

ASK HUNTINGTON TO STAY

Trustees of Wesleyan University Loath to Lose His Services.

PROPOSE TO MAKE HIS WORK EASIER

Supreme Court Refuses to Vacate Injunction Restraining the Extension of Prospect Hill Cemetery in City of Omaha.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Dec. 7.—(Special.)—This afternoon the committee of the Wesleyan trustees appointed to consider the resignation of Chancellor Huntington adopted a resolution calling on the aged college executive to reconsider his resignation with the understanding that the trustees would relieve him of the heavy burdens of the field work, consisting in part in the collection of funds and in meeting prospective students. This movement was taken on the initiative of Governor Mickey, who is the chairman of the committee, which will meet again December 17 to take up the matter. Chancellor Huntington agreed to take the request under advisement. The members of the committee reported that they had received advice from many sources out in the state indicating that Methodists are reluctant to have Dr. Huntington leave.

The following persons are members of the committee which has the matter under consideration: Governor Mickey, Chancellor Huntington, Dr. H. Hurst Millard, Columbus; Dr. C. W. Ray, Alliance; John H. Stewart, Lincoln; A. L. Johnson, Crete; J. W. Isham, University Place; John A. Slater, Minden; Dr. William Gort, Omaha.

The three last named members of the main committee constitute a subcommittee to assist in the choice of a chancellor should Dr. Huntington finally conclude to withdraw entirely from the work. Dr. Gort was absent from the meeting.

Because Juror Slept.

One of the main points urged in the demand for a new trial in the case of State against Winfield S. Haddix, from Custer county, which has been appealed to the supreme court, is the allegation that one of the jurors, named Olson, slept during a portion of the testimony. Several affidavits are included in the record to prove the contention that the trial of facts was nothing and was about to be prodded into wakefulness by the watchful sheriff when sleep left his eyes. The controversy is as to whether he was really asleep or only in profound thought, with his head resting on his hand.

Not to Vacate Injunction.

In an opinion prepared by Chief Justice Holcomb the supreme court has refused to accede to the ruling of the Douglas county district court vacating the injunction order secured several years ago by Jesse Root et al. against the Prospect Hill Cemetery association to prevent the extension of the burial grounds. In the original suit the plaintiffs claimed that their wells were threatened with contamination because of the proposed extension of the cemetery and a perpetual injunction issued. The ground on which Judge Holcomb bases his decision is the failure of the cemetery association to show that the "threatened injury has been certainly overcome, not that it possibly may be."

He states that several people in that section of the city are dependent on wells for their water supply and refers to the testimony showing the possibility of infection. One of the arguments in behalf of the motion to vacate, was that an ordinance of the city had required that graves in the extension be cemented and made water proof. The chief justice says that the record shows that this is not a mandatory regulation and there was no certainty that it would be enforced in every instance.

Highlander By-Laws Effective.

Commenting on the decision of the supreme court to the effect that a suit clause enacted by the executive castle in 1901 was not effective because the legislative body was not representative at that time, President W. E. Sharp of the order stated today that the edicts are well in force now, having been re-enacted at the recent Denver executive castle meeting, which was truly representative.

Needs Many Teachers.

State Superintendent McBride has announced that there are places for 100 high school graduates with common sense in the western counties of the state, at salaries ranging from $35 to $40. No one without out the high school training will be considered as an applicant.

BUDNEK CASE DRAWS A CROWD

Indications Defense Will Plead Great Provocation.

HASTINGS, Neb., Dec. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—The district court room was crowded with spectators today who were anxious to hear the case of John Budnek, who is charged with shooting his brother-in-law, Peter Smeal, with intent to kill. The entire forenoon was taken up in securing a jury. At 1:30 this afternoon the county attorney made a brief opening statement outlining the testimony which he proposed to offer and which he said would show that Budnek fired the shots for the purpose of killing Smeal. The testimony of the witnesses for the state was all substantially the same as was given at the preliminary hearing a few weeks ago.

The chief interest in the case centers in the defense. Mr. Stevens, the attorney for Budnek, did little cross-examining. As to the shooting having been done by Budnek there is, of course, no doubt. It is expected, however, that the defense will produce some testimony which will tend to show that a serious feud existed in the family and that Budnek was provoked to make the deed.

The defendant was attentive throughout the examination and frequently smiled and laughed. The case will be resumed tomorrow morning.

Child Returns to Mother.

