RED FLAGS FLYING

First Big Demonstrations in St. Petersburg Since Trepoff Took Charge.

TROUBETSKY'S FUNERAL THE OCCASION

Crowd Escorting Body to Station Charged by Police and Gendarmes.

STUDENTS ARE GREATLY EXASPERATED

Arrest of Members of Coalition Committee Causes Much Ill Feeling.

RENEWAL OF DISORDER IS FEARED

Printers Vote to Suspend Work for Three Days Because of Political Grievance and City Will Be Without Papers.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 15.—For the first time since the advent of M. Trepoff as head of the government of St. Petersburg, demonstrations on a large scale took place here today, the occasion being the occasion of the removal of the body of Prince Troubetsky to Moscow. Students, workmen and spectators gathered by thousands in the streets, and demonstrators with red flags paraded boldly through the Nevsky prospect, the city's main avenue. The crowds and the processions were several times charged and dispersed by mounted police, but fortunately with no grave consequences. The most grave injuries are those sustained by two men who were slashed with sabres. Firearms were not employed by the gendarmes or military and though the first collision was provoked by a shot from the crowd and a few cases of stoning occurred, the crowds manifested no inclination to resist the police and troops.

Students Are Exasperated.

The students are exasperated over the attacks by the police and the arrest of several members of a coalition committee chosen by a student meeting September 30 and a renewal of the disorders is not improbable.

The serious feature of the situation is that a strike of printers was declared tonight on political grounds, which is to last for a period of three days, but it may be continued longer in case of repressive measures or arrests. A few of the leading daily newspapers hope to be able to issue a single sheet giving telegraphic news, but the others will suspend publication entirely. The employes of several factories are ready to follow the lead of the printers and the authorities are fully alive to the danger that the strike may become general.

Industrial Quarter Quiet.

There were no disturbances in the industrial quarters of the city. Large forces of troops were held in readiness in the court yards of the barracks and in the squares in various parts of the city to deal with any disorder. From the Nevsky prospect, a band of students and workmen carrying red flags and chanting revolutionary songs marched across the river and began an open air meeting in the square in front of the university. While the speeches were in progress the police again charged and dispersed the crowds. In the melee a workman and a student received sabre cuts. The crowd took refuge in the university buildings, and the meeting was continued there without being disturbed by the police.

During the annual fall festival of the Fifth Gymnasium today, members of the audience began to hiss the national hymn. A panic ensued and the excitement was augmented by the explosion of giant firecrackers.

Many persons were bruised in the rush, but no one was seriously injured.

Peace Treaty Announced.

The ratification of the treaty of peace is formally announced this morning in the Official Messenger, which says that its operation began yesterday. The text of the treaty is not given.

As a graceful mark of appreciation of the part he took in bringing about the conference at Portsmouth and the resultant peace, President Roosevelt was the first person to be notified by the Russian government that Emperor Nicholas had ratified the treaty. As soon as the emperor's signature had been affixed to the instrument and before the treaty had been brought back from Peterhof for the counter signature of Foreign Minister Lamsdorf, the news was sent directly to the president. Official notification by the French government, according to the Foreign office, followed several hours later, when Count Lamsdorf had completed the ratification by his signature.

The government took no steps to make known to the people of Russia the fact that the emperor had signed the treaty, before the receipt of the official notification that the instrument had been ratified by the signature of the emperor of Japan and the first news therefore was communicated through the Associated Press dispatch from Washington. As soon as the treaty had been fully ratified the Foreign office communicated the fact to the war, navy and other ministries and thence orders were issued to bring home some of the ships interned in neutral harbors. The date for the exchange of prisoners of war has not yet been fixed. Thomas Smith, American vice consul at Moscow, sent to Medvid today several thousand roubles which had been received from Japan for the Japanese prisoners there.

Treaty Published in Japan.

TOKIO, Oct. 16.—The peace treaty with Russia went into effect today. The text of the treaty was published this afternoon.

