DISCLOSURES NOT LIKED

Germany is Not Pleased with Story Published in a Paris Newspaper.

BERLIN, Oct. 12.—Although no positive official declarations have been made on the subject of the Paris Matin's disclosures of what took place immediately before the retirement of M. Delessade from the office of foreign affairs, inspired paragraphs indicate that they have produced a most unpleasant effect among the members of the German government. The manner in which the statements attributed to M. Delessade were received in England is far from satisfactory and their prompt repudiation in an informal manner by the British government was what the German government desired. It is expected that when questioned on the subject the British government will deny in Parliament the Matin's specific utterances about British officers of military aid.

It is learned that the German government gave assurances last June that no offensive or defensive alliance existed between Great Britain and France. The one thing that has happened since that time is the hope of political co-operation between Germany and France for the time being given up.

The foreign office says Germany has made no formal communication of any sort to Great Britain on the Matin's statements, but that the subject was the subject of verbal expressions between the diplomatic representatives of the two governments.

COLOGNE, Oct. 12.—The Cologne Gazette today prints an inspired dispatch from Berlin in which the Paris Matin's revelations are discussed. The dispatch notes that the articles in the Matin have caused great embarrassment in France and Great Britain and that those countries have a prime interest in the clearing up of the matter as a ridiculous mistake in that the German government believed that M. Delessade believed in good faith that France had Great Britain's promise of military assistance for war with Germany and shaped his policy accordingly. Therefore, the dispatch points out, it is impossible to brush the Matin's story aside as chimerical. If M. Delessade was self-deceived, the dispatch says, still the practical consequences would have been the same and war would have resulted from the mistaken policy of revenge. M. Delessade's belief that Great Britain's assistance was pledged formed the basis of his policy and the attempt made in Great Britain to dismiss the matter as a ridiculous mistake is in sufficient and the story cannot be disposed of in this way. The German view, the dispatch adds, is that the story must be taken seriously until the British government gives official utterances fully vindicating the position of Great Britain.

London, Oct. 12.—Today's proceedings in the case of Hugh Watt, the former member of parliament, who is charged with attempting to bribe a witness named Marshall to assist him in murdering Watt's former wife, were marked by the sensational withdrawal by the witness, Norman Battle, of the evidence which he gave September 23. On that occasion Battle declared that he overheard a conversation between Marshall and another man in which Marshall was threatening to kill Watt.

Battle today said his real name was Lightfoot and that Watt, who was accompanied by a man describing himself as an equerry of King Edward, met the witness in Hyde park August 24 and informed him that the king wished the case withdrawn. At Watt's dictation Battle (Lightfoot) wrote a letter to Watt's lawyer saying he could clear Watt. The latter also dictated the evidence which the witness gave September 23. Battle added that he had received about $500 from Watt and that the money was intended to go to Canada and was promised $5,000 and a government position for life.

Replying to further questions, Battle said the supposed equerry was introduced as "Lord Kinloch." The latter said the case was to be "hushed up" by order of the king, who was a friend of Lady Violet Watt.

The case was adjourned until October 27.

PRINCE TROUBETSKY IS DEAD

Leader of Russian Liberals Stricken with Apoplexy While in Confer- ence with Ministers.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 12.—Prince Sergius Troubetsky was stricken with apoplexy while attending a conference of M. Giosoff, minister of education, and he died in two hours.

Prince Troubetsky was considered the foremost liberal in Russia. For a long time he was president of the senate congress of the government of Moscow and headed the delegation which in June last presented the petition of the all-Russian congress of zemstvo representatives to Emperor Nicholas. On September 15 last he was elected rector of the University of Moscow by a large majority, being the first elected head of a Russian university since 1864, when the government assumed the rights of nomination.

The election of the prince removed him from the list of candidates for the national assembly, in which it was hoped he would be one of the prominent leaders, and perhaps his presidency of the Troubetsky was a marshal of the nobility.

Wants No Change in Present Law Governing Shipment of Live Stock.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—At today's session of the American humane society a resolution was adopted opposing any change in the present twenty-eight-hour limitation for cattle transportation. This action by the society was taken in an effort to prevent if possible any extension of the time which it claims the western cattle dealers are endeavoring to accomplish through a change in the law. William O. Stillman of Albany was elected president and Aldred Millard of Omaha treasurer.

KANSAS CITY OFFICIAL Fined for Selling Whiskey Without License.

A pleading Abel said all drug stores sell more or less whiskey without a license. "I've been selling it without a prescription," he said, "but there is nothing for me to do but plead guilty."

