

Woman's Kidney Troubles

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Especially Successful in Curing This Fatal Disease.

Mrs. J. W. Lang and Mrs. S. Frake

Of all the diseases known, with which women are afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Mrs. Pinkham, early in her career, gave exhaustive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for women's ills—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to control that fatal disease, woman's kidney troubles. The Vegetable Compound acts in harmony with the laws that govern the entire female system, and while there are many so-called remedies for kidney troubles, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women, and thousands have been cured of serious kidney derangements by it. Derangements of the female organs quickly affect the kidneys, and when a woman has such symptoms as pain or weight in the loins, backache, bearing down pains, urine too frequent, scanty or high colored, producing scalding or burning, or deposits like brick dust in it; unusual thirst, swelling of ankles and feet, swelling under the eyes or sharp pains in the back running down the inside of her groin, she may be sure her kidneys are affected and should lose no time in combating the disease with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the woman's remedy for women's ills.

The following letters show how marvelously successful it is.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound: A Woman's Remedy for Women's Ills.

Mrs. Samuel Frake, of Prospect Plains, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

I cannot thank you enough for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I first wrote to you I had suffered for years with what the doctor called kidney trouble and congestion of the womb. My back ached dreadfully all the time, and I suffered so with that bearing-down feeling I could hardly walk across the room. I did not get any better, so decided to stop doctoring with my physician and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am thankful to say it has entirely cured me. I do all my own work, have no more backache and all the bad symptoms have disappeared. I cannot praise your medicine enough, and would advise all women suffering with kidney trouble to try it.

Mrs. J. W. Lang, of 626 Third Avenue, New York, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

I have been a great sufferer with kidney trouble. My back ached all the time and I was discouraged. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure kidney disease, and I began to take it; and it has cured me when everything else had failed. I have recommended it to lots of people and they all praise it very highly.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from kidney trouble, or any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of the great volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than likely she has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

The following letters show how marvelously successful it is.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound: A Woman's Remedy for Women's Ills.

JUDGE DAY HAS UNIQUE CASE

Defendant Deaf and Dumb and Complaining Witness Deaf in One Ear.

PROGRESS WROUGHT UNDER DIFFICULTY

Trial Is Over the Theft of Belt Containing Five Hundred Dollars from Guest at Hotel.

Judge Day of the criminal court is necessarily put up against more strange and perplexing situations than any of the other judges, and Thursday morning he drew one of the most bewildering cases yet produced in district court. The judge gave it as his opinion that the case he now has on trial is the first of its kind ever tried in the Douglas county courts.

The title of the case is state against Herman Kohlen, charged with the theft of $500 in cash from William Craig. Kohlen is deaf and dumb and Craig has one ear that is off watch for keeps. Unless he is approached on the off side he cannot hear what is said to him. Neither the court nor Assistant County Attorney Foster can manipulate his digits in the educated manner necessary to connect coherently with Kohlen's story, and they have to be quite careful to have their voice they use in addressing Mr. Craig. Kohlen will speak through an interpreter, but Craig must throw through his own tale of woe.

September 19 Craig put up at the Aetna hotel. He had strapped about his waist under his clothes a belt containing $500 in currency. On account of the belt itching his body he took it off and placed it under his pillow. On arising in the morning he had other things to think of, and as he was on his side he did not hear the call of the currency. He wandered away to get breakfast, and when he went to pay his bill discovered that he had no coin. Back to the hotel he went, but the money belt had disappeared. Kohlen was suspected, and after considerable "sweating" gave the detectives a tip which unearthed the belt and the money in a store room of the hotel. He has the money without the game, but is cool and unexcited withal.

Stewart Acts as Interpreter.

Habitués of the court house were curious observers of the case Thursday afternoon. When the state had concluded its case Mr. Foster, Judge Day, the jury and the jury sat back as if they were out of it. Attorney Cooper, for the prisoner, asked questions, which were handed to Kohlen with both hands, head and a speaking face by Superintendent Stewart of the Deaf and Dumb Institute. There was nothing to it but silence and awkwardness accompanied by many motions that were soundless and meaningless to the observers.

Kohlen said in the sign language that he had found the belt, but did not know it contained money until after it had fallen into the hands of the police officers. His story was to the effect that he had simply laid the belt away for safe keeping.

A Wonder.

Everybody who has tried Bucklen's Arnica Balm, for cuts, burns and wounds, says it's a wonder, 50c guaranteed. Sold by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co.