It is believed that the government has sent an order to Manchurian headquarters to commence the evacuation of Japanese troops October 16. It is expected that Japan will effect a complete withdrawal of its troops in six months.

The news that Vice Admiral Togo worshipped at Ize temple is creating a profound impression. It is believed that his act will furnish a lasting example in national religious education and that ancestral worship will be given fresh stimulation, especially in the army and navy. Admiral Togo has shown his implicit faith in what he said in his report of the great naval battle when he attributed the Japanese victory to the protection of the spirits of imperial ancestors.

American Steamer Seized.

TOKIO, Oct. 15.—10 a. m.—The Navy department has announced the seizure of the American steamer Centennial on October 10 in Soya strait.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—The Centennial is an iron schooner-rigged steamer of 2,075 tons. It is owned by the Charles Nelson company of San Francisco. It sailed from San Francisco September 13 for Vladivostok.

SECRET OF AN OLD FAMILY

Interest Centers in What Lord Strathmore Has Learned of Glamis Castle.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—The arrival at the age of 21 of Lord Strathmore, the heir to Glamis castle, and the theory that he was informed regarding the skeleton in the family closet, the tradition handed down from father to son regarding the secret of Glamis castle, has started a great deal of discussion regarding what the secret really is. No conclusion has been arrived at, but a recent guest at Glamis castle, who for obvious reasons did not care to have his name used in an interview, said:

"I do not think there is much more in this famous secret, supposed to be handed on from father to son, than there would be if Mrs. Fitzherbert's celebrated box of letters were opened at Coutt's bank. The tragedies of one generation often become histories for the next. The wise precaution of a century or so soon degenerates into a traditional survival that is invested by outsiders only with far more importance than it really deserves.

"Still there is certainly more at Glamis castle than can be explained by the ordinary channels of our daily knowledge. You might, for instance, tie a handkerchief to the window of every room from the inside and count the apartments thus adorned. When you checked the total from the outside you would invariably find that one window escaped your attention. Again, there has been some mention of playing cards. Let me give a concrete instance of what happened to a friend of mine at dinner there. I could make public his name, but, of course, I do not like to do it. He told us all about it when we met at a shooting party, to which he came down from Scotland. The guests had gathered just before dinner at the end of the great dining hall at Glamis. Just before they all moved in a playing card fluttered down from the ceiling. Before his host put his foot upon it my friend had time to see that it was the nine of diamonds. "The Curse of Scotland," I think he called it. It was apparently accepted by those present as an occurrence usual to the place, but on which it was good form to make no remark. However, there was naturally some talk over the matter in the smoking room that night after Lord Strathmore had gone to bed and no explanation was forthcoming. Nobody dreamed of laughing at it, however."

BRITISH COMPLAIN OF BOOTS

Say Leather from America is Not as Good as the British Product.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—The British public intent on buying boots and shoes is confronted with two alternatives. Purchasers must either pay a bigger price for their boots and shoes or they must be content with inferior articles in which glucose and other materials predominate over the real leather. This is said to be due to the fact that for many years past the Americans have been buying up English hides, adulterating them, and "dumping" them back into this country artificially tanned and weighted.

The "dumping" went so far as to reduce the English tanners to the ranks of mere importers, and Bermondsey, instead of being the center of the English tanning industry is now a "district of importers."

Interviewed on the subject Mr. Alfred Randall, the editor of the Boot and Shoe Journal, said:

"The English tanning industry has been so reduced by foreign competition that we are largely dependent upon America for leather. So great is this dependence that our market is always influenced by the operations of American tanners.

"Boots and shoes are costing from 15 per cent to 20 per cent more to produce than they did two years ago. The demand is for material 'at a price' and even today there are few people who have really learned that in boots and shoes the best is the cheapest. Many tan yards have been closed in England during the past twenty years for capitalists find that they can make more money and make it more easily by buying and selling than by manufacturing."

