PASSING OF LITTLE ITALY

Equal Italian Section Swept Away in March of Industrial Progress.

RESIDENTS VAINLY FILE PROTEST

Bitterly Oppose Demolition of Quarter They Have Known as Home for Many Long Years.

The existence of dirty, crowded and picturesque Little Italy is within two weeks of an end, and Building Inspector Withnell and his assistants are being kept awake nights by fear of the Black Hand.

Omaha's Italian quarter for forty years has been within the district bounded by Eighteenth and Twentieth streets, Pierce and the Union Pacific tracks. Ten years ago the colony held several hundred sons and daughters of the south of Europe, but during the last decade little by little the frail shanties have fallen to pieces or been torn down and the inhabitants moved into better quarters as they became more used to American civilization and more prosperous. The result is that not only are seventeen of the ramshackle dwellings remaining to be torn down to clear the path for improvement and commercialism, set in vigorous motion in this part of the city by the Great Western railway. Of the seventeen shacks only three are pronounced in good enough condition to be removed by the building inspector. The others must be razed and put entirely out of business.

Order Causes Consternation. This order, which went forth two weeks ago, caused much consternation among the denizens of Little Italy and they have stormed the building department. The final demolition of Little Italy was brought about by the determination of Herman Kouzitz to clear the land, which is owned by the Elizabeth Kouzitz estate, for truckage and industrial property. The denizens of the quarter have had tenure of the ground by leases only, but Mr. Kouzitz, one of the wealthiest men of Omaha, did not feel equal to the task of casting out the Italians and appealed to the city for aid.

Having right and might on its side the minions of the law descended and despite the obstacles related have got the business of eviction and destruction well under way. The natural decline of the quarter helped out the task.

In the old days nearly every Italian in the city of meagre circumstances lived in Little Italy. The buildings were put up as cheaply as possible and were collected along typical narrow and dirty lanes.

A detachment of sixty recruits for the Third United States Infantry from Columbus, O., barracks passed through Omaha last night over the Burlington en route to Fort Lawton, Ore. The detachment was under command of Captain Holloway and will later be assigned to companies of that regiment now on duty in Alaska.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Considerable Difference of Opinion Over Compensation of Election Officers.

MATTER TO BE TAKEN UP BY COUNTY

Men Who Served Kicking for Full Pay, Six Dollars, Instead of Just Half that Amount.

Considerable difference of opinion seems to exist regarding the compensation of those who acted as judges and clerks at the primary election on September 13. Claims have been filed by those who acted as registrars for $3 each and also for the same amount for serving as judges and clerks of the primary. Some of the election officers appointed by the mayor and council failed to qualify and no attention will be paid to such claims.

Section 17 of the primary act provides that registrars are to be paid at the rate of $3 each, but that no extra compensation is to be allowed for the registrars acting as judges of primary election. This matter of compensation is to be taken up with the county officials this week and straightened out in some way. It is thought that possibly the county can be induced to pay a portion of the amount due the registrars. Those who served on the primary board are to be paid $1 each for counting the primary votes and $2 for holding the registration. Whether the primary act will be strictly adhered to in the matter of compensation is the question that is worrying the election officers.

On election day there will be no difficulty about the pay of the election board, as the city will pay $1 each to the judges and clerks for counting the vote on the sewer bond proposition, while the county will be expected to pay its portion of the general election expenses. There is a great deal of dissatisfaction over the fact that the primary act does not permit of compensation for keeping the tally on the vote cast at the primaries. Those who qualified and served are intending to make an effort to secure $5 for the day's work.

Paving and City Hall Bonds.

City Clerk Gillin and City Attorney Lambert each received letters from W. J. Hayes & Son, the purchasers of the $90,000 Twenty-fourth street paving bonds, yesterday. These letters merely acknowledged the receipt of additional data asked for along with the statement that the data had been submitted to the attorneys for the bankers. No intimation was given as to the probable decision of the attorneys as to the legality of the issue. Hayes & Sons notified the city officials that the twenty days' limit in the contract had been stricken out by them, as their attorneys could not possibly pass on the legality of the issue at this time. The mayor and council then extended the time ten days, so that a decision is expected not later than October 15. However, Hayes & Sons have not paid any attention to this extension of time, merely resting on their statement that the time limit in their contract should be given had been erased from the contract they made with the city.

Last Monday City Attorney Lambert wrote Hayes & Sons regarding the city hall bonds and giving the decision of Judge Sears. A reply was expected Saturday, but in the letters received no mention was made of the city hall or park bonds. This is taken as an indication that Hayes & Sons do not care to have anything to do with either the city hall or park bonds as long as the litigation continues. Attorney Green of Omaha has made the statement that he is preparing to take an appeal from Judge Sears' decision to the supreme court. This will tie the proposed issue of city hall and park bonds up for some months yet.

No Word from McGowan. Up to the time the city offices closed Saturday no word had been received from John McGowan, the contractor who is expected to set the curbing on Missouri avenue. The contract with McGowan for this curbing and the bond was approved on March 13 of this year. Under the contract McGowan was to commence work within ten days after receiving notice from the city authorities. Written notice was not served on McGowan until September 6. This is just ninety-six days after the contract calls for the completion of the work. Since McGowan entered into the contract with the city the wholesale price of cement has advanced 72 cents a barrel. Labor is scarce and teams are hard to get even at $2.50 per day. The delay in starting the work after the curbing and paving contracts were let was that the case was tied up in the courts and the money for the bonds, $55,000, could not be secured until the case had been decided. Now that the money is on deposit the city is paying interest on the bonds without securing any benefits. Possibly the city council will take some action Monday night. In case McGowan does not begin work, the contract for curbing may be let to someone else.

