MONEY FOR PARK AND ROAD

One Thousand Dollars Premised by the Board of Park Commissioners.

CITY ENGINEER MAKES HIS PLEA

Explains How New City Charter Has Shortened Funds in His Department Three or Four Thousand Dollars.

Andrew Rosewater appeared before the Park commission Friday morning and induced that body to appropriate $1,000 equally from the park and road funds to help out the finances of his department for the remainder of the year. The engineer showed that much work had been done by his department for the park board, the September bill alone amounting to $222. The charter requires the department to do work for the Park commission without additional compensation.

WORRY OVER LIGHTING ENDED

Action of Electric Company in Paying Royalties Greatly Simplifies Matters.

The announcement that the Omaha Electric Light and Power company would pay its royalty in advance this year greatly simplifies the problem as to how the street lighting is to be financed for the remainder of the year. Little doubt is felt at the city hall but that the Omaha Gas company will do as much. These amounts in hand there will be money enough to pay for the full lighting bills without feeling apprehension over the pending court decision as to whether or not the city has the right to anticipate for current lighting bills royalties which do not have to be paid over until early in the following year.

"I am much pleased with this act on the part of President Nash," said Mayor Moore. "It certainly shows the right kind of public spirit, something that every city needs an infinite amount to help it keep pace with progress and development. I am

AT THE PLAY HOUSES.

"A Corner in Coffee" at the Boyd.

Anyone who has followed Cyrus Townsend Brandy along his lurid course through "history" will easily understand that his pathway, so far as he has ventured into lighter literature, is marked with much of that same slap-bank, helter-skelter method of handling subjects that is so noticeable in his efforts to deal with what more serious writers have considered in the light of established facts. It is hardly to be expected that even so gifted a man as the eminent eastern divine could keep his regiment of typewriters going and turn out good stuff all the time. This much should be admitted in extenuation of the offense he has committed in writing a "popular" novel, and then partaking in its dramatization. Mr. Tim Murphy tries very hard to give life to its dull lines and inane situations, but with little success. The theme of the play is little more than the modern stage, and its working out is along most conventional lines. In fact, the main situation is borrowed directly from Howard and Belasco, and more's the pity, has been sadly damaged in transplanting. What humor it has is coarse.

OLD CREAMERY MAN LEAVES

John J. King Steps Up Higher in Beatrice Creamery Management.

John J. King, at present manager of the local branch of the Beatrice Creamery company, leaves for Pueblo on Sunday to take temporary charge of the Beatrice Creamery company's plant at that place. At the same time he becomes assistant general manager of the Beatrice Creamery company with headquarters at the general office, Lincoln. He will make his home eventually in Lincoln, where he will be stationed.

Mr. King came to Omaha about four years ago as president of the Nebraska-Lowa Creamery company, which is now leased by the Beatrice company. This was the first large creamery established in Omaha and did much to develop the creamery business here.

For many years before he came to the city to live, Mr. King was interested in the dairy business near Omaha and operated a branch house here. He introduced several innovations in the creamery and dairy business in Omaha, being the first person to place bottled milk and cream upon the market. He also inaugurated the use of the carton package for butter in Omaha. While he was with the West Point creamery he began the pasteurization of milk and cream, which had never been done commercially in the state before.

Attention, Ladies of the Macabees!

Members of Gate City live No. 8, Ladies of the Macabees of the World, you hereby notified to attend the funeral of our late member, Lady Sophia Madorin, which will take place at 2 p. m. Sunday, October 1, from the family residence, 306 Valley street.

MRS. BELLE CRONIN, Record Keeper of Gate City Hive, No. 8.

Omaha Boy with Y. M. C. A. Benjamin Charrington, left Omaha last Wednesday night for Adrian, Mich., where he has accepted the position of physical director of the Young Men's Christian association. On the way he will attend the international conference of the association which is convening at Detroit. He expects to continue his education next year in some eastern college.

