brown will take testimony tomorrow in the senate chamber in the grain case, preparatory to making his argument for a permanent injunction against the operation of the alleged trust. E. H. O'Connor, head of the trust, testified yesterday in the senate chamber in support of his contention, in getting which he has been materially assisted by the independent elevator men.

Supreme court will meet Tuesday for the first time in the new building. All of the judges have been on the job on their vacations and with the exception of Chief Justice Holcomb will get back into the harness in the fall. Judge Holcomb had a severe setback upon his return home from the coast and is still in very bad shape.

A change has been made in the offices and court room during the vacation by Clerk Lindsey which will be appreciated by the judges and attorneys. The clerk's room has been moved across the corridor into the consulting room and the courtroom use Judge Holcomb's office for a place in which to consult. The cases will be argued in the usual room, but it has been refitted with new paint and carpets and is not recognizable. A brief room has been fitted up with tables and chairs for the accommodation of attorneys.

Uninvested School Money.

Of the permanent school fund there remains in the hands of Treasurer Mortenson, $12,000 not invested. Mr. Mortenson expects, however, to find a place for this money in a short time as he is taking up state warrants to the amount of $3,000 to $10,000 a day and he has in sight many more thousands of dollars worth. He is investing the money of all the trust funds in these warrants.

The city of Lincoln is up against the typhoid fever proposition, but just how badly it is not known for in this little city, it is not compulsory for physicians to report such things to the health commissioner. City physicians have been on their feet here at 100 cases of the fever here and there. The mayor is requesting physicians to report the same to the health officer. The health officer lately has been fighting diphtheria which secured a foothold in the Russian colony. He has a disease about under control now and does not expect it to spread.

Osceloa Pastor Resigns.

OSCEOLA, Neb., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Rev. C. G. E. has been the pastor of the German Methodist Episcopal church of this county for the past two years, was transferred by the bishop to Sterling, Colo. He thinks that a place like Sterling is too large enough to support him and he has accepted an offer of resignation in his resignation to his presiding elder and will join the English speaking conference, for the dominion can preach as well in English as in the German language.

CONVENTIONS IN HOLT COUNTY

Republicans and Fusionists Nominate Tickets Saturday.

O'Neill, Neb., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Republican ticket: R. E. Chittick, treasurer; W. P. Simar, clerk; C. E. Hall, sheriff; C. J. Malone, county judge; Florence Zink, county superintendent; Dr. E. J. Bird, coroner, and G. H. Brady, surveyor.

Fusion ticket: J. P. Mullin, treasurer; James Hiseock, clerk; William Purdy, sheriff; Sheridan Simmons, county judge; Margaret Hurley, county superintendent; Dr. J. P. Flynn, coroner, and J. L. Norton, surveyor.

The above tickets are now before the people of Holt county and are entering one of the hardest fought campaigns to be waged in the state.

The republican convention was harmonious throughout and nominally all of the candidates were nominated by acclamation. After a few good natured contests had been settled, the republican convention was the most representative convention in some respects, ever held in Holt county and people of all parties concede the ticket to be a winner.

On the other hand the fusionists had a hard time to name a ticket at all and the sore spots will not heal up for many moons. The pop convention and the democratic convention named conference committees to draw up long drawn out contests and the democratic party wanted half of the officers and this started the ball to rolling.

They reported back to their convention recommending that there be no fusion unless they get half of the officers, but the convention had cooled off during the recess and promptly turned down the report and began doing business without conference committees with the above result. There is said to be four pops and four democrats on the fusion ticket, but no one seems to know which is which.

At the democratic county convention held this afternoon the following nominations were made: For county treasurer, John Simpson, sheriff, Jud Clark; superintendent public instruction, Mrs. Olive V. Brown, surveyor, W. W. Watson. No nominations were made for county clerk or county judge.

