

New located in the new retail center, Howard and Sixteenth streets.

Exceptional Values in Black Dress Goods Wednesday

A special sale of Black Dress Goods that every woman should see. When we say the black dress goods to be sold Wednesday morning are the best we have ever sold at the price, the statement will carry conviction—because the general reputation of this store is back of it.

Regular 60c Black All Wool Batiste, Wednesday, 30c yard. Of all the light weight fabrics, All Wool Batiste occupy first place. They are light weight, drape perfectly for the soft, clinging gown, handsome rich black, Special Wednesday, just one-half price, 30c a yard.

$21.00 Handsome Black Persian Silk and Wool Crepe de Chine—Wednesday, 55c a yard. In way of dress elegance, what Paris wears the world loves. Paris says Silk and Wool Crepe de Chine are dignified and elegant. They are to be the reigning fabric for the coming season for the dressy gown. Never before have we been able to give you such fine value as we offer you for Wednesday morning. As long as they last, 55c a yard.

Novelty Waistings on Third Floor. In our flannel department we are showing a fine line of fancy waistings. You should see them. Embroidered waistings, in entirely new effects, dark colorings, washable, at 50c per yard. Scotch Plaids, in washable woven effects, very new and pretty, at 50c per yard.

NEW "IONA" FLANNELS. This is the wool mixed waisting flannel that you see so extensively advertised in the magazines. It is washable like a cotton material, yet so soft and warm as a wool flannel of medium weight. We show a beautiful assortment. Price, 60c a yard. New Scotch Flannels. Splendid for wash waists. Wool and cotton mixed and non-shrinking—50c, 60c, 50c per yard.

New Albatross Flannels, solid colors, with wavy figures—50c, 75c a yard. "WYVILLA" FLANNELS. Nothing more serviceable for a warm wash waist. Guaranteed not to shrink nor fade in washing. Price, 75c a yard. Imported French Flannels. The best wool material, printed designs, polka dots predominating, at 75c per yard. Solid Colored French Flannels, in all wool, at 60c, 50c a yard.

Art Department. Free instructions each day from 2 until 5 o'clock to those who purchase materials of us. Miss Steenstrup, late of Copenhagen, Denmark, an artist in needle, yarn and crochet work, has charge of these classes and is an able instructor. The new "Hedelo" and "Hardanger" is in popular favor today and she instructs in both. We are showing pretty new designs in Pillow Tops, also cords to match.

Embroidery Silks, the most lustrous and desirable silks made for art needle work. Muslin Pin Cushion Forms, in all the desirable shapes.

Novelties in Robe Blankets, Third Floor.

One of the decided novelties in a German Robe Blanket that has a border all around instead of the two ends only. Two of the corners are elaborately decorated and extended to go at the front of the robe. This is a novelty which you ought to investigate if you contemplate making bath or lounging robe.

The price for these Robe Blankets is $3.00 each. Other grades in German Robe Blankets at $1.75, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50 each. Robe Blankets of wool at $4.50, $5.50, $6.50 each. We have Robe Blankets at $2.50 each. St. Mary's Robe Blankets as low as $1.00 each, but of these it would take two to make a large robe. Fancy Cotton Robe Blankets, like outing flannel, at 50c a pair.

St. Mary's Blankets, 3rd Floor. Made by the St. Mary's Woolen Manufacturing Co., St. Mary's, Ohio. These fine Woolen Blankets have been found splendid for service wherever in use. In finish and appearance St. Mary's Blankets unequalled.

Here are some popular prices: Single bed size, 92x92 inches, white or gray, at $1.75, $2.00 a pair. Double bed size, 108x90, white or gray, at $2.50, $3.00, $3.50 a pair. Extra large white, size, 128x84, at $3.50, $4.00 a pair. Largest white or gray Blankets, size 128x84, at $3.00, $3.50, $4.00 a pair. St. Mary's Crib Blankets. Size 32x42, white, at $3.50, $4.50 a pair. Size 36x48, white, at $2.75 a pair. Fancy Jacquard Crib, size 26x48, at $4.00 a pair.

St. Mary's Robe Blankets, extra fine, in fancy Jacquard designs, reversible, size 72x84, at $6.50 each. Suits, Coats, Waists, Furs, Kimonos and Petticoats. Are to be seen on the second floor. Ladies will find a charming selection of really new and elegant wearing apparel. Omaha has never needed a really up-to-date cloak department, where good and reliable garments can be purchased and where ladies will be accorded courteous treatment.

We have no two prices—we allow no misstatements by our sales people. Money is always cheerfully refunded when called for—in fact, our aim is to have a perfect store. New and handsome Suits from $25.00 to $60.00. Special prices on Silk Suits. Special prices on Rain Coats. Children's Furs. We have just received our Children's Fur Sets from $1.50 to $12.50.

Special Ribbon Sale.

