PAT CROWE WAIVES HEARING

Foregoes Police Court Preliminary and is Admitted to Bail.

LATTER FIXED AT FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS

Prisoner Moves from City to County Jail Pending Bail—Tells Slabaugh He is Innocent of Crime.

Save for the fixing of the bond, the appearance of Pat Crowe in police court Wednesday morning on the charge of shooting with intent to kill and wound Sherlock A. H. Jackson was not marked by any unusual circumstance. The prisoner, through his counsel, Attorney English, waived the preliminary examination, and after some discussion as to the amount of the bond, Crowe was bound over by Police Judge Berka to appear in court with in the district court in the sum of $5,000.

The climax to the little sparring match between County Attorney Slabaugh and Attorney English over the bond matter occurred after Mr. Slabaugh intimated he understood Crowe was able to furnish a good bond if necessary and the state's attorney was urging on the judge to place the bond at $10,000.

"I know of Pat's ability to do other things," remarked Attorney Slabaugh to the judge, half jokingly.

Crowe protests his innocence. For full a minute before this Crowe was looking intently at the prosecuting attorney, and when Slabaugh made the above remark Crowe's brow wrinkled and his lip curled when he said to Attorney Slabaugh:

"And you'll try your ability to send me to the penitentiary, but you won't do it, my friend; I'm innocent."

There was at the time an expression on Crowe's face not noticed since his arrival in Omaha Monday evening.

In a minute or so Judge Berka fixed the bond at $5,000. Then Crowe said, casting a sneering glance at the magistrate:

"You got an extra lesson in justice this morning," to which Judge Berka replied: "I'll give you justice; don't be afraid of that."

When Attorney English told the court his client would waive the preliminary examination the matter of bond was immediately taken up. Attorney Slabaugh opened the discussion by asking the judge to consider the circumstances of the case as well as the specific charge against Crowe.

To support his contention in this matter Mr. Slabaugh referred the court to the case of Barrett Scott, as reported in the North-western Reporter, in which Scott was placed under bonds of $10,000 for stealing $200, a lesser crime than the one with which Crowe is charged, insisted the county attorney.

English says he surrendered. Attorney English then spoke on behalf of Crowe, asking that the court consider the fact that Crowe "practically gave himself up to the authorities, had demonstrated his ability to stand the offense of the law for five years and made no effort to conceal his identity when arrested at Butte."

"Well, what do you think would be a proper bond?" asked the police judge of County Attorney Slabaugh, after the first round of the argument had been made.

"I will make the bond $10,000," replied the judge.

"That practically concluded Crowe's appearance in the police court."

Not Sure About Bond. As for the furnishing of the bond, Mr. English could not say what would be done. It is understood efforts will be made to secure bondsmen.

Crowe was sent from the city jail to the county at 5 p. m. yesterday in the usual course of business. He expressed anxiety for the transfer.

Crowe appeared in police court without shackles of any kind. He was closely guarded by a detail of detectives. At his side was Detective Heifeld, who is carrying in his pocket a warrant issued Tuesday by Judge Vinsonhailer for the arrest of Crowe on the charge of having robbed E. A. Cudahy of $5,000. Should Crowe secure bail on the shooting case he will immediately be arrested on the robbery case.

Police Welcome Phillips. George B. Phillips, who has not been in the city for over a year, returned lately and was arrested last night with great suspicion with being a suspicious character and has been wanted for the alleged robbery of a countryman at the Dodge hotel more than a year ago. It is said he got the man intoxicated and when he went to sleep at the hotel robbed him of his watch, a ring and $50 in cash. The watch has been found at a local pawnshop entered under Phillips' handwriting. Phillips denies that he took the watch or that he stole any money from him, but says that he won the money gambling, and that the countryman telegraphed home for more money and he won that also.

IT DRAWS HARD
On a woman's vitality to do work for which she is unfitted, and we wonder how some of the women of our land live through a single season of pleasure or dissipation.

"I will say with tears in my eyes, when they mention the subject at all, 'It is a hard pull' that with pain, weakness and weariness they are 'almost dragged out.'"

Many, in this condition, resort to alcoholic stimulants and "invigorants," the after effects of which are very injurious.

Dr. E. V. Pierce, forty years ago found that women were being misreated through ignorance or carelessness and determined to devote his life and energies to their relief.

Having found the cause of their suffering, he next sought for the means of relief, and found in Nature's laboratory on the earth, certain roots which had remarkable and valuable medicinal virtues for the cure of these ailments.

Using chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength instead of alcohol, he prepared extracts of these, and the result was so satisfactory that the combination became his "Favorite Prescription." The roots used are: Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root. The world knows it as Dr. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION, which has the world-wide and unparalleled record of a half million of cures in the last forty years.

Write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for advice, given without charge.

"I am glad to be able to testify as to the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the many ills that women suffer with," writes Miss Gertrude Mitchell, President Young Ladies Christian Endeavor Society, Council Bluffs, Iowa. "I have suffered many years of suffering and pain. I took your medicine, and in a short time began to feel stronger, became more regular, and didn't have the bearing-down pains which had been my lot for so long. I shall never cease to be very grateful that it was brought to my notice. I have no pains, and feel much stronger generally."

DECLINE IN SMALL CHURCHES
Falling Away in Villages and Country Reported at Baptist Convention.