SUPERVISION OF INSURANCE

James M. Beck of New York Tells Underwriters' Convention Federal Control is Due to Come.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—"There is a supervision of insurance more potent than that of state or federal laws. It is the supervision of public opinion. Of all institutions, the insurance company must depend upon public sentiment for its very existence."

This was the opening sentence of an address today by James M. Beck of New York to the First Underwriters' Association of the Northwest in session in this city. He continued:

No one pretends that the present insurance system, either in theory or practical administration, is a perfect or improved one. It is not perfect. It is not perfect, and it never will be perfect as long as the mind is progressive. The second thought will perceive that many of the concealed conditions for which the insurance companies are not responsible are due to the New York investigation which will be of incalculable value if it brings the American people to a realization of the extent of the federalized anarchy under which, so far as insurance is concerned, we are living, and which the worst evils developed by the investigating committee are primarily the result of the present system.

Let those who complain of the large sums expended by insurance companies to secure legislative enactments, ask no appropriations they can make for that purpose. Let our stern moralists visit their restrictions upon the legislative highways, who hold up these great business interests, and above all upon an unprincipled leveling of the playing field.

The insurance system is sick, but too many doctors are crowding at the bedside to secure a cure. It is not a full recovery. For this intolerable condition there is but one remedy, and that is federal supervision of the insurance industry. The doubt cast by the courts upon the right of the federal government to supervise interstate transactions in insurance as a species of interstate commerce, recent decisions of the supreme court, and the fact that a majority of the interstate commerce act, passed in 1902, has been held by the supreme court to be unconstitutional, is a serious matter. This is a matter of government, they ultimately go on to say, for judicial interpretation by, for example, the supreme court, or by the federal government, is the only way to secure the beneficial results of the interstate commerce act.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—The administration of former Mayor Samuel H. Ashbridge was brought into the local political turmoil today, when warrants were sworn out for the arrest of Abraham L. English, who was indicted in London for the term of Mayor Ashbridge's term of office, charging them with conspiracy to cheat and defraud the city in connection with a contract for the erection of a small hospital, which is one of a group of buildings forming the new municipal hospital.

Henderson and Henry E. Eaton of the contracting firm of Henderson & Co., Phillip Johnson, a former city architect and brother-in-law of Isaac W. Durham, leader of the local republican organization, and James J. McMillan, former mayor and former inspector at the new municipal hospital, Henderson, Eaton and Finley entered bail in $5,000 for a hearing tomorrow afternoon. Former Director English and Architect Johnson were out of the city today, but friends of the latter entered bail for the same amount.

English said tonight he will also appear at the hearing. The warrants were sworn out at the instance of Mayor Weaver and are based on the results of an investigation covering a period of several weeks. The grand jury returned a bill of indictment against the Henderson firm by Director English in 1903, the firm's bid being $142,700.

No one interested in the prosecution will make a statement as to how the city is alleged to have been defrauded.

PAPER TRUST DEFIES COURT

Witnesses Adjudged in Contempt for Refusing to Answer Questions Take an Appeal.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 12.—C. I. McNair, B. F. Nelson and A. S. Rossard, who were recently ordered by Judge Vandeventer to answer certain questions which they refused to do so, were adjudged in contempt of court.

Judge Vandeventer sentenced each of the contumacious witnesses to pay a fine of $25 and to be confined in the county jail until purged of contempt. Immediately upon notice of an appeal to the supreme court of the United States was given, and five days were allowed the defendants' attorney in which to prepare a writ of error and perfect the appeal. This was a stay of sentence and the respondents were released on bail pending the decision of the supreme court.

Their testimony was wanted in connection with the suit of the United States against the General Paper company, an action to dissolve a paper mill combination.

WINS IS NAMED FOR MAYOR

Vacancy Caused by Resignation of Hughes is Filled in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—William Mills Wins, who acted as counsel for the Faesset legislative committee in 1902 and was a city chamberlain under Mayors Hewitt and Grace, today became the republican candidate for mayor of New York city when he accepted the nomination made by a committee appointed by the republican city convention to fill vacancies in the nominations of that convention.

Charles W. Hughes, counsel for the legislative committee investigating life insurance methods, was nominated by the convention, but declined. Mr. Wins was notified formally of his selection late today and accepted in a brief speech.

Having held office under two democratic administrations, Mr. Wins was asked today if he was a republican or democrat in national politics. He laughed and replied: "I have always voted the republican ticket except on three occasions, when I voted for Hewitt, Grace and Cleveland. I have been an enrolled republican for several years."