Wednesday morning we will place on special sale a line of Fancy Ribbons. Coming just at this time of the year, when you are perhaps planning something in the fancy work line, this sale will be appreciated, as the saving in price is about one-third.

All Silk Taffeta Ribbon, four and one-half inches wide, in white, pink, light blue, brown, navy, straw, navy, cardinal and black. This pretty ribbon has a broad center of the same color. You will appreciate the value. Special price Wednesday, 10c per yard. All Silk Fancy Taffeta, No. 60, made in white ground, with beautiful colored flower center. It has a plain edge, 1 1/2 inch wide, in pretty contrasting colors, pink, blue, white, lavender and red. Special price Wednesday, 10c per yard.

We are also showing some pretty new patterns, in fine all silk taffetas, in widths suitable for opera and Kensington bags. They come in the new floral patterns—8 inches wide at $1.25 yard; 8 1/2 inches wide at $1.75 a yard; also a handsome pattern in 12 inches wide at $4.00 per yard.

Women's Underwear. Our Hosiery and Underwear Department is located on main floor. The best makes in seasonable weights are to be had here. A special good weight for this season of the year is a Bleached Cotton Fleece Ribbed Garment, excellent finish and good quality, all sizes, in vests, pants and tights, 50c each. If you want a perfect fitting Cotton Union Suit for fall and winter wear, ask to see the "Stretton" make.

Men's Furnishings. Many of the best dressers of Omaha buy their furnishings of us. They are sure when they come here of getting the season's latest novelties and shapes. We see to it that quality is there, too. New Embroidered Fancy Half Hose at 25c and 50c per pair. New webs in Crown make Suspenders, 50c per pair. New shades in Street Coats, $1.50 per pair.

See our new line of Fancy Shirts—the patterns are neat and they fit perfectly. Customers' Deposit Account Department. This is the plan: You may deposit any sum that suits your convenience. Your interest in this store may be returned to it for payment. We pay 4 per cent interest, compounded every three months, on your daily balance. You are not required to trade it all out, as you may withdraw all or part of your deposit at any time.

With this plan you enjoy all the economies of a cash store and the convenience and privileges of a credit system. It is not a bank.

BURTON'S LETTERS READ

Correspondence Between Senator and Rialto Grain Company in Court.

CONTRACT CALLS FOR $500 A MONTH

Burton Agrees to Watch Washington End of Line and Promises No Action Will Be Taken Without Notice.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 21.—The introduction of letters and telegrams exchanged between Senator Burton and Thomas B. Harlan, an attorney for the Rialto Grain and Securities company, this afternoon was the important feature of the second day of the trial of United States Senator Joseph R. Burton of Kansas, in the United States circuit court on an indictment charging that he agreed to accept and accepted compensation from the Rialto company for using his influence, while a member of the United States senate for the benefit of the Rialto company in matters pending before the Postoffice department, and in which the government was interested. The effort to introduce this evidence by the government brought frequent objections from the counsel for the defense, which in only one instance were sustained, pending before the Postoffice department. In that one instance where the defense objected to a telegram which was said by the government to be a reply to one sent to Senator Burton by Harlan was not relevant.

In no case did the defense question the authenticity of the letters or telegrams, basing their objections upon the grounds that the contracts were pertinent to the allegations made in the indictment. Mr. Harlan, who at Senator Burton's former trial was called as a witness by the defense, was placed on the stand by the government today to identify the letter-press copies of letters sent by him to Senator Burton and originals of letters received by him from Senator Burton.

Letters in the Case. The first letter submitted was dated November 18, 1902, addressed to Senator Burton and signed by Harlan. It following is an excerpt from this document: "I hope you received my message to the effect that this company, the Rialto company, accepts your terms to act as counsel at a salary of $500 a month, said salary to begin immediately; that is of this date, November 18, 1902."

In reply Senator Burton wrote Harlan in part as follows: "I called at the department this morning and find that there are two complaints lodged against your company. One by Hon. J. C. Hunt, both of Albany, N. Y. Without knowing anything about the merits of the charges, I placed on the stand this morning to receive special attention by your company. No action of any kind will be taken against you at this time. The matter is filed, and every opportunity for a full explanation or hearing will be had."

The following is taken from a letter dated December 2, 1902, sent to Senator Burton by Harlan: "The cases here (indictments against Dennis, president Rialto company) are set for trial on January 16, and Judge Krum and I are preparing for the trial."

Burton Writes of Inspectors. In reply to a letter from Harlan stating that an alleged postoffice inspector had tried to extract money from the Rialto company by virtue of his official position, Senator Burton wrote the following: "There has gone from this office no instructions whatever about the Rialto company and there is nothing in this office against you at this time. The matter is, St. Louis, as you know, in the hands of Mr. Dice. I would suggest that you prepare carefully the case of Dennis for early next month. I take care of things at this end of the line."

