Prince at Capital

Prince Louis was expected to arrive in St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—The Grand Duke Alexander Michailovitch, brother-in-law of Emperor Nicholas, has been relieved of the post of head of the department of mercantile marine.

Death Record.

Joseph G. Miles. LITTLE ROCK, Ia., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—The funeral of Joseph G. Miles, who died here aged 83 years, occurred from his late home and was conducted by Elder George Shearer.

Simple Joy

It Feels Mighty Well to Be Clear of Coffee Ails. A Massachusetts woman had been a sufferer from coffee drinker and was slow to suspect that it was this habit that was making her life miserable.

Workmen and Students Clash. MOSCOW, Nov. 3.—A procession of students returning today with some of their comrades who had been released from prison was set upon by a mob of workmen at the triumphal arch.

HELINGSFORS, Finland, Nov. 3.—The municipal council has formed a committee of public safety. It also has notified the strike committee that it considers itself to be in a position to maintain order and has raised $200 for this purpose.

At Other Places. HYBINSK, Russia, Nov. 3.—A demonstration yesterday of students and workmen, carrying banners inscribed with the words "long live liberty," was attacked by Voiga longshoremen.

At Other Places. TIFLIS, Caucasus, Nov. 3.—An immense meeting of the Jewish students and professional men here today demanded the release of the political prisoners and the abolition of the state of siege.

At Other Places. BAKU, Caucasus, Nov. 3.—The joy of the population over the imperial manifesto is unbounded.

At Other Places. ROMNY, Russia, Nov. 3.—During the pillage of the Jewish stores, which lasted until yesterday morning, fifteen stores were burned to the ground and many more were sacked.

At Other Places. KALUGA, Russia, Nov. 3.—Work on all the railroads has been resumed. All meetings are dispersed by Cossacks.

At Other Places. ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 3.—The Grand Duke Alexander Michailovitch, brother-in-law of Emperor Nicholas, has been relieved of the post of head of the department of mercantile marine.

At Other Places. The department of mercantile marine is to be merged with the new ministry of commerce, which probably accounts for the grand duke being relieved of his duties as head of that department.

At Other Places. The prince was considerably embarrassed by the occurrence and Secretary Bonaparte's graceful remark that the pleasure of welcoming the distinguished visitor to the department quite compensated for the delay was evidently appreciated by the prince.

At Other Places. Dinner at British Embassy. Had the weather been clear Sir Hortimer would have taken Prince Louis for a drive over the city, but a drizzling rain set in late in the afternoon and the drive was abandoned.

At Other Places. A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES. Your druggist will refund money if you do not get relief in 10 days.

At Other Places. HYMENEAL. Beeman-Hawthorne. Miss Edna E. Hawthorne, daughter of Stuart Hawthorne, was married to William H. Beeman by Rev. Charles W. Savage at the residence of the latter Thursday evening.

At Other Places. SOLDIERS WATCH LOOTING. In the poorer Jews' quarters on the outskirts of the town whole streets were destroyed, the soldiers apparently looting on.

At Other Places. Blame Laid on Jews. A leading general in an interview today argued that the disturbances were the result of the behavior of the Jews, who rudely shocked Russian patriotism by the manner in which they celebrated on Tuesday the publication of the imperial manifesto.

At Other Places. On the other hand, the liberal leaders say that the simultaneous manner in which the disorders broke out in many towns proved that they were dictated from St. Petersburg in revenge for the concessions recently granted and with the object of creating the impression that the Russians did not desire the new order of things.

DOCTOR IS UNDER ARREST

Boston Physician Charged with Complicity in Suit Case Under Mystery. CHARGE PERFORMING ILLEGAL OPERATION

It is Alleged that Girl Failed to Recover from Second Treatment and He Cut the Body Up.

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—Following a brief conversation by officers over the long-distance telephone, the scene of the developments in the famous suttee mystery has shifted from New York back to Boston.

Through the confessions of Louis Crawford and William Howard, the two men arrested in New York yesterday, the authorities received evidence which in their opinion warranted the arrest of Dr. McLeod this afternoon.

Dr. McLeod will be arraigned in court tomorrow morning. No sum had been set tonight as the amount of his bail bond, but District Attorney M. J. Sughrue stated that owing to the gravity of the charge a large bond would be required.

Morris Nathan, the lover of Miss Geary, who had been arrested in Pittsburgh last Sunday night and brought to this city in a state of collapse, is gradually recovering at the city hospital, where he was taken on his arrival here, but is not yet in a condition to be brought into court.

While at first the police were of the opinion that Nathan was not directly connected with the case, they now say that Nathan conducted the negotiations with the property of the Tremont street establishment, the place with which Crawford was connected, and that he was fully aware of the result of the operation.

Search for Another Man. Tonight the police directed their energies toward locating another man formerly connected with the Tremont street office.

District Attorney Sughrue said that he did not know whether Dr. McLeod, Nathan Crawford and Howard would be brought before the present term of the grand jury, which completes its labors next week.

