WOODMEN HEARING NOW ON

Attorney General Seeks to Show Reserve Was Not Returned by Assessor.

COUNTY INSISTS ALL PROPERTY IS TAXED

Inheritance Tax Case and Appeal in Cigarette Case, Both from Omaha, Argued in the Supreme Court.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—This afternoon, in the office of Attorney General Brown, testimony in the case involving the taxation of the Woodmen of the World reserve was taken before Minor Bacon, who had been named a special commissioner by the supreme court. County Assessor Reed of Douglas county, County Clerk Drexel and Secretary G. D. Bennett of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment were on the stand for the purpose of identifying the records which will be offered in evidence. It is believed that the argument will be made before the supreme court Monday, October 16, although further evidence may be taken in the event either party wishes it.

Attorney General Brown spent considerable time in the examination of County Assessor Reed, endeavoring to bring out an admission that he had deducted the $2,000,000 reserve and the cash in the bank when making the assessment. It develops that the state is proceeding on the theory that this property was omitted altogether from the original assessment and, therefore, could be included whenever the omission was discovered, without resorting to the formality of an appeal from the assessment. It is stated that Drexel's theory appears to be that the assessment which was made, amounting to $7,668, purported to cover the entire amount of property returned, and that, therefore, the state board should have appealed from the assessment in the regular way, instead of bringing mandamus proceedings.

Although Reed evaded the question the attorney general believes that the record shows that the assessment made by Reed applied only to the $5,000 furniture item and the $33,341 of receipts. The return of the association included four items, the two assessed and $3,018,597.55 reserve invested and $402,189.06 in various Omaha banks. It is urged now that the records show plainly that the last two items were left out of consideration entirely.

Inheritance Tax Case Submitted.

The inheritance tax case was submitted this afternoon before the supreme court. The suit arose out of the refusal of County Judge Vinsonhaler to appoint appraisers for the estate of Frank Murphy on the ground of alleged unconstitutionality, and takes the form of mandamus proceedings.

County Attorney Slabaugh contended that the act providing for the collection of inheritance taxes is valid, that it is a tax on transfers and not on property, and, therefore, does not violate the uniformity clause of the constitution. He denied the contention of Attorney Pritchett for Vinsonhaler, that the law violated the state and United States constitutions.

Argue Cigarette Case.

The case of John Alperson against Michael Walker, in which Alperson, a tobacconist of Omaha, secured a writ of habeas corpus after having been arrested for giving away material for cigarettes, was ordered submitted today. The case was decided in his favor in the lower court on the ground that the title of the act passed by the last legislature referred simply to the sale of cigarettes and not to the giving. The court held that the body of the act where it sought to impose the penalty for giving was too broad for the title and was, therefore, ineffective.

STRANGER THAN FICTION

A Remedy Which Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Stomach Trouble.

The remedy is not heralded as a wonderful discovery, nor yet a secret patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles with which nine out of ten suffer.

The remedy is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges, containing vegetable and fruit essences, pure aseptic pepsin (government test), golden seal and diastase. The tablets are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Many interesting experiments to test the digestive power of Stuart's Tablets show that one grain of the active principle contained in them is sufficient to thoroughly digest 3,000 grains of raw meat, eggs and other wholesome food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the bowels like after dinner pills and cheap cathartics, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines without having any effect whatever in digesting food or curing indigestion.

If the stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion it will very soon recover its normal vigor, as no organ is so much abused and overworked as the stomach.

This is the secret, if there is any secret, of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most widely known of any treatment for stomach weakness.

This success has been secured entirely upon its merits as a digestive pure and simple, because there can be no stomach trouble if the food is promptly digested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue. They cure dyspepsia, water brash, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive power which weak stomachs lack, and unless that lack is supplied it is useless to attempt to cure by the use of "tonics," "pills" and cathartics which have absolutely no digestive power.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found at all drug stores and the regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit better than any other argument.