Four checks for $500 each, sent by the Rialto company of St. Louis to Senator Burton in Washington, D. C., were submitted by the government, and while objected to by the defense on grounds of relevancy, Senator Burton acknowledged the indorsements on their backs.

BERTHA ATTEMPTS SUICIDE. Pacific Mailer Tries Novel Scheme of Taking Her Life.

Tired of the lot that is hers, "Painting Bertha" Liebeck made two unsuccessful attempts to take her life in a cell at the city jail Tuesday morning by setting fire to her clothing. It was necessary to throw a pair of water over the woman to extinguish the first blaze and to turn the jail hose on her to put out the second one. The woman was in no way injured.

Fainting Bertha will not talk of her strange actions. She says she returned to Omaha last week to live an honest life with her mother. The mother is in Chicago to take the woman back to answer several charges that have been standing against her for some time.

DEATH RECORD. Anna Baumer, daughter of Herman Baumer, aged 2 years, died Tuesday of appendicitis at the family home, one-half mile north of the Country club. The funeral will take place Thursday, November 23.

SOUND SLEEP. Can Easily Be Secured. "Up to two years ago" a woman writes, "I was in the habit of using both tea and coffee regularly. "I found that my health was beginning to fail, strange nervous attacks would come suddenly upon me, making me tremble so excessively that I could not do my work while I lasted; my sleep left me and I passed long nights in restless discomfort. I was filled with a nervous dread as to the future."

"A friend suggested that possibly tea and coffee were to blame, and I decided to give them up, and in casting about for a hot table beverage, I was led by good fortune to try Postum Food Coffee. For more than a year I have used it three times a day and expect, so much good has it done me, to continue its use during the rest of my life."

"Soon after beginning the use of Postum I found to my surprise, that instead of feeling that a year I have used it three times a day and expect, so much good has it done me, to continue its use during the rest of my life."

"After the ceremonies at the residence the body was taken to the crematory where a number of brief eulogies were delivered. Among the messages of sympathy received was one from German Ambassador Sternberg, who also ordered a floral tribute."

Terrific Fate. It's a terrific fate to suffer from serious bowel trouble. Ward it off with Dr. King's New Life Pills. For sale by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co.

BAXTER'S SIDE OF THE CASE

District Attorney Explains Details of His Connection with Prosecution of Land Fences.

District Attorney Baxter today declared himself further on the Bartlett Richards case as follows:

"I notice a press dispatch from Washington in this morning's Bee headed 'Bartlett Richards Case.' In said item appears the following statement: 'According to an item in the New York Sun, District Attorney Baxter some time ago advised the Department of Justice to nolle prosequi the case against Richards, but the reply was a rebuke from the attorney general.' This statement is absolutely false. I never at any time recommended or advised a nolle prosequi to be entered in the Bartlett Richards case, nor even suggested same to the attorney general, nor have I ever received from the attorney general a rebuke as to said matter."

"As to the further item as follows: 'Subsequently the district attorney proposed a compromise with the law breakers, but he was instructed to go ahead and prosecute the case vigorously.' As to this I will say that counsel for Richards and Comstock made a proposition to at once remove all of their fences, provided after such removal the indictment against them be dismissed. I refused to entertain this proposition and referred the matter to the attorney general for action, stating that I saw no objection to such course. He declined the proposition and did instruct a vigorous prosecution."

"As to the statement in said article, 'Now the department officers understand that the district attorney himself represented to the judge that there was no evidence of bad faith and that it was upon this representation that Judge Munger deposed the defendants without a moral turpitude'—as to this I wish to state that I made no such representation to the court, and the court did not act in passing sentence upon any representation whatever made by me. The only statement in that connection which I made at all was that the special agents had informed me that Richards had removed some fences, but not all. That if their counsel now stated that they would remove all their fences I would not question counsel's good faith. I wish again to say in most emphatic language that the disposition of the Richards and Comstock case and the sentence passed upon the defendants by the court was in no sense whatever the result of, or brought about by any understanding or agreement between their counsel, the court and myself, or between any of us. The disposition of this case and the passing of sentence was had in the ordinary course of business, without any previous agreement or understanding between the parties whatsoever. Defendants had a perfect right to plead guilty, and the court disposed of the case and the sentence passed upon the defendants without consulting me, without advice or recommendation from anyone."

"With the early history of the Bartlett Richards case and his differences with the land department, I know nothing whatever, as it all goes back before I was appointed to this office."

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY. Take "Laxative" Bromo Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c. Grove's signature is on each box.