Developing New Mining Region.

E. T. McCarthy of Baxter Springs, representing four mining and development companies of the state, has been in the city of very favorable conditions in that lead and zinc region, and especially in the Quapaw region. He is an enthusiastic in the business he represents and showed photographs of recent mining developments that indicate great activity. He declares that this region will equal that of Joplin.

The Natural Food Co. cordially invites you to attend a series of complimentary lessons in practical cookery, given each day until October twenty-eighth, at 1416 Douglas street, by Mrs. Carrie E. Duella, graduate of Boston Cooking School. No Selling. 3 p. m. prompt. No Soliciting.

CUT FOR ELECTRIC LIGHTS

Reduction in Rates Majority Councilmen's Revenge in Gas Ordinance Fight.

TO PUNISH THE REAL POWERS THAT BE

Such is the Statement Accredited to Certain Members Who Fought the Gas Bill that Passed.

The councilmanic majority—Schroeder, Huntington, Back, Evans and Dyball—are said to be planning to introduce an ordinance at an early date to reduce the commercial rates for light and power charged by the Omaha Electric Light and Power company. While City Electrician Michaelson has an exhaustive inquiry under way to compare the Omaha rates and conditions with those of other cities of the country, intimations are given that the electrician's report may not be awaited for preliminary to putting in the ordinance.

Coincident with this move is an avowed determination to declare the recent contract with the light company for lamps at $75 a year invalid because no advertisements were printed calling for bids and any overture made for competition. This latter effort may be undertaken through the courts and no city officers may figure in it on the surface.

Both measures are to be in retaliation against the electric light company because the majority believes it is the real force behind the light on the $25 gas lighting contract ordinance.

In Hurry for Report.

Councilmen Huntington and Schroeder addressed City Electrician Michaelson on the street Thursday and told him to hurry up with his report on the general electric current situation. They said they wanted to get the report in hand before they "got out of here."

"Now that we are through with the gas matter, we'll regulate the electric light and power rates," Huntington is quoted as saying.

At the same time it was announced that both Schroeder and Huntington have been collecting information as to rates from other cities and are prepared to act whether or not the electrician's tables are before them. The city electrician has been gathering statistics since September, but is now waiting on a government report giving the latest statistics collected by the department of Commerce and Labor about central lighting stations, which he is assured will be out shortly.

"I have the statistics from all cities over 100,000 population, as directed," said the electrician. "They are absolutely meaningless for comparison because of the different systems for computing the cost of service used in different cities. Before an intelligent comparison can be made all must be reduced to the same standard. This will take time, but I hope to have the report in the hands of the council within a month."

THAW BRINGS RELIEF IN COURT

Reappearance of Sunshine to Dispel Cool Weather Warnings Up the Judges.

Thursday, with its bright, warm sunshine and resulting balmy atmosphere was a welcome change to the occupants of the offices and court rooms in the county building. And at that Judge Day presided in the criminal court with his overcoat on.

Wednesday was a trying day for the judges engaged in trying cases as well as for every person in the building who had to sit still most of the time. Repairs are being made on the heating plant, and it will be sometime before it can be put in shape to furnish warmth. Should a cool wave develop the courts will simply adjourn, as the judges assert they will not attempt to hear cases and compel lawyers and jurymen to sit in chilly rooms.

Announcements of the Theaters.

So pronounced is the success of "The Prince of Pilsen" at the Boyd theater that the management has decided to extend the engagement over one night, and the company will be seen there on Sunday night, too. This most popular of musical comedies has duplicated its former hits. In addition to the Sunday evening performance, it will be given on Friday and Saturday evenings and at a matinee on Saturday.

Well Matured, at Any Rate.

Leroy Hawes and Mrs. Sofie Kestner, both of Council Bluffs, took out a marriage license Thursday afternoon in Omaha, and were united in marriage in the city. The groom is 62 and the bride confessed to 56, but they went forth after the ceremony with all the aplomb and happy front of two juveniles who had achieved their hearts' fondest desire.

If you have anything to trace, advertise in the "For Exchange" column on The Bee want ad page.

Audiences are cheering nightly at the performance of "Under Two Flags" by the Woodward Stock company at the Burwood.

This is the one show in the town that has scored heavily in spite of the opposition. Three more performances will be given, this evening, a matinee on Saturday and on Saturday evening. The bill for next week will be "All the Comforts of Home," a comedy by William Gillette. In this the comedy strength of the company is again brought to the front.

