Men's Suits and Overcoats

850 and 1250

Some facts mean so much that they'll stand many tellings. The above figures indicate the best values offered this season in Suits and Overcoats. They are the remaining garments of our great purchase from prominent eastern wholesale tailors. If you have ever watched the Muddy Missouri river swell after a three days' rain you can picture the torrent of trade that is rolling into our men's clothing floor in consequence of this mammoth purchase.

A Big Purchase of Boys' Suits and Overcoats

We told in print several times the story of our purchase of the surplus stock from two of the most celebrated makers of boys' clothes in the States. Already 1,200 boys are wearing these dressy garments on their backs and their mothers are purchasing Xmas gifts with the savings.

MAN HAUNTED BY DELUSION

Prisoner at City Jail Imagines He is Being Accused of Murder.

SHRIEKS DENIAL AT HIS HORRID NEMESIS

Walks Streets All Night and Then Presents Self at Prison—Victim of Irresistible Hypnotic Influence.

"I did not murder Oreville Hayden!" is the reply P. S. Free shrieks to his imaginary accusers in his cell at the city jail. "Sometimes they whisper to me, again they will talk in ordinary tones and then again they will scream in my ears that I murdered Oreville Hayden, but I tell you before God I am innocent of the charge," said Free Friday morning.

After walking the streets nearly all night Free presented himself at the office of the city jail at 3 o'clock Friday morning and asked to be placed in a cell, as he wished to give himself up, meet his accusers and find rest for his weary mind. While Free talks quite rationally at times, it is evident he is laboring under a strange form of mental aberration. He realizes his mental condition and appears anxious to meet those who are continually whispering and talking to him and pointing the finger of scorn toward him.

Arrested on Suspicion. "Six years ago I was working at Colfax, Wash., and was arrested on suspicion of having murdered Oreville Hayden, son of a wealthy farmer living near Colfax. I was held in jail seven months and finally acquitted. Young Hayden was shot by robbers. I was working in a harvest field at the time. A few weeks ago, while working in a harvest field of South Dakota, I suddenly fell under the hypnotic power of someone. The first thing I knew I heard a whisper in my ear, 'You murdered Oreville Hayden,' but I could not see the person who whispered the words.

"I came to Omaha two weeks ago and have had but one night's sleep during that time. The same person who whispered to me on the South Dakota harvest field followed me to Omaha and repeated the accusations. After I had been in Omaha several days people would shout from the street cars, 'You murdered Oreville Hayden!' I have not had a moment's peace since I was hypnotized in South Dakota. This morning someone whispered and told me I had better confess, but there is nothing to confess."

Such was Free's story. Free is being cared for at the city jail. His mind will be examined by the authorities.

Announcements of the Theaters. The last two performances of the current bill at the Orpheum will be given at a matinee today and this evening, when the curtain will rise at 8:15 sharp.

Next week, commencing matinee Sunday, Mrs. Stewart Robson will be the headline attraction. Mrs. Robson is described as a woman gifted with beauty and a temperament that brings her into friendly touch with her audience. With her company she will present "The Saving of Mrs. Shaw." Another feature will be the Bromstick Witches, one of the biggest acts in vaudeville. They sing the choicest selections from the tuneful musical comedy "The Isle of Spies." Other combinations are Herbert's dogs; Clayton Jenkins and Jasper with their "Darktown Circus"; Pierce and Mazie, singers and dancers; Georgia Lewis, vocalist and whistler; Tom Ripley, the black face Monologist, and entirely new kinodrome pictures.

On Sunday afternoon and evening the old reliable Charles A. Yale's "Devil's Auction," with its wealth of beautiful girls, its scenery and transformation effects and its wonderful lighting, will be the attraction at the Boyd theater. It will be offered here at reduced prices, both matinee and evening being at the bargain base.

The closing performance of "Why Smith Left Home" will be given at the Burwood theater this evening. On Sunday afternoon the first performance of "The Man From Mexico" will be given.

Y. M. C. A. Building Plans. Plans and specifications for the new Young Men's Christian association, which is to be erected at Seventeenth and Harney streets, will be filed with the building inspector Monday or Tuesday, and a permit to erect the building will be asked for.

DISFIGURED BY ECZEMA

Wonderful Change in a Night. In a Month Face was Clear as Ever.

