Important Questions May Be Decided by Supreme Court at Session Teday.

NO SOLUTION OF TUCKER LAW AT PRESENT

tegal Department Would Like to Have Matter Brought Formally Before Court by Hen Who Draw Juries.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN. Nov. 7 .- (Special.) - Suprer court will meet tomorrow, having delayed its meeting one day on account of election. This sitting of the court is of appacial interest to the people of Lincoln, because it is expected at this time that the written order and opinion in the Lincoln charter case will be handed down. Mandamus proceedings were brought months ago to compel the old city counril to canvass the vote cast for councilmen at the June election, as authorized by the new city charter. At the last sitting of court an order was issued directing the council to canvage the vote, but upon the application of Tom Munger the order was modified ordering the council to await the further action of the court. It is expected also at this sitting that the opinions declaring the election laws authorizing an extension of the terms of the county reglater of deeds and county supervisors will be given to the public. At its last meeting the court merely held that the laws were unconstitutional and announced that the opinions would be handed down later. The fate of the Dodge primary election law, which applies only to Douglas county,

Douglas county. Examines Pupils' Eyes. At a meeting of the School board last night it was decided to inaugurate a system for the examination of the sight and hearing of every pupil entering the school. This will be done for the purpose of finding out whether a defect in the eyes or ears of pupils is the reason why some of them do not make normal progress their studies. Physicians will instruct the various teachers how to make the simple examination and the board will at once order cards with which to test the eyes of the pupils. The board also increased the calaries of all janitors, the lowest being $2.50 and the highest increase being

The legal department of state has not ye solved the Judge Tucker jury law puzzle and the indications are it will be several days before the answer is finally discov-

The question is a serious one because during the menth of November there is more cases tried by jury than in any other month in the year. Should a prisoner be tried under the law and with a jury selected under its provisions it may invalidate the verdict of the jury should the objection be raised.

According to the legal department the quickest solution of the conundrum would be for a canvassing board to refuse to select the panel under the law and then have someone bring mandamus proceedings and test the law in the supreme court. If the court cannot find an answer to the problem in the law can be declared uncon lituonal, like most of the other laws en by the late legislature, and the people can operate under the old system of selecting juries. Anyhow, a little red apple will be given the first lawyer who sends in the best answer to the legal department.

The state oil office is down and out. Deputy Inspector Burns is a little better after a long siege of sickness, another deputy reported by mail that he was under the weather, while Edward A. Church, the chief inspector, is confined to his bed with good prospects of remaining there several days.

Child Burned to Death.

Vera Giles, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Giles of Denton, was burned to death yesterday forenoon. The little girl and a younger child were left in the house for a short time while the nother was out in the yard. Mrs. Giles heard the child screaming and rushing back into the house found the little one's clothing in a blaze. As rapidly as possible she smothered the flames, but the child was burned so badly that she died within a few hours. In her efforts to save her child Mrs. Giles was severely burned about the hands and arms and this, together with the nervous shock, has made her condition serious.

Quiet Times at State House. The state house today was like the business end of a small town during a circus performance. Only the hard-worked stenographers who, because of their sex, can take no part in the salvation of their country today, together with Deputy Attorney General Thompson and Henry Seymour were all that was left in the various offices. Mr. Thompson did not go to Merrick county to vote because his vote was needed and for the further reason that he is still trying to figure out the now famous Tucker puzzle, guaranteed to ing here this morning and adopted resolu vote because of illness in his family.

YORK WANTS A "SQUARE DEAL" Commercial Club Alleges that Freight Rates Are Not Equitable.

YORK, Neb., Nov. 7 .- In selecting me

pers of the commercial committee President

Corcoran of the Commercial club of York selected those whom he thought would make a campaign for York. This committee was named: T. W. Smith, George Neil, F. Marshall and A. B. Christian, and already, through its secretary, A B. Christian, it has commenced active work toward the upbuilding of York's institutions and is reaching out for more. One of the greatest obstacles that York, like most enterprising inland towns in Nebraska, has to contend with is discrimination in freight rates in favor of Lincoln. At this time there are several industries that York is in a position to secure if the railroads would abolish the discrimination of rates against this city. Every member of the Commercial club is getting thoroughly aroused, and the citizens are awakening to the fact that York, one of the promising and most progressive cities in Nebrasks, is not getting a "squar deal." All York is asking is to be treated fairly and justly, and a fair deal to York means that it will prosper and make one of the leading cities in the state. A wholesale grocery house is ready to organize, and a straw-board factory that will purchase thousands of tons of straw that annually goes to waste, and other enterprises, beside he many different plants already in York employing a large number of men. The Commercial club is thoroughly organized and will demand equal opportunities and a fair chance in the race and that discriminating rates now against this city be abol-

Judge Walts for O'Connor. PENDER, Neb., Nov. 7 .- (Special.)-In the county court at 8 a. m. the case against C. J. O'Connor was called by Hiram Chase, attorney for the Johnso children, Indian minors. Judge John King refused to hear the case until C. J. O'Contime will have no effect insofar as today's nor had filed his answer. Mr. Chase called up the court record, which showed that on September 6 the case was filed against O'Connor: that the answer day was set by Judge King for October 2; that no answer was filed; that C. J. O'Connor was then in default; that on October 19 C. J. O'Connor filed a special appearance, which was overruled by the court. Judge King ing forthwith and over a protest postponed the case to November 6, saying: "I must give C. J. O'Connor a chance for his life." On November 6 C. J. O'Connor did not appear and again Judge King refused to go shead according to law. Attorney Chase filed a default, which was overruled and Judge King set no date for future proceedings in the case. He is waiting to hear from C. J. O'Connor of Homer.