EMIGRATION TO CITIES COMMON
Higher Standard of Pulpit Work Urged as Necessary Means of Counteracting This Deficient State of Affairs.

Reports had the right-of-way for one hour Wednesday morning at the Baptist state convention. The committee on social service told of its work in watching the course of legislation and aiding in moral measures, both in cities and the legislature. Rev. S. E. Batten of Lincoln, who presented the report, made a number of recommendations calling for study and effort along social lines.

The committee on the causes and remedies for decline in village and rural churches, Rev. J. W. Merrill of Nebraska City, chairman, declared that such a decline was actual. Emigration toward the cities was drawing many of the most efficient young people from the rural churches. Short pastorates also were deplorably frequent. Thirty churches were handicapped by having no houses of worship. A higher standard of pulpit work, he said, must be done in the face of these difficulties rural churches and those in villages are to thrive. Branch preaching stations should be established and Sunday schools organized in school houses, he said. The city churches, which receive such a considerable reinforcement from village and rural churches, ought in turn lend a helping hand.

Rev. B. F. Fellman, chairman of the Sunday School board, in the course of the report recommended that a general movement be undertaken to increase attendance, that special measures be taken to reach boys, that evangelism in the Sunday school must be emphasized and that normal classes should be instituted in all the churches. The lively discussion which followed and the rivalry exhibited by members seeking to speak at the same time showed the deep interest which Baptists have in Sunday school work.

High Class Literature.
The committee on publication society spoke in commendation of the high class literature issued by this society and affirmed that these publications were in general use in Baptist Sunday schools. Rev. L. M. Denton of Lincoln, who presented the report, thought, however, a better paper for boys was called for and that more discrimination in recommendations of books was desirable.

The state Sunday school missionary, Rev. L. C. H. Biggs, presented his annual report wherein he declared that he had traveled 15,000 miles and had found abundant opportunities for usefulness.

Rev. J. E. Judkins told of his work with his colporteur wagon, visiting from house to house distributing Bibles and tracts in western Nebraska. Mr. Judkins has a wagon which is a home for the colporteur, a depot for religious publications and a movable center of Christian activity especially adapted to unchurched districts.

Two ten-minute addresses were given on Sunday school work by Rev. J. R. Woods of Mason City and Rev. T. L. Smith of Bridgport.

was expended last year, and Mr. Wood asked Nebraska Baptists to increase their contributions per cent.

"A Word About Foreign Missions," by I. W. Carpenter, was the topic of a paper which surveyed the missionary movement from the business man's standpoint.

Rev. John Firth of Assam told of missionary labor upon the tea plantations of that country and held the attention of the large audience to the end.

Evening Session.
The first church was thronged at the evening session. The musical portion of the service was in charge of the choir of Calvary church. Rev. Mr. Lovvack of Broken Bow read the selections from the scriptures and Rev. H. B. Focket of Fremont preached the annual missionary sermon. His text was from the third letter of John, the third verse. His topic, "The Regnant Spirit and Dominant Motive of Christianity." Mr. Focket defined the regnant spirit to be individual appreciation of one's own duty to work for the salvation of men. The dominant motive was love to Christ for personal salvation.

President Emory W. Hunt, D. D., of Granville, O., in charge of Dennison university, delivered an address on "The College and the Church." He said these belong together, both are sacred causes and are linked together both historically and from the point of view of need. Dr. Hunt pleaded for the minds of the youth of the denomination in order that their talents and culture may be developed in a right atmosphere and this atmosphere must be one in which the instructors are open-minded, enough to add to their scientific and intellectual light the light from the throne of God.

Dr. Hunt said the state is doing well in educational matters, but not enough. Its reason for its work is materialistic, while the reason back of the denominational college was the deep regard for the eternal well-being of the soul. He emphasized the smaller college as the more efficient because it afforded the best opportunity for the contagion of contact and personality. Dr. Hunt declared colleges need the restraining influences of the church.

Foreign Missions.
Foreign missions were foremost in discussion Wednesday afternoon. The first hour was devoted to women's work for foreign missions. Mrs. James H. Kerr of Ansley, state director, gave her report, showing how nobly Nebraska women were co-operating in missions.

Mary Cuming Park, M. D., for five years a medical missionary in India, gave an interesting word picture of India's need of western medical science and the gospel.

"Medical science after the Hindu plan presents an anomalous mixture of charm and superstition," she said. "The medical missionary has an access to the rich and poor which a rigorous and inflexible caste spirit forbids others."

Rev. B. E. Hudson of Hastings told how to interest the people in missionary literature. Rev. I. H. Wood of Pawnee City gave the annual report of the American Baptist Missionary union. This society employs 531 missionaries, 1,640 native workers and has 1,181 churches and 15,963 members; 10,267 baptisms were reported last year; $700,000

Gray Man Frightens Women.
An insane man entered the residence of W. F. Kaschbaum, 423 South Twenty-sixth street, about 5 o'clock yesterday evening. He offered no violence, but naturally Mrs. Kaschbaum was much frightened, as she did not know what moment he might become violent. She attempted to persuade the man to leave, but failing in this, started out of order, but she had some of the neighbor women telephone.

She, with the assistance of neighbors, finally got the man out of the house after considerable parley. The police were some time in reaching the scene, and the frightened man had departed, going in the direction of Leavenworth street.
