MEN'S SUITS AND OVERCOATS AT $10

Try on the garments. Note their effect and fineness and you will naturally look for a $12.50 price-mark. American mills, with reputations built on honor, made the woollens—all standard and novelty weaves, in correct and fadeless colors and fashionable effects. Oxford gray and black chevots are most in evidence in the Overcoats, with extreme lengths for those who want something different. Chevots, tweeds and the various worsted weaves are seen in the suits. Dissect any garment in our stock and you will find the haircloth, canvas, wadding and all the other unseen features conscientious in quality and stayed with enough stitches to insure a good shape. Shoulders, lapels and collars hand-shaped to stay shapely. Linings, buttonholes, trimmings, etc., give evidences of good, honest workmanship.

MEN'S SUITS AND OVERCOATS AT $15

Finest American woollens in the most tasteful effects—some of them copies of imported novelties appear in these garments. Hand-tailoring touches, lavishly applied wherever correct and skillful shaping imparts the finish that gives the stamp of style. In the Suits are seen the green mixtures that are the season's fad, the grays, that retain their popularity, and the dark colors that never go out of style. In the Overcoats, all the richest gray shades, oxfords, mixtures and blacks. Correct new models, fresh from the best tailoring houses in America, selling elsewhere at $18 and $20. No better suits in America for the money to meet the wants of conservative business men who do not permit their prosperity to encourage extravagance.

Men's Garments that are High Art in Tailoring

Making clothes is ranked as an "industry"—but half a dozen American tailoring houses have elevated it to the pinnacle of high art. All their workmen are graduates of good custom tailoring establishments, with cutters who are the "princes" of their profession. Only imported woollens enter their workrooms, and the entire manufacturing process is directed and inspected by sharp-eyed experts. The high-class garments are the ones we sell for $20, $25 and $30.

DREXEL AWAIT'S DECISION

Guided by Judge Sutton in Matter of Register of Deeds.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES ARE HUSTLING

Decision of Supreme Court in Commissioners Case Sets at Rest Honor of Suits by Incumbents.

The decision of the supreme court knocking out the new law relating to county commissioners is accepted as having removed any possible doubt of the legitimacy of the candidacy of the four aspirants for county commissioner. It has been tacitly understood up to this time that Commissioners McDonald and Hofeldt would have been inclined to make the two men elected force their way into the position through the courts, except the contingency that John McDonald should be elected sheriff and Charles A. Tracy commissioner. In that event Commissioner McDonald would have retired without a contest, it is understood, and Hofeldt would have stepped out in favor of a democratic successor. Now the supreme court decision makes clear all for the two successful men at the coming election and it is confidently expected the next county board will be solidly republican.

County Clerk Drexel, discussing the decision which makes it necessary to nominate a candidate for register of deeds this fall, says: "I am looking for Judge Sutton's decision in the mandamus case against me to make plain the path I shall follow. Personally, I think all candidates who get on the official ballot now will have to go on by petition. I may be mistaken in this.

DISFIGURING ULCER

People Looked at Her in Amazement. Pronounced Incurable. Face Now Clear as Ever.

THANKS GOD FOR CUTICURA

Mrs. P. Hackett, of 400 Van Buren St., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I wish to give thanks for the marvelous cure of my mother by Cuticura. She had a severe ulcer, which physicians had pronounced incurable. It was a terrible disfigurement, and people would stand in amazement and look after her. After there was no hope from doctors she began using Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, and now, thank God, she is completely cured, and her face is as smooth and clear as ever."

THE IMMANUEL HOSPITAL

Those who want to go to this institution must take care that they are not misled to some other place. Telephone No. 1322. Sherman Ave. cor. 30th and Ames, takes you straight to Immanuel Hospital, Omaha, Neb.

view and if I am it will not make me at all sore to have the court say so. In any event, this office will wait until October 25 before closing the ballot and sending it to the printers. That period of time should give everybody a chance to make good or drop out.

County Attorney Slabaugh is inclined to agree with Mr. Drexel on the question of petition filing, but he does not feel like committing himself officially at present.