> Parker Will Case Decided. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 7 .- (Special Telegram.)-The contest over the will of Mrs. Almira Parker, deceased, was decided in the district court today by a jury, which found for L. C. Parker, administrator, a resident of New York City, and against his brother, F. H. Parker, the contestant, a resident of Santa Crus, Cal. The trial of the case consumed seven days. The case was decided in probate court in March, 1901, and F. H. Parker appealed to the district court, where it was tried in February, 1902. It was later taken to the supreme court. but owing to a technicality in serving notice of appeal the supreme court referred it back to the district court for retrial.

The grounds for the contest were incompetency of deceased at time of making the will and the disputing of the execution. The costs already incurred amount to $1,600. Almira T. Parker was the wife of the late Judge H. W. Parker, at one time one of of Beatrice.

Elevator Changes Hands. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 7 .- (Special.) The elevator owned and operated at Pickerell for the past four years by W. Warner has been purchased by the Omaha Elevator company, which will conduct the business in the future. The Omaha people have put J. J. Wardlaw in charge. Some think the purchase was really made by the Nebraska Elevator company, the one that recently sold to the Farmers' Elevator company at Pickerell, and agreed not to re-engage in business there again. There is one thing certain, the producers in the vicinity of Pickerell may rest assured that they will have a good market and receive the top price for what they have to sell.

Bellevue Municipal Affairs. BELLEVUE, Neb., Nov. 7 .- (Special.)-The village board met in regular session last evening and had a very lively meeting. After allowing several bills, the quesn of having the village surveyed, so as to establish corners and finding centers of streets for the benefit of the street railway company came up for discussion. The board decided to make this survey and will have it done as soon as the street railway company is ready to act. They stand ready to assist the company and grant them all concessions that are reasonable and beneficial to the village.

The village attorney was instructed to draw up a curfew ordinance in accordance with the law, which will be adopted as soon as possible.

On their per sons were found a quantity of nitrogly cerine and a bundle of fuse, so that it is thought they may be members of an or ganized gang. It is thought there is an other member of the gang and the posse searched further, but falled to find him. Bloodhounds were taken to the scene from Norfolk, but so many people had tramped around the spot that the hounds could get so scent.

The explosion tore out the whole side of the saloon building. The crash from the explosion was enormous.

Atterney General Moody Gives Opinion Against Council Bluffs Man.

MAY PROSPECT OVER ORIGINAL LEASE

Government Surveys Must Be Approved Before Iowa Man Can Start to Make His Selection Under the Law.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 .- (Special Teleram -Attorney General Moody today an opinion in the Asmus Boysen case, in which he upholds the contention of Secretary Hitchcock that the act of congress River reservations only gives Boysen the right to prospect over 180,000 acres covered by his original Indian leases and not even over this territory until such a time as government surveys are approved.

Asmus Boysen, who resides in Council mining rights to some 180,000 acres of land was taken to the hospital and an operain Shoshone Indian reservation. The act of congress throwing this land open to white settlement cancelled these mining privileges and gave Boysen the right to gave him further right to go upon the riginal 180,000-acre strip and prospect. He is given the right to select his 640 acres thirty days ahead of others who death.

might desire to settle. Boysen, it is asserted, through the influence of Secretary Shaw, obtained permission from President Roosevelt to roam all over the several million of acres and his company.

Prospective Settlers Make Protest. Naturally there were protests against this sethod of procedure and men having in view settling up this country placed their complaints in the hands of Senator Clark and Representative Mondell of Wyoming. These gentlemen laid the matter before the president and Secretary Hitchcock and the entire question was submitted to the attorney general for an opinion on the law which opens this ceded Indian country to settlement.

Secretary Hitchcock has steadfastly naintained that Boysen had right only to prospect over the 180,000 acres held under the original Indian leases, and not to roam at large over the entire area of reservation. He further held that Boysen could not go upon the reserve at all until the United States government survey had been approved. These surveys have been practically completed, but not approved.

The attorney general in his interpretation of law as handed down today upholds the contention of the secretary of the interior. and Boysen will not be permitted upon the eservation at all for purposes of prospecting until the surveys have been aptries. Two companies, known respectively proved, and then he will be restricted in as "Unione Meridionalie" and "La Ligure his investigations in his effort to locate his 640-acre tract to the 180,000-acre area to prospective immigrants policies of inoriginally held by him under the Indian leases.

President Roosevelt has signed the mission of Thomas V. Davis of Rock Springs, Wyo., to be register of the land office at Evanston, Wyo., to succeed Charles Kingston, resigned.

