WORK FOR THE EXAMINERS

Ten Thousand Sets of Teachers' Papers to Be Gone Over by Committee.

ASANE PATIENTS TO BE TRANSFERRED

Governor Mickey Sends Invitation to Pederation of Labor to Hold Its Next National Session in Lincoln.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 16 .- (Special.) -- State Superintendent McBrien said today that 10,000 ets of teachers' examination papers will be marked by the special examining committee under the provisions of the new certification law during 1906. Of this total he estimates that from 2,500 to 2,000 will be third grade certificate examinations, while the balance will be made up of first and second grade papers. The second grade care of the patients. papers will begin to come to this office in June, July and August, when certificates of that grade expire in large numbers.

The superintendent calls attention to a modification in rule 2, governing these examinations, adopted by the county superintendents at the meeting last summer. That rule provided for the examination in the five essentials and the adoption of the attending to the details of the transfer, grades on certificates in force October 1, 1905. This left out many persons whose certificates had expired before that time and the following modification has been without overcrowding. made by the superintendent, with the approval of the county officials:

proval of the county officials:

Provided, that teachers engaged in educational work, whether teaching or attending school, who have compiled with the requirements as to reading circle work, attendance at the county institute and educational meetings, and who have been granted certificates since July 1, 1906, may have the grades shown on such certificates validated by the state superintendent and made state grades (except in the case of the five essentials as provided in this rule 22 and except as governed by rule 10), upon the request of the county superintendent of the county in which such person applies for a certificate. This provision shall take effect on this 3d day of November, 1825, and shall continue in full force and effect to and including the regular examination in August, 1906. Teachers who registered for the October examination may avail themselves of this provision. Teachers wishing to profit by this proviso should note carefully rule 2, time allowed for examination. for examination.

Teachers may begin the examination as late as February, 1965. They will need only to pay the fee and file the old certificate with the county superintendent. Then they may take such time as seems best to write on the five essentials, always remembering that the work must be completed within six months from the date of beginning. This will permit candidates to register for examination in February and complete the examination in August following, thereby availing themselves of

Meat Enting Nations Are the Leaders in Every Branch of Human Achievement.

The ruling nations of the world are meat eaters, and history records that they always have been.

Vegetarians and food cranks may explain this in any way they choose, but the fact remains that the Americans, English, French, Russians and Germans are meat eating nations, and they are also the most energetic and most progressive.

The principal food of the heroic Boer soldier, known as Biltong, is a sort of dried beef, affording a great deal of nourishment in a highly concentrated form.

The weak races of people are the rice eating Chinese, Hindoos and Siamese, regarded since the dawn of history as nonprogressive, superstitious and inferior physically and mentally to the meat eating nations, who dominate them.

Building of New Railroad Lines Up North Platte Starts Something.

Contest Between Burlington and Union Pacific to See Which WIII Be First to Have Its Road Completed.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Nov. 16 .- (Spetial.)--Western Nebraska is on the threshold of the greatest boom known since the wild buffalo roamed its grassy domains. Real estate, which heretofore has been considered as of no great value, is mounting skyward, and speculators from the east as well as from Nebraska and neighboring states are proving their faith in what was once called the semi-arid region by purchasing tracts of land in this neighborhood. In fact the country is alive with land buyers and investors.

Probably one of the most attractive fea tures is the construction of the Burlington and Union Pacific railroads, which has already begun. The companies are vieing with each other in finishing their roads first. From the junction of the North Platte with the South Platte river, a few miles east of this city, westward to the Wyoming line, on both sides of the North Platte river, the flat valley, averaging several miles in width, along its entire course is extremely fertile. Numerous irrigation districts extend throughout the entire course of the valley, and the hay land of natural hay is very productive. Yet for years this valley has been without a rail- | for road, or even reasonable good access to one, from North Platte to Northport, a distance of about 125 miles. Now lost time is being made up and the Burlington and the Union Pacific have already begun construction of roads up this valley along almost identical routes,

The first move was made by the Burlingon, which announced a few weeks ago that it would construct a line through this join the Burlington branch from Farnam river from North Platte to some point on the Burlington south of Kearney. This valley, too, is very rich and well settled, Platte river, which is followed on the north side by the Union Pacific, the Burlington would tap the enemy's country in earnest. Construction on the Burlington has already begun west of here.

The new Union Pacific road leaves the main line a few miles west of this city and then goes up the North Platte valley on the south side of the river to about five miles west of Paxton, or a distance of about forty miles west of this city. At this point the road crosses the North Platte rore port along its north bank.

Some one end of the route it is not definitely known where the line will cross the North white river. Every available grading outfit and team in the country is being secured for the construction of the route and the laying of track is progressing What some time ago seemed likely to be rumor is now taking tangible form and there is no longer doubt about the construction of the railroads. At the county clerk's office of Lincoln county one man is kept busy all the time filing and recording instruments conveying rights-of-way purchased by both railroads. The county judge is engaged with condemnation proceedings against the owners of land who will not sell to the railroads. Yesterday appraisers were appointed and appraised land just west of the city of North Platte, which will be used by the Union Pacific for extra trackage. Similar proceedings are going on in other counties along the routes of the new roads.

