Pretty Things She Likes to Wear.

IF YOU ask her what she wants, nine times out of ten she will say, "Give me something nice to wear." Some nice, sensible gifts are a suit, dress, skirt, waist, silk petticoats, fur coats, cloth coats, fur trimmed coats or evening coats. Or you can make her heart glad by giving her a nice fur neck scarf or fur muff. A nice selection of these can be seen at O. K. Scofield, Cloak and Suit company.

The girl of 16 is just beginning to be interested in parties and small affairs. Has the girl you have in mind a party coat? She certainly ought to have one. You can get a very handsome one indeed of J. L. Brandeis & Sons for from $24.90 to $35.00, with moderate incomes the Schmolzer & Mueller system has every advantage; the lowest cash price is freely given to all and without advance; terms of payment may be arranged as low as $5 monthly. Attend their removal sale at 1407 Harney; see the $300 new pianos they are selling for $169. They are the most remarkable piano values in the west.

If you want to select something which is just a little different from what the other stores carry go to a store that carries an exclusive line. Ed F. Pickering, 15th and Dodge streets, has a select assortment of umbrellas and parasols, which cannot be duplicated elsewhere. A pair of gloves or a handsome fan is a Christmas present that may just supply the proper want. Pickering has a beautiful selection.

Every young lady likes to have pretty things about her room. At Hayden's art department will be found some very tasty pictures. A book rack from their furniture department is a useful Christmas remembrance. A very appropriate present for a young man to give a young girl is a book or some stationery. Some other suggestions which are sure to bring pleasure to her on Christmas day are a work box, card case or manicure set.

You will have to pay a personal visit to T. L. Combs & Co., 1520 Douglas street—the "busy" jewellers—as space will not permit of a list of their appropriate presents, but a few suggestions would include diamonds, rings, brooches, cut glass chafin dishes, baking dishes and hat pins. You will enjoy a visit and are welcome to inspect their stock; besides this, if you buy here, you will be money ahead.

There is nothing that will make an evening pass more delightfully for a young girl and her friends than to try their skill in making things in a chafin dish. A handsome assortment of chafin dishes is shown by J. L. Brandeis & Sons at $2.00 to $10.00. Every young lady would like to own a pair of opera glasses. These are offered at the Boston Store at from $2.00 to $20.00.

Could anything delight the young lady more than to see the piano van stop in front of the house with a piano, or organ from Hoopes? Perhaps a violin or mandolin would be more to her musical taste.

Appropriate Presents for Young Ladies. A good piano makes a good present for a young girl. At the same time its merry music brings joy and gladness to the whole family, furnishing entertainment to all, and elevating the home atmosphere to a moral height not reached by any other means. To people

If so, Hoops carries these instruments, but pins, hair ornaments, watches and a hundred and one other products of the jeweller's art.

What to get new for the young woman is the leading question. She admires almost anything that is new, and especially a new style setting diamond ring, pearl brooch, gemmed dog collar or the new fangled back comb on display at Albert Edholm's, Sixteenth and Harney streets.

In the jewelry department of J. L. Brandeis & Sons will be seen numerous appropriate gifts in silver and gold. There are a great variety of toilet sets, costing from $1 to $50. A selection of hat pins from 25 cents to $4.00.

If you wish to choose something real nice and something that she will enjoy and be proud of for a long time to come, a nice pair of opera glasses is a good present. The Columbian Optical Co. are showing a large selection.

A nice music cabinet if she is musically inclined. Orchard & Wilhelm Carpet company are showing a very pretty pattern in mahogany, with the marquetry and mother-of-pearl in the door. This particular cabinet has French shaped legs, with a shaped drawer in the lower part. Interior is fitted with shelves. Beautiful figured mahogany for $24.

If she has a Sweet Tooth. Huyler's & Allegretti's candies are sure to be appreciated by the young miss. They may be bought at the Myers-Dillon Drug Co., 16th and Farnam.

It is a habit of the small town to question the value of its own products and insist that to be good, it should come from the east. Omaha is getting too large and the excellence of our manufactures too well recognized abroad to permit us to be hindered by such provincialism. The lovers of really fine candies are forced to admit that nothing richer or finer than O'Brien's chocolates has ever been sold in Omaha.

What could be more welcome as a Christmas gift than O'Brien's Monte Christo chocolates, packed in a handsome glove or handkerchief box? Appetites differ as widely as faces, but there is one common ground—we all like candy, and you can't go wrong if you give O'Brien's Monte Christo chocolates—95c per pound.

Omaha has a candy man who is master of his art. When D. J. O'Brien swings his shalalah and orders the pots to boil, the most delightful confections are a sure result.

Useful Presents for Young Men. HAVE you thought of something for him in the furniture line? A Morris chair will delight him, if he likes comfort, or possibly a nice rocking chair or book case. These can be selected at Hayden Bros' furniture department. In the art department you might select an appropriate picture for his room. Possibly one of the late novels would interest him. In the book department you can get them for considerably less than the regular price. Perhaps you would prefer to get him something to wear. How would some of the following please him: Ties, slippers, a bath robe, a pair of fancy silk suspenders, a cap, overcoat, pair of gloves, silk muffler and handkerchiefs or pocketknife. These can all be found under one roof at Hayden Bros.