Cannot Do Savings Business.

Secretary Royse of the State Banking Board said today that no commercial banks will be permitted to operate savings departments without organizing new corporations with separate capital stock. He stated that two important banks in the state have violated the statute in this respect, but he believes it was due to carelessness or lack of knowledge as to the provisions of the banking laws, which would render them subject to forfeiture of their charters for doing unauthorized business and subject their officers to punishment.

FARMER SHOOTS HIS NEIGHBOR

Man Who Does Shooting Surrenders to Sheriff.

HARTINGTON, Neb., Oct. 3.—(Special Telegram.)—A serious shooting affray occurred nine miles southeast of Hartington last night about 8 o'clock in which John Schievers, a young farmer, was shot in the hip, the ball from a 32-caliber revolver passing entirely through the right leg.

The shooting was done by a neighbor, Roy Rankin, who came to Hartington last night at 11 o'clock and gave himself up to Sheriff Rosenberger and told what he had done. The trouble started some weeks ago when Schievers took exception to some remarks it is alleged Rankin made about his wife. Rankin went to the Schievers home last night to get a neckyoke belonging to him, and the quarrel was renewed. Rankin alleges he started home when Schievers threw a stick at him, and in the darkness he thought Schievers was coming toward him, and at a distance of fifty feet he drew his gun and fired. Schievers was shot in the back of the leg, which indicates he was not coming toward Rankin. The injured man is getting along well and will recover unless complications set in.

A warrant will probably be issued for Rankin tomorrow and he is today hunting bondsmen and will probably waive preliminary examination. The affair has caused intense excitement in the east part of the county where the parties are well known.

Close Call for Thresher.

BEATRICE, Neb., Oct. 3.—(Special Telegram.)—Rufus Strough, near Pickerell, was crossing a field with a threshing outfit, when the engine set fire to the stubble. The flames, fanned by a strong south wind, soon enveloped Strough and his team. Becoming exhausted from heat and smoke, he fell from the machine and was rescued by several other threshing men who were following close behind. He was seriously burned about the face and body, but it is thought he will recover. The threshing outfit and team was saved, although the hair was singed almost entirely off the horses.

BURKETT IS GETTING BUSY

Looking Up Matters in the Departments for His Constituents.

HULL EXPECTS RATE LEGISLATION

General Cowin in Capital, but Denies that His Visit Has Anything to Do with Cases of the Packers.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(Special Telegram.)—Senator Burkett put in a busy day about the departments today. He called at the Postoffice department in regard to rural free delivery affairs in Lancaster county, with the result that a postoffice inspector will be sent to Waverly to endeavor to straighten out rural free delivery matters in that section of the state.

Senator Burkett also called upon Secretary of Agriculture Wilson to extend to him an invitation to visit Lincoln in December to inspect the result of the competition which has been going on during the summer among the farmer youths of Nebraska, who entered into the contest to ascertain who could raise the largest and best ears of corn. Secretary Wilson said he was deeply interested in the matter and if he could not attend in person he would designate someone from his department to represent him.

Senator Burkett also called at the State department and secured passports for Mrs. Z. L. Holmes and Miss Beatrice Billingsly of Lincoln, who contemplate an extended European trip this fall.

Hull Talks on Rate Legislation.

Congressman Hull, representing the Des Moines (Ia.) district, is in Washington and was among those who called upon the president today. Primarily Captain Hull called upon the president in the interest of a constituent who holds a position as interpreter in China and who now seeks a consular position.

In speaking of proposed legislation to regulate railroad freight rates, Congressman Hull, after his chat with the president, said: "The way I figure it out is that most of the demand for rate legislation is in the west. The east apparently cares little about it, but the west is determined. As most of the new members of the house are from the west, there should be an even greater majority for President Roosevelt's policy than there was last year. It is probable the new measure which will finally go before the house will differ in some respects from the Esch-Townsend bill, which passed last session. Experience will probably show defects in that bill which will be remedied in the new measure. What is wanted is a law that is not drastic enough to do the railroads serious harm, but which will be effective enough to protect the people. This is the sort of a bill that will eventually grow out of the elaborate discussion of the rate question."