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., Dec. 7.—(Special.)—About three years ago Rev. J. W. Swan, then a resident of this city, but now in University Place, and one of the staff of the New York Children's Home society, accompanied a number of children from New York City to Nebraska, where he secured good homes for them. Among the number was little Clara Heubrock, who was given to Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas in Louisville, in this county, which has since been her happy home. At a very tender age Clara's father died and her mother, owing to misfortunes, found it necessary to part with her daughter, so she placed her with the New York Children's Home society, which institution has found homes for thousands of orphan children. Some time since the society was informed by Clara's mother that she was remarried and had a comfortable home, and with a mother's love, asked that her daughter be returned to her. Rev. J. W. Swan was informed of the facts by the society and reported the same to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and to their adopted daughter. Miss Clara, although without having any remembrance of her mother, was willing to return to her, but it was some time before Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, who had learned to love her as their own child, could decide to part with her, but with much reluctance they finally consented. Miss Clara Handbrook has departed for New York City and was accompanied as far as Omaha by her foster parents and Rev. J. W. Swan.

Libel Suit Grows Out of Campaign.

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Dec. 7.—(Special.)—What promises to be an interesting case of libel will be brought up next term on the criminal court docket. The affair assumed shape during the last political campaign in this county, but according to the defendant there is some personal feeling dating farther back mixed up in the matter. Judge Shinn, who ran on the Independent ticket for county judge and was defeated by A. R. Humphrey, has brought suit against Judge J. R. Rhodes of Ansley for defamation of character. A certain article appeared in the Ansley Chronicle during the campaign which Shinn seriously objected to, alleging that Rhodes was the author of it, hence the trouble. The defendant went before Justice G. Schweid yesterday afternoon and had his bonds fixed at $200, but was released on his own recognizance.

Baby Found on Doorstep.

HASTINGS, Neb., Dec. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—A pretty, blue-eyed baby, apparently about 2 weeks old, was found last night snugly packed in a suit case on the porch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Palm, 300 West Fourth street. Pinned to its clothes was a note in a woman's handwriting reading:

"Please take your baby. My name is Carl, Jr. I was born November 19. I have no home. I will never see my mamma again. Be good to me."

Tekamah Commercial Club Meets.

TEKAMAH, Neb., Dec. 7.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Commercial club of this city held last night the following committee of five were appointed to confer with a like committee from Decatur regarding the proposed railroad between these two towns: J. P. Latta, C. W. Conkling, R. A. Temple-

ENGLISHMAN COMES TO RESCUE

York Man Finds Himself Up Against Hard Combination.

YORK, Neb., Dec. 7.—(Special.)—On returning home after shipping a trainload of fat cattle to market Hon. Charles Kickey said: "I am done with cattle feeding and cattle raising. I will never raise or fatten any more cattle as long as the Beef trust dictates prices and I am at their mercy."

Mr. Kickey's experience justified his termination to quit the business. He shipped a trainload of fine cattle, fattened on York county alfalfa and corn to St. Joseph, arriving in the yards in the morning and never received a bid until closing time in the afternoon, and the only bid was $4.00, which was refused, and immediately reloaded and shipped to Chicago, realizing that telegrams would be sent to Chicago meat trust buyers and chances were all against him getting any better price. Fortunately for Mr. Kickey there happened to be at the time the cattle arrived an English buyer, who purchased his cattle for export, paying him $5.50 to $6. At the price the meat trust is selling dressed beef in England this buyer said he could afford to pay the price, kill his beef around the water and make money.

Mr. Kickey says that since the meat trust has dictated the price of cattle he has lost over $7,000.

SICK WOMAN WANDERS FROM HOME

Badly Frozen and Lacerated When Found and Likely to Die.

BEATRICE, Neb., Dec. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Considerable excitement prevailed in the little town of Virginia this morning over the sudden disappearance of Mrs. George Stump from her home. Mrs. Stump, who has been ill of typhoid fever, arose at an early hour in a delirium and left the house in her night clothes. When her husband missed her about 8 o'clock he gave the alarm and searching parties immediately started out to look for the missing woman. She was found at noon about a mile from her home, lying in an unconscious condition on the ice in a small ditch, her night clothes being caught on a barbed wire fence. The supposition is that she slipped and became entangled in the barbed wire, as her hands were badly cut and frozen. Her condition is very critical.

ROBBERS AT PLANKINGTON

Masked Men Hold Up Restaurant and Escape in a Crowd.

MITCHELL, S. D., Dec. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—At 11:30 o'clock last night two masked men went into the Plankington cafe and held up a crowd of men, numbering about fifteen. With drawn revolvers they ordered the men to line up against the wall with hands up. While one stood guard the other went through the pockets of the individuals and took what money they had, leaving watches and other valuables alone. The hold-up artists realized about $75 on the raid, the restaurant cash register and safe yielding over $50.

The men made their escape without any trouble, although there was a crowd of twenty-five men on the opposite side of the street when they emerged leisurely from the cafe and escaped in the darkness.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

The Omaha Congress of Mothers met Wednesday afternoon at the Young Women's Christian association rooms. Mrs. George Tilden presiding. Reports from several school circles were a feature of the meeting. No meetings were held in the southeast part of the city, but three other circles have met. Lothrop school circle, Mrs. C. E. Llewellyn president, met and organized November 14 with about seventy-five women present. The South Omaha circle organized November 17, with Mrs. Berry chairman and about sixty mothers present. The South Omaha women will hold their next meeting January 5. The mothers of Dupont school met last week, effecting an organization with twenty-one members. The Dupont circle will meet again this afternoon at the close of the afternoon session. The program will consist of a recital of Christmas customs and Christmas stories from the various countries by the women. Refreshments will be served. It is expected that the other circles will organize immediately after the holidays, but few of the mothers will have time for outside work before that time.