Change in Department Methods. President Roosevelt has approved the recommendation for centain reforms in the routine business of the War department, about the action of the president in creating the Keep commission. His letter criticized the methods of work in connec tion with the papers of both the Army and Navy Departments, and General Oliver took the matter up at once. The suggestions of General Oliver were considered by the general staff and a very formidable report was made, which received the approval of the acting secretary and afterwards the approval of the president.

Editor's Golden Wedding. YANKTON, S. D., Nov. 7 .- (Special.) Once again the golden wedding bells have rung in this community, this time for Dakota's "Squatter Governor," Hon. Francis F. Ziebach, who enjoys the distinction of being the first man within the limits of the two Dakotas to start a newspaper. Yesterday Governor and Mrs. Ziebach quietly celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, which took place November 6, 1855, at Danville, Pa. They have six children, Mrs. C. P. Edmonds, whose husband is vice president of the Yankton National bank; Jacob E., of the Treasury department, Washington; Miss Sallie, who resides at home; Frank H. of Elmira, N. Y.; William E. of Jackson, Miss., and Charles M., superintendent of the government Indian school at Horton, Kan. In 1858 Mr. Ziebach started the Register at Sloux City, and was appointed register of the land office in that place by President Johnson. Later he moved to Yankton and started the Weekly Dakotan, the first paper to be started in the then territory. President Cleveland appointed him receiver of the United States land office here, and for several terms he was mayor of Yankton. This makes the third golden wedding this county has seen

Mass Meeting in New York Contributes $56,800 for Sufferers of Massacres.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 -- At a mass meeting of Jewish residents of this city held here today $56,800 was collected for the relief of the sufferers of the massacres in Russia and a relief society was formally organized with Oscar S. Strauss, former minister to Turkey, as president, Cyrus Sulzburger secretary and Jacob H. Schiff treasurer. The meeting was attended by representatives from all stations in life of the Hebrew citizens. Dispatches from London, Paris and Berlin expressed a willingness on the part of the populace to co-operate and form an international society upon the completion of the organization in this city. The movement in London is in the hands of Lord Rothschild, in Paris of the Jewish Colonial association and in Berlin of the Berliner Hilsverein. A dispatch from President Nathan of the latter organization states that he would start at once for Russia. It is proposed to distribute the money through the diplomatic agencies of Great

DIES LAMBERT HELD IN WARE CASE

Oregon Man Will Have to Testify in Dakota Prescher's Trial.

SENSATIONS IN LAND CASES

Alliance Official Predicts Revelations Before Grand Jury that Will Attract National Interest and Involve Old Soldiers.

Frank Lambert of Portland, Ore., who health. ing to appear before the federal grand jury and answer to the charge of subornation of perjury, was immediately served with a summons to appear as a witness be fore the grand jury to testify in the cases against George F. Ware, the South Dakota preacher and cattleman who has 100,000 or more acres of public lands under fence in northwestern Nebraska.

It appears Lambert was the agent for Ware and others to procure soldiers' homestead filings on the lands and did a thriving business, receiving $50 for each filing obtained from an old soldier, and that he succeeded in getting hundreds of them. These filings subsequently were relinquished or leased to the cattlemen or land grabbers for a period of ninety-nine years. and it is upon this tenure that thousands of acres of land are being held up there under fence and are called or represented to be deeded or lessed land.

Sensation is Promised. An official connected with the investigations of these land matters from the Affiance district said: "The investigations before the grand jury will be sensational in the extreme. You people down here at Omaha have no idea of the extent of these fraudulent land entries. The cattlemen are not alone the gullty ones; in fact they bunch. The land frauds are much on the same order as practiced in Colorado and California by W. E. Hyde and John E Benson and others now under indictment in California, as well as two or three clerks in the land office at Washington, who furnished the inside information as to the methods of avoiding the law and escaping detection. In fact, you will find that the Hyde outfit has had its hands mixed up pretty extensively in the Nebraska land frauds. The old soldier filing scheme has been worked extensively in Nebraska and I am afraid it will go pretty hard with ome of the old boys now at the homes who have permitted their names to be used in securing these filings and then making leases to the land grabbers, who subsequently relinquished them or subleased them to the cattle and ranchmen. It is dirty mess, and the grand jury, which meets in Omaha next week, has a big job ahead of it that will attract national attention."

Our forefathers had other things to do than formulate theories about the food they atc. A warm welcome was extended to any kind, from bacon to acorns.

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best. As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form, and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables and grains.

Dr. Julius Remmson, on this subject, says: "Nervous persons, people run dewn in health and of low vitality should eat meat, and plenty of it. If the digestion is too feeble at first, it may be easily corrected by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs and other animal food in three hours, and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply the pepsin and diastass necessary to perfect digestion, and every form of indigestion will be overcome by their use."

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspeptics should eat plenty of meat and insure its proper digestion by the daily use of a safe, harmless digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, composed of natural digestive principles, pepsin, diastase, fruit acids and salts, which actually perform the work of digestion. Cheap cathartic medicines, masquerading under the name of dyspep sia cures, are useless for indigestion, as they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its many forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food, and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the dyspepsia is to make daily use at mealtime of a preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsla Tablets, which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles.
