

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Lucerne Products Company is Ready to Start Its New Mills.

WILL RUN AT FULL CAPACITY ALL WINTER

Attempt of Council to Save on Printing Bills by Failing to Publish Ordinances is Cause of Kicking.

There is a great deal of activity at present in the vicinity of Twenty-ninth and A streets. The Lucerne Products company is about ready to commence the manufacture of stock food, and in a week or two new mills will be running at full capacity.

An engine was recently purchased from the old Hammond plant and this is now being installed and will be ready by the first of next week.

Both the Union Pacific and Burlington roads are still laying tracks and switches on both the east and west sides of the Lucerne plant. The Burlington has tracks laid on Twenty-ninth street as far south as D street. This is the limit permitted by the ordinance vacating Twenty-ninth street and the cross streets for trucking purposes.

The operating of the stock feed plant will give employment to quite a number of men, and dwellings in the vicinity of the works are in demand. M. C. Peters of the Lucerne company says that stock fattening food is in great demand and that the mills in which he is interested will be kept going to the full capacity all winter.

Economy Causes Comment.

For some time past the city council has been trying to save money on printing bills by passing ordinances and filing the same away without causing them to be published. All of the ordinances vacating streets and alleys for railroad purposes passed of late have not been published and for this reason a large number of people have become impressed with the idea that the mayor and council are trying to hide something. Such is not the case.

Tracks for Jetter Brewery.

It is asserted in railroad circles that there is a possibility of railroad tracks being laid to connect with the Jetter brewery. This matter has been blocked by protests of certain property owners. Now, it is asserted, the Rock Island road will go ahead and put down the rails. Some time ago the Rock Island laid a track to the southwest line of the Swift property, but here the work stopped. In the proposed line, the only property owners interested are Swift, the Rock Island, the Milwaukee, John J. Ryan and Balthus Jetter. Rumor has it that the immediate construction of a viaduct from T to Y street by the Union Pacific has had something to do with the removal of the Jetter track by the Rock Island road.

Publishing Transfer Ordinance.

Since Councilman Klewitt insisted that the city attorney take up the street car transfer ordinance passed last July the document was taken from the files and read by the attorney. The discovery was made that the ordinance had never been published and having a penalty attached was worthless unless published in the official paper of the city. Last evening the ordinance appeared in the official paper. It appears the Councilman Klewitt has insisted that the printing bills be cut down and out of the last thirty-six ordinances passed only ten have been published. In the street car transfer ordinance provision is made for publishing the same, but some one erased the word "publish" after the ordinance had been passed. The councilman is now making an attempt to have the ordinance enforced. An attempt will soon be made now to enforce the ordinance. Mr. Klewitt wants to get fifteen or twenty citizens to ride at different times and request transfers where the ordinance compels the same to be given, in case of refusal then suit is to be commenced to compel the enforcement of the ordinance.

Filling Abandoned Depot Site.

About three dozen men are now employed in filling the excavation graded out for the Union Pacific freight depot. The concrete foundation walls at the south end are being broken up and dumped into the high hole and the workmen excavating for the new site are wheeling the dirt into the hole. The new depot is to be 136 feet in length and wider than the one first planned. A portion of the buildings on the new site have been removed and in a few days wreckers will go to work on the planing mill at the south end of the triangle. At the new site there will be ample room for teams to drive up to the loading dock. The construction of the freight depot is to be pushed as rapidly as possible. Civil engineers in charge of the work say that their instructions are to go ahead with the construction of both the freight and passenger depots in order that the buildings

How long will we "busy" Americans work for the common good? Would it pay us to own our public businesses? Would it pay us in money, in character and in national standing?

On Election Day, the American people showed that it wanted to run its own government, and not be bossed.

When working for the common good, all things are possible, as you know by the results of the elections in various cities and by reading Russell's "Soldiers of the Common Good" in Everybody's for Christmas.

Everybody's Magazine 15 cents $1.50 a year. Special representatives wanted for Everybody's Magazine in towns where there are no dealers.

Improvement Club Meeting.

An adjourned meeting of the Highland Park Improvement club is to be held this evening at the Lincoln school building. Reports on the opening of Twenty-fifth street are to be presented and final steps will now be taken to arrange for the grading. J. M. Guild, president of the club, declares that the club meetings are proving a success in bringing the residents of the district closer together socially and the meetings are becoming attractive and interesting.

Lambert Working on Report.

In pursuance to instructions from the city council W. C. Lambert, the city attorney, is working on a report to be presented next Monday night in regard to the Mud creek sewer contract. The opinion, Mr. Lambert says, will be complete in every detail and will advise the city officials just what can be done in regard to compelling the Union Stock Yards company to construct and maintain a sewer to the river.

Peters of the Lucerne company says that stock fattening food is in great demand and that the mills in which he is interested will be kept going to the full capacity all winter.

Dan Hanson has commenced the grading of K street from Twenty-sixth to Twenty-seventh street. About 3,000 yards of dirt will be removed. This dirt is being wasted on Twenty-seventh street between I and J streets.