Material for telegraph line along the route of the new Union Pacific has been ordered, and a line will be put in operation prior to the completion of the road to facilitate in its construction.

Increase Value of Lands.

These new roads are greatly enhancing the value of homestead lands which have been filed upon during the past year under what is known as the Kinkaid act. or one-section homestead law. The rolling prairies north of the country through which the railroads are being built is among the very best grazing and dairying land in the United States, and this country was thrown open to one-section homestead under the Kinkaid act, February 14, 1905. Its chief disadvantage at that time was the distance to railroad, but nearly all the land within twenty miles of the North Platte river was filed upon. Further north there is yet about 100 vacant sections of land, which now becomes much more desirable on account of the railroads coming from six to twelve miles closer than the main line of the Union Pacific. This land lies along the south half of Mc Pherson county and is the country where the cattlemen have heretofore been so reluctant to give up the land which they had inclosed, but those troubles are now about at an end and that proposition need

The best proposition now, however, is the land which was filed upon but no residence established within the six months required by law. The one-section filings were made at land openings in the majority, when large numbers filed without ever seeing the land, and, although about half of these have gone to their new homes moved their families there, built houses stocked the land and broke out those por tions which were best suited to cultivation, still about an even half have never gone upon their land and hence are now in default, and upon contest their entries will be cancelled and parties contesting be allowed to file. The contest costs in the neighborhood of $20, but the country is being searched by parties, who are con testing the land for the purpose of secur ing it for their own homestead filings.

BEWARD—The city has been furnishing the Burlington railroad with water free of charge the past week as an experiment. It has been arranged that the water pass through two-inch pipes up in the east part of town and then back to the B. & M. water tanks at the depot. By this means fresh water is run through the pipes every day. The Burlington uses 75,000 gallons per day and the city 30,000 gallons. If the experiment proves satisfactory a five-year contract will be entered into with the railroad. The company will only pay about what it cosis to pump the water, however, and there will be no other profit to the city other than the improvement made in the water from having so much used.

FREMONT—Late last night John Collins, who has a criminal record in Iowa; Bill Metford and Charles Earley, broke into a beer vault in the southeast part of the city and stole a quantity sufficient to keep them in booze for a good while. Officers Pollock and Siders arrested them down near the tracks and while bringing them to the station Collins suddenly turned, pulled a gun and thrust it into the face of Officer Pollock. The latter pulled his gun at the same time and stuck it almost squarely in Collins' mouth. After a little squabble the men were landed at the station. This morning a complaint was filed against them charging them with robbery, and they were bound over to the district court. FREMONT-Late last night John Col-

While playing with matches Thursday morning, during the absence of his mother and father, Lawrence Aldera, the 3-year-old son of Nat Aldera, one of the prorietors of the Hotel Roma, Eleventh and Dodge

The children found some matches, old clothes and papers and started a fire in the backyard of the hotel. The boy's clothes caught fire, and while trying to smother the flames on her brother, the girl's apron began to blaze. With the flames spreading on her Fina ran into the saloon and told the bartender what had happened. Kolona extinguished the girl's clothes and ran to the yard and tore the clothes from the boy, sustaining severe burns in doing so. Kolona then carried the boy to the police station, but the police surgeons being out, he proceeded to Gladish's drug store, a block away. A carriage was summoned and the injured boy taken to Clarkson hospital, where the wounds were dressed and death ensued. The boy was badly burned on the breast, face and other parts of the body. Coming so quickly after a recent accident to their infant daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alders are heartbroken over their severe

Prof. van Manen Dies Too Soon to Beview Dr. Mann's New Work,

Readers of Rev. Newton Mann's new book, "The Evolution of a Great Literature," recently reviewed in these columns, will have observed that the work is dedicated to two distinguished divines, Dr. Cheyne of Oxford and Dr. VanManen of Leiden. The book was sent to these men the day of its publication, but now comes the word it was a little too late for the mortal sight of the great Dutch professor. This is to Dr. Mann an especial sorrow, for Prof. VanManen was the one man he most desired to have see and to have pass upon his work. Following is a let-

LEIDEN. Nov. 1, 1965.—Rev. Newton Mann, Omaha, Neb.—Dear Sir: With a mixed feeling of gratitude and grief we have received your book on "The Evolution of a Great Literature," dedicated to Prof. Cheyne and my father—gratitude that my father's work was not done in vain; that it is appreciated in America as well as in Holland. It often made him sad that foreigners would not listen to him. For most students his ideas were too liberal. As you may imagine, it was a delight for him to write for the Encyclopaedia Biblica, as there scholars had to take notice of him. A severe illness prevented his writing all the articles for the Encyclopaedia he had planned to contribute. His work begins to be more and more appreciated now that he cannot hear the praises.

more appreciated now that he cannot the praises.

Our best father passed away this summer. For him it was a release after much suffering, as he had been ill for three years. But he bore pain as a Christian, as only a really great man can bear it.

My mother and we, his children, wish to express our best thanks to you for the honor paid to my father. With kind regards,

Truly yours,

J. C. VANMANEN.
