PASSENGER BRAKES FAIL TO WORK

Engineer Unable to Stop Train Before It Reaches Intersection of Tracks Both Trains were Runing Rapidly.

ST. PAUL, Oct. L-A Chicago Great Western stock train, running about twenty miles an hour as it was going to the St. Paul yards at 9:30 o'clock this morning struck the middle of a Soo line passenger train which had fust left the Union station and hurled two Pullman sleepers over a retaining wall to the bottom of a gully twenty feet below. One sleeper landed bottom side up and the other fell on its side. Both cars were badly wrecked. One woman was so badly injured that she died in St. Joseph's Imapital shortly after being taken there and nine others were seriously injured, while a score or more were less seriously hurt. The Soo train had arrived ! from Montreal, thirty minutes late and was bound for Minneapolis, running so witnesses say, about thirty miles an hour. As it neared Fourth street, the track on which it was running leads to an inside double track. Here the engineer of the Soo train sighted the Great Western Cattle train going for the South St. Paul stock yards and heading for a split switch which connects the outside and inside tracks. The engineer of the Great Western train whistled for breaks, showing that his air breaks were not working and as a warning to the Soo train, but it was evidently not heard, as the Soo train failed to slacken.

Train Nearly Empty. The engine and first sleeper of the Soc train got safely across the switch, but the second and third sleepers were hit. The end of the fourth sleeper was partially wrecked. That no more were killed or injured is due to the fact that the train wes nearly empty, having discharged the greater number of its passengers at the

Of the seriously injured there are six men and two women at St. Joseph's hospital. Of these it is feared two or three may die. Mr. Martin, who has a fractured skull, is in a critical condition.

About twenty were treated at the Union depot by surgeons, and nearly all of them were able to go to hotels or continue their fourney to Minneapolis, the destination of train. The Mins Crughlin, of New York, time to come up close to his father before he was shot dewn dead. The soldier walked up to him, searched his pockets and took away a watch and purse. Other people tricks, about four blocks east of the station. The track runs along a high embankment at this point. The fast Great Western stock train coming along at a good speed struck the passenger train about in the middle, hurling the Pullman coaches over the embankment and they landed upside down in a wrecked heap, iwenty-five feet below. The wreckage caught fire, but it was promptly extinguished by the St. Paul fire department. A squad of police and all the hespital ambuiances of the city with a large corps of surgeons were on the apot in a short time and the injured were quickly taken from the wreck and sent to the hospital.

MAN BEHEADED BY TRAIN Frank Miller, a Laborer, Instantly Killed in South Omaha Sunday Afternoon.

Sunday afternoon Rock Island extra freight train No. 16, south bound, ran over and killed Frank Miller at H street in South Omaha. Railroad men who saw the accident, say the man was walking north on the tracks when the train from the south whistled and he stepped from one track to another and was struck by the freight. The man's head was severed from his body and pieces of the head and body were scattered along the track for about a block. So badly was the body mutilated that a description of the remains could not be given. A portion of a brown mustache was found. The man was a laborer but there was nothing to show who he was, except a receipt for $1 paid Shelden & Landon, Omaha, on July 15. On this receipt the name of Frank Miller was given. Coroner Brailey has been noti- a bridge when overtaken by the train, fied and an inquest is to be held as soon He endeavored to get out of the way but as the train crew returns. Undertaker a car step knocked him under the wheels. Brewer has charge of the body.

Late in the evening the man was post tively identified as Frank Miller, a laborer who was formerly employed in the Cudahy Officers Will Present Their Credenpacking plant. He was a member of Ancient Order of United Workmen, Lodge No. 66, and was unmarried.

Englishman Says Members of Booth's Organization Are in State of Servitude.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)-Now that General Booth, the FINALLY DRIVEN ASHORE BY POLICE commander-in-chief of the Salvation army, has returned not only from a triumphal tour around the world, but a swing around the circle in Great Britain, there appears to be a disposition to criticise him and his movements in certain quarters. Among the remarkable interviews concerning the general and his life work just given out to the public is the following with John Holland of Gateshend-on-Tyne:

All these things point to some deep-rooted cause. That cause, I believe to be the essential contradiction existing between the Christian nature of the movement and the military system that has been designed for it. Military government centering in autocratic authority in a Christian body is repugnant to the true sense of the eternal titness of things, and allen to the spirit and teachings of the new testament. The essence of Christianity is freedom. The essence of militarism and autocracy, even in the modified form in which they exist in the Salvation army, is servitude.