ST. PAUL, Neb., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—The populist and democratic county conventions were held here this afternoon and, as usual, fusion was effected on the county ticket. The nominees were: County treasurer, D. A. Gell (pop.); county clerk, John Wyszocki (dem.); county judge, M. D. Smith (dem.); sheriff, W. C. Alexander (pop.); county superintendent, J. A. Ziegler (pop.); coroner, Dr. Morrow (dem.). Delegates were also elected to the state convention. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the republican administration, and affirming the usual position issues.

LEXINGTON, Neb., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—The Populist county convention convened at the court house in this city Saturday afternoon and organized with E. B. Smith as chairman, and Markwood Holmes as secretary. The following nominations were made: County clerk, Samuel H. Hewitt, treasurer, J. W. Johnson; judge, Robert Scott; county superintendent, Mrs. J. M. Wells; coroner, Dr. Hugh Mantor; surveyor, Robert Smith; commissioner, Philip Mutchie. The following delegates were elected to the state convention: Markwood Holmes, D. E. Lincoln, R. F. Davis, J. T. Costin, Jacob Hiser, J. H. Donahue, J. T. Roberts, O. K. Jones, E. R. Kennedy, J. T. Moore, R. M. Scott, Charles McCabe.

BEAVER CITY, Neb., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—The republicans and fusionists have now the following tickets in the field: For county clerk, John Schaupp (rep.); present incumbent, and George Poell (fus.); county judge, J. H. Mullin (fus.); present incumbent, and T. C. Harrison (rep.); sheriff, W. J. Eby (rep.); present incumbent, and James Dunkel (fus.); treasurer, W. R. King (rep.); and J. J. Lorenzen (fus.); superintendent, Miss Margaret Brown (rep.); and James G. Kunz (fus.); coroner, Dr. J. Luepelt (rep.); present incumbent, and Dr. Andrew Baker (fus.); surveyor, C. A. Baldwin and Jay Kingsbury.

AINSWORTH, Neb., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—The democrats of Brown county met here in the courthouse Saturday afternoon and nominated the following candidates to be elected at the coming general election: County clerk, H. Krisenbeck of Ainsworth; treasurer, Charles O. Murphy of Ainsworth; sheriff, J. D. Cook of Ainsworth; county superintendent, Miss Florence Johnson of Ainsworth; surveyor, Ulrich Halpeter; coroner, Dr. H. C. Cameron of Johnston.

BEAVER CITY, Neb., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—The populist county convention yesterday was thinly attended, some precincts being unrepresented. All of the old delegates were nominated without reference to the nominees who are unrepresented on the ticket. The democrats have called a convention for next week, when it is claimed another ticket will be placed in nomination.

News of Nebraska.

HUMBOLDT—J. R. Curry and Mrs. M. A. Hums, both residents of the east part of the county, went to Missouri this week and were married. They will live on a farm near Verdun.

PLATTSMOUTH—The recent heavy rains here have caused a great deal of trouble to the Nebraska out of its banks here, and unless the precipitation is stopped the entire valley will be flooded as all tributaries are running bank full.

PLATTSMOUTH—J. Pearson, who has been in the business here for some time, has disposed of his business here to Harvey, Neb., and is moving there to take up a new business in Antelope county, valued at $10,000.

TECUMSEH—Chapman P. C. Johnson of the Nebraska penitentiary has bought two automobiles for the use of the penitentiary. The authorities there want to train the prisoners in the use of the automobile for use in case of escaped prisoners.

TECUMSEH—Reim & Co. of this city will go into the manufacturing of cement building block business. They have bought a machine and will buy a suitable building block shop. Work is in progress on the building all winter, and are hopeful that the enterprise will warrant the keeping of work of a large force of men.

PLATTSMOUTH—Several months ago D. H. Hagan came to Plattsmouth for the purpose of making arrangements for holding a piano contest. He succeeded in interesting fourteen business men in the project and the deal was started. It now transpires that about $300,000 worth, claimed to have been put into the contest, are now in circulation. The business men interested have since held several meetings, resulting in the determination to cancel the contest and start over again.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Sewer Bond Proposition to Go Before City Council Tonight.