PASSENGER MEN IN MEXICO

Local Committee Prepares an Elaborate Program for Entertainment of the Convention.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 15.—The committee having in charge the entertainment of the General Passenger Agents' Association of America has completed all arrangements for the care of the party from the time of their arrival at the border until they reach this city, where they will hold their convention from October 17 to 21, inclusive.

The passenger men will leave Laredo, Tex., on the morning of October 16 on a sumptuously fitted out special train of Pullmans. After the convention adjourns many side trips will be taken, including trips to Esperanza, Cordoba, Orizaba, Pueblo, Cuernavaca, then back to Mexico City. Then come trips to Guadalajara, Silos, Marfil, Guanajato, Aguas Calientas, San Luis, Potosi and back to the United States.

The customs inspection of the baggage at the border will be made as lenient as possible.

The Mexican government will participate in the entertainment of the visitors. They will be granted an audience by President Diaz and Vice President Corral. When entertained by the Vera Cruz railway they will be allowed the use of Emperor Maximilian's special car, which was built for him in England. This car is in an excellent state of preservation.

FAIR CHICAGO MOUNTAINEER

Miss Edith Lee Baker Makes a Good Climbing Record in the Alps.

GENEVA, Oct. 15.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—Miss Edith Lee Baker of Chicago has made a brilliant series of climbs and has created a novel record for the season. From Grindelwald she ascended the Wetterhorn, Jungfrau and Tschingelhorn, and from Zermatt the Matterhorn, Dome, Weisshorn, Castor and Pollux, and the Breithorn twice in successive days, under novel conditions.

Accompanied by the guide, Emile Perren, Miss Baker left the Theodule hut at 9 p.m. in the bright moonlight and reached the summit of the Breithorn at 11:30 p. m., enjoying a magnificent though weird view of the snow-clad peaks bathed in moonlight. Returning for a short rest to the hut the intrepid young Alpinist again ascended the mountain, arriving on the top at 10 a. m. and returned to Zermatt the same night.

Miss Baker wished to view the mountains and compare them by sun and moonlight. This is the first time on record that a peak above 12,000 feet has been climbed under these circumstances.

FIVE TRAINMEN ARE KILLED

Double-Header Freight on Iowa Central Derailed Near Seaton, Ill.

ENGINE STRIKES COW LYING ON TRAC

Body of Animal Gets Under Pilot and Both Engines and Eleven Cars Go Into the Ditch.

OSALOOSA, Ia., Oct. 15.—Five trainmen were killed today at Seaton, Ill., when a heavy double-header freight train, eastbound, on the Iowa Central railroad ran into cattle on the track at a speed of twenty miles an hour. Both locomotives and eleven freight cars loaded with grain and lumber were piled in a heap beside the track.

The dead:
GEORGE A. CAFFAL, engineer.
HARRY SUMMERS, engineer.
HARRY BARR, fireman.
L. H. BRILLEY, fireman.
P. T. MORGAN, brakeman.

All the men killed resided in Oskaloosa, except Brilley, whose home was in Monmouth, Ill.

The engineers lived several hours after the wreck occurred, but the other three men were killed instantly.

Cow Lying on the Track.

A cow was lying on the ties between the rails. She was hidden from view by the other cattle standing about it. At the sound of the whistle of the approaching train, the standing cattle scampered away, but the forward locomotive struck the lying cow.

The animal was crushed under the wheels of the pilot truck and rolled along the ties for 100 feet. The animal's blood made the rails slippery and pieces of bone threw the front locomotive from the track. The derailed locomotive pitched down an embankment, drawing the second locomotive into the ditch, where the two machines piled up, crushing the engineers and firemen.

Wreckage Takes Fire.

Car after car crushed itself onto the hot mass of metal and the wreckage caught fire from the live coals of the locomotive fire boxes. The conductor and rear brakemen, with persons who lived near the wreck, hastily took the mangled bodies of the trainmen from the burning debris and saved the rest of the train from the flames.