Michael P. Brennan and Miss Grace O'Laughlin were married at St. Bridget's church yesterday morning. Rev. O'Callahan performed the ceremony. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Brennan will reside at Twenty-fifth and M streets.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT DIVIDED

Some People Regard Any Penalty Insufficient for Anticities.

Special Agent F. B. DeFrees of the general land office, who has charge of the illegal fencing investigations in the Alliance land district, is in the city to testify before the federal grand jury. Reference is made to the opinion of the house committee on the Bartlett, Richards and W. G. Constock cases in that locality, he said.

"Public sentiment is somewhat divided in the matter. You will hear a great deal of talk to the effect it is impossible to convict or adequately punish the big cattle-men, and some go so far as to say the whole thing is a farce. The cattlemen as a rule are rather pleased with the result, as they hope for a nominal sentence and fine in their cases. Personally I have not given the matter much attention, as I have had enough to do working up the evidence against the illegal fences. It is a big task and has kept us pretty busy all summer. Some of the fences are coming down, but still a great many unlawful fences are standing. These may come down in time, but we will have to keep after the illegal fences constantly."

HOW ARMY WILL AID POOR

Thanksgiving Dinner Cancelled to Concentrate Efforts on Christmas Feast.

SHOES WILL BE GIVEN TO CHILDREN

Salvationists Will Maintain Relief Fund This Winter—Big Charity Festival to Be Given at Auditorium.

The Salvation Army will give no Thanksgiving dinner in Omaha this year, but will concentrate all its energies in an effort to provide for the poor at Christmas time. Major Galley announced his plans Wednesday.

The army will not serve the usual spread downtown, but will fill baskets with dinners for the average family of five and send them to the poor at Christmas time. In each basket will be a whole fowl, bread, fruits, potatoes and canned goods. A new feature of the Christmas work will be the clothing of the feet of 500 children, or as many of that number as are found in need of shoes. The assistance of the principals of the schools will be asked in getting a list of the children who need shoes and stockings, and especially of those who are compelled to stay away from school on account of lack of footwear.

Arrangements will be made with one of the local dealers and it is expected to secure the shoes at almost the actual cost.

Big Charity Feature. Some time before Christmas, on a date not yet selected, the army will secure the Auditorium for the big charity musical festival, the proceeds of which will go into the Christmas fund. The chorus will be enlarged to twice its present size and will be assisted by Robert Cascard's orchestra. A number of prominent citizens will be on the program for addresses. A committee of representative citizens will assist the army in preparing for the event.

Business men are receiving letters sent out by the army asking donations. The letters on the streets and the box system in stores will be used in raising funds. Subscriptions may be sent to the office in the Bee building at any time.

Major Galley expects to maintain a winter relief fund this winter. During the cold snap of several weeks ago the army had a number of calls for assistance and such requests will be numerous when winter sets in.

The yearly report of the army, giving an account of money received and spent and of work accomplished, is now on the press and will be out in a few days.

CHICAGO CLAIMS THE PRIZE

Windy City Sends Officers for Painting Bertha, Wanted There for Alleged Theft.

Detective James Bell of Chicago arrived in Omaha Wednesday morning with papers for the return of "Painting Bertha" Liebeck to the Windy City. Miss Liebeck will be taken back Thursday morning to answer to the charge of grand larceny. It is stated a complaint has been held against her for some time, charging her with stealing a valuable fur coat from the Marshall Field store.

Chief of Detectives Dunn sent a detective to the Liebeck home Wednesday and located two $100 bills and one $50 bill, which are to be investigated.

When advised she was to be returned to Chicago Miss Liebeck threw herself into hysterics and carried on in a violent manner for some hours.

Announcements of the Theaters.

The regular mid-week popular price feature will be given at the Orpheum theater this afternoon. The bill on for the current week is drawing and scoring big and embracing, as it does, a number of features that are calculated to please the women, a large audience of the fair sex, with whom these matinees are popular, is expected. The spook minstrel is creating a great deal of talk for its excellence. The Loretta trio, horizontal bar performers, includes two of the sweetest and cleverest little girls that have been seen at the cozy vaudeville theater.

In "The School Girl" Leslie Stuart has won almost a great triumph for his music as he did in "Florodora," which is now playing at the Orpheum. The book is by Henry Hamilton and Paul M. Potter, and this pair of clever writers have worked out a libretto that fits perfectly to the air. Mr. Stuart has scored. The critics in New York and Chicago praised the production from end to end last season, pronouncing it one of the great successes of the season. The original production is the one that is coming to Omaha. The dates are the Boyd theater, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings, with a matinee on Tuesday afternoon.

The capacity of the Burwood theater has been tested at each performance so far this week, the interest in "Shenandoah" being unusually strong. The regular shoppers' matinee will be given this afternoon.

M'VANN'S QUARTERLY REPORT

Commercial Club Work of Summer Outlined and Prosperous Condition is Shown.

