The Omaha Real Estate Auction company is the latest addition in the line of real estate firms in this city. It was or ganized and incorporated last Wednesday, and will be ready to commence business October 1, with offices at 232 Neville block. The incorporators are: J. W. Peters, late of N. P. Dodge & Co., and formerly paying teller of the City Savings bank of this city; James P. Spearman, the leading merchant of Papillion, Neb., and an experienced auctioneer in all lines of property, and C. F. Calhoun, cashier of the Spearman bank at Springfield, Neb., also an experienced auctioneer and all 'round real estate man.

Omaha has been somewhat deficient, as compared with other cities of her class, as regards real estate auction sales, and this firm is taking advantage of the opportunity to place Omaha on a level with her sister cities. However, they will not confine their operations to Omaha or even to real estate auctions, but will be in a position to conduct auction sales of real estate or personal property anywhere within the United States. The company takes into consideration the fact that the business is new and untried in this field, and that it will require considerable capital and energy to make it a success, but as they · are well supplied with both, they have no fear of the final result, and it is among the possibilities, and not at all improbable, that the future might bring to Omaha s first-class auction house, where you could buy anything from a dozen clothespins to a brick block at your own figure.

NOTHING DUE ON THE NOTE

Such is Court's Decision in Case of Williams Against Neely et al.

Judge Munger of the federal court handed down a memoranda opinion Saturday morning in the case of Joseph A Williams and Anna Williams against Richard M. Neely, Sarah Foss and Hannah Blake, in which he finds there is nothing due on a certain note of $3,500 and that the action at law pertaining thereto is perpetually enjoined. Counsel for the complainant is directed to prepare the proper decree and submit the same to counsel for defendants before presenting the same to this court for signature.

The case is an heirship case growing out of the civision of certain property in Richardson county, Nebraska, and the division of the bequests of one Richard S. Maloney, sr., who died in 1891.

BILLS AGAINST THE COUNTY

Chicken Raiser Asks for Damages and So Does a Florence Miller.

James H. Farris has demanded from the county in a petition filed in the district court the sum of $198. Mr. Parris claims he raises thoroughbred Wyandotte chickens near Florence and that these chickens grazed over a lot he owned in the neighborhood of that village; that the county in repairing a road had turned the water onto chicken lot, and thus it had been covered with a settlement which made it unfit for the purpose for which it was set a part He wants $50 for this and $148, or $1 each for his chickens.

Jacob Weber, who also lives near Florence, wants $200 from the county because in repairing the road near his mill the county had succeeded in fixing things so that every time it rained his mill was

MERCHANT PROTESTS ON TAX Says Clerk and Deputy Assessor Fix Palse Valuation Without

His Knowledge.

George N. Aulabaugh, a merchant, is in the district court with a suit against City Tree urer Hennings for a reduction of the valuation of his stock of goods, due to a too liberal construction of his wealth on the part of his cierk, De Long. In his CORNER SIXTEENTH AND DOUGLAS petition, Mr. Aulabaugh claims that during his absence from the store, one J. G. Authur claiming to be a deputy city assessor, called at the store and he together with De Long, the clerk, filled out the send their addresses and prices to this assessment blank, placing the value of his stock at $15,685 to which they affixed his signature. The stock, he says, in not worth more than $4,978 and as the city treasurer is about to sweep dewn upon him for the cellection of taxes based on the larger as-sesument he desires an injunction. Special Train Will leave Webster St. depot at 11 p. m Thursday, Oct. 5, after the electrical parade, for Blair, Tekamah, Emerson and inter-

Grand Ak-Sar-Ben Sale of

Every piano a bargain. This is the season when piano factories issue their catalogues and introduce their new styles. This year we are caught with quite a number of pianos of styles that are to be discontinued for no other reason than to make a change-simply a matter of taste or choice. These must go. Prices put on them will quickly carry them into your homes. These are not second hand, used or shop-worn instruments, but bright, new, elegant pianos, an ornament to any home. We will let go this week.

A few slightly used instruments and several good second hand pianos taken in trade at prices cut to the lowest notch.
