Thanksgiving set the gauge for things last week, socially, and excepting a very few pretentious things among which the Kennedy-Pritchett wedding came first, of Mrs. Frank Brown. everything was informal. A half dozen little teas limited to intimates or at most, congenials, a few luncheons and club meetings and a dancing party or two were all. Thanksgiving day was more than usually quiet. There were scores of family dinner parties, so many in fact that it would have been difficult to have gotten up any other kind. A general home-coming of college folks for the holidays is anticipated this year, a majority of the Omaha young people who are away at school being expected home for Christmas. Another fortnight and they will have the reins again and, judging from some of the plans as announced to their parents by letter recently, they will hit their usual lively pace soon after their arrival and keep it up until it is time to go back to school again. One society mother has had instruction from an only son to arrange for a dancing party "Christmas eve, if possible, and some place where there will be room for a lot of us to dance and have supper." Another mother is holding some of her own plans in abeyance pending more definite information from a daughter at the State university, who has written that she. About seventy-five couples were in attendance, including the most exclusive colored people in Omaha. Punch was served during the evening by the young members of the church, while Futher John Albert Williams acted as doorkeeper. Music was furnished by the Desdune orchestra, a new organization in Omaha which is rapidly making a reputation for itself. A better dressed crowd of colored people, it is said, never assembled in Omaha. The debt on the rectory is only about $200, and the proceeds from the dance will materially

My Dear Madam President: The child labor committee would remind you of the resolutions adopted at St. Louis in regard to our efforts to ameliorate the working conditions for children—

"To concentrate upon the passage of laws covering these points: (1) That children under the age of 16 years should not work between the hours of 7 p. m. and 7 a. m. (2) That children should not work who cannot read and write in the English language.

(3) Instanties should not work who cannot read and write in the English language.
(3) In states in which these two points are already covered by effective laws the adoption of the standard child labor law is recommended, including the newsboys

Immigration Officials Break Up Family of Behemians at Baltimore.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD IS HELD TO BE AN IDIOT

Father, Mother and Seven Children Were Coming to South Omahs, but Only Father and Six Children Arrive Here.

An incident which recently transpired at Baltimore, affecting a family at present residents in South Omaha, indicates the very stringent character of the United States laws governing immigration. Anton Machal, a Bohemian, had a family of seven children, the oldest of whom, a boy, has been in this country for some time, employed at South Omaha. Last month the emaining members of the family-father, mother and seven children-arrived at Baltimore on the steamer Brandenburg. The youngest child, Franz, aged 4, was not allowed to land, on the ground that he is an idiot. Because of his tender age Mrs. Machal was also denied admittance to this country, it being held that she is the guardian of the child. With her child she was ordered deported back to the port from whence she came. The rest of the family was permitted to land and are now with friends in South Omaka, having arrived on Thursday,

Through the friends of the Machals in this city Edward Rosewater was interested in the case and took it up with the Immigration officials. He presented to the department the claim of the family that the child Franz is not an idiot, but is only dear and dumb as the result of an accident by which his head was hurt when he was a baby.

Metcalfe Says No Appeal.

Mr. Rosewater has now received letters and telegrams from Secretary Metcalf of the official findings. Two doctors ceritfied that the child is an idiot and should be

In his letter the commissioner of immievening of December 7, at gration quotes the law at some length, and its strict provisions will be of interest to many people in this vicinity. Section 2 of the act provides for the exclusion of 'idiots," among others, and section 10 makes the decision of the board of special inquiry final. Under section 11 the protector or guardian of the excluded person must be returned with him or her, at the expense of the steamship company that brought them over. The classes to be excluded are: Idiots, epileptics, Insane. paupers, those likely to become a public charge, professional beggars, those having a loathsome or contagious disease, persons convicted of a felony, polygamists, anarchists, prostitutes and persons bringing others here for immoral purposes, contract laborers, and also any person whose ticket or passage is paid for with the money of another, or who is assisted by others to come, unless it is affirmatively proven that such person does not belong to one of the work for their reform.

Besides procuring the actual passage of laws wherever needed and possible the committee would urge the continuance and increase of earnest, quiet work in the formation of correct public opinion upon the subject of child labor.
