by whom he was highly esteemed. All Securities Recovered. Soon after the theft Leonard mailed a package containing $300,000 in securities to the residence of Dyer Pearl, senior member of the firm of Pearl & Co., by whom they were owned. The package was received by Mr. Pearl yesterday. Today Leonard's father turned over to the police the remaining $50,000 in stocks and bonds which he said had been found in a wardrobe in his house where his son had said after his arrest he had secreted them. The first clue that led to Leonard's arrest was obtained when the detective traced the rubber stamp maker whom Leonard conceived the idea of the theft some three or four months ago and had been planchecks on the Hanover National bank. That was in the forenoon. Later, on the of the National City bank and among the houses. men waiting in line he saw a man holding in his hand an envelope marked $300,000, 4% per cent, on the envelope. He said he heard the loan clerk tell the messenger that the interest was 416 per cent and not $4. Then, he said, the messenger departed.

Leonard then had his one and went to the Bowery and ordered a rubber certification stamp, but before doing so he cut out the certification of an old check for which the stamp was to be copied. After he secured the stamp he filled out the body of the check drawn on the Hanover National bank. Then, he said, he went to Wall street and hailed a passing boy and sked him if he knew where the National City bank was. The boy said he did not. Leonard said he told him: "Take this the loan clerk." Leonard meanwhile stood opposite the customs house and saw the boy take the package and come out with he securities.

Sent Securities to Owner.

Leonard said he took the securities to his house at 586 East Hundred and Thirtysixth street and with no delay put them in a wrapper, affixed the necessary stamp and took them to a mail box in the neighborhood of West Ninety-second street and mailed them to Dyer Pearl of 44 West Seventy-third street, who is a member of the firm that owned the securities. There were, however, only $300,000 worth of securities in the package, which were received safely the next day by Mr. Pearl. There were $89,000 worth of securities missing and Leonard explained that by saying that to have inclosed them all in a package by mail would have made the package too bulky and he therefore kept them out and only mailed $300,000 worth. In this connec tion it was noted by the police that only about $50,000 worth of the securities was negotiable.

August Stelgitz of the brokerage firm that employed Leonard made the following statement concerning him:

Henry Leonard, or Harry Leonard, as he was known in our office, has been in our employ three or four years. He is 20 to 23 years old. He has always behaved well and we always regarded him as thoroughly honest and trustworthy. I believe it will be found that this thing was not dishousesty, but rather that the young man wanted to show how easy it was to perform such a trick.

Mr. Steightz declined to say more than other quarters, however, it was learned that the young man was in the stock and loan department of Halle & Steiglitz, who are big operators in the stock exchange. Leonard is said to have been at the office as late as Saturday last. Halle & Steiglitz are depositors in the National City bank.

Leonard was arraigned in the tombs court and held in $50,000 for further examination. He was not represented by counsel. As he left the court room he said to a ques- athletic sports occupied the officers and tioner, "I did it on a bet."

PAT CROWE SAID TO BE IN JAIL Police at Butte, Mont., Think They Have the Much Wanted

Omaha Man BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 2.-(Special Telegram.)-The city police claim they have Pat Crowe under arrest and behind the bars of the county jail. The man under arrest says he is Pat Crowe and the manwanted in Omaha. He was arrested by by water on a cruiser. He is expected to Detectives McInerney and McGrath about 8 o'clock this evening at the Northern Pacific depot, where he was waiting for the 18th inst. As far as St. Augustine, Fla., arrival of the westbound train, Mc-Inerney walked up to him and said: "Hello, Pat." and the man turned quickly to face a gun in the hands of McGrath. Crowe was taken to the cit, jail, where he gave his name to the jailer as Pat Crowe and asked permission to send a telegram to the chief of police at Omaha which permission was denied him. He then made a request of the detectives that news of the arrest be not sent out until cers, which request was granted.

No one was permitted to see him, but McInerney claims there is no question as to the man's identity. The detective had nformation that Crowe was in the city and had visited the home of his brother, Anthony Crowe, where he spent some time several years ago and that he would get out of town tonight. The depots were all guarded. Crowe walked alone to the Northern Pacific depot, where he was captured.