He said that there were still many details to be worked out and other arrests to be made.

were kept waiting for more than an hour, the prince, through a misunderstanding, having returned to the embassy from the White House.

When he finally arrived, accompanied by a military escort, he apologized quite frankly to the secretary and chiefs of bureau and expressed his keen regret at the incident.

The prince was considerably embarrassed by the occurrence and Secretary Bonaparte's graceful remark that the pleasure of welcoming the distinguished visitor to the department quite compensated for the delay was evidently appreciated by the prince.

The prince was loudly cheered by the employees of the department as he left the building.

Dinner at British Embassy. Had the weather been clear Sir Hortimer would have taken Prince Louis for a drive over the city, but a drizzling rain set in late in the afternoon and the drive was abandoned.

Hours rest before the elaborate state dinner at which the ambassador and Lady Durand entertained in his honor tonight.

Thirty-six guests made up the company at the dinner, which included besides the prince and the officers of his party and the embassy staff, the Secretary of State, Mr. Root, Admiral and Mrs. Dewey, Lieutenant General and Mrs. Chaffee, Commander-in-Chief of the Atlantic Fleet and Mrs. Evans, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Davis, Rear Admiral Brownson, Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Bacon and Assistant Secretary of War and Mrs. Oliver.

Three hundred additional guests were invited at 10:30 for the reception and ball. The spacious state parlors of the embassy were elaborately decorated with American blue and white roses and palms.

The prince received with the ambassador and Lady Durand, those present including the ambassador, ministers and charge d'affaires of the diplomatic corps, the members of the cabinet and the ranking officers of the army and navy.

Later in the evening the prince led the way to the splendid ballroom of the embassy and opened the ball with Miss Durand. The brilliant scene in the ballroom has seldom been equaled in Washington.

Despite his very active day, Prince Louis gave no evidence of fatigue.

Program for Today. Tomorrow he will be the guest of Lieutenant General Chaffee, chief of staff, at an elaborate luncheon.

In the afternoon he will witness an exhibition cavalry drill at Fort Myer and later attend a reception at the commandant's quarters.

In the evening the prince will be the guest of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt for six days.

Thirty-six junior officers from the British squadron, six from each cruiser, are guests of the American navy at the Arlington hotel. They came up from Annapolis today in several special cars.

Accompanying them were six American officers detailed to act as their hosts during the two days they will spend in the capital.

Tomorrow another body of thirty-six will come to Washington, under escort of six American officers, and will remain here over Sunday as guests of the navy.

SUGAR MEN CALL MEETING

Denver Chamber of Commerce Heads Agitation Against Reduced Tariff on Philippine Sugar.

DENVER, Nov. 3.—The directors of the Chamber of Commerce last night voted to send a letter to the chambers of commerce throughout the sugar producing states to invite them to send representatives to a convention to discuss the proposal on the part of the national government to remove the tariff upon sugar coming from the Philippine islands.

In part the letter says: "We believe that the time is very opportune to call a conference of a convention of representatives of the leading commercial and manufacturing interests to take action looking toward a correct middle opinion on this important subject and also to secure the assistance of the representatives in congress from the above states in preventing such tariff legislation."

DEVELOPMENTS IN TODD CASE

Absence of Mud from Woman's Shoes Strengthens the Theory of Murder.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Developments are following each other fast in the Mrs. Margaret Todd mystery and one more may be added as a result of the autopsy on the body of Mrs. Todd, which will be held in the presence of Coroners Scholer and Dugan, the latter of Philadelphia.

This examination is expected to throw light on the theory that the wealthy old woman was dragged after her arrival in Philadelphia from this city last week and was then thrown in front of an onrushing heading train. Additional points supporting the murder theory are being discovered, one of the most significant being the fact that there are no scratches or abrasions or traces of mud or soil on the soles of the victim's shoes. This seems to show that Mrs. Todd could not have walked across the rough country and the mass of railroad tracks to the place where her body was found.

Coroner Scholer said that each fragment of Mrs. Todd's clothing immediately above the ten fractured ribs fitted her smoothly and that he considered the whole case one of great mystery. The vital organs which will be examined for the presence of poison, were removed and prepared for further examination.

Coroner Dugan of Philadelphia, who was present at the autopsy, said he would empanel a coroner's jury at Philadelphia and that an inquest would be held there on all evidence obtainable. Both coroners' offices, he said, would work together.

been riddled with bullets. The situation there, he adds, however, is improving, but during the riots bands of rowdies stopped everybody in carriages or on foot and compelled all to prove they were not Jews before permitting them to go on.

Women's dresses were torn open to discover if they were wearing crosses. The British consul was stopped by soldiers with leveled rifles, who, however, permitted the mob to wreck the house of a wealthy Jew. Nearly all the houses display ikons and other Christian emblems.

A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from St. Petersburg states that Prince Alexis Obolensky has been appointed to replace M. Pobedonosteff as procurator of the holy synod.