MATTER OF GREAT IMPORTANCE TO CITY

Plan Now is to Include Whole System in One Election and Ask Voters to Authorize the Bonds.

This evening when the city council meets the sewer matter will again be taken up. The ordinance accepting the plans of Andrew Rosewater will be passed, and it is expected that a general sewer ordinance will be introduced. This ordinance must define the sewers it is proposed to build, specifying the streets and alleys as nearly as possible. There is to be no attempt made to vote on a portion of the sewers, but the whole issue of bonds allowed by law, $250,000 will be brought before the people. By doing this the city authorities think that there will be less opposition from those who consider that the packers and stock yards should build the Mad creek sewer. With an enlarged sewer system which will practically effect the entire city the chances are that opposition which was so manifest at one time will be nearly if not quite overcome.

It is not expected that any members of the council will be opposed to having the people vote the entire amount at once. These officials declare that with the matter disposed of the money will be available at any time and that the work of building larger sewers can be pushed right along. Besides the big sewer to the river, a sewer to Jettor's brewery and Corbin's place is proposed, also a sewer to reach the river through Missouri avenue. Some of the present storm water and sanitary sewers are to be enlarged providing the people vote in favor of the bond issue. These bonds, if issued, are to bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent and will run for twenty years with the usual five year's option.

Commercial Club Matters.

For some time past interest in the South Omaha Commercial club has been on the wane. Dr. W. McCrann, president of the club, has prepared an address to the business men of the city calling upon them to again take hold and stir things up. "Not since the organization of the city," says Dr. McCrann, "has the want of public spirit been so manifest as at this time. What we need are not so many more 'knockers' as in the history of South Omaha has there been a time when pushers in public improvements meant so much for municipal development as now. With the population of South Omaha we ought to have a commercial club of not less than 1,000 members. Let every man take hold, not only the business and professional men, but the packers and commission dealers at the yards. By united action a great deal of good can be accomplished."

Trouble Cleared Last Night.

Manager Carter of the telephone company is reporting that by working the force of linemen all day Sunday the trouble on the wires caused by the storm was cleared. This morning all of the telephones in the city will be in working order. A great deal of work was necessary by the burning out of cables caused by a large number of wires. New cables had to be hoisted to replace the burned out ones and connections made. While complaints were numerous, most of the telephone company seemed to understand and working and abided by the delay with more than ordinary patience. Subscribers are being consoled with the knowledge that it will not be long before the bulk of the wires are placed under ground and after that but a little trouble on the wires during storms.

Highland Park Club Picnic.

The Highland Park improvement club will hold its annual picnic at Highland park on Wednesday evening—if it does not rain. The original date was for last Friday evening, but a postponement was necessary on account of the storm. The same program as previously announced will be gone through with. In addition, Jack Buchanan has consented to render a few selections on his bagpipes. A basket dinner will be served in the rear part of the evening and at 7:30 o'clock the speech-making is to commence. If the weather is pleasant there is sure to be a large attendance of club members and their friends.

Prisoners Are Expensive.

A bill for feeding city prisoners for the month of August was filed last Friday with the city clerk. This bill calls for $74.24 and means that 731 meals were served to prisoners in one month. This is at the rate of about twenty-five prisoners a day. Most of the prisoners were tramps, who were discharged after being held twelve or fifteen hours. Only a small number of the total were sentenced to work on the weed cutting gang. Several months ago the city purchased two cars of rubble, but not a prisoner had been put to work on this rubble since the stone was dumped in the rear of the city hall building. Had the stone been broken it would come in handy soon for the filling of washouts on unpaved streets. As it is now the washouts will be filled with these rubble and the endless task of filling holes goes on.

Educating the Voters.

Several voting machines have been located in stores where election booths will be located in order that the voters may be more familiar with the machines. It is the intention of the city authorities to send out as many of these machines as possible before election, but only voting places where the location is permanent will be favored with machines. The voters seem to be grasping the idea readily and it only takes a few lessons to teach the ordinary voter how to cast a straight or split ballot.