ANOTHER CURE BY CUTICURA

"I had eczema on the face for five months, during which time I was in the care of physicians. My face was so disfigured I could not go out, and it was going from bad to worse. A friend recommended Cuticura. The first night after I washed my face with Cuticura Soap, and used Cuticura Ointment and Resolvent, it changed wonderfully. From that day I was able to go out, and in a month the treatment had removed all scales and scabs, and my face was as clear as ever." (signed) T. J. Soth, 317 Stagg Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Work on the excavation for the structure which is to be built across the street from the Boyd theater has already begun.

WORLD'S TYPEWRITING RECORD

Is Smashed by Pueblo Boy, Who Takes Nearly Five Thousand Words in One Hour.

PUEBLO, Colo., Dec. 15.—Ray T. Vanetsch, state news editor of the Pueblo Chieftain, broke the world's record for speed on a typewriter last night when he took 4,917 words in one hour. The record for one hour was formerly held by Paul Hunter, who took 3,530 words during the National Supply show at Madison Square garden, New York, last month.

Mr. Vanetsch beat Mr. Hunter's record 1,387 words, and the achievement was all the more remarkable from the fact that his dictation was received over the long distance telephone from Denver, a distance of 120 miles. The matter read was the supreme court's decision in the Patterson contempt case, and was dictated by Alva Swain, the Chieftain's news representative in Denver. The total number of words written by Mr. Vanetsch was 5,100 from which 183 were deducted on account of errors. A duplex telephone in the Chieftain office was used for the test, thus enabling Mr. Gratton E. Hancock to hear every word dictated by Mr. Swain. Another remarkable feature of the achievement was that Mr. Vanetsch used only one finger of each hand, the typewriter used being a No. 2 Smith Premier, one in daily use at the Chieftain office. M. J. Leary held a watch on the test at the Denver end of the line; the test was also witnessed by several newspaper and Associated Press representatives in both Denver and Pueblo.

In June, 1904, Mr. Vanetsch became state news editor of the Chieftain, which requires a good ear and nimble fingers, because of the fact that an average of 5,000 words is taken over the long distance telephone every night. Since his connection with the Chieftain, Mr. Vanetsch demonstrated that he is the speediest typewriter operator in the state, but few of his friends outside of the office have entertained the idea that he was possessed of the world's record ability. The Chieftain office was given exclusive use of the wire to Denver for the purposes of the contest through the courtesy of the Colorado Telephone company.

METCALF NAME OUT OF FIRM

Linsinger Implement Company is New Name of Old Wholesale Concern.

The Linsinger Implement company has become successor to Linsinger & Metcalf company, wholesale dealers in implements. The new corporation has filed its articles for $300,000 capital stock and the names of its incorporators. These are George W. Linsinger, Caroline M. Linsinger, Frank L. Haller, Florence L. Haller and H. P. Devalon. The name of Metcalf is not included, the Metcalf interests having been bought out by the others. The original capital stock of the company was $100,000. The old company expired by limitation. The place of business continues at Sixth and Pacific streets.

The American Talk-o-Phone company of Omaha has filed articles of incorporation. It will deal in talking machines and kindred goods. Capital stock, $5,000; incorporators, Albert L. Irish and John F. Graham.

To California—Just as Cheap to Go As to Stay at Home

Don't get the idea that California has nothing but "bon-ton" exclusive resorts. There are numerous moderate-priced hotels and many homes where visitors are entertained at very low cost.

Here is a fair estimate of the expense of a four week's trip to the "Golden State."

Two first-class round-trip tickets from Omaha... $150.00
A first-class double berth out and back..... 23.00
Sixteen meals each (both ways) at 50c..... 16.00
Board and lodging in California, 22 days at $2..... 44.00
Expense of "Seeing the Sights" at $1 a day each..... 44.00

Total cost for each person in round figures—$153.00.

Stay four weeks more for only $28 additional per person.

A slight saving over this can be made by taking a comfortable and cleanly tourist sleeper. Cost of double berth out and back $15.50.

The trip in a Rock Island tourist sleeper is as easy and restful as the ingenuity of man can make it.

Let us send you some free illustrated literature, particularly our beautiful booklet in colors, "The Golden State"—and tell you more about it.
