

Carnival Piano Sale at Hospe's a Big Success.

Home and out-of-town piano buyers are crowding the A. Hospe Co.'s 1513 Douglas street music rooms for the big sale in and Pianos and Organs are selling fast. Prices have been stove in to where profits are lacking.

You want a good Piano. You want a low price. You want easy terms. All these things are now at your hands.

We have over 100 Pianos to select from. We can supply as many duplicates as the trade demands.

We have stocked up with Knabe Pianos, Kramlich & Bach Pianos, Kimball Pianos, Cramer Pianos and a great lot of fine Kimball and Hospe organs.

These beautiful instruments are made in Spanish and San Domingo mahogany, in golden oak, in French burl and American curly walnut, as well as rosewood and birch.

Prices all cut in half on many, one-third off on others and one-fourth off of the highest grade Pianos ever placed on the market.

Just see what you can buy in an up-to-date finely veneered Piano, full size, handsome finished plate, 3-pedal, 3-string Cabinet Upright Grand Piano, fresh from the factory, for $145, $165, $185.

Then see the high grade Pianos for $225, $275, $300 and $350.

Another line of the very highest type of first class Pianos which cost $400 to $500, in art cases.

Don't forget we accept $10 cash and $5 per month. Our terms on other grades are known to be the lowest. You cannot miss it on quality, for we have the best. We buy carloads for cash. We deduct cost of the box and its freight, and you pay nothing for the boxing, as we receive Pianos unboxed. A great saving. It knocks competition, for we undersell from $50 to $100 under their lowest prices.

Fine Piano Scarfs and Stools, Pianos Tuned, Repaired, Refinished, Pianos Moved, Packed and Shipped.

SOCIETY AND THE BIG SHOW

Ak-Sar-Ben Ball and Horse Show Are Next in Line.

MEN WORRY OVER WHAT TO WEAR

Debate as to Proper Garb is Likely to Result on the Personal Equation at the Horse Show.

The Chaperon Speaks.

Very limp and damp my gown and the sun is heating down.
And my hat's askew above my blistered face.
But at least it's consolation and a bit of compensation
To know my lambs are gathered in one place.
For Dolly, Amaryllis and the most imprudent Phyllis
Are seldom found together in one spot.
And the only relaxation in a chaperon's vocation
Is to get them all together on a yacht.

Hence I sit here glad, though pining, for I never cared for sailing.
And I always had a horror of the sea;
But at least the satisfaction of a little forced inaction
Is thing I've accepted thankfully.
And Dolly, Amaryllis and the most imprudent Phyllis
For once they bear my glance and murmur not.
And content is o'er me stealing (though I'm sure my nose is peeling)
For I know they can't escape me on a yacht.

TUESDAY—Wilcox wedding.

WEDNESDAY—Campbell-Moody wedding.

THURSDAY—Mrs. Henry W. Yates' tea.

FRIDAY—Ak-Sar-Ben ball.

The time honored tradition that uncertainty and anxiety regarding what to wear is strictly a feminine weakness, has been exploded. The show is on the other foot just now and proud man is in no end of distress - ver what he shall wear to the horse show while the lady folks are looking on with a good deal of satisfaction and interest. The person who says a man can make no mistake in matters of dress if he just consults his tailor, simply doesn't know what he is talking about; the fact is that even the well informed have disagreed and when that happens what can be expected of the others? It would almost seem that with the well defined rules regarding men's clothes they should have little trouble, but the difference of opinion seems to hinge upon merits of the occasion rather than upon the clothes. There are some of the strictly fashionable who will compromise at nothing short of the swallow tails and white vest while others of the more democratic content that the tuxedo has as much place at the horse show as at the theater. Remembering that not a few of the masculine representatives of the smart set had a way of dropping in last year in whatever they happened to have on, a lot more are insisting that unless they happen to have box seats, they will not recognize the full dress rule, while still others are saying little but have quietly decided that their best suit, no matter what its cut happens to be will have to do.