ASKS FOR HEAVY DAMAGES

Ora Thomas Wants Union Pacific to Pay Her Thirty Thousand Dollars.

Ora Thomas has brought suit in the United States circuit court against the Union Pacific Railroad company for $30,000 damages sustained through a collision on that road while she was a passenger on July 22, 1905. The wreck occurred near South Omaha, through the car on which she was riding becoming detached from the main train by a misplaced switch, and was subsequently run into by a Missouri Pacific train, wrecking the car. Her injuries were about the neck and back of the head, arms, etc., and were, she alleges, of a permanent character. She states in her petition that she was a dressmaker by profession, and was capable of earning about $1,000 per year, but since her injuries she has been unable to work, and is permanently disabled from so doing. The case is transferred from the district court of Douglas county.

Notes from the Army.

Colonel Charles B. Hall of the Eighteenth United States Infantry, commanding the unit at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., is in the city and visited at army headquarters Friday morning.

Private Ernest McNew, Company B, First Infantry, Fort Des Moines, has been honorably discharged by direction of the War Department.

Reins Damage Parks. Park Superintendent Adams has reported to the commission that the excavations for the lake in Miller park have been retarded by the heavy rains. He says that an artificial water supply must be arranged at the park and suggests a well and the pumping of water by a Missouri engine, the expense to be about $200. Handicapped Ben's park, near the stadium, at Riverside park much rubbish has been cleared away and the area increased and handsome and serviceable gutters put in along the drives.

JEWISH NEW YEAR DEVOTION

Beginning of Holiday Season is Most Appropriately Observed.

SERVICES AT TEMPLE ISRAEL ELABORATE

Rabbi Cohn Preaches Eloquently on the Heart's Desire and Encourages Congregation to Persistent Effort for Good.

The beginning of the Jewish holiday season with the Rosh Hoshona, the Jewish New Year, was signalized at Temple Israel last night with unusually elaborate services, which were largely attended. Special music was given, including the singing of "Be Thou Strong" (by Niddinger), by Mrs. Donovan. The appointed service for the occasion was read and Rabbi Cohn preached a brilliant sermon, taking his text from the psalmist, "Come, then, that I asked of the Lord that will I seek after."

His subject was "The Heart's Longing." "This," said the rabbi, "is a sacred evening in each heart. Each of us has in his inmost heart a longing, some ambition, some ideal, which he has created for himself. The longing of the psalmist was that he should live a blameless life; that his reputation and character should be spotless.

"Religion is of supreme value. It makes morality. Without religion morality soon dwindles and loses itself. On the other hand, morality is the soul of religion. They go hand in hand. But before morality goes religion, which it inculcates. The brightest minds in the world, regardless of sect or belief, have paid their tributes to religion. Men who scoff fall to recognize its high value. It should be first and not last in their thoughts.

"One great longing of this congregation at the present time is for a new temple. At a recent meeting $8,300 was subscribed for the purpose. The good work must be continued and the fact accomplished. What we desire we must seek after. No good comes of its own accord. The new physiology is one of action. We must earn our own blessings and we must work energetically for a new temple."

The New Year's services will continue all day in the temples of the reformed faith and today and tomorrow in the temples of the orthodox followers.

RECRUITS SCARCE AT PRESENT

Only Twenty-Four Secured in This Territory During the Month of September.

There has not been any great rush for enlistment in the United States army at the recruiting station in this city, and the substations at Lincoln, Grand Island and Sioux City during the month of September. The total number of enlistments in twenty-four, there has been about twice the number of applications, but the rejections have been almost invariably for physical disqualifications. The moral character of the enlistments have been uniformly good. There was one re-enlistment of a colored soldier and a number of white re-enlistments.

