Every Niece and Nephew of Uncle Sam should be deeply interested in what he has said about soda crackers, because they are the one food with which all of them are familiar. Uncle Sam has given out figures showing that soda crackers are richer in nutriment and body-building elements, properly proportioned, than any food made from flour. This is saying much for common soda crackers, and much more for Uneeda Biscuit, because they are soda crackers of the best quality. They are baked bettermore scientifically. They are packed better more cleanly. The damp, dust and odor proof package retains all the goodness and nutriment of the wheat, all the freshness of the best baking, all the purity of the cleanest bakeries. Your Uncle Sam has shown what food he thinks best for his people. His people have shown that they think Uneeda Biscuit the best of that food, nearly 400,000,000 packages having already been consumed. THE LISTS SHOW UP VERY LIGHT

Cotal for Two Days Only About Half What Were Set Down for Polling at Last Fall's Election.

Total figures of registration of voters in Omaha compiled by John Lewis show that with one remaining registration day 10,188 voters have qualified, against a total registration of 21,129 in 1904, a presidential year, leaving 10,941 yet unregistered. The number qualifying October 19, this year, was 1.788, and the number October 27, last week, 8,400. The total number who registered primary day and who have not re-reg stered is 2.701. This showing is considered very good in view of the new Dodge law, apathy as to the campaign and court decisions invalidating the first day's registration. 'a

When the city council met last evening in adjourned session the regular order of business was dispensed with in order to give more time to the opening of bids for the $70,000 refunding bonds. These bonds are general indebtedness securities and for five years have been drawing interest at 6 per cent. The refunded bonds will bear 414 per cent Interest. Seven bids for these securities were received. J. L. Brandeis & Sons, Omaha, bid a premium of $1,200 and asked $150 for furnishing the bonds. The other bidders were: Hoehler & Cummings, Toledo, a premium of $1.017.50; Security Savings Bank and Trust company, Toledo, $707.70; Moore, Buker & Co., Boston, $1,078; Spitzer & Co., Toledo, $877; W. J. Hayes & Sons, Cleveland, $1.961; W. R. Todd & Co., Cincinnati, $500. All of the bidders with the exception of Brandals & Sone offered to furnish the blank bonds free. As Moore Baker & Co. of Boston bid the highest premium the bonds were sold to them.

LODGING HOUSE AND SEWING ROCMS

superintendent Morris Outlines Program Intended to Give All a Chance to Secure Comfort Honestly.

Comprehensive extension of the activities of the Associated charities is being considered by the board of trustees, with the strong probability that the plans laid before the board by Superintendent Morris will be adopted. Definite action will be taken at a meeting to be held some time this

The plan is to provide comfortable lodging for homeless men, with or without money, and employment for women who have no means of making a living. To do this a large building is necessary. Several sites are available for the purpose.

A wood yard will be the maintaining adjunct of the lodging house. When a man presents himself for a bed, he may pay perhaps 10 or 15 cents, if he has the noney; if not, he will be sent to the woodyard to do an hour's work. Lodging for the night will then be his. No restaurant will be run in connection with the lodging house Beds may be secured at 5 o'clock and must be given up when the lodger leaves the room in the morning.

Work for the Women.

For women, sewing rooms will be maintained. Work will be paid for by the piece, at the rate commonly prevailing for such labor. Here women who have no machines, no money for materials and no customers to buy goods, may come and earn a living. Machines will be provided also for those who have work, but not the implements with which to do it. Those who have children to care for may bring them along, for a nursery and attendants will be at hand. The sewing rooms will be closed at 5 o'clock, when the lodgers begin to come

It is not proposed to run the house as a money-making proposition, but simply to meet expenses. The idea is to provide work for unfortunate people, that they may earn their living, in the case of the women, and pay for their beds, in the case of the men, thereby obviating the necessity of asking pecuniary aid of the public. The place is not designed to run in competition with existing industries. The labor will not be cheap labor. Articles made by the women will be disposed of at the usual market price, as will also the kindling spli by the men. The board of the Associated charities will secure its subscriptions this fall on a different basis than formerly. The sum of $4,000 will be required for the work from October, 1906, to October, 1906, including the cost of launching the new project. In former years money has been solicited fron time to time through the year. This year It is expected to secure it before winter, so that during the remainder of the year immediate necessity for funds will not call the superintendent away from his charity work at critical points Alleged Horsethief Taken.

It was reported from Lincoln that Jessie Logan, a Lincoln young woman to whom Burgess is said to have been engaged, came here with the man, but this is denied by Burgess. A reward of 50 was offered for Burgess.

MILLIONS OF COLLARS.

Interesting Facts About the Making of Collars-An Enormous Industry. No article of man's apparel seeins of less consequence than his coliar, yet the fact is that it is the most conspicuous part of his attire.

Every style of dress demands its particular style and cut of collar, and the man who disregards this has no eye for the fitness of things and debars himself from the ranks of the well dressed. This business of collar-making is an enormous industry, employing thousands of skilled workers. The cutting of a collar is an art. Just examine a collar and see how it must be cut to conform to the neck and to the shirtband. Take one of the fold collars that are now so popular and spread it out flat. It will surprise you to see how much material goes into a collar of this kind and how the lines and curves must be studied in the cutting to make it set just right on the shirt.

There is much of interest in the man facture of collars and cuffs and the most interesting, as well as the largest factories in the world are those of Cluett, Peabody & Co. at Troy and Rochester, N. Y. The perfect fitting Arrow and Cluett collars of today, which are the two leading brands of this great concern, are the result of a great deal of experiment. Until recently one of the hardest things to do was to overcome the natural shrinkage of retain its original size after being land dered. Cluett, Peabody & Co. overcame the difficulty by inaugurating in their factory a process now famous as the Clupeco process, and controlled by them exclusively. The Ciupeco process shrinks every inch

14% forever. No amount of laundering can change it. With the nonshrinking collars came the exact quarter sizes which have contributed of material before it goes to the cutters.

This means that a collar stamped 1414 is a so much to man's comfort. Collars and cuffs are not the sole product of the Cluett, Peabody & Co. factories. They are also makers of Cluett and Monarch shirts, and are the originators of the "Coat Shirt." which is a distinct advance in man's dress and is now so de-