The body of Brakeman Morgan was driven into the earth beneath the end of a box car. Fireman Brilley was found dead, but apparently unwounded, beside the tangled steel of the locomotives. Engineer Summers was caught in the cab of his locomotive and cooked by steam and water from the boiler. He lived several hours, although large pieces of cooked flesh fell from the bones.

UNION PACIFIC BLOCK SYSTEM

Julius Kruttschnitt Discusses a Number of Improvements Planned for the Harriman System.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 15.—Julius Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance and operation of the Harriman system is here for the purpose of holding a conference with F. H. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific, who is expected to arrive from the orient about October 21.

Exactly what will be discussed during the conference is not disclosed. Mr. Kruttschnitt made the announcement that a large amount of rolling stock had been ordered for the improvement of the Southern Pacific service throughout the country. Included in the order are 140 locomotives of the newest type, 6,000 steel flat cars, 120 coaches and baggage cars and eight observation cars.

Three steamers of 10,000 tons also have been ordered for the Atlantic coast and steamship service.

Another important announcement made by Mr. Kruttschnitt was that within the next three years it is planned to have a perfect block system in operation between this city and Omaha. In the future all rails laid by the Southern Pacific will be of the ninety-pound instead of the sixty-pound variety.

Independence of all organizations and individuals; disregard of merely national party considerations in making appointments; retirement from all private business during his term; the acquirement by the city of all lapsed or forfeited franchises; the condemning by the legislature of all existing gas plants, under the right of eminent domain, the city to take immediate possession; the construction of a municipal light and power plant, and a revision of the system of public accounting.

Mr. Ivens' letter closed with a request to other candidates to meet him on a common platform to discuss these and other issues of the campaign.

The fire is supposed to have started from spontaneous combustion, and several explosions of oil and varnish occurred. The five firemen were injured by falling glass and flying splinters caused by the explosion.

TESTIMONIAL FOR AN EXILE

O'Donovan Rossa Will Be Given Cash by Admirers on Return Home.

DUBLIN, Oct. 15.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—At a meeting of the Old Guard Union testimonial fund just held in this city the subject of the future of O'Donovan Rossa came up for discussion. Communications from Borris-in-Ossory, Skibbereen, etc., were read. The honorable secretaries of the Skibbereen O'Donovan Rossa testimonial wrote that in deference to the wishes of some of Rossa's friends their committee had decided upon keeping the fund open for some time longer. The expected return of Mr. O'Donovan and his wife at an early date to Ireland had materially strengthened the decision come to. The Skibbereen committee, like the Old Guard Union committee, had to complain of the tardiness of certain gentlemen and associations in remitting the money collected by them for the testimonial. The chairman said he was very proud of Cork for having unanimously elected Rossa to the position on the staff of the county council. The salary would not be very much, but supplemented by a little annuity purchased from the proceeds of the testimonial fund it would be sufficient to render the old patriot a comfortable subsistence for the rest of his days.

With the view of augmenting the funds already in the hands of the Old Guard union, Mr. O'Brien suggested that a concert of Irish music should be held in the rotunda or some other suitable building. Mr. O'Brien said that he had already received numerous offers of assistance from gifted artistes. At the next meeting of the Old Guard union committee a program would be submitted and the members would then set to work to make the concert a thorough success. The suggestions made were unanimously agreed to and when Mr. Rossa returns to Ireland he will be given a rousing reception.

PICKPOCKET IS PATRIOTIC

French Woman Says She Confined Her Operations Entirely to Natives of Germany.