A special effort is now being made to secure desirable enlistments for the signal corps. Artisans are wanted, particularly carpenters. The same physical requirements will apply for enlistment in this branch as in all other branches of the service. The enlistment will be for three years, and applicants must produce certificates of moral character and references as to their qualifications as artisans. The general pay is the same as for ordinary branches of the service, but all artisans will also be allowed extra pay. Applicants must be between 21 and 35 years of age. The new order relative to the physical examination of recruits by the recruiting officers will go into effect October 1. However, as a regular contract surgeon is attached to the Omaha recruiting depot, the rule will not apply to this station.

POTTER HAS HIS TROUBLES

Must Appear in Police Court for Shooting at His Former Employer.

W. E. Potter, 256 Jones street, fell into the hands of the law yesterday, because, as set forth in the complaint filed by Roy Young of the Young barn and livery, at Fifteenth and Leavenworth, he has persisted in threatening the life of the latter; and last Thursday night he attempted to carry his threat out by firing two shots at him from a revolver. Potter had worked for Young for five or six weeks and early this week refused to get up and help Young take care of a horse. Young discharged the man. Potter hung around the stable two or three days, making threats. It is alleged, among the drivers until Young ordered him off. The man persisted in returning. He came back Thursday night and got into a buggy in the alley, from which Young attempted to expel him. Potter drew his gun, saying he would kill Young then and there. Young ran back through the stable and Potter disappeared. Half an hour later Young went upstairs and was in the act of turning off a light when Potter fired a shot at him from one of the stables. The movement of a span of mules disturbed his aim. He then fired another shot with no better success. Potter then took flight and ran away, but came down past the barn Friday with more threats. Young filed a complaint Friday and later in the day Potter was lodged in jail, charged with shooting with attempt to wound.

Quarrel Ends in Stabbing.

C. H. Wilson, a plumber living at 3015 Miami street, was dangerously stabbed at 12 o'clock yesterday afternoon by W. F. Johnson, a carpenter, living at 1212 Farnham. Wilson works for John Rowe & Co. and was sent out to repair the house of C. F. Weller at 1222 West street. Johnson, who works for the Western Electric com-

UNIDENTIFIED MAN KILLED

Ran Down in Railroad Yards at Fifteenth and Marcy Streets.

A man was killed last night at 5:05 p. m. by switch engine 1204, near the Bradleys coal yard at Fifteenth and Marcy streets. The engine was westbound with a number of freight cars, and was moving the direction of C. Daily, foreman, and M. Killip, engineer. No one has been found who knows the man nor how he happened to get in the way of the moving train. It is thought that he stepped out from behind cars on one track directly in front of the other cars, which were being pushed up the yards. He was found by R. M. Goodrich, 2219 Pierce street. They called the police patrol and the man was started for the Clarkson hospital, but died on the stretcher and was taken by the patrol to the coroner's office. Both the man's legs were crushed and his jaw was broken, and nearly torn out.

Up to a late hour he has not been identified, but it is believed that he is a laborer of the city who was starting home from work. He was apparently about 20 with a dark brown moustache, and was rather dark complexioned. He wore dark pants and a blue shirt, a soft black hat with a silk handkerchief which he is thought to have worn in his hat.

BUILDING LIABLE TO FALL

Rear End of Patterson Block, Seventeenth and Douglas Streets, Pronounced Unsafe.

Building Inspector Withnell has issued orders to tenants in the rear half of the three-story and basement of the Patterson building at Seventeenth and Douglas streets, to vacate or occupy the structure at their own risk and with the possibility of its tumbling in on them. Thursday the inspector found that between excavations and cave-ins on the site of the new Hayden brothers' department store, just east of the Patterson building, the foundation of the north half of the latter building was in extreme danger of giving way and permitting the brick walls to collapse.

EDITOR NOW IN PARADISE

Grant Jones' Successor Declines Invitation of Commercial Club Sent Former and Tells Why.

