the municipal council and the committee of public safety are sitting continuously and where a struggle is momentarily expected between the League of Russian Patriots, a reactionary organization, led by the priests, and the newly organized military and students. The Moscow municipal council is also reported to have sent an ultimatum to the emperor demanding the promulgation of a constitution.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The condition of affairs in Russia formed the basis of a dispatch received at the State department today from Spencer Eddy, the American charge d'affaires at St. Petersburg, who said the situation was very alarming. The dispatch was the subject of a long conference between Secretary Root, who returned to the city from New York early in the evening, and Mr. Bacon, the first assistant secretary, who has been acting as the head of the State department during Mr. Root's absence.

Mr. Eddy asked the department for instructions to meet any eventualities which might arise out of the condition of affairs as they now exist in St. Petersburg, and late in the evening these were called to him. One feature of these covers the question of protection to Americans residing in St. Petersburg in case of a general uprising which might endanger their lives. In the event of an outbreak, they will be accorded the protection of the American embassy until further arrangements can be made for their accommodation, if such be found necessary. It is not believed by the State department officials that there is any great number of Americans now in St. Petersburg, as most of them have left the country in anticipation of the winter season. Such as may be in the interior, it is thought, are not in any danger.

Twenty-seven Killed in Odessa.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—A dispatch to a news agency from Odessa says there have been two serious conflicts there between the troops and a mob in which twenty-seven persons were killed and ninety injured. The dispatch adds that quiet was restored at 7 o'clock this morning.

Cossacks Fire on Students.

ODESSA, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Cossacks have commenced firing on the crowds of workmen and students, who had barricaded street corners with street railway poles and furniture. At one point a volley from Cossacks killed one student, three workmen and a girl, and wounded eighteen persons.

The governor in a proclamation said that the first stone thrown at the military will be the signal for the troops to fire.

The governor asked St. Petersburg for authority to proclaim martial law, but has not received an answer.

All the streets and squares are full of Cossacks and police.

Citizens have formed a committee for public defense.

Nineteen Men Wounded in Moscow.

MOSCOW, Oct. 29.—Nineteen wounded men have been brought to the university hospital as the result of an encounter between students and royalists. The governor general has issued a proclamation warning the royalists who wish the attack the liberals that this will not be permitted. The city is entirely isolated. Prices of food are mounting higher and higher.

Reign of Terror in Tiflis.

TIFLIS, Oct. 29.—Complete disorder reigns here. There is rifle firing against the patrols in many quarters of the city. A bomb was thrown at a policeman, to fire, the train has been derailed outside the city and a number of Cossacks killed. The strike is complete on all railroads in the Caucasus. All the stores and offices are closed. Even the employees of the state institutions and the headquarters of the vice royalty have struck.

Says Emperor Yields.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Daily Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent, telegraphing Sunday night, says: "I am informed that the emperor has just accepted the liberal program, appointed Count Witte premier and given legislative powers to the representative assembly, allowing representatives from all sections of the population to be elected to it and abolishing martial law throughout the empire. I am further informed that the emperor will issue a manifesto to the people tomorrow."

In earlier dispatches the Daily Telegraph's correspondent describes the autocracy as like "a bulb of mercury fallen from a height and shivering into little globules" and Russia as having become "an archipelago of political islands, each independent of the others, all dealing with public affairs with hardly any respect to the will of a once powerful monarch."

BARTLEY BOND CASE AGAIN UP

Final Decision in This Long Delayed Affair is Expected This Term.

IN HANDS OF JUDGES FOR SEVEN MONTHS

Validity of the Douglas County Primary Election Law May Be Decided at This Meeting Also.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—At the next sitting of the supreme court a number of important decisions are expected to be handed down. The most important one among the number now pending in the court is the Bartley bond case, which is up now for the fifth time. This case will probably be decided at the next sitting of the court, as it has been in the hands of the judges for about seven months and the attorneys have been expecting a decision for some time.

This decision is expected to be final in this case, as Attorney General Brown, who as deputy attorney general argued it before the court, insisted that the decision be a final one that it would not have to come back to the court a sixth time. When the case was decided against the state by the district court of Douglas county, the matter came very near being dropped then, but Governor Miley insisted that it be appealed and he was finally obliged to order a transcript of the proceedings. The matter was then turned over to Deputy Attorney General Brown by Attorney General Root and Mr. Brown has looked after the case since.

The validity of the Douglas county primary election law may also be decided at this meeting of the court. The election cases were all filed at the last minute two weeks ago and the court had not the time in which to decide upon all of them, so the primary act was one that was left over for another sitting. However, no one is capable of telling what decisions will be rendered, as the judges have been known to change their minds at the last minute, and a straight bunch from the bench is little more than a guess.

Hotel Proprietor Fined. Levi Munson, proprietor of the Royal hotel, was fined $1 and costs in police court yesterday morning because he allowed his employees to throw soap into the alley of his hotel. The complaint was filed by the health department after twice notifying Munson to be good.

Slits for Fire Hose.