Kishineff in Flames. The Daily Telegraph's Odessa correspondent also reports Kishineff in flames. A special dispatch to the Standard from Odessa says:

Three railway stations have been burned between Odessa and Shimerinka and the postal service has been suspended. Collisions between armed forces continued until late at night in three districts. Today's casualties are believed to have numbered about 500.

A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company from Haparanda, Sweden, says the officers at Kotka, Viborg, Frederikshamn, Loviata and Bergha have pledged themselves to assist the civilians in the defense of the fatherland. A company of Russian artillery which had advanced toward Helingsfors was forced to retreat toward an engagement.

Awful Carnage at Kiev. The Kiev correspondent of Reuter's Telegram company, under date of November 2, says:

"The Jewish quarter has been given over to plunder, rapine and murder ever since the emperor announced the granting of a constitution. A monster demonstration was held in front of the city hall, during which a shot was suddenly fired. The Cossacks and dragoons immediately charged into the crowd, firing right and left, and the police and others dragged away the dead and wounded, numbering more than 130, into the neighboring courtyards, while the terror-stricken demonstrators fled, pursued by a mob of ruffians, who attacked them as they ran.

"At 7 o'clock in the evening an organized attack on the Jewish quarter began on the pretext that during the week a portrait of the emperor had been insulted at the town hall. The town hall was sacked and although the authorities had promised a Jewish delegation protection the pillage continued all night. Warehouses were robbed, incendiarism was indulged in and many were wounded. On Wednesday Acting Governor Karas again promised Jewish merchants that immediate strong measures were to be taken for their protection, but the pillage assumed colossal proportions and the police and military stood absolutely impassive, only firing upon persons who defended themselves against looters and on houses where Jews had fled on their assailants. While almost all the Jewish houses were laid in ruins, Christian establishments were untouched.

"Thousands of persons have been wounded and the 'Theater of Anatomy' is filled with corpses. Attempts were made, without success, to wreck the houses of liberal newspapers, and it is reported that forthcoming lawsuits will divulge the names of prominent agitators of these riots.

"Count Witte ordered that vigorous measures be taken, but without effect. Today the town is quieter and it is expected that the reign of terror is ended, but the Jews fear to return to their homes. Relief columns are being formed.

A dispatch to the Daily Mail from St. Petersburg, timed 9 p. m., reports a plot to massacre the Jews in the city. It is semi-officially calculated that at least 1,000 persons have been killed and 10,000 seriously wounded in the leading fifty provincial towns of Russia in the last twenty-four hours, and the death roll is still mounting.

An Awful Week at Odessa. ODESSA, Nov. 3.—(Special.)—After a fairly quiet night shooting again commenced this morning. The Red Cross is busy attending to the wounded.

Up to the present time no Christian shops or houses have been touched. The principal hotels are full of a better class of Jews seeking refuge from this week's disorders.

There was veritable reign of terror on October 21. After the emperor's manifesto granting a constitution to Russia had been published the Jews made the Russians furious with race by making a prominent display of red flags, tramping on the emblem of the crown. Late in the afternoon there was firing in the outskirts of the town and the massacre of Jews commenced and lasted during the night of November 1. All Jews found in the streets were severely beaten and many were killed in their shops, which were ruthlessly pillaged.

Soldiers Watch Looting. In the poorer Jews' quarters on the outskirts of the town whole streets were destroyed, the soldiers apparently looting on. Crowds of workmen, rowdies, women and children, laden with all kinds of loot, walked openly through the streets, quarreling over the spoils. Bombs were thrown in various parts of the town. Late that night patrols of soldiers and Cossacks restored some semblance of order.

The pillaging was continued yesterday and there was heavy firing all over the town. Nobody was safe in the streets. People carrying arms who were caught by the troops were shot at sight. The shutters of all houses were ordered closed and people detected shooting from windows were promptly shot. The soldiers used machine guns to clear away the crowd from the vicinity of the port. In fact, there were indiscriminate shooting everywhere in town. Firing is still going on as this dispatch is filed.

Trade is at a complete standstill. Provisions are still obtainable at greatly enhanced prices. The gas and water works are working.

It is impossible to make a correct estimate of the number of killed and wounded. Similar reports reach Odessa from most of the other towns of Southern Russia.

Blame Laid on Jews. A leading general in an interview today argued that the disturbances were the result of the behavior of the Jews, who rudely shocked Russian patriotism by the manner in which they celebrated on Tuesday the publication of the imperial manifesto.

"They abused their new found freedom," he declared, "by tearing down the national flag, hoisting revolutionary banners, insulting the emperor and boasting that they alone gave Russia freedom."

On the other hand, the liberal leaders say that the simultaneous manner in which the disorders broke out in many towns proved that they were dictated from St. Petersburg in revenge for the concessions recently granted and with the object of creating the impression that the Russians did not desire the new order of things. The liberals contend that the government had all the means to stop the outbreak in the first hour, but its inactivity
