noticeable increase in the volume of business transacted by local merchants. August was a very dull month, and September was but little better. With the coming of October the fall trade picked up remarkably. Nearly every merchant in the city reports a slight improvement over September and the second week in this onth was better than the first.

This increase in trade is shown by the transaction of more business at the banks and a better showing on the daily balance sheet of merchants. All of the bankers in the city look forward to a steady increase in business from this time on. They say there is general prosperity in this section of the country and that the demand for loans to carry on business enterprises shows a healthy condition of affairs. At the packing houses employment is being given to nearly all who apply for work and there is a scarcity of good men at this time. With a continuance of heavy receipts of live stock the packers are running their plants full time and are continually on the lookout for competent men to work in all departments. In case severe weather holds off for awhile some of the improvements contemplated, such as paying and building operations will be the means of furnishing employment to a large number. The more men employed makes more business for merchants. The outlook for brisk business for the next few months is stated to be more promising than a year ago. Three Registration Days.

Assistant City Attorney Winters has pre pared an opinion to the effect that three days of registration are required. The first day of registration will be on October 19, the second on November 27, and the third on November 4. In compliance with this opinion City Clerk Gillin is preparing a new set of registration books to be used on the days specified. There is to be a revision of the list of registrars and very likely the completed list will be presented at Monday night's meeting of the council. Some of the members of the registration board will be retained, but in several of the precincts new officials will be named. As far as possible the registration booths will be located where the election will be held. Attorney Winters holds that the registration on primary day has nothing to do with the usual general fall registra-

Lutheran Church Organisation Today the congregation of the English Lutheran church will meet at Masonic hall tion. The congregation is to be named, a church council elected and installed and new members received. Dr. Luther P. Ludden of Lincoln will assist Rev. Ralph W. Livers, the pastor of the new church in the organization. South Omaha people are invited to attend and listen to the sermon to be delivered by Dr. Ludden at 11 a. m.

Odd Fellows Enthusiastic. On Tuesday the grand lodge of Odd Feilows of Nebraska will meet at Nebraska City. About forty members of South Omaha lodge No. 148 propose attending this session of the grand lodge and endeavor to secure the next convention for South Omaha. The first degree team of the local lodge will attend, twenty strong, under command of Captain Thomas Calloway. L. F. Etter and the lodge here to the grand lodge.

Members of the order here say that every effort will be made to induce the delegator to the grand lodge to vote for the Magic City as the place for holding the 1906 session. Other cities in the state are after the honor, but the South Omaha delegation appears confident of coming out ahead.

Improvements Again Delayed. All of the telephone, electric light and notor peles on Missouri avenue have been set back inside the curb line and now there is nothing to prevent the curbing of the avenue but bad weather. Contractor Mc-Gowan has started work at Thirteenth street and if the weather is good this week will push right along. Aside from the resetting of the half block of stone pavement at A street nothing has been done towards the paving on Twenty-fourth street. Parks. Johnson & Parks announced last week that work would be started at once, but delay in securing tools prevented.

Wet weather put a stop to the work on the Union Pacific depot and on the new fire hall yesterday.

Joseph Koutsky Seriously III. Saturday morning Joseph Koutsky was removed from his home to the South Omaha spital, where an operation for appendicitis was performed by Dr. Betts of Omaha and Dr. John Koutsky. After the operation the statement was made that the condition of the patient was serious. Mr. Koutsky was taken ill in Denver about ten days ago, but felt able last week to be brought home. Since his arrival in South Omaha his condition kept growing worse and Friday it was decided that an operation would be necessary.

Station. E. C. Toomey, giving his address as Cheyenne. Wyo., was taken in the attempt to pass an alleged bogus check at A. L. Gold smith's saloon at Ninth and Capitol avenue The man had two checks for $49.10 each drawn on the Nebraska National bank in favor of George Spencer, signed by Charles C. Blackburn. He represented to the barkeeper that he was Spencer and showed a terhead of the Paxton hotel. The letter was intended to show how he happened to have the checks. He said he got them after | and friends banking hours Saturday. The letter was signed by Blackburn. The bartender was suspicious and called Officer Cunningham. As soon as the officer appeared Toomer began to run, and when called on to halt drew a gun. The officer fired at the man's feet and he replied by shooting at Cunningham. The pursuit was kept up and the man caught, after which he threw away his weapon. The two checks were examined at the station and indicated that they were made out and signed by the same person who had countersigned them. A blank check was found in Toomey's pocket which was identical with the two he had attempted to pass. He was held as a suspicious character pending a more rigid in-

NEBRASKA ENTERS CONTEST Members it Can Secure by

April 1.

The state directors and members of Post A of the Travelers' Protective association held a session Saturday. It was voted to accept the offer of the Omaha Commercial club, which tendered the use of the club rooms for monthly meetings. It was decided by the state directors to enter the contest for membership, for which a prize of $125 was offered by the national organization to the state which secured the largest membership before April 1, 1906. The members of Post A decided on a meeting October 31 to outline plans of entertainment for the winter season.