Printers Strike at Rochester.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Compositors in sheet book and job printing establishments quit work Saturday night to enforce their demand for an eight-hour day. It is estimated that 150 men in this city have gone out and as many more are expected to join them tomorrow. A number of the independent firms have signed the eight-hour agreement.

President Attends Church.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Sept. 17.—After attending morning service at Christ church, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt and the children, the president passed the remainder of the day in and about Sagamore Hill. No visitors were received.

Why

Don't you give your heart the same chance you do the other organs?

Why? Because while any other organ is in trouble it refuses to work, and you have to repair it.

The heart is the ever faithful servant, never refuses, as long as it has power to move, but continues to do the best it can, getting weaker and weaker, until it is past repair, and then stops. It is just as sick as the other organs, but because it will work you let it.

However, it is not too late for a "change of heart."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

will give you heart strength and vitality to overcome Dizziness, Stipitation, Short Breath, Faint Spells, Pains in Heart and all other Heart aches and difficulties.

My heart would ache and palpitate terribly and at times I could hardly breathe. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure has restored me to perfect health and am very grateful.

ODD FELLOWS AT QUAKER CITY

Hundreds of Brethren of the Three Links Arrive for Sovereign Grand Lodge Meeting.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—Hundreds of members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and many of their friends continued to arrive here today from all sections of the country to attend the annual communication of the sovereign grand lodge, which will be formally opened tomorrow morning.

Robert E. Wright of Allentown, Pa., grand sire of the sovereign lodge, arrived tonight and was enthusiastically welcomed by a large delegation of brethren members of the order. A large contingent of California members also reached here tonight.

Religious services for the benefit of the visitors were held this morning and afternoon and were largely attended. The services in the forenoon were held at the Arch Street Methodist Episcopal church, where the Rev. George H. Hickley, Ph. D., preached. The afternoon services were held on the lawn of the Odd Fellows' home in the northwestern section of the city. The principal speaker was the Rev. Dr. Russell Conwell, pastor of Grace Baptist church, this city.

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health is the Great Source of Power to Inspire and Encourage—All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said: "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, whitish irregularities or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."—Mrs. Bessie Ansley, 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ansley it will do for every sick and ailing woman.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES.

"His Highness the Bey" at the Boyd.

"Without too rudely shocking familiar traditions of simple rural satire, the two Chicago university students who produced "His Highness the Bey" have given to the public a most amusing and laughable little affair. The piece was given in Omaha for the first time yesterday-afternoon and perhaps that is the best fair-weather audience greeted it. The continuous roar of laughter and rounds of applause was comment enough as to the popularity of the play with those who saw it. The little play was introduced as typically Chicagoan and perhaps that is it. The play bears many Chicago earmarks, chief of which is its classical name, Mr. Louis Wurtzelheimer. His highness must not be blamed for wearing the purple, for the honors were thrust on him, he being caught in an unguarded moment in some remote corner of the orient where a boy had just been lost and whose royal pipe, crown, robe and other little perquisites of Turkish sovereignty were fairly pining for a master.

Herr Wurtzelheimer, originally from Kankakee after coming to Germany, reluctantly yields to the pressure of international solicitation to ascend the throne and he does so with uneven tread until his eyes chance to fall upon about eighteen of the most beautiful heroines which the missing roses has left to him. Then he comes to and adjusts himself to these nothing surroundings with amazing aptitude. Incidentally Mr. Wurtzelheimer takes his new friends into a little domestic secret which he had been treasuring up in his mind for years. He had originally married the snake charmer in a side show, so no one is surprised at his magnanimity in consenting to preside over the social and political affairs of a Turkish province.

Phil W. Peters is the boy and he keeps his audience laughing all the time and that is the purpose of the play. He is backed up well by Al Denker as the Russian ambassador and Justin J. Cooper as caliph of Harran. The bevy of girls is as attractive as those of their pretended functions might be supposed. Cora Beach Turner as an American heiress, Maiky McCane as a southern belle ensnared in the harem and W. H. Thompson as a war correspondent display good talents as vocalists. The entire company does good work.