In any movement the principles of organization ought to be in accord with the reasons and objects which called it into existence.

The reason for existence of the Salvation. All these things point to some deep-rooted existence.

The reason for existence of the Salvation army is the propagation of the gospel. Its policy is a form of military autocracy. Here, then, there is classing of conflicting principles. Whatever may be thought of these opinions there can be no question as to the existence of evils in this beneficient movement which thoroughly needs remedying.

Men Taken frem Martinique to Panama to Work on Canal Balk.

Many are Badly injured by Blows from Clubs of Officers-Refuse to Listen to French Consul.

Holland of Gateshead-on-Type:

These who have some practical acquaintance with this remarkable movement of the Salvation Army and who, though friendly to its work are not blind to its defects, will find their thoughts passing from the glitter and show of General Booth's triumphal progress to the drab background of the Salvation army itself, where many serious grievances await restress. Among these may be mentioned:

First—The absence of any means within the organization for the frank discussion of its defects and needs.

Second—The fact that its 14,000 paid officers are subject to the control of a few officials at international headquarters that any one of them may be censured, tried or dismissed on any charge, without the facts being brought to light.

Third—The fact that resignations in all ranks are an frequent, engendering a grave suspicion that profound dissatisfaction exists throughout the organization.

Fourth—The fact that many officers exist on the merest pittance, are often dependent on sympathizers for food, wear themselves out by the time they ought to be at their prime, and are frequently compelled to seek other avocations when impaired wounds.

Refuse to Listen to Reason.

All of yesterday and list night the Versailles was guarded by Panama policemen. Early this morning, the French consult of their lives to the Salvation army serious given the salvation army serious of their lives to the Salvation army serious from Martinique brought here Friday on the french steamer, Versailles was for to work in the canal refused to disembark or to submit to vaccination, derected to work in the canal refused to disembark or to submit to vaccination, which is imperative under the American sanitary regulations. They clammed to be taken back to Martinique asserting that they had been misinformed at they had been misinformed at they had been misinformed at they had been misinformed t COLON. Oct. 1.-Six hundred and fifty

Fifth—The fact that instances have occurred where officers after giving the best of their lives to the Salvation army service, are relegated to the background—the assurance department for instance—or "relified" without a pension, perhaps with a grant of a few pounds.

Sixth—The fact that the general body of Salvationists, though they give freely of their time and money to the work, are without any effective share in the government of the organization they voluntarily compose.

Early this morning, the French consultation, M. Bonhenry, appealed to the men to listen to reason, explaining that they had left Martinique under contract with the Canal zone emigration agent guaranteeing the payment of their passage they would have in addition to their wages the guarantee of free quarters and free here and that while working on the canal medical attendance. The men, however, were not answerable to this reasoning Notwithstanding the efforts of the consul, and others and despite the information given them by several of their countrymen that health and other conditions on the isthmus were satisfactory and that the terms of their employment would enable them to save money, they persistently refused to leave the ship baring their breats and invoking death in preference to going ashore. The captain of the Versailles who all through the trouble displayed an extraordinary amount of patience told the men that he was ready to take back to Martinique all those who were able to pay their passage, but the men argued that the French government would be willing to reimbure the steamship company and that they themselves were penniless.

Driven Ashore by Police. Before noon, at the instance of M. Haven, the agent of the company, and a French consul, a squad of twelve police went on board the vessel and told the men that force would be used if they persisted in their refusal to disembark. Seeing that the police were armed with bayonets and MOSCOW, Oct. 1 .- (Special Cablegram to guns, the men again bared their breasts The Bee.)-Letters just received from Bia. and said they preferred death rather than Mayor Aldron, the chief of police and others argued with the men but without avail.

At 2 o'clock the laborers were informed reconsider their decision and at 4 o'clock hree of them consented to disembark, the laborers and on their refusing to quit the ship began to club them right and left. The zone police a few minutes later assisted in the clubbing but with better judgment and less indiscriminately. About fifty of the laborers leaped into the sea, but all of the men were able to swim, The captain, however, lowered a boat which picked them up. Nearly every man had eceived blows and several of them were bleeding from ugly wounds.