OMAHA MEN AND THEIR HOBBIES

The Best Whiskey at the Portland Exposition.

The highest award and diploma at the Portland exposition has been given to Quaker Maid Rye. This is quite a triumph for a western whiskey, which is manufactured by S. Hirsch & Co. at Kansas City.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses have been issued:

Name and Residence.	Age.
John G. Newman, Essex, Ia.	28
Ira Smith, Essex, Ia.	28
Joseph Swoboda, Omaha	24
Alois Barta, Omaha	24
Rolla W. Ernst, Des Moines	23
Oliver Booth Stephens, Omaha	21
Arthur Evers, Omaha	21
Hannah Ring, Omaha	21
Arthur Hawes, Council Bluffs	62
Mrs. Sofie Kestner, Council Bluffs	56
Warren L. Hamilton, Omaha	28
Oliver Barta, Omaha	24
Herbert M. Porter, Omaha	29
Adah H. French, Omaha	21

E-K wedding rings, gold and silver.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Sergeant Duffy of the Chicago detective force left for home last night, having in his custody Nate Walstock, who was arrested here October 8. He is to be held in Chicago to serve sentence for burglary.

An inquest will be held this morning at 10 o'clock over the remains of Martin Donahue, who was killed on the tracks at Seventh and Jones streets last Tuesday morning.

Services will be held at Temple Israel Friday evening at 8 o'clock and Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Rabbi Frederick Cohn will take for the subject of his sermon in the evening "The Feast of the Tabernacles," and in the morning, "Our Festival."

The Natural Food Co. cordially invites you to attend a series of complimentary lessons in practical cookery, given each day until October twenty-eighth, at 1416 Douglas street, by Mrs. Carrie E. Duella, graduate of Boston Cooking School. No Selling. 3 p. m. prompt. No Soliciting.

Frank B. Johnson—Opening a New Account.

At the Play Houses

"The Prince of Pilsen" at the Boyd.

Jess Dandy and some others in "The Prince of Pilsen," a musical comedy in two acts; book by Frank Fugley; music by Gustav Loder; under direction of Henry W. Savage. The principals:

Carl Otto, the prince of Pilsen, a Heideberg student; Arthur Donaldson, Hans Wagner, a Cincinnati brewer, traveling abroad; Jess Dandy, Lieutenant Tom Wagner of the U. S. cruiser Annapolis; Ivar Anderson, Arthur & Loder. It abounds in Lord Shrimpton, J. Hayden-Clarendon, Francois, concierge Hotel Internationale, James E. Arme, Sergeant Brie of the gendarmes.

Whatever of good has been said of "The Prince of Pilsen" in the past by The Bee is hereby heartily endorsed. The days that have passed since last it was seen here, and they are the full tale of two years and some over, have in no wise staled the variety nor withered the bloom of this most delightful of the delectable output of that industrious firm of musical producers, Messrs. Fugley & Loder. It abounds as no other does with the light and catchy music, with the witty sayings, the songs of genuine sentiment, and the funny situations. Director Savage keeps it fresh by adding or altering the bits of color in its decoration, and has preserved its worth by keeping together as far as possible the company that made it first a success. Such changes as have been made in the personnel of the company have not in the least affected the excellence of the production.

Jess Dandy is irresistible as Hans Wagner, and is singing a new topical song, "Imagination," which is really more enjoyable than his famous ditty about "The Dutch." He is simply Jess Dandy, and that as much as any German dialect comedian ought ever to hope to be. Arthur Donaldson sings the role of the real prince of Pilsen, as he has from the first performance, with splendid taste. His beautiful voice is always a delight. Mr. Anderson has a splendid baritone and sings "The Message of the Violet" capitally, later leading a male chorus with much vigor. Mr. Hayden-Clarendon quite realizes all there is in the Art part.

Ruth Peebles still sings with delicious sweetness, her pure, clear voice ringing true in every note. Marie Welch, who has the Nellie Wagner music to sing this season, is new to Omaha, but last night's sample is sure to make the public long for more. She is petite, pretty and very much at home in the role. Her voice is strong, clear and under excellent control. Her part in "The Tale of the Sea Shells" was done most charmingly. Louise Willis, stately, but not statuesque, is a widow sufficiently frisky to satisfy the most exacting, and was much admired on her first appearance here in the role.

