Out a Large Attendance.

Indications Are that Ticket Will Be Satisfactory and No Other Nominations for Exchange Officers Will Be Made.

Priday afternoon the South Omaha Live Stock exchange met and nominated officers to be voted on January 1. Owing to the fact that there were four candidates in the field, representing the two factions at the exchange, more than usual interest was taken in the nominations. The candidates for president were Captain D. S. Parkhurst, D. B. Olney, John Fitz Roberts and Jay Laverty. Prior to the calling of the exchange meeting to order at 2 p m the two factions were hustling for votes with a great deal of carnestness. When the exchange did meet eighty-five members were present, the largest number that had attended a meeting in a good many months. After sparring for a time a compromise ticket was selected. D. S. Parkhurst was nominated for president and Al Powell for vice president. Directors to serve for three years were Gus Ingwerson, Sol Degan and W. B. Tagg. A committee was appointed to name a board of appeals and an arbitration committee. Each of these boards is composed of five members. Within a few days the committee will make the ninations for these boards. After the meeting the members of the exchange stated that there would hardly se another ticket placed in the field, as is filled and about three dozen men are working on the foundation of the new freight depot. The dirt taken from the site of COMPROMISE TICKET IS AGREED UPON the new depot is being dumped into the original site. Large quantities of material are on the ground, including pressed brick for the exterior walls. Work on this building is being pushed as rapidly as the weather will permit. At the passenger station a few men are at work, but the concrete foundations cannot be laid until the weather gets a little warmer. There seems to be no possibility now of either of these buildings being under roof by January 1, as was contemplated.

Supplies for City's Use.

City Clerk Gillin is preparing notices to be sent to the heads of all city departments requesting a statement of the amount and kind of supplies needed for the year ommencing January 1. As soon as it is known what is needed the clerk will advertise for bids for these supplies. Printed matter is about the most expensive of the supplies needed and it will be necessary for the heads of departments to check over what stock they have on hand and make an estimate of the amount and kind needed to last for a year. In the case of letterheads for the use of the officials no very large amounts will be ordered at this time as there is a city election coming in April and there is sure to be some different names on the official stationery. This will not interfere, however, with the letting of contracts for a year, Christian Association Subscriptions.

Last night $2,290 had been pledged to the local Young Men's Christian association for larger quarters. Some pledges are yet to be heard from and when these are in the amount desired will be made up. The hustling committees are still at work and will keep at it for several days yet in order hat there may be an over-subscription in place of securing less than the amount erded. Enough maney is now in sight for the contracts for the erection of a gymnasium building and for the furnishings needed for the new rooms.

Installation of Diaconate. Sunday evening at the First Presbyterian chuch the diaconate will be installed with proper ceremony. The deacons and deaconesses to be installed are: Miss Kate Gummill, Mrs. A. Kells, Mrs. John Caughey. Mrs. W. J. McBurney, John Caughey, C. D. Wilson, Dr. William C. Bentz and Edwin Hill. This installution will be public and will occur at the close of the sermon.

HONORS TO GRIDIRON VICTORS Entertainment Complimentary

Eleven. The public entertainment given at the Lyric theater in the Rohrbough block Friday evening in honor of the Omaha Commercial college foot ball team, fresh from its laurels as the champions of the state was graced with a large attendance in spite of the snowy night.

Omaha Commercial College

The program opened with a selection by the college orchestra, under the leadership of Mrs. Lena Ellsworth Dale, which was excellently given. M. G. Rohrbough, president of the college, them spoke briefly of the purpose of the entertainment and addressed his remarks frequently to the mem bers of the foot ball team, who occupied the lower boxes on each side of the stage. He thought the question of foot ball was a debatable one as an accessory to school work, yet at the same time there was no question as to the game affording a pleasing relaxation from study. "The members of the Omaha Commercial college team, he said, "were perfect gentlemen," and he could attest to the fact that their love of foot ball did not interfere with their studies. On the contrary, they were all among the best and brightest pupils of the college. He thanked the members for the record they had made as champions of the state of Nebraska, and the honor their general conduct reflected upon the college. The college chorus, assisted by the Hanscom Park church choir, sang with pleasing effect "Oh, Italia Beloved." Superintendent W. M. Davidson of the Omaba public schools followed with a short address on "College Athletics," in which the association officers to go ahead and let | he said: "I am a firm believer in healthful sports in our high schools, colleges and universities, such as will particularly call out the energy, manhood and girlhood of the students. There are certain ethical principles connected with foot ball. It teaches the player implicit obedience whereby the player subordinates his individuality to the direction of the captain of his team. It has an impelling interest and is the one great sport which enlivens the entire student body and brings the school up to a higher degree of intellectuality. I do not believe in that character of foot ball that becomes a slugging match or a prize fight, but would suggest a modification of the game and divest it of many of its dangerous features. Too many persons are injured or killed in the practice of the rougher character of the game and these reprehensible features of the game are too often winked at by the officers of the schools and universities and the members of the athletic boards. I heartily commend that spirit of the game which impels the players to go in and win, but win

tion to Sell.

Joe Johnson and his wife, known as Mary St. Cyr, recently indicted jointly for introducing liquor onto the Winnebago Indian reservation, entered a joint plea of guilty before Judge Munger in the United States district court Friday afternoon. Jos Johnson was thereupon sentenced to eight months' imprisonment in the Doughas county juil and to pay a fine of $100. Judge Munger declined to pass sentence upon the wife on the ground that under the common law she was supposed to be under the direction of her husband and ould not be held guilty of any act which she may have committed jointly with him and by his direction. Had her act of taking liquor onto the reservation been of her own volition and an independent act she would have become amenable, but under the present circumstances it was shown that she was acting under the derection of

SNEAKTHIEF ROBS A SAFE Secures One Hundred Thirty-Eight Dollars from Strong Box of

H. Eisele. Under the guise of a beggar an unidentified party robbed the safe in the H. Eisele assay office at 1511 Dodge street at 11:20 yesterday. The man pretends to be deaf and dumb, and in this instance carried a letter of recommendation. He came into the small office and passed through to the laboratory, where Mr. Eisele was at work. In the small office the safe was left open. Both Mr. Eisele and his daughten were busy in the larger room. When the letter was presented Mr. Etsele dismissed the stranger, who retired the way he had come and in a few minutes a customer entered and when some change was needed the loss was discovered. The thief had made way with $138 in cash and a check for $8. He left a large quantity of leaf gold and prepared silver which Eisele has for the dental trade. On securing the money from the safe the man immediately slipped out of the building, for an inquiry in the other offices showed that he had visited none of Rig Internal Revenues.

The internal revenues.

The internal revenue collections for November in this district are the largest since 1903. The total collections for the month of November, 1905, are $243,422, as against $186,804 for November, 1904. The increase is largely in distilled spirits. There was, it is true, a slight increase in the tohacco and eight tax receipts, but the chief increase was in spirits.
