CHICAGO, Dec 26.—Covering by shorts caused an upturn today in the price of wheat here. At the close wheat for May delivery was up \(\frac{1}{4}\)\(\frac{2}{3}\)\(\text{c.}\) Corn and oats were practically unchanged. A decided flurry took place in the price of December corn, which declined almost 3c and later regained nearly all of the loss. It did not affect the market, however, as trading in December is very light. Provisions were a affect the market, however, as trading in December is very light. Provisions were a shade to 7½ tower.

Until late in the session the wheat market was inclined to be weak. Pit traders largely favored the selling side but demand by leading longs had a tendency to restrict offerings. At the opening the market was depressed by the unexpected size of the world's shipments. An English statistician on Saturday estimated the total movement at 8,000,000 but, but actual figures supplied by the same authority today showed the movement to be over day showed the movement to be over 11,000,000 bu. Another weakening influence was an increase of 800,000 bu. in stocks of wheat at Minneapolis. Selling was also encouraged by reports of rain in India. In the last hour buying was commenced by several prominent commission houses. In the last hour buying was commenced by several prominent commission houses, and shorts, becoming somewhat alarmed, covered actively. The demand found the market apparently oversold and the result was a quick rally in prices. The market closed firm and almost at the highest point of the day. May opened a shade lower at 88%c, sold off to 85% and advanced to 87%c. Final quotations were at 87%c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 416,000 bu. The amount on passage decreased 1,283,000 bu. and the visible supply increased 1,832,000 bu. Primary receipts were 1,516,000 bu, compared with 1,522,000 bu. Opened with 1,522,000 bu. Opened Chicago reported receipts of 1.631 cars, against $60 cars last week and 1.661 cars one year ago.

A slump of nearly 30 a bushel in the price of December delivery, old style, and a recovery of the greater part of the loss was the feature of trading in corn. Profitaking caused by reports of heavy local receipts started the decline. The arrivals today were 1.645 cars, of which 280 were contract grade. In addition to this, 168 cars of contract corn were transferred from public to private elevators and will be available before delivery on December contracts. Despite the wide fluctuations in price trading in the December option was insignificant, the day's business being estimated at not over 50.000 bu. The strength of wheat late in the day was an important factor in the unturn in corn. The December delivery, old style, opened at 47%c, broke to 44%c and closed at 47c. The May option held steady for the entire day. It opened a shade lower to a shade higher at 40 to 44%c, sold between 48%c and 44%c and closed at 44%c. Early in the day the oats market was somewhat easier, in sympathy with other grain. Later the demand improved and the market became steady. May opened unchanged at 31% 6321%c. Local receipts were 412 cars.

Provisions were weaker after a firm opening. The market was at first influenced by an advance of 100 to 15c in the price

The market was at first influenced an advance of 10c to 15c in the price live hogs. Local packers and foreign-s sold freely during the last half of the y, and as a result the market closed sy. Final quotations on May pork were f 74c at $13.824. Lard was down 24.65c $7.475. Ribs were a shade lower at 276. 57.37%. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 25 cars; corn, 586 cars; oats, 249 cars; hogs, 44,000 head. The leading futures ranged as follows:

NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS Market Opens Firm and Active, with Values Generally Higher.

UNION PACIFIC LEADS THE RISE and Later Dealings Are Easy and Lower on Extensive

Profit Taking.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.-Further very large NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Further very large and variegated absorption of stocks marked today's proceedings in the stock market. The heavy demand for stocks at an advancing tendency of prices was a convincing demonstration of the confidence in values and the strong hopes for further sdvances. There was some apprehension that the Christmas market would prove to have been overdone on sentimental considerations. There was a good deal of admonition to be heard also in various quarters of Wall street this morning, exhorting to caution and conservatism for the last week of the year owing to the heavy requirements upon and conservatism for the last week of the year owing to the heavy requirements upon the money market and the danger of embarrassment to those over-committed in speculative ventures. The 35 per cent money rate before the close gave point to the warning. But the course of the early market soon dissipated the apprehension that the Christmas advance was over and made small account of the warnings of the conservatives.

small account of the warnings of the conservatives.

The money market seems to have no terrors to the speculative spirit any longer, the stock market having successfully withslood such flurries in money so many times this fall that the safety of the position is felt to be assured. The small period remaining hefore the end of the year added to the indifference with which the possibility of another flurry was contemplated. Such a flurry admittedly was not only possible, but not improbable. The January disbursements will be larger than usual this year and the necessity for providing for them will be correspondingly large. But while the preliminary pressure will be aggravated, the subsequent realization is expected to be correspondingly large. But while the preliminary pressure will be thus aggravated, the subsequent relaxation is expected to be correspondingly great. The current speculation is based on the assumption that however severe the stringency may be this week! I sente the about 1000 and nickly foltion is based on the assumption that however severe the stringency may be this week it must be short lived and quickly followed by decidedly easier conditions in the money market. The conditions in the time loan market do not bear out this assumption. There continues quite an urgent demand for the shorter periods, including sixty-day and ninety-day loans, and a commission is paid for funds for these periods which heads the rate at the equivalent at 7 to 8 per cent. Speculative confidence, however, continues unimpaired and there was reported today perceptible growth in the outside demand for stocks. The profitable character of Stock exchange business, as well as the almost universal conviction that character of Stock exchange business, as well as the almost universal conviction that activity of a large scope is to be looked for in the future are indicated by the rapid advance in the rates for Stock exchange seats. A sale was reported today at $55.000, and numerous bidders were said to be seeking seats with the lowest offering at $7,500.

The aggressive leadership assumed toseats with the lowest offering at $97,500. The aggressive leadership assumed today by Union Pacific and United States Steel stocks was of large effect on sentiment. There was no specific news regarding either stock, but a strong impression was produced by the very general belief that the heaviest demand came from sources near to the control of these companies. Copper securities of all kinds were animated and buoyant. The extraordinary movement Copper securities of all kinds were animated and buoyant. The extraordinary movement in Anaconda found its explanation in the later report of an enlarged dividend disbursement. Amaigamated Copper derived direct benefit from its large holdings of Anaconda stock. It made its best price in the last few minutes of the trading. But the rest of the market was quite sharply affected by the profit-taking on the day's rise which became general after midday and which was aggravated by the violent flurry in money in the last hour. The closing tone was easy and the day's extreme gains were much impaired.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—COFFEE—Market opened steady at an advance of 56015 points on a moderate demand from Wall street sources, which was based apparently on rumors that the Brazilian congress had passed a bill agreeing to guarantee a large bond issue by the three chief producing states providing these states would put in additional export duty equal to about 10 cents per bag on coffee exported. Demand was not very heavy and after working up to a net advance of about 15620 points during the early afternoon, in the absence of important offerings the market sugged off slightly under realizing and closed steady at a net advance of 19645 points. There were no European cables owing to holidays, and Brazilian news showed no fresh feature aside from the talk of a duty. Sales in the local market were reported of $5,250 bags, in-the talk of a duty. Sales in the I market were reported of $5,250 bags, N. R. R. of M. pfd...