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked cough medicine whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed.

ARMY NEWS AND GOSSIP.

FORT RILEY, Kan., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—
The last month of the field artiflery encompment is being devoted to tactical problems and regimental target practice. Owing to the late arrival of the new guns, the batteries are being kept busy in order to finish the work outlined for the provisional regiment in the time specified, and they are in the field every day, regardless of weather conditions. The almost constant roar of the cannons can be heard for miles in every direction. A board of officers, consisting of Major William P. Duval, Captain Charles T. Mencher and Captain Peyion C. March of the general staff has been appointed to meet in Washington and make a careful study and comprehensive report on the two provisional regimental organizations of field artiflery. For this purpose the board will visit Fort Riley and Fort Sill in the near future, in order to familiarize its members with the work being done. Promptly on the first of next month the regiment will break camp and the batteries will be returned to quarters in the artillery subpost.

The Ninth cavalry band went to Minneapolis, Kan., Tuesday and femained there throughout the week, having been engaged to furnish music for the street fair being held at that town. They are expected to return tomorrow.

Last Saturday night, on a back street of Junction City, Kan., a soldier fired his pistol three times at random and then made his escape in the darkness. One of the bullets struck Private Jeffrey of Troop A. Ninth cavalry, badly shattering the bones of his leg above the ankle. Jeffrey was taken to the post, where his wound was dressed, and as yet amputation of the foot has not been found necessary.

A novel feature was introduced last week in the instruction of bakers by Captain M. S. Murray, director of the training school for bakers and cooks. In order to teach the students a field expedient, a small excavation was made in the clay bank of a ravine. A roof was made of boughs plastered with clay and covered with earth and a fire was built within. After the earth oven had become well heated the fire was raked out and the articles to be baked were placed inside. If people who are thin, nervous and sleepless would take a light lunch of bread and milk or oatmeal and cream and at the same time take a safe, harmiess stomach remedy like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in order to aid the stomach in digesting it, the result will be a surprising increase in weight, strength and general vigor. The only drawback has been that thin, nervous, dyspeptic people cannot digest and assimilate wholesome food at night or any other time. For such it is absolutely neckssary to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they will digest the food, no matter how weak the stomach may be, nourishing the body and resting the stomach at the same time.

Dr. Stevenson says: "I depend almost entirely upon Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets." making his tribe enlightened and independent. Contrary to our notions of the 'untamable' savage, these tribesmen have adopted most of the ways of civilization. Abrams was a New York Indian, who of the Quapaws about twenty-five years ago. Since then he has become their leading man. It was through his influence that, in 1895, the government ratified the apportionment of the tribal lands to the individuals. The division gave to each member of the tribe 240 acres of the finest prairie lands of the west. It is a beautiful, rolling surface, and up to two years ago given entirely to the production of corn and grain. The tribe receives no rations from the government, and has as might be supposed, but in houses, and banks of Spring river. Their farm lands are leased to white men who are willing to live on the prairie lands. The Indians don't like the open prairie. It is in their agreement with the government that they shall not dispose of their holdings before 1920. It is thought they will be wise enough by that time to cling to their property. "Two years ago Abrams did his tribe a most remarkable service. He is one of the few men of the tribe who attends to his own farm. At that time he was sinking a well to accommodate his stock, and at a depth of seventy-five feet he struck a rich vein of lead and zinc ores. This was the first intimation that such wealth existed in that section. The vein did not reach the surface anywhere, and but for this accidental discovery might never have been investigated. It turned out to be fifteen feet in thickness and spreads over an undetermined area. Enough has been developed so that I predict this region will rank with Joplin, Mo., within a few

Here and there the body of a large mill and shaft house looms up. Royalties amounting to many thousands will pour into the pockets of the Quapaws every year. M'GINN'S FUNERAL MONDAY Victim of Strange Death Will Be Laid at Hest from St. Philomena's Cathedral.

The funeral services for Frank J. McGinn. the died Friday morning at St. Joseph's ospital, will be held at St. Philomena's athedral at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Mr. McGinn was born in Pittsburg May 29. 1868, and came to Omaha in 1878 with his father, John McGinn. He entered Creighton university as soon as it was founded and was a student there until 1885, when having finished his education he went to work for the Union Pacific as a messenger. During his twenty years of faithful service there he was gradually advanced until, at the time of his death, he was chief waybill clerk, having charge of the billing of all freight forwarded from Omaha by the various roads that use the Union Pacific station.

The pallbearers at the funeral will be four of Mr. McGinn's office mates, Measrs. Fitspatrick, Garvey, Gentleman and Lutz, and two of his university classmates, E. J. McVann and John M. Mullen. A pathetic incident in connection with this funeral is the fact that George McGinn, one of two and surviving brothers, is at Clarksville, Tenn., under quarantine, and will be unable to obtain a release in time to attend the

The janitor service in The Bee

Building is as near perfect as it can be, remembering that janitors are human. Offices from $10 to $45 per month-several desirable ones from which to choose.
