

VEGETABLE JUICE CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

The newspapers announce that all the prominent physicians of New York have received a circular from the New York Post Graduate Hospital giving an account of the wonderful cures of consumption through the use of the juice of raw vegetables and fruits.

It would seem to be absurd on its face that such treatment could be used to effectually combat consumption, yet so high an authority as Dr. Russell of the above-named hospital, who seems to have made the discovery and developed the treatment, states that eleven cases of well-developed pulmonary tuberculosis have been absolutely cured while fifty others are under treatment and progressing satisfactorily.

It is to be hoped that the long looked for cure of this dread disease has at last been found in this treatment, but the medical profession will, doubtless, be sceptical, as they are and should be on all new treatments until more than eleven cases have been cured by a combination of simple vegetable juices that contain little, if any, of the nourishment required by the consumptive.

Hygiene and nutrition of the best sort are absolute requisites in the treatment of consumption. If the laws of health are carefully observed and the body is sustained with nutritious, wholesome, easily digested food, the ravages of the disease may be arrested, even when the lung tissue is involved. There is little question that the best nutrition in the world in such cases is the old and much abused cod liver oil; not in its raw state but in the form best adapted for its immediate absorption into the body, as found in Scott's Emulsion of pure Norwegian cod liver oil which contains, in addition, the valuable hypophosphites of lime and soda and glycerine. We hesitate to say that it will cure consumption, but after thirty years experience with it, the medical profession knows that it will arrest the progress of the disease and in its earlier stages generally effect a permanent cure. So certain are we of this that we challenge a comparative clinical test in any hospital or sanitarium where there are patients afflicted with this malady. If it will not cure more cases of consumption, if the same rules are observed, than the vegetable and fruit juice treatment, we will agree to supply the institution making the test with Scott's Emulsion free for a year. There is no doubt that Scott's Emulsion is the most concentrated form of nutrition in existence, and if consumption can be cured at all it will do it.

NEW ROAD IN PHILIPPINES

Thoroughfare to be built that railroad may be constructed over the route. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Major L. W. V. Kennon, who has charge of the construction of a wagon road from Manila to Baguio, in Benguet province, arrived yesterday on the transport Logan from the Philippines.

This road, it is reported, has cost the government a great sum, amounting to between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000, and is the finest in the islands. Major Kennon is authorized by the statement that the road cost $2,000,000 for the last twenty of the fifty miles up into the mountains, where forests had to be cleared away and rocks cut through. But the thoroughfare is now ready for the laying of rails if the government should decide to build a steel highway there.

KENNEDY TO THE GERMANS

Congressman Urges Them to Be Faithful to Republican Ticket.

FINK IS ESPECIALLY ENTITLED TO SUPPORT

Work of the County Treasurer Set Forth to Show Why He Should Have the Votes of Everybody.

"Comparisons of democratic and republican rule in Douglas county show that the republicans have always managed affairs in a less expensive manner than the democrats," said Congressman John L. Kennedy last night in an address before the German-American Republican club in South Side Turner hall.

"Examine the records of the sheriff's office and you will find that the average cost to the county per prisoner, when the average length of commitment was the same under both administrations, was $6.88 less under McDonald than under Power. An inquiry into the records of the clerk's office will prove that the average cost to the county per prisoner, when the average length of commitment was the same under both administrations, was $1.00 less under McDonald than under Power.

What Fink is Doing. "And while you are at it, vote for Mr. Fink for treasurer. Are you going to turn him down because he has the right of collection of taxes? Not so. There are some men who consider themselves so far above the law that when they get into office they do not enforce laws because they say they are not good. They are not put in office to pass upon laws, but to enforce them. Enforce existing laws, Mr. Fink, and I assure you that the republican party will be with you.

"There's W. G. Ure, who speaks for the equalization of taxes. Vote for him. He does not seek an income tax, but to enforce the poor man, but to secure the proper taxation of the corporate millions which are yet untaxed.

"Vote for all these men. They have been named by the party at the fairest primary. I have known some of the factional differences inside the party and give your support to the men whom the rank of the party has chosen, and you will make the republican party better than it has ever been."

Mr. Kennedy delivered a long eulogium on President Roosevelt, commending him on his attitude toward trusts. He pledged himself to be active in the fight for federal regulation of railroads. He urged all to register Saturday who had not already done so, and to vote Tuesday if not possible to get out to vote Tuesday is not worthy the name of American citizen.