Invitations are out for the Coronation Ball. They are really handsome affairs, the engraved card commanding the presence of the chosen at the Castle of Ak-Sar-Ben, Friday evening, October 6, at 9 o'clock and besides the royal seal they bear the royal coat of arms. The knights and ladies are expected to find seats down on the floor for there is assurance that there will be ample room. And besides this royal command, there have been about 100 other invitations issued to out-of-town women and maids requesting them to serve as women of the court, and ladies and maids in waiting. Of course they have accepted but there will be fully two-thirds of that number from the near-by cities and towns and it is said that the list was carefully revised more than once before the cards were sent out. Besides these there are at least an equal number of the local society folks who will be of the east and fifteen young women especially chosen as maids of honor to attend the queen and escort her to the throne. There was a rehearsal of this coronation last Monday evening at the Dan. Only, of course, the real queen was not there, or at least, she did not rehearse in that capacity. The young women who have been chosen for this honor this year are: Misses Mildred Lomax, Ada Kirkendall, Bessie Brady, Marguerite Pritchett, Mary Lee McShane, Margaret Wood, Faith Potter, Phoebe Smith, Laura Congdon, Laura Montgomery, Viola Cahn, Gwendoline White, Gertrude Morhead and Ethel Tukey and Mildred Merriam.

It will be observed that there is an uneven number on the list and as this escort always walks two by two, Her Royal Highness is one of the fifteen.

The week's end table d'hôte dinner and hop at the Country club are over for the season and this evening will see the last of the Sunday night suppers—that is as a regular thing. This will practically close the out-of-door season with the fashionables for, by the time the carnival and the horse show are over it will be time to be thinking of those things that make the mistress of a fine house swell with satisfaction and her less fortunate friends, with envy. Considering that yesterday was "posteriorly" the last" there was scarcely the entertaining that one might have expected but there is always one gratifying feature of a small crowd at the Country club—it leaves room for the others to dance. The following entertained at dinner:

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Reed had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wattles, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Kirkendall, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Scoble, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Coles, Mrs. E. M. Fairbairn and Mr. Clure.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pratt entertained in honor of Mrs. Wheeler of Janesville, Wis., and Mrs. Simpson of Sidney, Neb., their other guests being Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Stoddard.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Pritchett had a party of nine, Miss Dinmore and Miss McDowell being the guests of honor. The party included: Miss Dinmore, Miss McDowell, Miss Pritchett, Mr. Jerome Magee, Mr. Frank Keogh, Mr. Roy Wood, Mr. George Pritchett and Mr. and Mrs. Pritchett.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hull had the largest party of the evening entertaining twenty-four guests.

Among the others who entertained were: Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McKean, Jr., Mr. W. B. Roberts, Mr. Frank Wilhelm, Mr. Tom Davis and Mrs. R. C. Burns.

Perhaps it's because the horse show being the newer is the more absorbing or perhaps the novelty has worn off a bit, but whatever the reason, there is not being as much said about the Ak-Sar-Ben ball this year as one usually hears. Of course nobody imagines for a minute that society is not interested in the ball or that it will be less in the presence on that occasion, the fashionable may not be going and may not appear down on the floor but it's violet to sunflowers that they will be there and not in the spectators seats, either.

Social Chat-Chat.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Tukey and family moved last week to their new residence at 313 Chicago street.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Curtis and daughters have given up their apartments at the Madison and taken the house at 3133 Chicago street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Allee have given up their house on Park avenue and taken apartments at 296 St. Mary's avenue for the winter.

Mr. Herman Kountze has gone to Watkins Glenn, N. Y., where he will join Mrs. Kountze, and they will go to New York to meet Mrs. Fred Nash, who is expected back from Europe.

Miss Mary Rogers left Saturday for New York, where she enters Mrs. Scoville's school, stopping enroute at Trenton, N. J., where she will be a bridesmaid at the wedding of Mr. Will Rogers on Wednesday next.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Moriarty have returned from Europe and have taken the house of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Myers, where they will be at home after today, Mrs. Myers has gone east for an extended visit with her mother.

Mrs. William Ayerling has returned from New York, where she placed her daughter in school and visited her former home at Passaic, Mr. Ayerling will leave the early part of the week for California for an indefinite stay. Mr. and Mrs. Ayerling may decide to remove from Omaha, and their departure will be regretted by many friends.

