THIEF CAUGHT IN A BOX Man Who Plundered New York Warehouse and His Accomplice Placed

Under Arrest.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 .- A thief who entered the Security Storage company's warehouse in an express package vesterday was caught today as he was about to leave the warehouse, hidden in the same package, along with $700 worth of stolen goods. Last night he climbed out of his package and after rifling the warehouse again repacked himself and his plunder. When caught today he said his name was John Schmidt and told the story of his robbery.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock two packing cases were taken to the comwarehouse at 213 Spring street. Schmidt was in one of them, which was fitted with spring locks so as to be spened whisky, a set of burgiar's tools and a dark ing his plunder. Schmidt emerged last night and plundered the place and at with his plunder. But an employe saw one stood alone on the floor and, peeping through a knothole in the top, saw the burgiar's hat. He immediately smashed the case open. Five minutes later an expressman called for the two boxes which The police went with the expressman to "The Philippines" were discussed by Rev. James B. Rodgers, senior missionary of the Presbyterian church in the Philippines, who said in part:

"The evangelical union of the Philippine islands is a federation of eight evangelical missions and societies working in the archipelago. After six years' service the missions report something like 12,000 full members in the churches and as many more adherents.

"The union has served as a ready instrument for expressing the opinion and sentiments of the evangelical churches on moral and civil issues, and has aided in the defeat of the plan for farming out the opium traffic to the highest bidder by arousing and concentrating public opinion both in the islands and this country as to the danger of the government's plan. The union strives to render efficient service in creating an evangelical literature for the churches in the islands and has a committee even now at work on the proposition for a Sunday school paper in all districts. Another committee is also working on the proposition of an evangelical university for

Rev. J. L. Barton, corresponding secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, Boston, told how in Japan three of the mission boards formed themselves into the Council of Missions for Japan in 1877 and formed a Japanese church of the Presbyterian model. The Methodist bodies, he said, were drawing together and all the Eniscopal missionarles of England, America and Canada were getting together as the Holy Catholic Church of Japan.

Dr. Barton spoke of the great gathering in Tokio in May, 1904, at which Shinto, Buddhist, Roman Catholic, Greek priests and evangelical missionaries were present to discuss great questions of belief. ### Workmen Reply to Witte.

The workmen's council returned a scornful reply to Count Witte's personal appeal at home. The problem of the negro sinks to his "brother workmen," ridiculing the government's profession of solicitude fo the workmen and renewing their demands for the immediate aboution of martial law in Poland, etc.

The text of the resolution is as follows: The council of workmen's delegates ex-presses astonishment at the emperor's lavorite, who permits himself to call the workmen of St. Petersburg his brethren. The projectariat is not related to him in ny way. Count Witte appeals to us to be compassionate of our wives and children. The council, in reply, invites the workmen to count the willows and orphans who have been added to the ranks of the workmen since the day Count Witte assumed power. Count Witte reveals the benevoient intentions of the workmen tions of the emperor toward the working classes. The council reminds the projecularist bloody Sunday.

of bloody Sunday.

Count Witte begs us to give the government time and promises to do all possible for the workmen. The council knows Count Witte has already found time to give Poland Into the hands of the military executioners. The council does not doubt Count Witte will do all possible to strangle the revolutionary professions. Count witte will do all possible to strangle the revolutionary proletariat.

Count Witte calls himself a man who is benevolent toward us and wishes our good. The council declares the working classes have no need of the nenevolence of a court favorite, but demands a popular government on the basis of universal, direct and secret suffrage.

ecret suffrage. Concessions Not Broad Enough.

Larger Margins Required. The manager of local branch of the Credit Lyonnais denies the report that the bank is refusing to accept Russian securities as collateral. , On account of the unsettled condition and the heavy fall in prices on the Boarse, however, the bank insists upon larger margins. The following formal statement on the subject was made by the bank: The Credit Lyonnais is continuing the making of advances on stocks, but owing to the fall in state funds and industrials and the narrow market of the St. Petersburg Bourse, it requires larger margins than formerly.

Other banks also are adopting the same course and there is a noticeable disposition on the part of all the bankers to reduce their commitments. A mutiny in the Manchurian army is the

REBATE HEARING

Railroads Cited for Contempt of Court Appear in Kansas Sity.