Bert C. Minor of the county treasurer's office is an out and out candidate for the republican nomination for register of deeds. He is busy making canvases of the members of the county committee, which will make the nomination. If the decision to be rendered by Judge Sutton in the mandamus case Saturday should upset this calculation the various candidates will hustle to get proper petitions signed and verified.

Secretary Greevy of the republican county committee also is losing no chance he may have to land the nomination. He is busy making canvases of the members of the county committee, which will make the nomination. If the decision to be rendered by Judge Sutton in the mandamus case Saturday should upset this calculation the various candidates will hustle to get proper petitions signed and verified.

A rally of the republicans of the Sixth ward will be held at Idlewild hall, Twenty-fourth and Grant streets, this evening. Gordon W. Wattles and Robert Cowell will address the meeting. Refreshments will be served. Every republican in the ward is urged and invited to be present. The meeting is called by E. F. Morearty, president of the Sixth Ward Republican League.

Among the candidates for the republican nomination for register of deeds is George F. Munroe, the former grocer. Mr. Munroe has participated in republican politics in Omaha for a long time. Not long ago he sold his business.

The Twelfth Ward Republican club will meet at Thirtieth and Spaulding streets Saturday night, with an address by A. W. Jeffers.

William Coburn denies emphatically that he is, in any sense, a candidate for the republican nomination for register of deeds. "This boom was started by Constable Jim Casey without any consent of mine," said Mr. Coburn. "I tried to choke it off, but Casey is an awful talker. I am not a candidate for register of deeds, but I will be a candidate for councilman from the Eleventh ward."

Democrats are all torn up over the circulation of cards asking voters to drop a ballot for John C. Drexel as county clerk and forget the rest of the ticket in favor of the republicans. The card reads as follows: "TO VOTE FOR JOHN C. DREXEL FOR COUNTY CLERK. Directions for Voting a Split Ticket. First—Close the curtain. Second—Pull the lever with the word REPUBLICAN over to the right until the bell rings. Third—Turn up Pointer No. 4A and turn down Pointer No. 4B over John C. Drexel's name and leave it there. Fourth—Open the curtain and walk out. Any voter following this advice would vote a straight republican ticket except for county clerk. The move is regarded as a deliberate throwdown of his party associates by Mr. Drexel.

"This goes to show," said one of the republican politicians, "how panic-stricken the democratic candidates have become. They are afraid to seek votes as democrats or to help one another."

Chairman Congrove of the democratic county committee had nothing to say on the subject. He had Drexel closeted with him for a long time, but the chairman denied that he had discussed the card with the county clerk. Apparently, however, his feelings on the subject were anything but frank and pleasant. Another democrat declared: "You'll find that a republican trick. The republicans are willing to sacrifice Haverly to make a few democratic votes for candidates for other places on the republican ticket. It will react the other way, though, before the game is played, or I miss my guess."

George W. Wertz, through his attorneys, McGilton & Gaines, has filed a suit for $5,000 damages against John C. Sprecher. Both parties live at Schuyler, in Colfax county, Nebraska, and plaintiff has been county attorney, while the defendant is a newspaper publisher. It was while he was so serving his county that, as the petition alleges, Sprecher accused him of being a grafter and not a fit man for the position of county attorney. The petition contains eight or ten counts, all complaining of like aspersions alleged to have been cast upon

DROP EXCHANGE ON CHECKS

Omaha Banks Adopt New Rule Which Will Help Their Customers.

MATTER HAS BEEN LONG DISCUSSED

Customers of Omaha People Are Now on Terms of Equality with Those Dealing at Other Places.

Exchange on personal checks will no longer be charged by the banks of Omaha. This was the conclusion reached Thursday at a conference of officers of the various banks on the subject of exchange. The matter has been subject to complaint by Omaha jobbers for years and the decision is the result of two considerations. In the first place the use of personal checks instead of drafts greatly helps the Omaha jobbers by facilitating business exchange between them and their country customers. It also has the effect of securing for Omaha the trade of those merchants who do business at other markets rather than pay exchange. The second consideration is dependent on the first. It is that the interests of the jobbing houses are the interests of the banks.