Secretary E. J. McVann of the Commercial club has prepared his report for the quarter just ended. It shows a membership of 326, composed of 20 active members, ten honorary members and six non-resident members. The report is in part as follows:

There was paid in dues during the quarter $3,677.81. The expenses (salaries, stationery, postage, rent, etc.) were $2,715.98, leaving a balance of $961.83.

The congestion at the principal local retail houses and the failure of the merchants have had attention during the quarter. All specific complaints made by members have been forwarded to the railroad and every effort made to secure improvement. The commissioner sells of several rate reductions secured, which will save money to stock food, hardware and dry goods merchants.

Mr. McVann says three weeks' work was put in assisting the South Omaha interests in resisting a reduction of the live stock rates in Chicago, which would work a great injury to this market.

The commissioner has been in correspondence with a number of factories of various kinds and reports the Springer Paper Bag company and the Vaselec Fur and Robe factories are the most recent acquisitions.

Of hotels he says the facilities in Omaha make it impossible to bring here any conventions of national importance and he has confined his work in that direction to the state and district affairs. Omaha lost the State Foultry Show because Lincoln gave the association the free use of the Auditorium and the rental here could not be figured below $500.

During the quarter 3,000 honorary membership cards were sent to editors in the territory about Omaha.

The Nebraska Telephone company, having ceased printing the list of its Omaha subscribers in the book distributed through the state, Mr. McVann succeeded in getting the company to replace the Omaha list and also to print a tariff of their toll charges.

The restaurant and club features continue to be operated at a good profit. The net returns to date being in excess of $1,500. The average attendance at the luncheon is increasing steadily, amounting to about 149 per day to October 1.

TURKEYS MAY BE IN REACH. Commission Men Rather Scout the Report that Price Will Be Twenty-Five Cents.

Commission men say that there is nothing in the report of one of the Omaha papers that turkeys will go soaring before turkey day and that the price will be 25 cents. The wholesale price of turkeys Wednesday was 15 cents for live turkeys, 10 cents for dressed. A commission man said:

"There are plenty of turkeys and the retail price should not go above 20 cents between now and Thanksgiving day. A carload was received and there appears to be plenty in sight."

An inquiry was received from Seattle for the price on carload lots of turkeys and this market may be called upon to supply the great northwest with its Thanksgiving day dinner.

MRS. SUMMERS GETS DECREE

Wife of District Attorney Freed by Divorce from Cruelty of Husband.

What promised to be a sensational divorce suit to free Nellie Lane Summers from her husband William S. Summers, former United States district attorney, after a married life of nineteen years, was railroaded through Judge Troup's court late Tuesday evening on a same petition charging Summers with cruelty and a mutual agreement for alimony and transfer of certain property. As part of the agreement, Summers made no defense except to deny the charge of cruelty that he had practiced extreme cruelty.

The case is one more demonstration of the ease and rapidity with which divorce is secured in our courts when the parties are willing. The petition was filed just before closing time in the office of the clerk of the district court, and with it the answer of defendant, admitting the marriage, but denying cruelty. With the petition and answer also was a stipulation of the parties that the case should be heard at once.

As soon as the filing stamp was placed on the papers they were taken to Judge Troup's court. The decree evidently had been already drawn up and prepared, for it is quite lengthy. Both parties consenting, the divorce was at once granted, and in the presence of the court, as the decree reads, Summers turned over to his wife or her attorneys, conveyances of certain property in Des Moines.

In her petition, Mrs. Summers sets up that they were married on October 7, 1886, at Des Moines, Ia., and came to Omaha to reside in September, 1895. She charges her husband with long continued and extreme cruelty, causing her to have nervous prostration. Specifications are not entered into. There is one child, Lane S. Summers, aged 16. The decree provides that the mother may visit the son and that he may visit his mother, implying that the father is to direct his movements and oversee his education.

In addition to transferring to Mrs. Summers several pieces of real estate, Summers is to pay her the sum of $2,000 at the rate of $50 a month, but he may pay this in bulk at any time and be discharged of the obligation.

The property transferred is described as the undivided one-sixth of sixteen lots in Campbell Place addition to Des Moines, a half interest in two other pieces of acre property within the corporate limits of Des Moines.

The decree states that Mrs. Summers accepts the settlement made by her husband in lieu of all dower or claim for alimony of any kind.

TROUBLE AT CORNELL COLLEGE. Students Are Expelled and Threatened to Take the Matter into Court.

MOUNT VERNON, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Cornell college at this place is stirred up over a situation that has resulted in the suspension of a number of students and the threat of a number to bring suit against the college authorities. Some of the students, among them Edward Stinson of Red Oak, were suspended for college pranks and were ordered to leave town within twenty-four hours. Stinson claims that he was able and did take before the faculty witnesses to account for every minute of his time during which he is supposed to have come under the displeasure of that body. Yet he was debarred from the college.

Newspaper correspondents at the college have been warned against sending out any specials on the conditions at the college on the claim that it is not for the best interests of the college. A number of students claim they have never been confronted with the charges made against them and with Stinson of Red Oak propose to fight their case in the courts if not given a fair hearing.