Just Four Times the Work. County Treasurer Fink spoke concerning his own office. He told of the enormous amount of labor and of the expense entailed in carrying out the provisions of the scavenger tax law, the money secured to the county in taxes being not commensurate with the work and expense. To give some idea of the work, he said his predecessor had written 30,000 receipts in a year, while he had written 150,000 in the same period.

"The bond sinking fund previous to my time had always been drained," said Mr. Fink. Now there is more than $24,000 in that fund. In the course of four or five years of republican rule it would be possible to redeem the $75,000 worth of outstanding bonds."

Other speakers at the meeting were E. F. Brailey, Bryce Crawford, William Altstadt, W. G. Ure and Herman Beal.

DETECTIVE HAS AN EXPERIENCE

Falls to Land His Man, but Accumulates a Lot of Knowledge.

The adventures of E. A. Smith, 911 O street, Lincoln, should be salted down as the most unique effort in the role of the sleuths that has ever been sprung on Omaha. Smith had a dogskin coat in the case he set out to unravel. Some one stole his watch chain and with it a square box charm in which his dearest treasure, a woman's portrait, was enshrined. "Why, I didn't care a red for the chain; it only cost me $7.00 at first, but that picture! I wouldn't take a thousand for it." Only he explained to the desk sergeant on his arrival last Monday. "I bet you my roommate got that chain—that's Galagher. He's up here. I tracked him right here to Omaha. You wait till I get him."

"He was dressed in a dogskin coat that made him a character in itself, but anyone would have spotted him for a detective from the enormous pair of field glasses which he had swung over his shoulder. He said he had bought the glasses because he thought he might need them."

The police encouraged him to go out and scout around a bit and see if he could find a trace of his lady's face and its abductor; so he started. A wave of pity struck him for his intended victim, and he turned to reason. "Run! Run! Run!" he said. "Shall I leave my coat here?"

"What?" said the sergeant, "you don't tell me you rode horseback all the way from Lincoln?"

"Now, I mean this," and he began to draw from the region of his hip pocket a gun which grew longer and longer until about fourteen inches of the barrel arrived from the depths of his jeans. "Of course, I don't want to hurt him, but I kinder want 'im to know I ain't a triffin'!" said Smith. He was advised to leave it—a 44 Colt.

Again he turned to the door, and when he had reached it, thought of a letter he had prepared. He threw it on the desk. "If anything should happen to me, please send this letter to this address; here's a stamp."

He rummaged up and down Omaha all night Monday night and in the morning came back for his "Colt," ready to depart for Lincoln. He thanked the captain for the treatment he had received and the valuable hints they had given, but he said, "The kid, he's doubled on me."

"At 12 o'clock Tuesday he came rushing back without his dogskin coat, his field glasses and his "Colt." "I've been mistreated down here," he said, jerking his head toward South Tenth street. "I wish you'd come down and see. I bought a watch for $7.00 down there, and just because I didn't have only $7.00 handy he's gone and made me put up my coat and the glasses and that there Colt for security. Now, that ain't fair, is it?"

"The captain gave in. "Ain't this Colt a bird," said the Lincoln man as he showed it gently into his jeans and walked proudly out of the police station.

HOME OPENED FOR ALL BOYS

Adjacent to Newsboys' Headquarters Established on Farnam Street.

PLACE WHERE ALL MAY EAT CHEAPLY

Entire Movement is Not Perfected, but Promotes Are Working Toward Completion of Their Plans.

"The Boys' home, in conjunction with the newsboys' home, was formally opened Wednesday afternoon. A delegation of the Woman's club and a number of those attending the Monday-congress visited the home, and the children will have direct charge of the inside work of the home.

A self-sustaining kitchen has been opened, the purpose being to give the boys food at actual cost. Some prices are: Soup and crackers, 3 cents; cake, 1 cent; coffee and cream, 2 cents; milk, 2 cents; pie, 2 cents; hot roast beef sandwich, 3 cents. A number of coats have been installed, and reading matter and a bath room provided. The value of saving money will be one of the things taught the boys. Cast-off clothing is solicited for the homeless boys who find the struggle for existence a keen one in the winter time. The home is at 1415 Farnam street.

