

"NEW MACHINE" IS ON DECK

Broach-Dennison Combination Plans to Run Omaha Politics for a While.

WORK ALREADY VISIBLE IN LATE ELECTION

Interesting Line of Talk from a Politician Who Claims to Be Informed of What is Doing on the Inside.

The outcome of the election in Omaha, with its revelation in the figures of a readjustment of the forces in different wards, has started lots of talk about the formation of a "new machine"—in fact, the talk is that the "new machine" is partly if not wholly formed already.

"Can you meet between the election figures?" asked a well known politician who keeps in touch with all the live wires.

"It's plain as the nose on a man's face to any one who has kept his eyes open. The new machine" has been working already and the new machinists take all the credit to themselves of saving McDonald and running Leslie up out of danger.

"Who's Who in the Game." "Who's in the 'new machine'?" Why, you're way behind the times. It's Broach and Spratlan and Tom Dennison, and some of them put Watters in it, too.

"The funny part of it is that the new combination puts Dennison and Walter Morse into one package, tied with the same cord.

"What is to become of the other candidates for mayor? Why, Broach has been sidetracked already and Charlie Saunders can't get but a part of the Fontanelles.

Notwithstanding the statement made by Chief of Police Donahue Wednesday that the various saloonmen, who were arrested for keeping their saloons open on election day, agreed to appear in police court Thursday morning and plead guilty to the charges against them, they were all dismissed in police court Thursday morning for want of prosecution.

The saloonmen in question are: John McCaffery, 111 South Sixteenth street; Alfred Keller, Sixteenth and Manderson streets; Henry Anderson, 207 South Thirtieth street; Anton Krecke, 1102 South Sixth street; Adolph Hrusa, Thirtieth and William streets.

Reference to the prosecution against five saloon keepers arrested for keeping open election day, Mayor Moore said: "I ordered the prosecution to be discontinued because the police force was unable generally to enforce my order to keep all the saloons closed on election day. I found the men arrested were not the only violators. It is not right to make fish of one and fowl of another. Therefore I directed the complaints be withdrawn. On election day as at other times our police force demonstrated it is insufficient to enforce the laws. The force is not large enough and part of what we have is both wooden-headed and wooden-legged. I am thinking of having a number of the incompetents suspended. Time and again I have given orders to the force that have never been carried out."