The choruses are good, the midgets are lively and the ensemble work is splendid. "The Song of the Cities" was rendered with a snap and vigor that won many recalls, and "The Stein Song" and "Heidelberg" were never given better. All in all, the performance was most enjoyable, and the large audience present at the Boyd last night was very appreciative. So much so that the show was prolonged by encores until some time after 11 o'clock.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES

"The Prince of Pilsen" at the Boyd.

Jess Dandy and some others in "The Prince of Pilsen," a musical comedy in two acts; book by Frank Fugley; music by Gustav Loder; under direction of Henry W. Savage. The principals:

Carl Otto, the prince of Pilsen, a Heideberg student; Arthur Donaldson, Hans Wagner, a Cincinnati brewer, traveling abroad; Jess Dandy, Lieutenant Tom Wagner of the U. S. cruiser Annapolis; Ivar Anderson, Arthur & Loder. It abounds in Lord Shrimpton, J. Hayden-Clarendon, Francois, concierge Hotel Internationale, James E. Arme, Sergeant Brie of the gendarmes.

Whatever of good has been said of "The Prince of Pilsen" in the past by The Bee is hereby heartily endorsed. The days that have passed since last it was seen here, and they are the full tale of two years and some over, have in no wise staled the variety nor withered the bloom of this most delightful of the delectable output of that industrious firm of musical producers, Messrs. Fugley & Loder. It abounds as no other does with the light and catchy music, with the witty sayings, the songs of genuine sentiment, and the funny situations. Director Savage keeps it fresh by adding or altering the bits of color in its decoration, and has preserved its worth by keeping together as far as possible the company that made it first a success. Such changes as have been made in the personnel of the company have not in the least affected the excellence of the production.

Jess Dandy is irresistible as Hans Wagner, and is singing a new topical song, "Imagination," which is really more enjoyable than his famous ditty about "The Dutch." He is simply Jess Dandy, and that as much as any German dialect comedian ought ever to hope to be. Arthur Donaldson sings the role of the real prince of Pilsen, as he has from the first performance, with splendid taste. His beautiful voice is always a delight. Mr. Anderson has a splendid baritone and sings "The Message of the Violet" capitally, later leading a male chorus with much vigor. Mr. Hayden-Clarendon quite realizes all there is in the Art part.

Ruth Peebles still sings with delicious sweetness, her pure, clear voice ringing true in every note. Marie Welch, who has the Nellie Wagner music to sing this season, is new to Omaha, but last night's sample is sure to make the public long for more. She is petite, pretty and very much at home in the role. Her voice is strong, clear and under excellent control. Her part in "The Tale of the Sea Shells" was done most charmingly. Louise Willis, stately, but not statuesque, is a widow sufficiently frisky to satisfy the most exacting, and was much admired on her first appearance here in the role.

The choruses are good, the midgets are lively and the ensemble work is splendid. "The Song of the Cities" was rendered with a snap and vigor that won many recalls, and "The Stein Song" and "Heidelberg" were never given better. All in all, the performance was most enjoyable, and the large audience present at the Boyd last night was very appreciative. So much so that the show was prolonged by encores until some time after 11 o'clock.

Four more performances of "The Prince of Pilsen" will be given, the management having decided to extend the engagement over Sunday evening. A matinee will be given on Saturday afternoon.

"Sky Farm" at the Krog.

One of the prettiest of the rural dramas, "Sky Farm," an engagement at the Krog last night to an audience that made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers, and was by no means small at that. The tale told by Mr. Kidder in his play is a wholesome one, and it is related in a natural way. The situations are interesting, and never strained, the effects flowing directly from the action of the drama, which moves in logical sequence from event to event. The company is a good one, well balanced and far above the average. It is equipped with splendid stage settings, the scenic effects being beautiful as well as realistic and the results greatly enhance the excellence of the performance. "Sky Farm" will be the bill until after Saturday night, with a matinee on Saturday.

Well Matured, at Any Rate.

Leroy Hawes and Mrs. Sofie Kestner, both of Council Bluffs, took out a marriage license Thursday afternoon in Omaha, and were united in marriage in the city. The groom is 62 and the bride confessed to 56, but they went forth after the ceremony with all the aplomb and happy front of two juveniles who had achieved their hearts' fondest desire.

If you have anything to trace, advertise in the "For Exchange" column on The Bee want ad page.

Audiences are cheering nightly at the performance of "Under Two Flags" by the Woodward Stock company at the Burwood.