Speaking of a movement now on foot to extend the scope of usefulness of the newsboys' home, Mrs. Draper Smith said: "It is contemplated by the managers, if possible, to make the club room available for any and all working boys who have to be on the street a great deal. Up to this time the room has been for the use of newsboys exclusively, but it has seemed to some of us concerned in the management that broadening of the work might now be undertaken with good results."

"Mogey," who is actively in charge, has succeeded, to a large extent, in getting the newsboys to quit tobacco smoking and forego swearing and to behave themselves much more properly in the streets. The boys cannot be made perfect, of course, but a very measurable degree of improvement can be noted. Now we propose, if we can see our way clear, to throw the club rooms open to all working boys who are unable to comply with the few rules that have been thought necessary to make. There has been some talk, too, of having a badge or button to be worn by the boys using the room, to indicate membership. In the event of disobedience of a serious character or other offense meriting expulsion, the absence would be so noticeable that the moral effect would probably be distinctly favorable."

However, the board has not yet reached a conclusion. We do not feel like using the money contributed to the home unless we can feel assured it is well spent. We should like very much to extend this work very materially, but it is difficult enough to raise the $700 or $800 needed now without undertaking more, unless there shall be developed a public demand that we do so."

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 1.—Because the Pullman Car company, a corporation of Illinois, with a capital stock of $7,000,000, has not paid to the treasurer of the state of Kansas a charter fee of $1,850 for the permanent school fund, Attorney General Coleman has brought quo warranto proceedings against the company, asking them by what authority they have a right to do business in the state.

M. Coleman asks that the supreme court compel the defendant to show by what warrant or authority it exercises in the state of Kansas, the corporate right and power of charging a price and compensation for its sleepers, diners and parlor cars; that the company be adjudged as having no right to do business in this state; that the defendant be ousted from the state from performing under its franchise; that the defendant be adjudged to pay the costs of the proceedings.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same clear and wholesome purposes. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth, and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfests the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. They are composed of the finest porous, white charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or, rather, in the form of large, pleasant-tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon result in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no poisonous latex can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in the stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but 25 cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

SUMMARY OF CROP CONDITIONS

Rain Hinders Gathering of Crop in Some Sections of the Country.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The following summary of the crop conditions is given in the monthly crop bulletin issued by the weather bureau today:

The month of October was somewhat milder than usual in the districts east of the Mississippi river and much colder than usual from the Missouri valley northeastward to the Pacific coast. The lower Ohio, central Mississippi and lower Mississippi valleys and portions of the central and western United States received heavy rains, while drouthy conditions prevailed on the south Atlantic and west Gulf states, in the northwestern states, the middle and southern plateau region and California.

Over the south central and southwestern portions of the corn belt wet weather prevailed throughout the month, and caused considerable mold and decay. Good progress was made, however, gathering other portions of the corn belt, the crop having fully matured before the occurrence of injurious frosts. Favorable weather for gathering and husking corn prevailed throughout the Atlantic coast districts. Heavy rains in portions of the Ohio, central Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys hindered plowing and seeding to a considerable extent, but as a whole this work was prosecuted under favorable conditions and at the close of the month was largely completed, and good stands of fall sown wheat were generally indicated throughout the central and lake region and middle Atlantic coast states. At the close of the month cotton was gathered in the manner customary completed in Oklahoma and Indian Territory, Arkansas and northern Mississippi, and in other sections, picking being practically completed in the more southerly districts.

Discarded Husband Makes Wife's New Husband, Her Brother and Herself Defendants.

Robert A. Hall has now a third suit pending in the district court. The first one is to set aside a divorce obtained by his wife, now Mrs. Mark A. Sweeney, last July; the second is against Sweeney for adultery and alienation of his wife's affections. The newest suit makes Zenetta A. Hall, Mark A. Sweeney and Frank Reeves joint defendants. It alleges conspiracy on October 27 to waylay and slug him, which was done at Eighteenth and Chicago streets, for which he demands $5,000. The second count sets up the slugging and that he was caused much anguish and suffering, and the damage here is also alleged to amount to at least $5,000.

