Short Cuts in Clothes Making Hot Flat-Iron Used Instead of the Needle.

Did you ever notice what a feeling of satisfaction there is when you wear a New Coat the first day or two? It makes a fellow feel that he is immaculate, and that everybody knows it.

People get into things, they get in a rut. What can't be cured must be endured.

It's Human Nature to take Short Cuts to save Trouble and Expense.

There is just one way to remove these defects PERMANENTLY.

That is, by "SINCERITY" Revision, — by careful Hand-Needle-Work.

There are plenty of Nice-Looking clothes on sale in the stores.

It is "doctored" by the Hot Flat-Iron, the outer edge and the collar itself will be wavy and wrinkled.

Now, if you value style, quality and SINCERITY Tailoring, it will repair on many things for the trouble.

It means quite an expense to press clothes constantly.

But it isn't always easy for a Novice to tell "SINCERITY" garments, especially when the salesman wants to sell the other kind.

So here is an easy test: Lay the coat on a table, as in the picture. If it is made SINCERELY, the line of the collar where it turns over will be straight and true.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Booth's Cornhuskers won in decisive fashion from Colorado university on the gridiron today, thereby annexing the intercollegiate championship of the Missouri Valley and avenging their defeat of a year ago at the hands of the Mountaineers.

Three touchdowns and as many goals, totaling eighteen points, were harvested by Nebraska, while the westeners were never within hailing distance of the Cornhuskers' goal.

Nebraska had only a slight margin in the weights, and in the early stages of the conflict the two elevenes battled almost on even terms.

The generalship of Benedict, Nebraska's quarter, was brilliant, and his sprouts roared either of the Colorado ends were virtually the long gains of the day.

The statistics of the game disclose that Nebraska gained 288 yards on straight foot ball, while Colorado's total was but fifty-eight.

The tandem formation used by the westeners failed in spurs, which alone prevented the Cornhuskers from adding at least two touchdowns to their total.

Calley's spirals seldom failed to cover less than forty yards, while many of them went for sixty yards and in one instance booted the oval a full seventy-five yards.
