

KANSAS MAY GET ON AGAIN

Nebraska Willing to Resume Relations in University Athletics. JAYHAWKERS MUST ASK FOR RENEWAL

LINCOLN, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Should Kansas and Nebraska resume athletic relations? This topic, precipitated by the recent speech of Hon. Paul F. Clark, ex-speaker of the Nebraska house, to the Kansas students, who cheered his suggestion wildly, is attracting interest in athletic circles at Nebraska university to no small degree. It is pointed out that ex-speaker Clark, who is an alumnus at Nebraska, spoke merely for himself and not with the authority or sanction of the Nebraska board, but it is futile to attempt a concealment of the fact that the conviction is becoming widespread in the ranks of the student body at Lincoln that Nebraska and Kansas should forget the quarrel of two years ago and patch up a permanent peace. During the last two years there have been several changes in the personnel of faculty members of the Nebraska board, but there also can be no denial of the assertion that the sentiment, so far as concerned the board, is a determination that it is up to Kansas to take the initiative. In short, the board feels that, as it was Kansas which broke off relations, it should in fairness be Kansas which first seeks a resumption.

Some Strangest Work Ahead. Booth's Cornhuskers are on the eve of a series of strenuous football battles. The husky farmers from Ames, Ia., are the most feared of Booth's pupils must face. A week later the formidable Colorado eleven is booked for an invasion of the Cornhusker camp, and next on the list is the crucial conflict with Dr. Williams' opponents at Minneapolis. Booth anticipates a stiff fight with the Iowa team, for he has been forced to do some experimenting with the Nebraska line as a consequence of the loss raised against the freshman of his giant negro guard, Taylor. There is no end of anxiety as to the Colorado game. The decisive victory scored by the Boulderites over Kansas last week in Denver bothers Booth in no slight degree. Assistant Coach Westover was a spectator of the clash between Colorado and Kansas and the reports he brought back to Booth were to the effect that the Mountaineers have it in them to keep the Cornhuskers guessing. For several days the rumor has been in circulation in Cornhusker circles that the Nebraska board might suggest to Colorado the temporary dropping of the Trudgian at quarterback. Whether or not the report has any foundation cannot be determined, for the Nebraska authorities are studiously silent. It is believed, however, that changes seriously reflecting upon the amateurship of Trudgian have been called to the attention of the Cornhusker board. These charges are to the effect that Trudgian played summer ball in 1904 in one of the mining towns of Colorado, receiving money for his services. Reference is made to the alleged fact that the athletic board at Colorado took notice of Trudgian's case by barring him from football last fall and also from base ball last spring.

Two of Booth's substitutes, Harvey, a guard, and Beeky, who has been used in several half games at full back, are on the hospital list, the former having ruptured the ligaments in a shoulder and Beeky having thrown a shoulder out of joint. Without Booth's consent the Nebraska position was used for a display of horsemanship last week in connection with a charity show given by the faculty. The steeds cut up the field so badly that its roughness has already maimed the two players in question, and Booth in sheer defense has again moved his squad to the turf at the university state farm, where the practice may be conducted in secret. Meanwhile freezing weather has set in and the task of leveling the athletic field at the university threatens to prove a formidable one.

MART RETIRES FROM BASE BALL

Owenship of Chicago National Formally Transferred. CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—By the formal transfer today of the ownership of the Chicago National league ball club, Colonel James A. Hart, after a quarter of a century as one of the foremost characters of the national game, retires from active participation in professional base ball and is succeeded by Charles W. Murphy, who has been a resident of this city for some time. Immediately following the announcement of the formal transfer, the stock it was announced that deals are almost completed for further strengthening of the National league club, which recently won the championship of Chicago.

IN THE POLITICAL ARENA

Secretary Greasy of Republican Committee Expects Big Registration. REPUBLICANS WORKING HARD TO WIN

Secretary Greasy of the republican county committee expresses a serene confidence that the registration of next Saturday will bring the number of registered voters up to quite normal proportions. "I believe a large proportion of the registration will be republican," said Mr. Greasy, "and I would be quoted as predicting the election of the entire ticket on next Tuesday. We have a campaign on for registration that must accomplish the work, and the Fontanelle club is also sending out thousands of notices. Even with an average amount of split tickets I believe the majority party in this county still has sufficient margin to elect every man on the ticket."

A garage is to be built in New York with a capacity of 500 cars. The estimated cost is $50,000. Casper Whitney waxes wroth over the country's football players. The estimated cost is $50,000. Five trotters won over $10,000 apiece on the coming day of the races. No one player reached the $5,000 mark. Madral, the latest "Terrible Turk" to be brought to this country, has been matched to wrestle Hackenschmidt, the Russian lion, in London this month. Japs are reported to have taken up the American game of base ball with a vim and their interest in the sport augurs well for the game in the far east. Kid McCoy has announced he would quit the sporting game. He can well afford to do so, for he has inherited $5,000,000 from his first husband. It is said James Dodge, who won the Futurity with Lightning, has been injured and trained her, and then, after shoeing her, drove her in the race. A sort of one-man affair. Rates have been asked from the Burlington for 100 students to accompany the Colorado foot ball team from Boulder to Lincoln when that team plays the Cornhuskers November 11. The small season does not open today, as many seem to think, but is from November 15 to November 20. Chicken shooting has been more popular than for years and many good bags have been made by Omaha shooters. The Omaha Commercial college and the people college foot ball teams will meet on the Vinton street gridiron Saturday afternoon. The field will be kept clear of rooters, so spectators will have an opportunity to see the game. Some was figured it out that President Eliot of Harvard is not eligible to participate in any intercollegiate contests. The president at one time rowed in a crew which won a money prize supposed to have been divided among the crew. The Iowa Agricultural college foot ball team, Ames, Ia., will be the opponents of the Cornhuskers at Lincoln Saturday. Ames was beaten by Minnesota, by the score of 38 to 0, but the reports are that they have a good team of husky boys, who are no quitters, but who will fight to the finish. With the national bowling tournament, five months away, there is a row in camp. The national officers want the Louisville promoters to put the prize money in their hands, while the colonists prefer to keep it themselves. The bowlers are very anxious to know whether they are to receive real money or Kentucky O. U. when they win. Fishing at Cut Off lake is not by any means over. Every day enthusiastic anglers are to be seen trying to lure from the waters material for the pan. Sharp-shooting hunters even do not disdain to take a whirl at the finny fellows while waiting about the lake. Bert Simer of the county treasurer's office and a party of friends succeeded in dragging in as nice a mess of crappies as has been caught at the lake this season. The river fishermen also are keeping busy and report the crop they are gathering now is more solid and of finer flavor than any taken so far this season.

Big Snake Frightens Woman

STELLA, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—While Mrs. J. H. Overman was doing some work in the cemetery a few days ago she saw a monster snake, which gave her such a fright that she came running to town and reported the matter, when her husband got a dozen men, repaired to the cemetery and were unable to find his snakeship after a diligent search. She describes it as larger around than a stovepipe and about sixteen feet long. Yesterday afternoon George Smith and Marvin Davis were in the same neighborhood and saw the reptile, which got through a hedge fence before they were able to kill it. A large crowd is going on from town this afternoon to try and find it.

College Boys Give Social

BELLEVUE, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—A social and enjoyable evening was held at Hamilton hall last evening. It has been the custom for several years for Hamilton hall boys to give the Halloween social, which they did in a very unique way. An interesting program was rendered, which represented the doings of the boys in the hall. Perhaps the most enjoyable part of the evening was the apples, peanuts and popcorn.