General Cowin in City.

General J. C. Cowin arrived in the city late last night and today was busy in the Interior department. General Cowin stated that he had several land cases which required looking after and he thought this a favorable time to look into affairs at the department. When it was suggested that he might possibly be here in the interest of the packers who are under indictment, General Cowin being the attorney for the Cudahy company to look after their case, he said that "nothing was further from his thoughts. As an old friend of the attorney general he would call upon him, but that would be all."

OUR LETTER BOX.

Just Another Word.

OMAHA, Oct. 3.—To the Editor of The Bee: In public answer to private letters on the subject of corporal punishment in the schools, I wish to say to the parents and people of Omaha that they may safely rely upon the Board of Education and Superintendent Davidson to stop the brutal business under such rigid rules and regulations as will be both wise and effective. My information is definite and explicit, and there need be no doubt about it. The Board of Education is composed of sound and strong men, who are well known to me personally, and I know that they can be relied upon to make good what I have taken the liberty to here say in their behalf.

GEORGE L. MILLER.

Railroad Management in Nebraska.

GLENWOOD, Ia., Oct. 2.—To the Editor of The Bee: If the substitution by Mr. Breen, inadvertently, no doubt, of one word for another calls forth from the general attorney of the Burlington in Nebraska some remarks on English composition, etc., he still has left the main charges which were urged by Mr. Breen unanswered:

First—That Nebraska railroads could kill passengers at $5,000 per capita.

Second—That this amount was never paid, and that the usual plan is to weary the relatives of the victims by interminable litigation, and thereby force them to accept by way of settlement any paltry sum—often $1,000—which the legal department of the railroad saw fit to give them.

Third—That the railroads pay practically no municipal taxes, as the following figures will show:

Total municipal taxes, 1904, $2,056,242.19.

Total railroad and telegraph, $84,856.78.

Thus the real estate owners pay 96.1 per cent, and railway and telegraph lines 3.9 per cent, or, eliminating telegraph lines, the railroads pay but a fraction over 2 per cent.

There are many republicans who are dissatisfied with the above state of affairs and are turning to a study of state or governmental ownership as a solution of the question.

E. B. BROWN.

Military Drill at High School.

OMAHA, Oct. 2.—To the Editor of The Bee: Being a cadet in the Omaha High school, I would like to express an opinion on a matter which a week or so ago was being considered in a good many homes of this city and which, at the beginning of every school year to come, will be considered. This matter is drill.

There are not many boys who really enjoy drill. They drill because they are compelled to by the school, or to get a credit point which they could in some other study in the same time, and out of which they would obtain more benefit.

Then, there is the question of money. Many families in this city cannot afford to pay $14.25 for a uniform each year, when there are the other clothes of the boy to purchase also. The uniforms are so excessively hot and uncomfortable as to almost compel a boy to have civilian clothes to wear when not drilling. A boy is excused from drill if his parents cannot afford a uniform. But this is the same as dividing the boys into two classes—the well-to-do and the poor. A poor boy is marked. He is compelled by the school board to admit and to show before every pupil of the high school that his parents are poor. This is unjust. To prevent this, drill should be, and in time I believe it will, be abolished. When this is done a great step towards the improvement of the Omaha High school will take place.

If a military school is wanted, have one, but if an educational school is desired, have one without compelling the students to drill if they wish to attend the school. I have known boys to leave the Omaha High school because, if they remained, they would be compelled to drill.

If drill is for exercise and improvement of the boys physically (if a person attended an annual encampment they would see it could not be an improvement morally), there can be obtained at the Young Men's Christian association in this city a better form of exercise at a much lower price to take the place of drill.
