CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Week a Climax with Jobber and Retailer.

HOLIDAY BUSINESS THE LARGEST EVER

short Lull Expected and Then Big Trade Again-Retail Stocks Well Cleaned Up-Changes in the Markets.

This last week has seen the climax of the holiday trade with Omaha retailers. People have througed the stores in such numbers that it has been almost impossi-ble to wait on all of them, and the Christ-mas trade has been the largest the mer-chants have ever known. With the excep-tion of shoes and heavy dry goods and dothing, the demand has extended to all lines. These exceptions to the except tion of shoes and heavy dry goods and clothing, the demand has extended to all ines. These exceptions to the general rule are caused by the warm weather. A noticeable fact, indicating the general prosperity, is that a better grade of goods has been soid than usual. Reports from country retailers who get their wares in comaha are to the effect that they have had an enormous trade and expect it to continue.

This coming week a lun is expected.

No changes have taken place in the sugar situation, prices being practically the same in both raw and refined. It is hardly probable that there will be a change in the next few days. No quotations will be made until Tuesday on account of the holiday cessation of the markets.

Prices on cheese are about the same Most retailers have secured their stock continue.

dealers are anticipating their wants in lines where prices will go up. As a reflex of the country trade collections have been better than usual with the jobbers.

The shoe men are still waiting for cold weather, when they expect to make up for lost time. Prices are still tending upward. Local jobbers say they expect to see shoe manufacturers get together soon after the opening of the new year and agree on an advance larger than has yet been made. It is said that on the basis of present prices for hides the manufacturers are doing business on too small a margin, and if hides advance more they will have to fill some contracts at a loss. Omaha dealers are now selling at $1.17 a class of shoes which cost $1.35 laid down in Omaha at the recent advances. These shoes were formerly sold at wholesale at $0 cents. Yet it is said they have not kept pace with the advance in leather.

Rubber goods are in small demand along with shoes. The fall has not been wet enough to clean up the stock which retailers had already on hand.

The grocery trade is very well satisfied with the year's business. Holiday trade has been sustained until the last day. This coming week a luil is expected. No changes have taken place in the sugar situation, prices being practically the same in both raw and refined. It is hardly probable that there will be a change in the next few days. No quotations will be made until Tuesday on account of the holiday cessation of the markets.

Dried fruit continues strong in all lines, except raisins. Jobbers have had no news from the recent meeting of the Growers' Packing company in California and are kept guessing as to what was done.

There is no change to report in the canned goods market, with the possible exception of tomatoes, which have advanced about 5 cents a dozen in the eastern market. The trade in fresh fruit has been larger than was ever known before. The warm weather has permitted shipments to be made in box cars, whereas they are usually sent by express, adding so much to the cost of the fruit that retailers cancel their orders when they learn they cannot get orders when they learn they cannot get the goods by freight. Last year the fruit jobbers lost a lot of business just before Christmas on account of freezing weather.

1. The constitution guarantees to every person charged with crime a trial by an impartial jury. If there is such a prejudice in the minds of the people of the county against the defendant, or such a firm conviction of his guilt of the crime charged against him that there is substantial and well founded reason to believe that he can not obtain a fair trial in the county, the constitution requires that the venue be changed. The trial court must exercise discretion in determining these facts, but has no discretion to refuse the change of venue when these facts appear.

2. The determination of the trial court upon an application of the accused for change of venue will not be disturbed unless it appears from the record that its conclusion is wrong. Its discretion in the matter is a legal and not an arbitrary one.