PARIS, Oct. 15.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—In Paris the police have discovered a woman whose peculiar sort of patriotism has been compared to Boule de Suif in Guy de Maupassant's story. She was arrested recently for having robbed a German merchant of $350. To the magistrate she made a strange declaration. She said that her main object in life was to decoy Germans and rob them. She went about with them to cafes and music halls and while affecting to be very interested in them she picked their pockets. In this way she had annexed for several years past over $3,500. She had picked the pockets of exactly sixty-seven Germans and she was proud of it. As her reason for thus acting the woman said that in 1870 her family in Normandy had been completely ruined by the German invaders, who stole her father's cattle, pigs, fowls and even plate. She was then obliged to go out as a dairymaid, but not being accustomed to servitude she came to Paris and began waylaying and robbing Germans. The magistrate listened to this tale calmly. It evidently made no impression on him for he sent the new Boule de Suif to the depot, there to await trial.

BALLOON RACE FOR IN FRANCE

Fifteen Big Gas Bags Leave Paris for an Endurance Contest.

PARIS, Oct. 15.—Aeronautic representatives of France, Belgium, Spain, Russia, Italy and England ascended this afternoon from the Tulleries garden in the presence of an enormous crowd. The contest is to be an endurance one and was organized for the benefit of the sufferers by the recent earthquake in the province of Calabria, Italy. Fifteen balloons safely effected a start towards the German frontier during the prevalence of an extremely high wind. The aeronauts will endeavor to beat the distance record of 514 miles, and prizes will also be given for the balloons remaining in the air forty hours without replenishing their gas bags. The Americans, Frank Larms and four other entrants, abandoned the contest.

ABBEY HONORS FOR IRVING

Demand That Body of Famous Actor Find Resting Place In Historic Pile.

CONDOLENCE FOR HISTRIONIC FAMILY

King Edward Sends General Roblyn with a Personal Message from Himself and Queen Alexandra.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—That the body of Sir Henry Irving should find a resting place in Westminster Abbey appears to be a very general desire. An editorial in this morning's Daily Telegraph says:

The nation will, we are persuaded, ask this honor for him with no uncertain voice, and we know we interpret the wish and feeling of the country when we plead for a public interment in the Abbey.

The flood of tribute of admiration and affection is increasing. From King Edward downward men of all classes, including the great church men, are giving public expression to their feelings on the sad occasion, nearly all dwelling as much on Sir Henry Irving's personal character as on his histrionic talents.

Death Due to Hard Work.

It seems to be beyond doubt that Irving sacrificed himself by hard work. He had been advised a long time ago to give up arduous roles like that of Matthias in "The Bells," owing to the strain thrown on his weak heart, and only last week he had been persuaded to omit "The Bells" in future.

It appears for several years past the weakness of the lungs had thrown an undue strain on the heart. Sir Charles Wyndham says that in February last he begged Sir Henry to take warning and not to burn the candle at both ends with receptions in the morning and exacting performances in the evening.

Tribute from All Classes.

Many interesting touches are revealed in the tributes of Sir Henry's friends. For instance, Forbes Robertson says that Sir Henry told him it was his financial successes in the United States that enabled him to create his success at the Lyceum theater in London. General Booth of the Salvation Army, Toole, the actor, and Sir Theodore Martin were among the veterans who hastened to express the sense of loss the world has sustained in the death of the distinguished actor.

Nothing has yet been decided as to the funeral arrangements, pending the meeting of theatrical managers which Sir Charles Wyndham has called for today, and which probably will decide to ask the dean of Westminster Abbey to permit interment in the Abbey.

Condolence from King Edward.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra, through General Dighton McNaughton Probyn, keeper of the privy purse and extra equerry to the king, today sent a message of sympathy to the family of Sir Henry Irving, in which their majesties say:

"He will, indeed, be a great loss to the profession of which he was such a distinguished member."

Messages of sympathy have also been received from President Roosevelt and Dr. Jules Carette, on behalf of the Comedie Francaise.

YELLOW JACK ON THE RUN

Number of New Cases at New Orleans Below Ten for the First Time.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 15.—Yellow fever report to 6 p. m. Sunday:

New cases	9
Total cases	3,314
Deaths	3
Total deaths	431
New foci	2
Under treatment	143

For the first time since the fever started in this city the number of new cases reported is below ten, with the number of deaths extremely small for this stage of the epidemic. During the last five days and 2 deaths were the yellow fever record there have been only 84 cases reported as against 168 for the previous five days and 122 for the five days before that.