Weddings and Engagements.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Bertha Stevens, to Mr. Thomas Wright, the wedding to take place the last of October.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Treitschke announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Pearl Estelle, to Mr. Oris Albert Keyser of Canal Dover, O., the wedding to take place in November.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Robinson for the marriage of their daughter, Lillian Beatrice, to Mr. James Farney of St. Louis, the wedding to take place on the evening of October 19 at 258 Capitol avenue.

A quiet marriage of the week was that of Mr. Jack Koertel of Lincoln to Miss Hattie Dreifuss Friday evening at the home of the bride's parents, 204 Harney street. Owing to the illness of St. Louis only immediate relatives and a few intimate friends were present. Rabbi Cohn officiated.

An early wedding something in the nature of a surprise is that of Mr. Charles F. Tuttle of Omaha and Miss Edith M. Tuttle of New York City which is to be solemnized Monday, October 9 at St. Mark's church in New York City. Mr. Tuttle is well known as one of our popular lawyers who has also figured in both society and politics and his bride is a charming young woman distantly related in the same family.

WE ARE LOOKING FOR THE NOSE

WE CAN'T FIT

WE are Eye Gias: Experts, and our time is yours for the asking. We carry in stock every kind of frame or mounting, including many of our own design. We make a careful study of every case we fit, supplying the parts to fit the anatomy of the nose and grinding our lenses to suit the size and contour of the face. You can readily distinguish Columbian Eye Glasses from the "common sort" by the elegance in design of the glasses themselves, as well as by the satisfied look on the face of the wearer.

WOMAN'S WORK IN CLUB AND CHARITY

The opening meeting of the fall of the Woman's club will be held Monday afternoon in the club rooms in the First Congregational church. There will be a meeting of the directory at 1:45 and the general club meeting will open at 2:30. A number of important matters will come up for the consideration of the club, among them the desirability of the University of Chicago extension lecture course. The president, Mrs. Mary G. Andrews, will present her recommendations for the year and some matters in connection with the musical department will be discussed. As the dates conflict with carnival week, a number of the delegates elected to attend the convention of the state federation to be held at Lincoln this week will be unable to attend and alternates will be appointed in their stead. The list of representatives as elected by the club last spring included: Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. T. R. Ward, Mrs. C. R. Glover, Mrs. Charles Rosewater, Mrs. A. H. Wilbur, Mrs. A. K. Gault, Miss Joie McHugh and Mrs. F. H. Straight, all delegates; and Mrs. H. J. Pearl, Mrs. Edward Johnson, Mrs. Moorehead, Mrs. George Tilden, Mrs. R. E. McKelvey, Mrs. Thomas Matthews and Mrs. Elliott, alternates. Of these four will be unable to attend. The program of the afternoon will include a whistling solo by Mrs. Josephine Allen Herkimer of Fremont, a vocal solo by Miss Nell Painter of Colorado Springs and a vocal solo by Mr. Ellis.

The fourth annual meeting of the Nebraska state conference of Daughters of the American Revolution will meet at Fairbury, October 13 and 14. An all-day session will be held the first day and a morning session the next. Delegates will be met and taken to the home of Mrs. Steele, 327 Seventh street, where luncheon will be served and a business meeting held. Other entertainment will also be furnished. The stand of colors to be presented to the battleship Nebraska by the state Daughters of the American Revolution will be displayed at the courthouse, where a reception will be held, followed by a banquet. Chapter regents will kindly make report of chapter work. It should be remembered that the Nebraska conference is not a delegate body and every daughter has a vote in the proceedings.

The art department of the Woman's club will hold a preliminary meeting in the club rooms Thursday morning, October 6, at 10 o'clock. Mr. A. W. Jefferson, the October leader, will preside and she and Mrs. H. W. Pennock and Mrs. A. M. Lawrie will explain the plan of the year's work and prepare for the study of early Italian art by some introductory work upon Greek and Roman painting and the beginning of Christian art. Outlines for the year may be obtained at this meeting and all friends of the department are cordially invited to attend.

The literature department of the Omaha Woman's club has issued announcements of its program for the coming club year. Hawthorne, Louisa M. Alcott, Holmes, Irving, Thoreau and Emerson are the authors to be taken up, one meeting to be given to each. The meetings will be held Friday morning, the alternate week of the club, at 10:30, October 14 to be the opening meeting.