Seeing that resistance was useless the nen then yielded and came ashore and began to eat the food which had been placed on the dock in sight of them for several hours. Many of them had not aten since Saturday. At $ o'clock all the laborers, who were in a pitiable condition, were placed on a train which left for Corozel where the will be put to work

The statement made public is as follows:

Hays own lips something of his don of Mr. Bowen and I know full both the unfailing courtesy with which opinion of Mr. Bowen and I know full well both the unfailing courtesy with which Mr. Hay received my many suggestions Despite the fact that most of the mountain passes are closed for the winter, the concerning departmental Reo Mountaineer started westward again personal cordiality which he always maniested toward me.

It may interest you to know that at Mr. Hay's request I spent at his home what proved to be practically the last hour of his life in Washington. He upon that occasion indicated to me fully and lucidly as was his wont, what he wished my two colleagues and myself to do in departmental action and policy to be earried out during his absence, he referred to the Bowen episode with much feeling. Among other things he said he was disgusted with Bowen beyond expression; that vanity appeared to be a disease with him, and that he was both disloyal and untruthful, and had been treacherous not only to him ARRESTED WHILE AT PRAYER BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 1.-J. In view of this conversation, to which I have adverted in the briefest possible manner, it is difficult for me to believe that there is any truth in either of the foregoing paragraphs which I have quoted, or any others which have been printed et similar import.

As I am very soon to retire from the public service, I trust that you will feel that I am not unduly or improperly trespassing on your time with this rather personal matter.

Respectfully and sincersiy yours, FRANCIS B. LOOMIS. Mr. Roosevelt's Letter. president's letter: THE WHITE HOUSE, OYSTER BAY.

THE WHITE HOUSE, OYSTER BAY, to your letter of September 25, I desire to state, in the broadest and most emphatic manner, that the statement you quote as a paragraph in certain newspapers and especially in certain New York newspapers, as to the supposed differences of opinion between myself and the late secretary of state, Mr. Hay, in respect to the action taken by me regarding Mr. Bowen in connection with the charges against you is not merely without foundation in fact, but is the direct reverse of the truth. You were appointed assistant secretary MITCHELL TO SEE ROOSEVELT President Asks Head of Miners' Ornot merely without foundation in fact, but is the direct reverse of the truth.

You were appointed assistant secretary of state on Mr. Hay's suggestion and request. He never apoke to me about you save with respect and cordial appreciation of the services you were rendering and he expressed to me very great regret that you were going to leave the service and stated that he had hoped that you would stay as long as he did and that he would find it difficult to get anyone in your place whom he would like so much.

Mr. Hay expressed himself very freely on the occasion of his last visit to Washington, including the last occasion when I ever saw him alive, as regards the action taken by me on the report of Mr. Taft concerning the charges made by Mr. Bowen against you. President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers will on Tuesday next call on President Roosevelt. He does not know see him about, but it is surmised here that it is to look over the possibility of averting a strike in the anthracite region concerning the charges made by Mr. Bowen against you.

Not only did he express himself about Mr. Bowen to me in the language you quote him as having used at about the same time to you in speaking of Mr. Bowen, but he also condemmed Mr. Bowen in much stronger terms than those which you quote him as having used, and dwelt particularly on the fact of what he called the treachery and disloyalty of Mr. Bowen to the government and to him (Mr. Hay), repeating again and again that the most of the charges Mr. Bowen made were realiy not charges against you at all, but against himself. (Mr. Hay), and that Bowen of course, knew this.

Moreover, Mr. Hay, and that Bowen of course, knew this.

Moreover, Mr. Hay used about Mr. Bowen stronger language of condemnation than I have ever heard him use about any other man who had served under him. But this was not all. Mr. Hay then did what he very rarely did. He expressed his strong lassent from the action I had taken in enwas not all. Mr. Hay then did what he very rarely did. He expressed his strong dissent from the action I had taken in endorsing Mr. Taft's report as regards even the mild censure of you which it contained, stating that he disagreed with both Mr. Taft and my self on this point and felt that you were in no way whatever censurable, and that the only action that had been called for was the dismissal of Mr. Bowen and the announcement of your entire vindication. Very truly yours.