This is the one show in the town that has scored heavily in spite of the opposition. Three more performances will be given, this evening, a matinee on Saturday and on Saturday evening. The bill for next week will be "All the Comforts of Home," a comedy by William Gillette. In this the comedy strength of the company is again brought to the front.

OMAHA MEN AND THEIR HOBBIES

The Best Whiskey at the Portland Exposition.

The highest award and diploma at the Portland exposition has been given to Quaker Maid Rye. This is quite a triumph for a western whiskey, which is manufactured by S. Hirsch & Co. at Kansas City.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses have been issued:

Name and Residence.	Age.
John G. Newman, Essex, Ia.	28
Ira Smith, Essex, Ia.	28
Joseph Swoboda, Omaha	24
Alois Barta, Omaha	24
Rolla W. Ernst, Des Moines	23
Oliver Booth Stephens, Omaha	21
Arthur Evers, Omaha	21
Hannah Ring, Omaha	21
Arthur Hawes, Council Bluffs	62
Mrs. Sofie Kestner, Council Bluffs	56
Warren L. Hamilton, Omaha	28
Oliver Barta, Omaha	24
Herbert M. Porter, Omaha	29
Adah H. French, Omaha	21

E-K wedding rings, gold and silver.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Sergeant Duffy of the Chicago detective force left for home last night, having in his custody Nate Walstock, who was arrested here October 8. He is to be held in Chicago to serve sentence for burglary.

An inquest will be held this morning at 10 o'clock over the remains of Martin Donahue, who was killed on the tracks at Seventh and Jones streets last Tuesday morning.

Services will be held at Temple Israel Friday evening at 8 o'clock and Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Rabbi Frederick Cohn will take for the subject of his sermon in the evening "The Feast of the Tabernacles," and in the morning, "Our Festival."

The Natural Food Co. cordially invites you to attend a series of complimentary lessons in practical cookery, given each day until October twenty-eighth, at 1416 Douglas street, by Mrs. Carrie E. Duella, graduate of Boston Cooking School. No Selling. 3 p. m. prompt. No Soliciting.

Frank B. Johnson—Opening a New Account.

At the Play Houses

"The Prince of Pilsen" at the Boyd.

Jess Dandy and some others in "The Prince of Pilsen," a musical comedy in two acts; book by Frank Fugley; music by Gustav Loder; under direction of Henry W. Savage. The principals:

Carl Otto, the prince of Pilsen, a Heideberg student; Arthur Donaldson, Hans Wagner, a Cincinnati brewer, traveling abroad; Jess Dandy, Lieutenant Tom Wagner of the U. S. cruiser Annapolis; Ivar Anderson, Arthur & Loder. It abounds in Lord Shrimpton, J. Hayden-Clarendon, Francois, concierge Hotel Internationale, James E. Arme, Sergeant Brie of the gendarmes.

Whatever of good has been said of "The Prince of Pilsen" in the past by The Bee is hereby heartily endorsed. The days that have passed since last it was seen here, and they are the full tale of two years and some over, have in no wise staled the variety nor withered the bloom of this most delightful of the delectable output of that industrious firm of musical producers, Messrs. Fugley & Loder. It abounds as no other does with the light and catchy music, with the witty sayings, the songs of genuine sentiment, and the funny situations. Director Savage keeps it fresh by adding or altering the bits of color in its decoration, and has preserved its worth by keeping together as far as possible the company that made it first a success. Such changes as have been made in the personnel of the company have not in the least affected the excellence of the production.

Jess Dandy is irresistible as Hans Wagner, and is singing a new topical song, "Imagination," which is really more enjoyable than his famous ditty about "The Dutch." He is simply Jess Dandy, and that as much as any German dialect comedian ought ever to hope to be. Arthur Donaldson sings the role of the real prince of Pilsen, as he has from the first performance, with splendid taste. His beautiful voice is always a delight. Mr. Anderson has a splendid baritone and sings "The Message of the Violet" capitally, later leading a male chorus with much vigor. Mr. Hayden-Clarendon quite realizes all there is in the Art part.

Ruth Peebles still sings with delicious sweetness, her pure, clear voice ringing true in every note. Marie Welch, who has the Nellie Wagner music to sing this season, is new to Omaha, but last night's sample is sure to make the public long for more. She is petite, pretty and very much at home in the role. Her voice is strong, clear and under excellent control. Her part in "The Tale of the Sea Shells" was done most charmingly. Louise Willis, stately, but not statuesque, is a widow sufficiently frisky to satisfy the most exacting, and was much admired on her first appearance here in the role.

