and election of justices of the supreme court for his services, as a justice of the officers was an act of inexcusable folly which could only have been brought about through the influence of a lobby directed and corrupt in intent, if not in fact.

By chapter 48 of the compensation of clerks of the district court in counties having more than 100,000 inhabitants was limited to $4,000, but by chapter 49, performing the duties of his office a salary of $1,000 in addition to the fees given him by the preceding chapter. These bills also fix the compensation, both in fees and the new salary of the district clerk in counties having a smaller population by schedule according to population.

The absurdity of permitting any clerk of the district court to receive more than the salary of the justice of the peace of the same county is also corrected by the amendment to the chapter on the subject of the compensation of the district clerk and the judges of the district court are allowed $2,500 per annum each for their services.

State University Authority Discusses Abuses and Possible Remedy.

Professor Howard prefaced his paper with the statement that it was his purpose to consider whether for the states and territories a uniform law of divorce is desirable.

The appearance in 1885 of the government report, compiled under the direction of the United States census bureau, showing that in 1880, 187, 18,879, 20,762 in 1881, and 20,818 in 1882, comparing the number of divorces in 1882 with the population of 1870, while the population grew 15 per cent, the divorces increased 100 per cent.

Under our present law, the divorce is granted by the courts, and the parties are free to marry again. The divorce is granted by the courts, and the parties are free to marry again.
