LINCOLNITES WANT TO KNOW ABOUT CASH

S. W. Burnham is Organizing a Company to Bore for Oil in One of the Suburbs of Lincoln, Asserting There Are Good Prospects.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 19 .- (Special.)-The report from Minneapolis that Auditor Searls, Secretary of State Galusha and Land Commissioner Eaton have already backslidden so far as the anti-pass plank of the repub lican platform is concerned, is regarded as the precursor to a campaign to prevent the renomination of those officials, unless they are able to exonerate themselves. According to the report, which is state house gossip, these three state officials went as guests of Bob McGinnia, the Northwestern political agent and legislative overseer. The attitude taken by the republicans who develop sentiment in the party is that these officials have made a bad break which will jeopardize their prospects of securing second terms.

The anti-pass republicans are confident that they will secure the insertion into the platform of another anti-pass plank with a demand for effective legislation that would make it impossible to remain consistent and at the same time put on the ticket men who waited but a few days after election to accept these free privfleges. As far as Galusha is concerned his junket has not altered his situation, since he declined to obey the mandate of the convention, alleging that the plank did not contemplate the surrender of passes until the law had been adopted. Scarle and Eaton, on the other hand, were among the first of the state officials to signify their adherence to the party declaration, the latter going so far as to claim premiership in that step by giving up not only railway passes, but telegraph, telephone and express franks.

Lincoln Has Depository Problem. The problem of safekeeping public funds n Lincoln has reached an acute stage through the introduction in the city council of a resolution calling upon the treasurer to designate the banks in which he teeps the $75,000 of city funds. So far he has failed to take any action in response to the resolution, but a considerable element among the taxpayers is demanding that he follow in the footsteps of Treasurer Mortensen by publishing a monthly statenent of the depository banks with the balance in each.

City Treasurer Fox says that he is personally responsible for the public funds, ecause of the absence of any law authorzing the use of depositories, and he does not believe it incumbent to disclose the whereabouts of the funds, because his personal bond protects the city against loss He also turns over the interest, about gan at San Cristobal. It is now proposed $2,000 having been ordered into the treasby the board to build a short, direct canal ury on that account during the current from Mindi to Limon bay, thereby making year.

It is claimed that the designation of de positories and the requirement of a bond would cause the banks to refuse to pay inthe canal without having to make any terest. In answer to this reply is made difficult turns. are similar to those now being litigated in the United States supreme court with respect to the water of the Arkansas river comprise the relation between riprarian rights and those acquired by appropriation in the same state and the relation between appropriators' rights in the different states. The report says:

different states. The report says:

The Platte river and its tributaries irrigate 1,024,463 acres of land. Some of the best farming land sells for $300, and none that is irrigated sells for less than $10 an acre. Fifty years ago this land was regarded as a desert and was practically worthless. If the right to use water in irrigation were taken away from it, it would be practically valueless today.

More than $50,00 people live in the irrigated territory on this stream. Not all of them depend on agriculture. The cities of Denver, Cheyenne, Laramie, North Platte and a score of other towns with their machine shops, flour mills, paper mills, beet sugar factories and transportation interests, all tend to augment the importance of water, because not a city or town, a factory or a railway can be aswisitors and local knights. Hon. John B. Hanten, Watertown, was toustmaster. One of the features of the banquet was an address on "Character," by Right Rev. Thomas O'Gorman, Catholic bishop of South Dakota.