The fire department will use slits to haul hose on this winter in going to fires when there is snow on the ground. Each firehouse is now having a slit cut in the wall for this purpose. Chief Clements is of the opinion that much faster time can be made with the slits when there is snow on the ground than with the wagons and he recommended the slits.

Reception for Mrs. Adams.

Members of the local Grand Army of the Republic and Women's Relief corps will give a reception at the executive mansion to Mrs. Abbie Adams of Superior, president of the National Women's Relief corps, on the night of November 2. All members of the Grand Army and corps are invited without further notice.

Y. M. C. A. Hustlers at Work.

The Young Men's Christian association hustling committee up to 6 o'clock last night had raised $30,377 of the $50,000 necessary to begin the construction of their new building. In all fifteen committees were at work and it is believed the entire amount will be raised by Tuesday night, which has been set as the time limit.

Promotion for Ernest Cook.

Ernest Cook, son of Brad P. Cook, has just received an appointment as collector of customs of Jolo. For some time Mr. Cook has been the disbursing officer of the bureau of customs and his present appointment is due to his good work in the first position. He left Lincoln on his way to Jolo, where he will be in charge of the first Nebraska and the old customs office was retained there. Two years ago he visited relatives here, during which time he was married to Miss Pearl Jackson.

Detective Breaks Running Record.

Detective James Malone broke the world's running record yesterday in a chase after a man he was pursuing. Malone, who has lived by frequent jolts from Malone's trusty 66. The man in the case was Henry Bauer, a paroled convict whom Malone suspected of doing a trick the night before. When he went to arrest Bauer, the latter bolted and Malone chased him until he was a mile and a half away. Malone finally overhauled him in a barn, having detected him from afar by his heavy breathing. The shooting done by the detective attracted a crowd of onlookers who joined in the chase, none knowing who they were after.

ON TRAIL OF LAND-GRABBERS

Secretary Hitchcock Vigorously Pushes Prosecution of Land Barons.

PRESIDENT IS BACK OF HIS EFFORTS

No Mercy is Shown in Bringing to Justice Men Who Despoil Uncle Sam of His Domain.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—A special to the Tribune from Washington by John Callan O'Laughlin says: Secretary of Interior Richard A. Hitchcock is engaged in prosecuting influential thieves and grafters that has ever been seen in Washington.

Four men, indicted in connection with the California land frauds, will undergo trial here next month. Representative Herman O'Connell is selected for conspiracy and Representative Williamson is now before the court. The charges against these men are in connection with land frauds.

Twenty-seven men have been indicted in Idaho for land frauds, and more are to be at the next meeting of the grand jury. In Nebraska is engaged in prosecuting politicians for violations of the fencing laws. Similar prosecutions are in progress in Kansas and South Dakota.

Besides this work the secretary has brought down upon his head the anathemas of the silver sellers and radicals because of his refusal to grant any deeds to government owned land in proximity to Indian reservations unless the purchaser agrees to bind himself and his successors perpetually not to sell alcoholic beverages of any kind whatsoever upon the holding.

Backed Up by President.

It is an strenuous time for the secretary, and if it were not for the fact that behind him President Roosevelt, with his staunch ideas of what is right and wrong, undoubtedly Mr. Hitchcock's fearless policy of sending thieves and grafters to prison would lead to his own undoing.

There is a strong feeling behind Mr. Hitchcock, however, and is backing him up in every step he is taking to end the gigantic land frauds which have mulcted the government and the people out of thousands of acres of agricultural, timber and grazing lands, vitally and generally true when the president is backing up Mr. Hitchcock, attention was called today to the reply recently made by Mr. Roosevelt to a delegation from Oklahoma, who had come to Washington to protest against the action of the secretary in ordering the collection of tribal taxes among the five nations located in that territory.

"I know what you gentlemen have come for," said the president. "I have discussed the matter with the secretary of the interior and I endorse everything he has done."

Adheres to High Prosecution.

There is no doubt that Mr. Hitchcock has not ceased to give attention to the grafting which came to his attention in connection with the tribal tax question, and three lawyers who succeeded in obtaining a fee of $50,000 are now under indictment and are prosecuted.

These men have sought to induce the secretary to forego prosecution, but he has refused and proposes to insist that they be tried. If necessary the cases will be carried to the supreme court.

The California Oregon and Idaho land frauds are something of an old story, though the fresh prosecutions which are contemplated by the department have revived interest in them. Now that the policy of the department has been settled with respect to the land frauds, the secretary has been giving his attention especially to the violations of the fencing laws, which were enacted eighteen years ago and have been regarded as dead letters.

He has succeeded in putting one company out of business in Nebraska, which had fenced in 300,000 acres of land. Bartlett Richards and N. G. Comstock fenced in more than 250,000 acres. The secretary made an investigation and found that the western part of Nebraska had been gridironed with fences in flagrant violation of law.

Political Pull Awaits Not.

Richard, who was indicted has asked the department for mercy, but the secretary's answer is that they must be prosecuted and found innocent or guilty of what he believes to be a willful and unscrupulous violation of the law. Richards is an astute Nebraska politician, and he is said to have considerable influence, but without avail.