Not long ago the Omaha Commercial club sent out honorary membership cards to about 4,000 county editors in Nebraska and adjoining states. One of them was addressed to Grant Jones, editor of the Dilton Doublejack, Dilton, Wyo. Friday came the following letter from Dilton, under a caption which showed the writer to be the present editor of the Doublejack: "I return you herewith my honorary membership card issued to Grant Jones on account of this paper. Mr. Jones, I thank you for the courtesy. I know Grant would do it if he were here. But he is dead and I do not believe that your card would be of much benefit to him where he now is, even if it were possible for me to send it to him by the free delivery. Grant was a good fellow while he was in this world. He was a typical westerner and I trust he is now enjoying the friendship and good-fellowship of Gene Field and others of the old-time westerners who made life brighter and better here, and who now are all undoubtedly basking in the sun of the world. I am yours, as ever, a true friend, W. L. Reid. Mr. Jones being absent from the city, Commissioner McVain of the club sent a membership card to Mr. Reid, enclosing in a memorial to Mr. Jones, the following verse from his Elk scrap book: "We enter this world all naked and bare; But we're through here, we're through here, we're through here." Unidentified man killed.

WORK FOR B. & M. DEPOT

Ground Will Be Broken at South Omaha Within Few Days at Most.

Ground will be broken for the new freight depot at South Omaha some time this week or Monday of next week at the very latest. This is a positive statement given out at the Union Pacific headquarters. The plans for the passenger depot have not been returned from the architect as yet, so work on the freight depot will begin first. Plans also are complete for the new cut-off from Omaha to Elkhorn upon which all through trains which do not need to stop at South Omaha will run. From a point south of the Burlington crossing the track will branch off and take a bee line for Elkhorn, regardless of cuts or fill or creeks or anything else, thus making a real cut-off for the line.

OMAHA VIEW CLUB WILL WAIT

Members Not Yet Ready to Vote on Matter of Telephone Franchise.

Contract Agent G. H. Pratt of the Nebraska Telephone company had a closed field at the meeting of the Omaha View Improvement club last night in advocating the view that a single telephone service is necessary to the best efficiency and that there is no good reason why an independent company should be given a franchise in Omaha. Speakers for the other side of the question did not appear. The club decided it would stick to its original intention of taking no formal action on the matter until a copy of the terms of the franchise was sent to it.

Medicine Man in Trouble.

G. A. Jones, 502 South Thirteenth street, was arrested by Officers Byrnes and McDonald. Jones sells medicines of various kinds, but as late would have some one objected to his using the name of Michael M. Lodge. Jones moved, but he planned to return and found another man playing his calling on the identical spot. He began operations at once, it is said, by demanding in no uncertain language why one man should be moved and another not. The al took a bluish cast from excess of choice adjectives, for which he was arrested.

HALLER SUCCEEDS DR. GRAY

Assistant Horse Show Manager is Given Full Charge by the Directors.

Samuel C. Haller, who was called to Omaha as assistant manager of the Horse Show to assist in the work started by Dr. Gray, has been promoted by the directors of the Horse Show association and made manager with full power. It is feared Dr. Gray will not be able to return in time to assist any further in the preparation of the Horse Show and the directors were so pleased with the work done so far by Haller that they have made him manager.

Two Suits for Insurance.

Carl Jensen of the general merchandise firm of Jensen & Swan of Bradish, Boone county, has brought suit in the United States circuit court against the Palatine Insurance company (limited) for $4,000 on an insurance policy. The establishment of Jensen & Swan was destroyed by fire November 28, 1904, and the defendant company carried that amount of insurance on the store, which it now refuses to pay. Judgment is asked for the $4,000 with interest at 7 per cent from January 8, 1905, and costs of suit. The case is transferred from the district court of Boone county to the United States circuit court at St. Paul. Mutual Reserve Life Insurance company by the defendant in policy of insurance issued for $2,000 on the identical spot. Michael M. Lodge, who died February 6, 1905, and of which no portion of the amount has been paid, though repeatedly demanded by the plaintiff, the beneficiary of the insurance policy, to his estate for the $2,000 with interest at 7 per cent and costs of suit. The case is transferred from the district court of Douglas county.