Happy Sully County. PIERRE, S. D., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Sully county claims to have a record. With a territory larger than the state of Rhode Island, it has no saloons, no jail nor a pauper. Further, the county has no debt and the cash in the treasury is sufficient to meet any calls upon it which emergency might bring forth and the tax rate of the county is at the bottom limit. The county never had but two licensed saloons and they lived but a short time, at the boom town of Fairbank, on the river, in the northwestern corner of the county.

"COMPLETELY DISCOURAGED" Is the feeling and plaint of women who are "run-down" so low that work drags, head aches, back aches, hands tremble, nerves are all out of gear, things annoy and "everything goes wrong."

It is the other way just a minute and see what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for more than a half-million women in the last thirty years.

What it has done for others it can do for you. Believing that alcoholic, stimulating, medicinal preparations were doing much harm, Doctor R. V. Pierce turned his mind upon the problem of producing a remedy for the use of weak and suffering women that should be free from alcohol and at the same time EFFECTIVE AND SAFE.

Nature has provided abundantly for our needs, and Dr. Pierce found in native medicinal plants such as the roots of GOLDEN SEAL, LADY'S SLIPPER, BLACK COCOON, URSINIUM and BLUE COCOON, the needed medicinal properties which, by peculiar processes strictly his own, without the use of alcohol, he has extracted, preserved and combined in exact proportions to secure from each its best effect. This compounded his "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" is a remedy for the pains and drains, weakness and inflammation of the uterine system that has won worldwide fame by curing more than ninety-nine out of every hundred who have used it properly.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE VOTE FOR EMMET G. SOLOMON DOUGLAS COUNTY COMMISSIONER NEBRASKA

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

NOVEMBER AILMENTS

THEIR PREVENTION AND CURE

The Human System Must Adjust Itself to Changing Temperatures.

November is the month of falling temperatures. Over all the temperate regions the hot weather has passed and the first rigors of winter have appeared. As the great bulk of civilized nations is located in the Temperate Zones, the effect of changing seasons is a question of the highest importance.

What effect upon the human system does approaching winter have? That some ill effect is had everybody knows. But just what it is and how the deleterious effect of the winter season can be avoided is a subject requiring the closest study on the part of the physiologists and of the greatest concern to the masses of the people.

When the weather begins to change from warm to cold, when cool nights succeed hot nights, when clear, cold days follow hot, sultry days, the human body must adjust itself to this changed condition or perish.

The organs most visibly affected by falling temperature are the skin and kidneys. The perspiration incident to warm weather has been checked. This detains within the system poisonous materials which have heretofore found escape through the perspiration.

Most of the poisonous materials retained in the system by the checked perspiration find their way out of the body, if at all, through the kidneys. This throws upon the kidneys extra labor. They become charged and overloaded with the poisonous excretory materials. This has a tendency to inflame the kidneys, producing functional diseases of the kidneys and sometimes Bright's Disease.

Good, vigorous health will overcome these vicissitudes and the body is strengthened rather than weakened by the change.

But, in a large per cent of cases, the system yields. The skin is unable to meet the extra pressure put upon it. The kidneys fail in their attempt to dispose of all the work so suddenly thrown upon them. Therefore many people succumb.

What can be done about this? Of course, a careful avoidance of all exposure at first to be thought of. Also a change of garments suitable to the season, careful ventilation of the sleeping rooms, and the avoidance of drafts. The diet should also be so modified as to meet the peculiar demands of the system.

But, even when all these things are most intelligently and cautiously performed, there still remains a multitude of people who will go down before the hostile approach of winter,—who will be vanquished in the struggle against the elements.

Peruna acts upon the skin by stimulating the emunctory glands and ducts thus preventing the detention of poisonous materials which should pass out. Peruna invigorates the kidneys and encourages them to fulfill their function in spite of the chills and discouragements of cold weather.

Peruna is a World Renowned Remedy for Climatic Diseases.

Peruna is a combination of well-ripened, harmless, vegetable remedies that have stood the test of time. Many of these remedies have been used by doctors and the people in Europe and America for a hundred years.

The combination of remedies, which constitute Peruna, has been in use for nearly fifty years. Their efficacy has been proven by many decades of use by thousands of people and has been substantiated over and over by millions of homes.

It is not idle to experiment with other remedies when Peruna is obtainable? The many attempts which have been made to imitate Peruna show that it has become universally recognized as the standard remedy.

Do not neglect to provide yourself with the safest and surest of all remedies to meet this emergency.