The reports from the country were very light, most of them consisting in the statement that there were no new cases. Those reporting cases were:

New Iberia, 1 case, 1 death; Tallulah, 2 cases.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Oct. 15.—Today's yellow fever situation showed no improvement. Two deaths occurred and 15 new cases were reported. Fifteen cases were discharged; total deaths, 55; totals cases, 401.

MORE PAY FOR FALL RIVER MEN

Wages of Textile Operatives Will Probably Be Advanced in a Few Weeks.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 15.—It is understood in manufacturing circles here that within a short time the Fall River Cotton Manufacturers' association will grant an advance to the operatives, of whom there are now upward of 25,000 employed in association mills. No action fixing the amount of advance has been taken.

During the day the textile council voted to request the restoration on October 22 of the scale which prevailed prior to the reduced scale which took effect in July. Many manufacturers reduced on that date or a week later, and many of them are of the opinion that the mills are not able to pay an increase of 12½ cents, the amount of the July reduction, and advocate deferring until spring any change.

BRICK DERAILS TRACTION CAR

Thirteen Persons Injured in an Accident on Detroit Street Railway Line.

DETROIT, Oct. 15.—Thirteen people were injured this evening, none of them fatally, however, when a Trumbull avenue car, running west on Fort street, struck a brick that had been placed on the rails and jumped the track. The car when it left the rails ran 100 feet on the pavement, and then crashed into a tree. The car was filled with passengers and they were thrown into a heap by the collision, while those on the rear platform were hurled to the pavement. It is thought that the brick was placed on the track by mischievous boys. Patrolman L. W. Plies and James McNamara, passengers, were the most seriously injured. Plies was injured about the spine and McNamara was badly cut by broken glass. Motorman William Baumgartner was severely bruised. The injuries of the other ten people were bruises.

RIGHTS OF AMERICAN FISHERS

Gloucester Vesselowners Will Ask Secretary Root for Interpretation of Treaty of 1818.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 15.—As a result of the policy recently adopted by the Newfoundland government to restrict American fishing rights on the coast of Newfoundland, Congressamn Augustus P. Gardner and Benjamin A. Smith, one of the largest vessel owners of this city, left for Washington to discuss the situation with Secretary Root.

Originally it was decided that the collector of port, William H. Jordan, and a committee from the Board of Trade should accompany Congressman Gardner and Mr. Smith, but this plan was abandoned, inasmuch as it was felt that Messrs. Gardner and Smith weer fully qualified to deal with the situation. The object of the trip to Washington is to obtain from the head of the State department an interpretation of the treaty of 1818, by which American fishermen were guaranteed fishing rights on the Newfoundland coast. A similar trip to Washington was made last spring, but thus far no interpretation of the treaty has been made by the Department of State.

At the conference which will be held tomorrow Congressman Gardner and Mr. Smith will ask Secretary Root for an immediate interpretation.

The vessel owners of this port say they are prepared to make a test case of the matter if any Gloucesterf vessels are interfered with by the cruiser Fiona. The Newfoundland government claims Newfoundland fishermen are shipped at Gloucester, and in order that this cause of complaint may be eliminated the schooner Dauntless, Captain Charles T. Young, will sail from this port tomorrow with a crew of twenty-four men, all of whom were shipped here and none of whom belong to Newfoundland. Captain Young believes that he cannot be interfered with by the Newfoundland authorities and he is planning to sell his catch of herring to other Gloucester fishermen, who will bring it to this port.

