City Engineer Rosewater and His Assistant Express Their Opinions After Seeing the Work Now Nearly Finished.

The bird's-eye view of Omaha being rainted by E. J. Austen for reproduction in the Jubilee number of The Bee is alpost completed, and is attracting comment om those who have seen it. According engineers who have seen the picture is a wonderfully accurate description Omaha, showing perfectly the typograpay of the city and its residences, business suses and blocks. Among the engineers of the appointment. hio were favorably impressed with the Seture were City Engineer Rosewater and ssistant City Engineer Craig. Both said was a perfectly illustrated map and nothing was lacking in the picture. Mr. Rose-

The picture is very comprehensive and standpoint I would pronounce it perfect. It shows the buildings and blocks exactly is they stand in the city, every building oing located accurately. I noticed the Union Pacific shops, the trackage, the deral building, downtown buildings and residences, and all of them are perfectly copicted and all of them located in their

Everything is There

The elevations are shown perfectly, as well as the depressions, and the streets are marked off as plainly and as accurately as the map of an engineer. One looking at the picture will see an accurate decription of Omaha. It is merely an illusstated map. Instead of the blocks and buildings being located by number the uildings themselves are there, and with the picture as a guide a person can find any place in Omaha he desires. The work wonderfully done, not only from the standpoint of an engineer, but from the standpoint of an artist. I have examined the picture critically and I found no fault with it from any standpoint, and from an ngineering standpoint it is a perfect map

Assistant Engineer Craig was as enthusiastic as Mr. Rosewater over the picture and pronounced it absolutely accurate from an engineer's viewpoint.

TOO MANY LAWYERS IN CASE Attorneys Appointed to Defend Colored Man Unaware of Each Other's Retention.

A somewhat unique complication arose In Judge Day's court Monday morning when the case of State against William Miles, for murder in the second degree, was called for trial. When Miles was first arraigned Judge Day was absent and Judge Redick took his plea of not guilty. Judge Pedick, on the man's statement that he had no money to employ an attorney, appointed J. W. Carr and Fred Smith, a colored attorney, to defend. Afterward friends of Miles, members of a colored fraternal society, retained J. M. Macfarland to conduct the defense, without saying anything to the lawyers appointed by Judge Redick, probably without knowing

Tuesday morning the appointed and the retained attorneys all showed up, ready to take up the defense. Then a consultation was in order. The result was that Judge Day permitted Messrs. Carr and Smith to withdraw, after they had indlcated that was their wish. Mr. Macfaris faultlessly done. From an engineering land is therefore conducting the case for the defense.

Miles is charged with having out the throat of Harry McGechin at the Cambridge hotel on the night of July 27, during a quarrel over the affections of a white woman who had been living with both men. Miles pleads self-defense.

Assistant County Attorneys Fitch and Shotwell are prosecuting on behalf of the state. They called as their first witness William H. Graham, now of Lincoln. He told of seeing the struggle which led to the killing. He did not see a knife or razor in Miles' hand, being across the street, but did see McGechin in the hotel hallway bleeding to death after the colored man had thrown his right hand up to his opponent's head. He did not see Mc-Gechin draw a revolver, as the defense contends the dead man did.

Dr. Lavender, who made the autopsy on McGechin, described the wound, which almost severed his head from the body. The instrument with which the killing was done had cut through all the arteries at the back of the neck and on the left side thereof. The brain and internal organs were all in normal condition.

> that Information Wanted In Ready.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 .- The legislative life insurance investigating committee, headed by Senator William W. Armstrong, appeared tonight to have succeeded in its attempt to make Thomas F. Ryan divulge what E. H. Harriman said or threatened to do to influence him to divide his controi of the Equitable Life Assurance so-District Attorney William T. clety. Jerome, who was asked by the committee to take steps to punish Mr. Ryan for refusing to answer the questions about Mr. Harriman, reported to the committee today that he has informed Mr. Ryan's counsel that Mr. Ryan ought to answer. Mr. Jerome also wrote to the committee that he believes Mr. Ryan will answer if brought before the committee again.

Mr. Ryan, who bought 502 shares of the stock of the Equitable Life Assurance society last summer, and placed them in a trust to be voted by three trustees, of whom Grover Cleveland is one, was on the witness stand before the insurance investigating committee last Friday. He testified that on the day he got possession of the Equitable stock, E. H. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads, and a director of the Equitable society, asked him for a share of the stock. What Mr. Harriman said to him to induce him to part with that stock, Mr. Ryan refused to tell the committee.

Mr. Hughes declined to say when Mr. Ryan will be recalled, but it is presumed he will take the witness stand tomorrow or the following day.

Attorneys Notify Committee, Subsequently Guthrie, Cravath & Henderson, counsel for Mr. Ryan, gave out a statement that they re-advised Mr. Ryan that he should answer the questions and that he is prepared to do so whenever recalled by the investigating committee. To that statement was attached a letter from District Attorney Jerome to Paul D. Cravath, advising him that Mr. Ryan ought to answer the questions and adding, "although I fully appreciate these motives which led him to refuse to answer unless the question of law involved could be made clear."

The committee was engaged for a part of the time today in inquiring into the affairs of the Provident Savings Life Assurance society of New York. Charles E. Hughes, counsel for the committee, had brought out by questioning Edward W. Scott, the president of that company, that when Frank F. Hadley of New Bedford, Mass., secured control of the company in 1896 he borrowed $162,000 from the company on his collateral notes to pay up for the stock of the insurance company. Mr. Scott testified that Mr. Hadley never repaid those leans and that the insurance company realized only $30,000 on the sale of the collateral. Companies in which Mr. Hadley was interested failed and be committed suicide.

Other witnesses have testified that the New York Life Insurance company controlled the New York Security and Trust company. After he got control of the company, Mr. Scott said, John A. Horan, brother-in-law of John A. McCall, was made comptroller of the Provident Savings Life Assurance society at $10,000 a year. Mr. Scott testified also that his four sons and a nephew are employed by the company of which he is president.

Exhibition of Roller Skating Which

Harley Davidson of Chicago gave an exhibition of fancy and trick skating at the Auditorium last night which was next to marvelous. While Mr. Davidson may not be as graceful in some of his evolutions as some of the cracks who were here last winter he does stunts on the rollers which seem next to impossible. Some of his feats on two rollers were exhibitions of great strength and skill. As a clossing foature to his exhibition he jumped over seven chairs placed in a row. He approached the chairs backward and made a joomplete whiri while in the air, alighting again in the backward position. He started out to jump three chairs and each time added a chair until he had jumped the seven. He will give exhibitions at the Auditorium both afternoon and evening all week.

One year's experience in the Western league has given Carney a better knowledge as to the sort of players that are needed, and he promises in his letters to the fains a team that will begin driving spikes in the pennant early in the season, and, unlike last year's toam, continue to drive them throughout the season.