Vaudeville at the Orpheum.

The second week's bill at the Orpheum is a trifle more varied than its predecessor, and is made up of turns that please. The opening act introduces three colored entertainers of more than common ability—Miss Harper, Mr. Desmond and Miss Bailey—according to the bill, one fat, one lean and one quite black, all good. They made a hit for fair last night. Another act that went like wildfire with the Sunday evening audience was the Messenger Boys' Trio, or rather one end of it. Willie Howland is a comedian of ability, already, and should develop into a top-liner. His imitation of Joe Welch is better than Welch. The others sing well. Lew Wells has some new jokes in his "talk," and plays the saxophone very well. The Wilton brothers are clever athletes, doing some fine work on the horizontal bars, with a lot of funny acrobatics mixed in. Estelita doesn't sing as good as she looks, and she sings well, too. Her Spanish dance is a trifle too languorous for the Sunday attendance, but it is graceful and inspiring in a way and should make a hit before the week is ended. S. Miller Kent comes to vaudeville with all the faults that marked his career as a leading man in a well-known theatrical star. He overacts badly at all times and falls far short of convincing anyone at any time. His act is a well-conceived one, practically a monologue, but his talent is hardly up to the artist's requirements.

The bill closes with a series of artistic pieces under the direction of Mrs. Henrietta de Serris, which are very well done in every way. Eight subjects are chosen, and each affords splendid opportunities for effective groupings. The men and women make very good things of the physical specimens, and readily lend themselves to the artist's purpose, giving to each act the warmth of life with the immobility of marble. This is one of the finest exhibitions of the sort ever given at the Orpheum. The Kinodrome pictures are good. Both performances yesterday were attended by large crowds and the turns were well received.

"Peggy from Paris" at the Krug.

"Peggy from Paris" at the third George Ade production to play in Omaha within a week opened at the Krug theater yesterday to two big audiences. The musical comedy scored well and continues to hold its own as a maker of laughter and encores. Two things about the present company force their way to the front. The first is Clara Martin, who has the part of Lottie Plummer, and the second is the chorus, which is magnificent in good looks and vivacity and wears nice, bright clothes. Miss Martin's voice is like a dew-drop in the desert, presuming the desert to be the result of her being in the main comedy production. Her husband, who hire first for beauty and second for song, is recruiting. Besides singing Miss Martin manages to keep one anxious to have her appear again.

Arthur Deason is still Reginald Hickley, the useful boy, and is the main comedy prop, having grafted in some new ones on the old trunk. Julia West, the Peggy, was hampered by a bad cold. She is fair to the sight and manages a trailing skirt with good grace. Fred Bronson has a good tenor voice but does not appear to work it. Eva Bennett, as the chorus lady who has issued, from an alley, is sweet and attractive and not tough enough by half. As the grotesque wife of the angel banker Mimie Olson does all that reason can ask. One is forced to wonder where Olivette Haynes studied German dialect. It fits the track pretty often, but she made good with her "Henry" song.

E. H. O'Connor, head of the trust, testified yesterday in the senate chamber in support of his contention, in getting which he has been materially assisted by the independent elevator men.

Supreme court will meet Tuesday for the first time in the new building. All of the judges have been on the job on their vacations and with the exception of Chief Justice Holcomb will get back into the harness in the fall. Judge Holcomb had a severe setback upon his return home from the coast and is still in very bad shape.

A change has been made in the offices and court room during the vacation by Clerk Lindsey which will be appreciated by the judges and attorneys. The clerk's room has been moved across the corridor into the consulting room and the courtroom use Judge Holcomb's office for a place in which to consult. He is investing the money of all the trust funds in these warrants.

City physicians have been on their feet here at 100 cases of the fever here and there. The mayor is requesting physicians to report the same to the health officer. The health officer lately has been fighting diphtheria which secured a foothold in the Russian colony. He has a disease about under control now and does not expect it to spread.