FRENCH AUTO BADLY DAMAGED

Gasoline in Tank Catches Fire While Machine is Being Prepared for Shipment to France.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The French automobile driven to victory in Saturday's Vanderbilt cup race on Long Island by Hemery was badly damaged today by fire and one workman was burned about the head as he attempted to save the car. It is believed the accident was due to the carelessness of a spectator while the machine was being prepared for shipment to France at the French headquarters at Mineola, L. I. Drivers and workmen on the racing cars had warned people to keep away from them with matches or cigars, but it is thought that while the gasoline was being drawn from the winning machine today somebody approached with a lighted match. At any rate the flames suddenly flashed from the gasoline can, spread to the automobile and before they were extinguished damaged it so that extensive repairs will be necessary. The workman who was caught in attempting to remove the can was not severely burned.

Hundreds of people called at the French headquarters today to congratulate the winner of yesterday's race.

HANCOCK ACCUSED OF MURDER

Nephew and Namesake of General Charged with Causing Death of Young White Woman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Winfield Scott Hancock, 13 years old, a nephew of the late General Winfield Scott Hancock, was arrested at Hyattsville, Md., near here, late last night charged with the murder of Emma Smallwood, a young white woman employed as a domestic in the Hancock household, who died as the result of a criminal operation. Hancock disclaims any guilt and declare that the woman left his home on Monday, but returned on Thursday and died that night.

Hancock was formerly in charge of the mails at the census bureau here, but had been unemployed for two years.

Upon the finding of additional evidence in the case, establishing a criminal operation, a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Mrs. Amanda Mackall, a sister of Hancock's, for complicity in the crime.

NEW HOME BOARD

General Reorganization of Presbyterian Missions Body is Decided On.

INTERESTS OF CHURCH DEMAND IT

Differences in Management of Affairs Suggests Wisdom of Realignment.

JOHN WILLIS BAER WILL LEAVE IT

Former Christian Endeavor Secretary Becomes President of Occidental College.

SUCCEEDS DR. GUY W. WADSWORTH

Latter to Be Inaugurated Today as President of Bellevue, Which is Just Twenty-Five Years of Age.

The Bee has been reliably advised that a general realignment in the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian church is pending. Certain differences in the management and work have convinced the authorities of the church that its interests and those of the work under the board demand a general change.

In connection with this information The Bee learns that John Willis Baer will, if he has not already, resign his position with the home board to accept the presidency of Occidental college at Los Angeles, becoming thereby, the successor of Dr. Guy W. Wadsworth, who left Occidental and came to the presidency of Bellevue, assuming the latter position the first of the present schoiastic year.

The differences which have lead to the determination to reorganize the home board, are understood to involve Mr. Baer, though not in any way discreditably. The home board is one of the most vital departments of the Presbyterian church. It is under the direction and influence of this board that all the great mission work in the United States, involving that among the Mormons of the west, so distinctively strengthened in recent years, is conducted. The highest state of usefulness possible of attainment is the goal set by the church for this board, and because of obstacles in the way of this purpose the governing powers of the church have decided the sooner a general realignment of the board is effected the better for all interests concerned.

John Willis Baer Famous.

The name of John Willis Baer is known wherever that of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor has been heralded and that is in every Christian land of the earth. With the organization of this now vast army of Christian workers by Francis E. Clark, Mr. Baer became general secretary, and he held that position until two or three years ago, when he resigned to accept the place with the home board of the Presbyterian church. It had not been generally known that his early training had especially fitted him for the work of an educator and when his immediate friends learned of his call to Occidental they were surprised, so The Bee is informed. But the same elements—a burning zeal in his work and his magnetic personality, coupled with unusual executive ability which made him a world-wide factor in the Christian Endeavor work—are being relied on to give him distinction as a college president.

Celebration at Bellevue.

Dr. Wadsworth had been with Occidental college for twelve years and more, first as vice-president and then as president. Under his regime as president the institution made great progress and development. He came directly from there to Bellevue. His inauguration at Bellevue will be celebrated today jointly with the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the college. It is an event of great interest to Omaha and the state and will attract large numbers.

A train will leave the Burlington station at Omaha at 4 o'clock and leave Bellevue on the return at 10:37.
