Mutiny in Baltie Provinces,

The Associated Press has just learned from a high authority that the situation in the Baltic provinces has grown exceedingly grave and that the troops at Reval and neighborhood are in open mutiny. This was the real cause of the extraordinary cabinet meeting which was held at Tsarskee-Selo last night. All attempts to secure details of the uprising have thus far falled. According to reports, the attitude of troops in the Baltic provinces is regarded by the government as the most dangerous factor that has thus far developed.

A strike of the policemen and house porters of St. Petersburg is scheduled for tomorrow (Sunday). Count Witte continues to refuse to deal with the telegraphers, declaring that for the government to yield would be equivalent to its abdication. Nevertheless the surrender of the government to their demand for the dismissal of M. Durnovo, acting minister of the interior, is regarded as inevitable.

Instructions to the governors and the local authorities are being sent with great difficulty over the rallroad lines.

Nebraska Insurance Men Say Figures in Resolution Do Not State case Fairly.

EXPENSES ARE NOT DISPROPORTIONATE

Statement Says That Cost of Writing New Business by Home Companies is Generally Lower Than by Foreign.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 3.—(Special.)—Lead ing representatives of Nebraska life insurance companies in Lincoln deny the allegations of the Nebraska underwriters in the resolution adopted yesterday at Omaha that the expenses are disproportionate. The impression prevails to a considerable extent that the authors of the resolution are trying to start a back-fire against local companies in an effort to draw public attention from the big corporations which are being investigated. The demand for a special session of the legislature to investigate the home companies is not taken seriously and it is not believed that Governor Mickey will regard it necessary to give any special consideration to the demand, and that If a special session is to be called it will be for some more weighty

The president of one of the leading Nereference to the resolution embodying the underwriters' demands: This is the situation: The Underwriters' association does not belong to the state, except in name. It comprises a lot of men representing foreign companies. We have reached a point where the home companies do one-half the business written in the state. Ten years ago the home companies did one-tenth of the total business. The progress made represents a heavy inroad by the home corporations into the carnings of those having headquarters in other of those having headquarters in other states. Today the people of Nebrasks are buying their insurance at home and it is this competition which hurts the underwriters. They are trying to create the impression that the home companies are unsound by the way of retailation.

A peculiar thing about this resolution is that the men who adopted it did not represent

A peculiar thing about this resolution is that the men who adopted it did not represent any of the big New York companies, which are being investigated. These men represent companies from other states. It looks to me that to be consistent they should have adopted resolutions calling on the governors of their home states to investigate them in order that the Nebraska people who buy insurance from their was people who buy insurance from them may have information as to whether or not tree carry sufficient reserves for the protection of policy holders.

Their allegations as to the expenses of the Nebruska companies are intrue, except in a very technical sense. In their computation they spread the expense over all of the business, old and new. The fair way to compute the cost is to figure the new expense on the new business, and that the Nebruska companies are getting policy helders at a lower rate by far than any of the enstern companies. The expense of our company on new business is $55 at housand, while other Nebruska companies are also low. For the eastern companies it runs as high as $70. I know of one which has an expense per thousand as low as $50, but that is an exception. There is a pretty strong sentiment that the state officials, upon whom the demand charges can be adduced. It is pointed out action of the Underwriter's asso clation may have been hasty, since it will provoke the home companies to demand of the auditor that he have the foreign companies examined by actuaries before issuing new licenses to them for 1960. Such examinations must be paid for by the any considerable embarrassment should be ssue such an order. It has not been the practice of the department to make such Insurance Deputy Pierce of the state auditor's office has started for New York to meet with the insurance commissioners of several states, under whose direction the actuaries have been looking into the affairs of the New York Life, which was the first of the "Big Three" to be singled cut for examination. R. E. Folk, the Tennessee commissioner, who is the chairman the investigating committee, has anunced that the meeting will be held December 9, but Mr. Pierce is anxious to be on the ground early. He expects to spend a week in the work. Examiner ii. Wiggins has been at work with the actuaries of other states for over a month. Mr. Pierce will have an extended conference with him and Mr. Wolfe, the principal actuary. Among other things, the oppeal with insults, and the rebels opened program outlined for the commissioners included an oral examination of the officers of the New York Life, including The Agofs replied with deadly volleys and President McCall. Commissioner Host of Wisconsin is quoted as saying that the commissioners surrendered and were conveyed to their will meet with President Roosevelt to confer as to some means of bringing order out of the insurance chaos due to the New York upheaval. Mr. Pierce had no definite knowledge, except from press reports, but thought it likely that some representative of the president would be present at a conference. The problem of federal control may be discussed.

He dwelt particularly upon the proneness to critclam of the living, which turns later to fulsome eulogy of the dead and bespoke a broader charity among men for the frailities of their fellows. "We are quite too apt," said Senator Allen, "in the stress of the conflict of life to condemn men without knowing all of the truth respecting them. Envy and jealousy frequently prompt defamation of the living, the staining of character and the saddening of lives by the poison of slander, only to discover after the victim is dead that he was a very good man. competitive classified service and no system has been established by which these who have distinguished themselves in the service can be promoted to the more important offices, and at the same time enjoy reasonable security of tenure.

There is not sufficient inducement for the most capable men to enter the examinations, as they can do better by seeking employment in large corporations, trusts and other institutions, where they can in time command much higher salaries than they can ever hope to secure in the government service.

Protest from Seed Men. Thirty of the leading seed dealers of the country have sent President Roosevelt a petition protesting against the free distribution of seeds by members of congress and urging him to include in his message a paragraph disapproving the present practice and recommending that only the intent of the original act authorizing seed distribution be the future policy. This intent, the petition says, was that the seeds should be obtained from remote corners of the earth and be unknown to the people of this country and be for the purpose of increasing the wealth of the nation. The petitioners allege that the present practice is "a grievous restraint trade" and the United States should abolish the practice as unfair, as class legislation and unbecoming a great gov-

DEATH RECORD.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Dec. L-Dr. Ernest J. Meiere, who was a surgeon in the United States army when the civil war broke out, but went to the confederacy, died here today of pneumonia, aged 75 ears. Meiere was appointed consul at Amoy, China, in 1886 by President Cleveland, but resigned, it is said, because President Cleveland demanded that he apologize to an army lieutenant whom the doctor struck for refusing his proffered hand in Washington when meeting on the street, Dr. Meiere was a member of a prominent Maryland family and was married to a daughter of Admiral Buchahan. Prestdent Lincoln presented the bride at the wedding. Dr. Melere has lived in Colorado twentyfive years, practicing medicine here and at Leadville. Two children survive him.