The choruses are good, the midgets are lively and the ensemble work is splendid. "The Song of the Cities" was rendered with a snap and vigor that won many recalls, and "The Stein Song" and "Heidelberg" were never given better. All in all, the performance was most enjoyable, and the large audience present at the Boyd last night was very appreciative. So much so that the show was prolonged by encores until some time after 11 o'clock.

NEBRASKA CLOTHING CO

Wear a Pair of

"Nebraska Specials"

The Best $2.50 Men's Shoe on Earth

If you happen to drop in an exclusive shoe shop for a pair of shoes you will pay them just exactly $3.50 for this very same quality. They are made on the newest masculine lasts and of the newest style leathers. Goodyear welts, in box, velour, gunmetal, calf—lace and blucher styles—vici kid in lace, and patent corona calf blucher shoes—made with good, heavy soles and extension edges. Wear a pair of "Nebraska Special Shoes." They are positively the best shoe for $2.50 that you can buy.

Nebraska Special Shoes

$2.50

Will put you on a good footing

ORDINANCE TO BE CONTESTED

Gas Measure Forced Through at Council Threatened With Attack in Court.

WEAVER SAYS SUIT WILL BE FILED

Zimmerman, O'Brien and Mayor Willing to Drop Inabilities and Members Refuse to Go Into Court with Fight.

Attorney Frank L. Weaver, who prosecuted the injunction suit against the $25 gas contract ordinance, says the legality of the ordinance passed by the council Wednesday morning, without recognition from the chair, will be contested in the court.

"Leaving aside all the gross irregularities in its passage and the fact that it was passed through fraud, coercion, and therefore unlawfully, the contract is without value because it constitutes a modification of the franchise and must be published two weeks before it can be passed in conformity with the charter. The Nebraska laws on this subject have been thoroughly threshed out in the Poppleton water works case and others. Preparations are being made to bring suit to have the contract declared invalid and prevent the city from acting under any of its provisions."

As to suits threatened against Mayor Moore and Policemen Zahay, Klesane, Ring and Leech for false imprisonment of the three minority councilmen in the council chamber, there probably will be none.

"I will not be a party to any such suit," said President Zimmerman. "I am not seeking revenge."

"I guess the people know enough about this thing to judge for themselves," said Councilman O'Brien. "I am willing to let bygones be bygones so far as the police deal is concerned."

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

A. C. Ong, who has sold his Nebraska Business college for $10,000 to P. L. Smithers, says he will not leave Omaha, but that he needs rest at his home on Fortieth street.

During the early evening the following state people registered at the various hotels: Paxton—H. J. Lee and J. C. Carson, Fremont; W. E. Adams, Kearney; Mrs. F. A. Ross and Camille Walden, Lincoln; Murray—J. H. Hiteh, Geneva; S. W. Bennie, a member of the republican state central committee, Lincoln; Mr. Grand-Joseph Barker, Fullerton; E. C. Smith, Omaha; Mrs. B. Smith, Des Moines; W. P. O'Brien, Atkinson; Walter Lind, Lincoln; E. D. Peebles, Blair; F. T. Scieszka, Fremont; Merchants—J. L. McConnell, Albion; M. M. Wittmore, Fremont; A. Ehrhardt, Stanton; B. E. Denison, Nebraska City; C. N. Frodoft, Omaha; E. B. Hitchcock, Beatrice; Millard—E. E. Bennett, Fremont; W. T. Thompson, Lincoln.

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER

He Cured Himself of Serious Stomach Troubles by Getting Down to First Principles.

A man of large affairs in one of our nation to business, too little exercise and too prominent eastern cities, by too close attention to club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, levied in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability, making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business and finally deranging his kidneys and heart.

In his own words, he says: "I consulted one physician after another and each one seemed to understand my case, but, all the same, they each failed to bring about the return of my former digestion, appetite and vigor. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another. I gave up smoking, I quit coffee and even renounced my daily glass or two of beer, without any marked improvement.

"Friends had often advised me to try a well known proprietary medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I had often perused the newspaper advertisements of the remedy, but never took any stock in advertised medicines nor could believe a fifty-cent patent medicine would touch my case.

"To make a long story short, I finally bought a couple of