ASSERT COURT LACKS JURISDICTION

Position of Santa Fe is Judge Had No Right to Issue Order on Which Proceedings Are Based.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 17 .- A hearing of the railroad rebate cases brought by the federal government in March, 1907, upon behalf of the federal government against the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the Missouri Pacific and the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific was begun here today in the United States district court before Judge John F. Phillips. The arguments upon behalf of the government were presented by Milton D. Purdy, assistant United States attorney, and Ivan Valkenberg. United States district attorney of the western district of Missouri. Gardiner Lathrop of Chicago, chief counsel for the Santa Fe, and Judge O. M. Spencer of St. Joseph, chief counsel of the Burlington, represented the rallway companies.

The railways named were originally enjoined by Judge Philps from granting alleged rebates on meat products, salt and oal, and later contempt proceedings were filed in the district court here by Assistant Attorney General Purdy, who, alleging that the railroad companies had violated the court's enjoining order, asked the court to cite the companies for contempt, which was done. To this citation the railronds filed demurrers, which were argued today. Arguing on behalf of the Santa Fe railroad today, Gardiner Lathrop took the stand that the district court lacked jurisdiction in the case. The proceedings against the Santa Fe, the Missouri Pacific and the Rock Island alleged that these companies gave relates to the Hutchinson (Kan.) Salt company in collusion with the Hutchinson & Arkansas River railroad, which latter company, it was shown, was controlled and operated by the salt company. In the case of the Santa Fe it was alleged in addition that rebates had been granted on coal to the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

The hearing was upon two motions, one to quash the information in regard to the alleged rebates charged to have been paid to the Hutchinson (Kan.) Salt company and the other to the Colorado Fuel and Iron company,

Technical Points Raised.

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Raiload company contended that the original bill had been improperly filed at the instance and upon the mere request of the Interstate Commerce commission, that it was filed before the passage of the Elkins act and that prior to the passage of the Elkins act the court had no jurisdiction to entertain such a bill; that this point was expressly decided by the United States supreme court in the case of the government against the Missouri Pacific Railway company. This decision was after the filing of the bill in this case; that having no jurisdiction the restraining order issued was void, and could not be made the foundation for a contempt proceedings; that since the passage of the Elkins act there had been no amendment made to the bill of com plaint, so that there was no charge by the bill of any violation of law since the passage of the Elkins law, which alone gave an authority for a proceeding of this

The railroad company further contended valleys of the Don and Volga, are again that, even after the passage of the Elkins tion because of article xvi of the interstate commerce act the suit could be brought and maintained only in the judicial district where it had its principal office, and that would be in Kansas, where the company alleged it was incorporated; also that the bill upon its face did not allege that any of the acts complained of were committed in this judicial district, but elsewhere and beyond its limits.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 .- The identity of the rotter Advancer has been fully established by Secretary Knight of the American Trotting association, who has ordered that payment be made of the $25,000 stakes won by the horse at Milwaukee and Libertyville last summer. It was believed the horse was a "ringer." Acting on this belief the officials of the Milwaukee track refused to pay the purse until the horse had been identified. The Libertyville officials also withheld payment of the purse, awaiting an investigation. NEW YORK, Nov. 17 .- A long and de ermined search for Benjamin F. Chadsoy Brooklyn lawyer, who has been accused of grand larceny, had fied to San Francisco by the way of Panama, had been captured and brought to Brooklyn for trial and had defaulted bail, leaving evidence to mislead the authorities into the belief that he was drowned, came to an end today at Niles,

J. Edward Orr, a Brooklyn detective, who followed Chadsey to San Francisco in 1900. reported to his office today that he had found the missing lawyer at Niles and that he was a book agent for a Chicago concern and called himself Paul Hamilton

Chadsey was indicted in 1902 in Brooklyn for failing to turn over to a client the sum of $1,000 which he had obtained in a legal suit. After his capture in San Francisco a year later, and on the day before his trial in Brooklyn, Chadsey left Brooklyn in a rowboat in which some of his papers and his hat were afterward found. Detective Orr identified a body found a few days later as that of Chadsey. Only a short time ago he learned that Chadsey was still alive and working as a book agent in Chicago.