WITTE IS STRONGER. (Continued from First Page.) states will favor a resolution to come to the assistance of the government against the forces of revolution and disorganization, though only because such action is regarded by a considerable factor as the least of many evils. Such leaders as M. Stobekine of Moscow, Alexander Stakovich, Michael Stakovich, Prince Paul Dolgoroukoff and Prince Volkonsky of Russian, who are among the most prominent men in Russia and who have the confidence of those engaged in the reform movement, came out boldly at today's session and laid down as a plain truth that only through co-operation with the government, good or bad though it might be, lay the way to a happy realization of the liberties promised by the imperial manifesto of October 17.

VOLOKOTSK, Russia, Nov. 21.—The employees of the car works here today adopted a resolution condemning any further strikes until the national assembly meets. VOLOKA, Northwest Russia, Nov. 21.—A rumor is being spread among the peasants here that serfdom will be re-established and the peasants are talking of killing the land owners.

TURKISH COUNCIL CONFERS. May Accept Macedonian Scheme in Principle, but Suggests Number of Changes. CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 21.—The frequent and prolonged conferences of the council of ministers at the Yildiz palace are believed to indicate preparations to yield in principle to the demand of the powers for the acceptance of the financial reforms decided upon for Macedonia. Probably, however, the Turkish government will make further attempts to secure modifications of the plans before definitely accepting the full program.

The arrival of the international fleet at Pireus is likely to hasten the Turkish decision. The Russian fleet has returned to Sebastopol after a short cruise in the Black sea. Steamship Companies to Merge. LONDON, Nov. 21.—A report is current in shipping circles that the International Mercantile Marine company is about to absorb the Aberdeen line, trading to Australia, and the Blue Anchor line, which is in the South African and Australian trade. These important steamship lines have had a working connection with the International Mercantile Marine company for some time and the reported amalgamation is taken as a confirmation of a recent intimation that the International Mercantile Marine company intended to inaugurate a more aggressive policy in seeking new fields of activity.

Japanese Expect Answer. PEKING, Nov. 21.—The Chinese reply to the Japanese proposals is expected today. A Japanese official says that he expected the conference would be short, as the Japanese proposals do not contain anything of a startling nature or likely to cause any difficulty, but the exact nature of them has not been disclosed.

Russian Steamers Lebound. ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 21.—The weather is so exceptionally severe that thirteen steamers are lebound between St. Petersburg and Cronstadt. One of the steamers is aground, and another, the Volodga, has seventy British subjects on board bound for London. An icebreaker has been requisitioned from Lihau to free the vessels.

Train at Cavite. MANILA, Nov. 21.—Rear Admiral Train, on board his flagship the battleship Ohio, accompanied by Mrs. Train, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn Mass., for special advice. When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

CHURCH CONFERENCE ENDS

Resolution Passed Asking for Uniform Law that Will Restrict Divorce.

GAMBLING IN ALL FORMS DENOUNCED

Churches Warned to Be Careful of Encouraging Prize Schemes and Devices of Getting Something for Nothing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—After an exhaustive interchange of views by the most distinguished divines representing thirty-seven denominations from all sections of the country, the inter-church conference on divorce, which has been in session for the past week, adjourned today. After the adjournment the delegates to the conference were entertained tonight at a reception at the convention at the international social unions and church clubs of the city.

Rev. S. Parke Cadman, Rev. J. Ross Stevenson, New York City, and Bishop E. R. Hendrix of Kansas City were among the speakers today. Bishop Hendrix spoke on "The Ideal State."

Some of the resolutions on social, religious, political and business problems which the business committee presented to the convention were as follows: Resolved, That we urge upon law makers the need of uniform divorce laws and that these laws shall conform to a high standard.

That we believe that the manifold and often distinguished forms of popular gambling now in vogue, especially betting on elections and on college races, and the use of prizes in social games, should be promptly and effectively prohibited, and instruction on the subject that all may know that whenever it is determined by the state or how much one gets for his money, it is a lottery, and also that the essence of the sin of gambling consists in trading with the sacred trust of property, and in getting something of value in a business transaction without fair exchange.

That an investigation of the Congo river basin in Africa by an impartial tribunal and urging the United States government to further this international inquiry.

Another resolution inserted the words "to the utmost limit righteously enforceable" in a declaration favoring laws restricting the liquor traffic. The word "right" in another resolution provoked a long discussion. It was finally decided that this word should remain. This resolution was introduced yesterday and condemned the "widespread commercialism which issues called covetousness and condemned more severely than any other vice."

Calvin's Dream Realized. Rev. Dr. Roberts, the permanent chairman of the conference, delivered an address. He said: "This is one of the most notable assemblies of believers in Jesus Christ that has ever been seen. For four centuries federation has been in the hearts of Christians. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great archbishop has met with realization in this day. It remains for the twentieth century to give it realization. Here are thirty-seven denominations, who represent by the number of members the whole of Europe and America and through their emissaries the whole of the world. John Calvin wrote to Crater, archbishop of Canterbury, and declared he would cross the sea to make such a union of believers. The great reformer and the great arch