According to the St. Paul papers it is probable that the army will be used instead of the People's church for the sessions of the St. Paul biennial of the General Federation of Women's Clubs next spring as formerly announced. The change is desirable owing to the proximity of the army to the old capital building, which is to be used as headquarters for the women, and also because of its large seating capacity of between 3,000 and 4,000. Preparation is being made for 5,000 guests. Over 3,000 delegates are expected, and the unofficial guests will swell the number to 5,000 or more unless the St. Paul meeting proves less attractive than the past two biennials have been. A conference of the board of directors of the General Federation is scheduled for February in Chicago, and at that time the plans of the local board will be acted upon. The biennial opens May 30 and continues through ten days. June 6 will probably be celebrated as Minneapolis day, when the visiting women will be entertained in that city. It is probable that that day will also be celebrated by the playing of an avenue of trees between the two cities as a memento of the club women and the eighth biennial.

At the recent meeting of the Travelers' Aid Society of Philadelphia, 6,754 girls and women were reported taken care of by agents of the society during the past year. Interesting reports were read by agents who attend the railway stations night and day to assist women and girls who are traveling alone. Many cases of runaway girls and belated strangers were reported, to each and all of which assistance had been given. The headquarters of the Travelers' Aid has come to be a familiar one in the railway stations of most of the larger cities and many of the smaller ones.

The December meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Freeman P. Kirkendall. In the absence of the chapter regent, Mrs. R. C. Hoyt, Mrs. J. W. Griffith, vice regent, presided during the business hour. The program which followed was in charge of Mrs. Edward Porter Peck. Luncheon was served later. Mrs. Kirkendall was assisted by Mrs. W. B. Millard, Mrs. C. M. Wilhelm, Mrs. Bancker, Miss Battin, Mrs. J. J. Smith, Mrs. Pratt, Miss Adams, Miss Fannie Adams, Mrs. F. E. Hall and Miss Hamilton.

In a recent issue of the Federation Bulletin, a state federation president makes a plea for the protection of birds and she shifts the responsibility upon the men as follows:

I believe the people who are to blame for this are our brothers, the men. We have been told by eminent authority that it is our duty to protect the birds. We are to blame for the increase of divorce, that race suicide is our fault. Mr. Melville Stone says we are responsible for yellow journalism. Ben Greet says women make the impure stage. We have all these heavy burdens to bear, but this one is yours, dear gentlemen. If you did not shoot the birds, we could not wear them. I believe there was never a woman in the world so hard-headed that she would do what you do, tear the feathers from the bleeding breast of the live bird, the little ones that starve for want of food. Besides, you could stop this in another way. When your fair lady comes down with her new Christmas hat, just hint to her that you like new ostrich plumes and ribbon so much better than dead bodies. We dress to please you all ways. If there were no men in the world, we should wear mother Hubbards and blankets. Gentlemen, this is your reform. We will agree to help you, but you must take the lead.

The civil service reform committee of the General Federation of Women's clubs has issued a call for an annual civil service program in clubs all over the United States. The program last January was so generally successful that it is desired to continue the plan.

OLD PEOPLE CONSTANT SUFFERERS

IN WINTER

Most old people are great sufferers in winter. They are seldom free from pains or ailments of some description, because they are not as able to withstand the severity of the climate, with its damp, changing weather, as are their younger, more vigorous companions. Cold weather starts the old aches and pains; they suffer with chilly sensations, cold extremities, poor appetite and digestion, nervousness, sleeplessness and other afflictions peculiar to old age. With advancing years the strength and vitality of the system begin to decline. The heart action is weak and irregular, the blood becomes thin and sluggish in its circulation, and often some old blood taint that has lain dormant in the system for years begins to manifest itself. A wart or pimple becomes a troublesome sore or ulcer, skin diseases break out, or the slightest rheumatic pains felt in younger days now cause sleepless nights and hours of agony. There is no reason why old age should not be healthy and free from disease if the blood is kept pure and the system strong, and this can be done with S. S. S. It is a medicine that is especially adapted to old people, because it is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, selected for their purifying, healing and building-up properties, and is very mild and gentle in its action. S. S. S. warms and reinvigorates the sluggish blood so that it moves with more rapidity, and cleans it of all impurities and poisons. As this rich, healthy stream circulates through the body every part of the system is built up, the appetite and digestion improve, the heart action increases and the diseases and discomforts of old age pass away. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, and all troubles arising from diseased blood.