In South Dakota the secretary is prosecuting the Little Missouri Horse company which, it is charged, has fenced in 7,000 acres of land. In Stevens county, Kan., he also has been engaged in fencing.

The secretary is not trying to ruin any industry which the men who are undergoing prosecution, or are to be indicted, have established. His position, he has stated, is that if the country is a grazing country, he is willing to make a compromise, so that the grazing will not interfere with the agriculture.

The secretary's compromise is not satisfactory, however, to the men who have found it profitable to fence land in violation of the law. The secretary is engaged at this moment in a hot controversy with Senator Clapp of Minnesota, over the cutting of timber on the ceded portion of the White Earth Indian reservation in Minnesota.

Cannot Be Intimidated.

During the last session of congress a law was passed directing that the timber on the reservation should be sold under terms and regulations to be determined by the secretary of the interior. The Indian office, to which the matter was turned over, prepared regulations with the approval of the secretary, but the Indians refused to sell the timber at public auction to the highest bidder for the period of five years.

Senator Clapp has raised a cry of monopoly, and wants the business thrown open to as many lumbermen as care to so into the territory, asserting that the Indian proprietors will get a higher price for their timber. The secretary has found, however, that the action he had decided upon is in accordance with a policy pursued in Wisconsin, which has had advantageous results for the Indians and the government.

Senator Clapp has made a tremendous row about the matter, and asserts that the whole Minnesota delegation will be after the secretary during the coming winter. The secretary is bethinking his own road, however, undisturbed a little by Senator Clapp's attitude, as he was by the threats made against him by the friends of Senator Mitchell, Representatives Hermann and Williamson, the California and Nebraska men, and the grafters of Oklahoma territory.

No Intention of Resigning.

Every one in a while there are rumors that President Roosevelt is dissatisfied with the policy of Mr. Hitchcock and that the latter proposes to resign, but will remain in the cabinet until the end of the present administration and not only until he has finished the prosecution of certain land fraud cases.

The secretary is gladly in earnest in his intention to clean out the internal administration of the country as far as lies within his power, and he has the hearty and active support of the president.

IN NATURE'S LABORATORY.

Buried deep in our American forests, many years ago, Dr. Pierce found a beautiful, blooming plant the root of which possesses wonderfully efficacious properties as a stomach and general tonic, also as an alterative or blood purifier and liver invigorator, having an especial affinity for all mucous surfaces upon which it exerts a most salutary, soothing and healing influence. This sturdy little plant is known to botanists as Hydrastis Canadensis, but has several local English names, being generally known as Golden Seal. Dr. Pierce found the root of this common forest plant to possess medicinal principles of great potency, especially when combined, in just the right proportions, with Queen's root, Black Cherry bark, Stone root, Mandrake root and Blood-root, the properties of each being extracted and preserved in a chemically pure glycerine of proper strength.

This compound Dr. Pierce named his "Golden Medical Discovery" in honor of the sturdy little Golden Seal plant. So little used was the root of this plant by the medical profession at that time, that it could be purchased in the open markets for from fifteen cents to twenty cents a pound. The use of many of these roots very early in Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines—for it enters into both "Golden Medical Discovery" and also into Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as one of their most important ingredients—has caused the price of the root to advance until to-day it commands upwards of a dollar and a half a pound.

DR. PIERCE'S FAITH.

Dr. Pierce believes that in our native forests are to be found an abundance of most valuable medicinal plants for the cure of many distressing and most fatal maladies, if we would only seek them out, test them and learn how and for what diseases to use them. Furthermore, he believes that the vegetable kingdom is the one to resort to for the most harmless remedial agents. They act most kindly upon the human system and are eliminated or carried out of the body by the natural functions without injury, even in cases where it is necessary to make protracted use of them in order to experience permanent cures. Dr. Pierce's medicines being purely vegetable are perfectly harmless. In other words, while they are potent to cure, being purely vegetable in composition and containing no alcohol, they leave no bad effects behind. They do not generally cause constipation, and those containing large percentages of alcohol are taken into the system and their use protracted over considerable periods of time.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, being purely vegetable, are perfectly harmless. In other words, while they are potent to cure, being purely vegetable in composition and containing no alcohol, they leave no bad effects behind. They do not generally cause constipation, and those containing large percentages of alcohol are taken into the system and their use protracted over considerable periods of time.

THEY STAND ALONE.

FIRE RECORD

Dwelling at Tecumseh. TECUMSEH, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—At 5 o'clock Saturday morning fire destroyed a small dwelling house in the south part of the city. The fire department responded to the call, but the building could not be reached with the hose lines. It was the property of Wesley King and was worth $200, partly covered by insurance. A bachelor, Sherman Runyon, occupied the place and he was away from home. A part of his effects were saved. Cause of fire not known.

Barn at Harvard.

HARVARD, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The barn belonging to G. H. Thomas was destroyed by fire Friday evening. A quantity of gasoline was stored in the building and it is practically impossible to control the flames. A horse belonging to a neighbor was burned to death. The origin of the fire is unknown.