The furnishing goods man can always suggest a number of nice things for the young man—and for that reason Albert Cahn, at 1222 Farnam street, was asked to make up this list: Kid gloves, lined and unlined—knit gloves—in neckwear, four-inches and ascots—collars and cuffs, silk and linen handkerchiefs, mufflers—full dress protectors—umbrellas, in natural wood handle and suit case style—plain and fancy, silk, wool, cotton and linen hosiery—night robes, bath robes, pajamas, bath towels and slippers—white and fancy full dress vests—shirts, white, fancy and full dress—fine all wool underwear, in two-piece and union suits.

What young man is there that does not like to look well and at the same time he wants to wear things which have style of their own. Anything that comes from Pease Bros. Co., 1417 Farnam street, is thoroughly up-to-date and in style. A very handsome present for any young man is an opera hat, or a silk hat. Pease Bros. Co. carry Knox hats, as well as other makes. In the way of derbies, Pease Bros' special is a popular $3.00 hat. A handsome silk umbrella is a useful present. Among some of the less expensive articles shown in the latest designs are neckwear, hosiery and fancy vests.

or the Big Brother

IF YOU wish to save him money get him either a Star or Gillette safety razor—he need have no fear of cutting himself with one of these. If neither the above, James Morton & Son Co., have tool cabinets, tools for all trades, scroll saws and work benches.

If you buy him a necktie you need not be afraid that he will have too many. J. L. Brandeis & Sons have a stock specially selected for Christmas at 25 cents to $2.00. Gloves—the same thing is true of gloves, which they offer from 25 cents to $4. If he hasn't a nice pair of military brushes, J. L. Brandeis & Sons offer them from 50 cents to $5. If he likes handsome jewelry, they have some watch fobs at from 45 cents to $15.

It's not a hard task to select something for the young man if you go to Hardy's 99-Cent Store. There you will find collar and cuff boxes, glove boxes, necktie boxes, smoking sets, letter cases, card cases, pocket match safes, hat and clothes brushes, manicure set, etc.

The big brother is always in need of something to wear, such as mufflers, suspenders, neckties, fancy vests, fancy hose, handkerchiefs, sweaters, etc., and the Guarantee Clothing Co. have them at all prices.

Military hair brushes, traveling sets, etc., make presents that are appreciated by every young man. Myers-Dillon Drug Co., Sixteenth and Farnam, have an unusually large assortment at reasonable prices.

Useful presents in the furnishing goods section at Bennett's can be found in beautiful wool mufflers, hats and caps, sweaters, fur gloves—prices are exceedingly low.

If he has a phonograph he would appreciate a nice selection of records. All the late and popular songs as sung by Edison and Victor records. Nebraska Cycle Co.

A nice suit case if he hasn't one is both useful and appropriate. Alfred Cornish & Co.

If He Smokes. O. D. Kiplinger, 1223 Farnam street, prides himself on knowing the exact brand of cigars favored by the most discriminating smokers of Omaha. He also has meerschaum pipes, from $2.00 to $5.00; humidors, for keeping cigars moist, at $2.50 to $5.00; in fact, everything that the smoker can use.

Big brothers are sometimes particular. And what they get like to have the very best of. A box of imported cigars would certainly please him. Sherman & McConnell Drug Co. have all the leading brands and at special prices, too.

A nice little remembrance for young men will be found at J. L. Brandeis & Sons' jewelry department, with a number of different cigar cutters offered at 50 cents. They also have silver matchsafes at $1.50 to $5. A young man always likes to have a handsome cigar cutter as well as a match safe. Young fellows these days smoke a pipe and we are carrying some beauties. T. L. Combs & Co., 1520 Douglas street.

Among Christmas gifts for the young men, none are more acceptable than those that appeal to the smoker, and none bring pleasanter memories of the giver.

He may have everything else in the smoking line, but has a smoking jacket? There are some handsome ones to be seen at Hayden Bros.

If the big brother smokes, there is a line of cigars and smoking novelties that would be hard to surpass at Bennett's.

A nice smoking table for his den would be good. All prices at Miller, Stewart & Beaton's.

When He Shaves. For shaving, a Gillette Safety Razor is a mighty good idea—they can be found in the hardware department at Bennett's. They likewise carry a complete line of the best hollow ground and imported razors.

I have a nice sterling silver shaving set which is very appropriate and useful. N. F. Frandsen, 105 South Sixteenth street, Jeweler.

What Can Be Found in Leather. Some of the handsomest Christmas goods this year are made up in leather. Hayden Bros. have some splendid specimens of the leather man's art in the way of collar and cuff boxes, pocketbooks and bill cases. A nice grip or suit case for traveling is a present that will find favor in the sight of any young man.

Are you looking for something that he can wear and get lots of good out of? Something economical, too. Could be use a pair of shoes? If he can, look over the Regent Shoe Co.'s Olinods. They are in all the latest lasts at the popular prices of $2.50 and $3.00.

Leather goods suggest an excellent opportunity for buying something for the big brother. Purse, pocketbooks, notebooks in the stationery and jewelry sections at Bennett's—books bound in leather, with titles burnt in—the world's greatest poets.

Every young man likes to have a good suit case. J. L. Brandeis & Sons have some that can be bought for $1.50 and some as high as $5.00.

Ideas from the Jeweler. The young man always likes handsome brushes on his dresser. A pair of military brushes, a clothes brush and a hat brush are gifts that no man despises. A good fountain pen is a useful present. Have you noticed him going around without a handsome watch fob, or vest chain. An engraved signet ring, or shirt studs are popular presents. T. L. Combs & Co., 1520 Douglas street.

Get a scarf pin or cuff buttons for your big brother. In fact, anybody's big brother will enjoy them.

Henry Copley, 215 South 16th street, has a select line.
