DINNER FOR PRINCE LOUIS

President Entertains Visiting British Admiral at White House. STAG LUNCHEON BY GENERAL CHAFFEE. In the afternoon the distinguished guest was taken to Fort Myer, where he witnessed cavalry drill. WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Rear Admiral Prince Louis was the guest of the American army today. Tonight he was the guest at a formal state dinner in the state dining room of the White House, where the president had a distinguished company to meet Britain's admiral-prince. The health of the sovereign relative of the prince, King Edward, was proposed by the president. Although Prince Louis was still the center of a brilliant assemblage at the British embassy ball when midnight of Friday arrived, he breakfasted about 8 this morning at the embassy and promptly at 10 o'clock started for a ride around the city in a sixty-horsepower automobile with Sir Mortimer Durand and Rear Admiral Evans. The capitol, the congressional library, the Washington monument and other places of interest were visited, the prince frequently expressing himself as enthusiastic about the beauty of the American capital. Luncheon by General Chaffee. In the open landau of the embassy, surrounded by bicycle policemen, Prince Louis and his personal staff, at a few minutes before 1 o'clock, drove rapidly to the New Willard, where he was the guest of Lieutenant General Chaffee, chief of staff, at a stag luncheon. The guests numbered sixty, including members of the president's cabinet, Assistant Secretary Bacon, the acting secretary of war, and ranking officers of the general staff. When cigars had been passed, Lieutenant General Chaffee introduced Secretary Root, who in a few graceful words proposed the health of the president and the king. As the first health was drunk the band played "The Star Spangled Banner." The American anthem was merged into "God Save

Finland Gains Freedom

Czar of Russia Grants All Demands of Delegates of People. WILL TRY TO HOLD DUCHY IN EMPIRE. Warships Off Helsinki for to Show that While Granting Constitution Russia Does Not Resign His Position. ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 4.—The whole structure of the autocratic regime is falling and Emperor Nicholas no longer resists. The memorable week, which witnessed the abdication of absolutism before a political strike demonstration extending throughout the confines of the empire and reducing the government to impotency, and the birth of a new and popular regime amid scenes of disorder, pillage, bloodshed and worse, ends in a complete surrender to the aspirations of the Finlanders. Diet Will Control Budget. On the advice of Count Witte and Prince John Obolensky Emperor Nicholas yielded and signed manifestos not only convokeing the Diet, but giving it control of the budget and authorizing an election law providing for universal suffrage. Another manifesto abrogates the military and other laws of Russification. These have been dispatched by fast torpedo boats to Helsinki, where they are due to arrive tonight. Dr. Turund, the leader of the Finnish deputation that waited on Emperor Nicholas, informed the Associated Press tonight that he expected the Finns would calm down and that the crisis would pass "as soon as the Helsinki people learn that the report that a republic was declared at St. Petersburg is untrue." The success of the Finnish program may inspire a similar movement in Poland for the restoration of ancient autonomy, but it will be more difficult for it to succeed here, as the Polish provinces have been deprived since the revolution of 1863 of all vestiges of administrative independence and merged into the general body of the empire. Warships Command City. HELSINKI, Nov. 4.—Batteries have been placed on two commanding hills outside the town, and the cannon in the Sveaborg fortress have been turned against the city, which also lies under the guns of the warships in the harbor. The authorities, with the assistance of 10,000 reinforcements which have arrived here, hope to be able to control the situation, though the insistence of the socialists on their impossible demands makes the position critical. Russian families are seeking shelter in the Nyland barracks. Prince John Obolensky, the governor general, covered his departure for St. Petersburg yesterday by artifice. He started out in the state carriage for the usual drive along the parade to the church, but did not return, slipping from the church to the quay, whence he rowed to the battleship Slovo and afterward was taken by a torpedo boat to St. Petersburg.

Warships Command City. HELSINKI, Nov. 4.—Batteries have been placed on two commanding hills outside the town, and the cannon in the Sveaborg fortress have been turned against the city, which also lies under the guns of the warships in the harbor. The authorities, with the assistance of 10,000 reinforcements which have arrived here, hope to be able to control the situation, though the insistence of the socialists on their impossible demands makes the position critical. Russian families are seeking shelter in the Nyland barracks. Prince John Obolensky, the governor general, covered his departure for St. Petersburg yesterday by artifice. He started out in the state carriage for the usual drive along the parade to the church, but did not return, slipping from the church to the quay, whence he rowed to the battleship Slovo and afterward was taken by a torpedo boat to St. Petersburg.

FINLAND GAINS FREEDOM

Czar of Russia Grants All Demands of Delegates of People. WILL TRY TO HOLD DUCHY IN EMPIRE. Warships Off Helsinki for to Show that While Granting Constitution Russia Does Not Resign His Position. ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 4.—The whole structure of the autocratic regime is falling and Emperor Nicholas no longer resists. The memorable week, which witnessed the abdication of absolutism before a political strike demonstration extending throughout the confines of the empire and reducing the government to impotency, and the birth of a new and popular regime amid scenes of disorder, pillage, bloodshed and worse, ends in a complete surrender to the aspirations of the Finlanders. Diet Will Control Budget. On the advice of Count Witte and Prince John Obolensky Emperor Nicholas yielded and signed manifestos not only convokeing the Diet, but giving it control of the budget and authorizing an election law providing for universal suffrage. Another manifesto abrogates the military and other laws of Russification. These have been dispatched by fast torpedo boats to Helsinki, where they are due to arrive tonight. Dr. Turund, the leader of the Finnish deputation that waited on Emperor Nicholas, informed the Associated Press tonight that he expected the Finns would calm down and that the crisis would pass "as soon as the Helsinki people learn that the report that a republic was declared at St. Petersburg is untrue." The success of the Finnish program may inspire a similar movement in Poland for the restoration of ancient autonomy, but it will be more difficult for it to succeed here, as the Polish provinces have been deprived since the revolution of 1863 of all vestiges of administrative independence and merged into the general body of the empire.