Kansas City and St. Joseph banks have not charged exchange for a long time, and jobbers of those cities have in that much had the advantage of Omaha. Those cities charge merely the cost of collection, as Omaha now proposes to do, and the three cities will be on the same basis as far as exchange is concerned. The Omaha banks have charged exchange on a scale according to location. For points in Nebraska it was 10 cents for $50, for Wyoming and Colorado about 20 cents and for the coast still more. The only change will be the cost of collection, which will include any exchange which may be charged at banks by whose customers checks are issued.

Bankers Not Entirely Pleased. There are two features of the new arrangement which are not pleasing to bankers. The country dealer who wishes to send money to Omaha will now never buy a draft, and as most of the country banks do not charge their customers exchange on personal checks, they will lose one source of income. Another difficulty is that the man who has no money in the bank is encouraged to do business just as if he had. He may send in his check, expecting to make his account good before the check returns to the home bank. Most frequently he does, but sometimes he doesn't, in which case the check is protested and trouble is made for the Omaha bank. This of course has always been done, but the Omaha bankers consider absence of exchange charges an encouragement in that it teaches payment by check.

TEMPORARY TRACK PERMITTED

Council Authorizes Missouri Pacific to Build Line to Deliver Paving Material.

In order to complete the brick paving on Leavenworth street, from Twenty-ninth to Thirty-seventh streets, the council Friday morning at a special session granted permission to the Missouri Pacific to place a temporary switch track on the east side of Thirty-ninth street, from the Belt Line tracks to Leavenworth street, so that material can be hauled in.

TEAMS ARE SCARCE IN OMAHA

Work on Streets Delayed by Inability of Commissioner to Move Earth.

Inability to get teams and wagons is delaying Street Commissioner Hummell's efforts to pick up the damage done by recent storms.

Teams are the scarcest things in the Omaha labor mart just now and some of the owners and drivers are receiving bigger wages than they ever drew before. With lots of paving going on every available pair of work horses in town is busy and only a few old standbys can be obtained by the city for street work. The commissioner is working a small force and doing what he can to fill holes and remove deposits of mud and debris.

"Any man who wants work for himself or for his team in Omaha can get it," said General Manager Smith of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company. "We are employing a large force of men and could use more if they were obtainable. Large forces of men and teams are at work on the Leavenworth street track, on the Twenty-ninth street track, on Thirty-third street, on Seventeenth street and on South Sixth street, and as soon as we can take some of the men from these jobs we will begin the construction of our extension to Forest Lawn cemetery."

"People are complaining that they have to ride in open cars and I suppose that many are not fresh air advocates, but we are doing the best we can. Twenty large closed cars were ordered from Cincinnati to be delivered in Omaha in September, and we have a clause in our contract with the manufacturers inflicting a penalty of $5 per car per day, so the cars are being hurried as fast as possible, but some unavoidable delays seem to be holding them back. We are just as anxious as the people to get these cars, as we do not like the complaints any more than people like to make them. I understand that the Forest Lawn association has ordered a new beautiful entrance to the cemetery and this will help the appearance of the grounds and we will build the track as soon as possible.

"The car barns at the Bluffs were to have been finished in September, but here again was fate against the contractor, and we have just been able to put in our tracks.

"I don't understand the opposition of some of the owners of property along the routes which we are striving to secure to Fort Crook, but we hope to have enough property for a right-of-way soon and then will start to build."

Prisoner Pleads for "Coke."

Among the bunch of dope victims brought before Judge Judge Friday morning was one who acknowledged he had been cocaine for eighteen years. The man's name was W. E. Thomas and his personal appearance is that of a physical wreck. At the time of his arrest Thursday afternoon he was about to enter a drug store to buy "coke," and it was with some difficulty that he was prevented from doing so. At the police station he begged to be allowed to send for 10 cents' worth of cocaine—the 10 cents being all he had in his possession. "Just get me the cocaine and everything will be settled," said Thomas.
