Hundreds and hundreds of men in the west, in all walks of life, have been cured of the liquor habit at the Keeley Institute. They are all our grateful friends now.

In every county in the state of Nebraska we can refer you to some reliable man who has been treated successfully at this institute for the liquor habit.

The Very Best Men in this State Recommend It.

A Homelike Place Where Men Are Cured Without Publicity

P. D. ARMOUR says:

"I have sent about two hundred of my employees, from butchers to foremen, and all have been permanently cured. (From a personal letter to Dr. Keeley.) I do not think there is any one thing or any one man who ever did the good to humanity that you are doing with your cure." P. D. ARMOUR, Chicago, Ill. Late head of the Armour Packing Co.

There are no bad after effects as a result of the Keeley Cure. There is absolutely nothing in the treatment which can injure the patient, on the contrary, there is every aid to improve the general health.

There is a house physician in constant attendance, whose sole business is to give the patients the most careful personal attention.

Ex-Gov. Matthews says:

"This Keeley Treatment and Keeley Cure has now passed beyond the experimental stage, and it is a fixed and absolute fact a tremendous per cent of inebriety can be cured." Ex-Gov. Claude Matthews of Indiana.

MAKES WAR ON ASSESSMENTS

State Superintendent McBrien Writes Letter to Treasurer Hennings.

EMPLOYEES OF OFFICE WILL NO LONGER PAY

H. C. Lindsay Explains That If Men Who Benefit from Campaigns Do Not Pay Securing Cash May Be Difficult.

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 6.—Today J. L. McBrien, the state superintendent, declared war on political assessments on his deputies and employees in a letter to Treasurer A. H. Hennings of the republican state central committee. McBrien has made no contributions to the campaign fund, although he will continue to pay his assessment. He says that in the past his department paid every contribution levied, but he is opposed to the practice on the ground that the office ought to be conducted on non-partisan lines and points for justification to the exemption of the members of the state university faculty from the demand for contributions. He repeats the $200 assessment sent to the committee sent by his stenographer, Miss Jennie Adams, the only person in his office who responded to the 1905 call for funds, and encloses the receipt to Mr. Hennings with a check for $200 in payment of the $200 assessment.

He protests against the publicity given to those officials who failed to pay promptly, saying "much publicity should never be used as a whip to force contributions from underpaid and overworked public servants." Mr. McBrien has shown his leaning toward non-partisanship by retaining Miss Adams, whose relatives are fusionists. She was appointed by former Superintendent Fowler. McBrien has emphasized his position recently by naming an additional stenographer for the state examining committee whose antecedents are democratic.

H. C. Lindsay, the financial solicitor for the state committee, when shown the McBrien letter, stated that the doctrine advanced would make it difficult to run a campaign. He stated that in his opinion it is only fair that political officers should pay their assessments for the support of the campaign organization. He called attention to the fact that Mr. McBrien had failed to pay $200 of the $200 assessment levied against him last year. He said that Governor Mickey had paid his $200 assessment and Treasurer Mortenson one for $200, but other heads of departments seemed to have some agreement that they would pay only half of the assessment levied against them, and the records of the committee show that there is still due on the last year's assessment $130 from State Superintendent McBrien, $130 from Auditor Searle, $100 from Secretary of State Gilchua, $110 from Land

Commissioner Eaton and $100 from Attorney General Brown.

Conference as to Omaha Affairs.

Today Edward Rosewater and three members of the Omaha Board of Fire and Police Commissioners met in the office of Governor Mickey to confer with him relative to the licensing of saloons in the proscribed district of Omaha, which has been protested against by Mr. Rosewater and other Omaha citizens. Mr. Rosewater told the governor that he thought the practice was bad and asked that he use his influence, as the appointing power of the board, to prevent the issuance of licenses to liquor dealers in that section of the city. The commissioners—Dr. Miller, W. J. Broatch and Lee Spratlan—insisted that Chief of Police Donahue was doing the proper thing. Governor Mickey said he would rely on the judgment of the commissioners.

Search for Undertaker.

Lincoln sleuths are looking for Harry C. Rollins, who moved to Lincoln several months ago and opened an undertaking establishment. Trade was dull, so he married a woman and disappeared. He cultivated the acquaintance of Undertaker Healey in Omaha and sought a position in the Creighton medical college. He was last heard of at Crete. Several debts are outstanding, it is said. Rollins declared he was a son of a wealthy undertaker of Denver. Investigation disclosed that the latter was a bachelor.

Two Laws Invalid.

In opinions written by Judge Sedgwick the supreme court urges that the legislative body lacks the power to extend the terms of county officers or to appoint them, as recited in the memorandum decision holding the new register of deeds and county supervisor election laws invalid some time ago. The cases are those from Gage and Buffalo counties. Judge Barnes, dissenting, says the legislative body would not be set aside by judicial opinion.

Grain Trusts Cases Submitted.

The suit of the State of Nebraska against the Nebraska Grain Dealers' Association was today submitted to the supreme court on briefs without oral argument.

Suicide Clause Inoperative.

In the case of Louisa Lange against the Royal Highlanders, from Seaward county the supreme court holds that a suicide forfeiture clause in a certificate is not operative, saying: "The edict is merely a by-law of the society which lacks the power to extend the terms of county officers or to appoint them, as recited in the memorandum decision holding the new register of deeds and county supervisor election laws invalid some time ago. The cases are those from Gage and Buffalo counties. Judge Barnes, dissenting, says the legislative body would not be set aside by judicial opinion." The case of Dell Titterton, a Lincoln county man sentenced to the penitentiary for three years for cattle stealing, is reversed.

Medical Statute Valid.

The supreme court upholds the validity of the medical statute attacked by Erick Munk and D. G. Walker of Platte county, who were arrested for practicing after their certificates had been revoked by the State Medical board. It was alleged that the act was unconstitutional, because it did not require the fees received by the officials of the board to be paid into the state treasury or accounted for.

The sheriff was notified and last night when the westbound passenger pulled in the sheriff got on the train and his man also got on. He had forged the agent's name to a pass for Seattle, Wash., and between Johnston and Woodlake the sheriff took charge of his man and he gave up everything and this morning the sheriff took his prisoner before the county judge and he pleaded guilty and was bound over to the district court. County Attorney Ely says the judge will be here in a few days to pass sentence.

Railroad Men Released.

SCHUYLER, Neb., Dec. 6.—(Special Telegram.)—Judge Reader came down from Columbus today and held court to hear the petition of John Glynn and Fred Peterson, engineer and conductor of Union Pacific train No. 10, who were fined for violating the speed ordinance, for a writ of habeas corpus. The men were fined $50 and costs Monday by V. W. Sutherland, a justice of the peace appointed as special judge by the mayor to hear the case. The mayor held that M. Zentmeyer, the regular police judge, was not qualified to sit on the case, as the city attorney had filed an affidavit with him stating that Zentmeyer had been acting as legal representative for the railroad company here and carried a pass. After hearing the evidence introduced, Judge Reader discharged the prisoners, holding that the single affidavit filed with the mayor was not sufficient to disqualify the regular police judge and therefore the action of the special police judge was void. Glynn and Peterson were immediately arrested on the same charge and the trial was postponed until the 15th inst. Bonds for appearance, with E. F. Folds, as surety. Police Judge Zentmeyer tendered his resignation to the mayor as a result of the trouble.