General Teachers' Meeting.

Turner is to speak on "Summer Outing" and Prof. Perry MacD. Wheeler has chosen for his topic, "The Teacher and the Summer School." The meeting will close with a vocal solo by Miss Ann Rowley. Jerry Lee was arrested by Detectives Hatfield and McDonald at 1 o'clock this morning. He was charged with being disorderly. Lee says he had been gambling and won $5 and then quit the game. This angered Hubank, he said, and the latter followed him down stairs and grabbed his money and his watch, when Lee made a slash at him with a knife and the latter disappeared. But it is stated by others that he was seriously hurt.

MORE FENCE CASES FILED

Two Suits in Equity Instituted Against Western Nebraska Cattlemen.

OTHERS TO BE STARTED NEXT WEEK

Government Seems Only to Have Begun Prosecution of Alleged Violators of New Law Fencing Law.

Two suits in equity were filed in the United States circuit court, Saturday morning, by mandatory injunction for the removal of illegal fences from public lands, involving 300,000 acres in Blaine, Thomas and Hooper counties, and one suit in the United States district court, the latter a statutory proceeding under the act of congress of 1885, which provides for proceeding against such parties criminally, for illegally fencing 40,000 acres of public lands in Sheridan county.

The defendants in the first equity suit are: William E. Black, F. J. Black, Thomas B. Hord, individuals and as partners by the firm name of Black Bros. & Hord, John Conway, Edward Sands, George Sands, H. S. McMillan, Joseph Demil and H. M. Cooper. These parties are charged with illegally fencing 100,000 acres of land of the Dismal River forest reserve and lands adjacent to it.

This reservation was set apart June 25, 1904. There are no homestead entries whatsoever on this land. The cattlemen have further, in order to complete their enclosures, prudently connected fences at both ends with government fences that have been built there to protect the experimental forest tract of the government. There is a considerable number of government employes stationed on the reservation.

Defendants in Second Case.

The defendants in the second of the equity cases are: George G. Ware, Henry Hoffard, the U. B. T. Land and Cattle company, Reuben W. Mahaffey, Robert H. Schlimm, Howard L. Dawson, William E. Black, F. J. Black, T. B. Hord, the last three named known as the firm of Black Bros. & Hord.

The principal defendants in this case are the three first named. Mr. Ware is a preacher living in South Dakota. The Black Bros. & Hord are brought into the suit because of their fences adjoining and connecting with those of the first three defendants. The bill alleges that these defendants have illegally fenced 100,000 acres of public lands in Hooper county, Nebraska, all of which is open to homestead entry.

The case filed in the United States district court, which is a criminal proceeding, is against these defendants: Albert B. Moditt and A. M. Moditt, as individuals, and as copartners, the Moditt Bros. They are charged with illegally fencing 40,000 acres of public lands in Sheridan county, Nebraska, all of which is subject to homestead entry.

All of these cases are scheduled for trial at the November term of the federal courts in this city. The suits were filed by United States District Attorney Baxter and Special Attorney S. R. Rush.

Other suits will be filed next week against other defendants.

Public Work Progressing. "Public work under contract is now going ahead in a more satisfactory manner than at any time during the season," said City Engineer Rodewater. "There are now at work three sidewalk firms, four sewer contractors, four paving contractors, two on curbing and gutters, and two on grading. With good weather and no unforeseen delays considerable work may be accomplished before winter sets in."

YOUNGSTERS BEFORE COURT

Three Juvenile Offenders Get Their Sentences Doled Out to Them by Judge Day.

Judge Day had three little offenders before him Saturday morning for disposition, the smallest of whom, Henry Hayes a little colored boy compared to the big officer, who had him in charge, looked about the size of a well used cake of laundry soap. The boy's parents were having lots of trouble and Judge Day, for the benefit of the boy, placed him in the detention home until a place could be found for him. August Nelson, a 15-year-old lad whose parents are dead and whose guardian resigned because the boy was so incorrigible, he made life a burden, will be disposed of Monday. The boy, so it is said, was placed in a home at Columbus and ran away from that. Repeated efforts to get him somewhat civilized had been futile, therefore he was turned over to the tender mercies of the juvenile court, Charles Brod of about the same age was discharged on a burglary complaint, the judge holding that the little fellow was not responsible. The boy had gone through a spell of brain fever and was not considered bright by the court.

STRANGER THAN FICTION

A Remedy Which Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Stomach Trouble.

The remedy is not heralded as a wonderful discovery, nor yet a secret patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach trouble. Many interesting experiments to test the digestive power of Stuart's Tablets show that one grain of the active principle contained in them is sufficient to thoroughly digest 5,000 grains of raw meat, eggs and other wholesome food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the bowels like after dinner pills and cheap cathartics, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines without having any effect whatever in digesting food or curing indigestion.

If the stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion it will very soon recover its normal vigor, as no organ is so much abused and overworked as the stomach.

This is the secret. If there is any secret of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most widely known of any treatment for stomach weakness.

This success has been secured entirely upon its merits as a digestive pure and simple, because there can be no stomach trouble if the food is promptly digested. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue. They cure dyspepsia, water brash, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive power which weak stomachs lack, and unless that lack is supplied it is useless to attempt to cure by the use of "tonic," "pills" and cathartics which have absolutely no digestive power.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found at all drug stores and the regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit better than any other argument.

Ache all over? Feverish? Chilly? Just coming down with a hard cold? Where do you suppose it will settle?

In the throat? That means hoarseness, sore throat, tonsillitis. In the chest? Then bronchitis, pneumonia, consumption.

Do not let your cold settle. Break it up! Drive it out! Ask your doctor the best medicine for this. If he says Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, take it at once. If he has anything better, take that.
