RAILWAYS BUILT THIS YEAR

Nearly Five Thousand Miles of New Track Laid in United States.

WEST, AS USUAL, TAKES THE LEAD

Nebraska Has Eighty Miles to Its Credit-South Makes Great Gains-North Dakota Lends States.

Statistics on railway building for the year in the United States compiled by The Railway Age show Nebraska to have participated in one of the largest campaigns of construction, that of the Great Northern. Nebraska's total mileage for the year is eighty miles. The west, as usual, takes the lead. The Railway Age says:

the lead. The Railway Age says:

Approximately 5,000 miles of new railroad have been completed in the United States during the year 1995. Considering that over 7,000 miles were shown to be under contracts as early as March and that contracts for many hundreds of miles more have been awarded since that time, the milesge completed ready for operation may seem comparatively small. But slow progress was made during the first six months of the year and only 1,254 miles of track were reported laid up to July 1. If the ratio of former years had applied to 1995 the new track for the year would not have exceeded 4,000 miles, but since July 1 work has been pushed with great vigor, with the result that we can now report for the year 4,90 miles of new track laid in the United States, on 237 lines in forty-five states and terrimiles of new track laid in the United Statos, on 237 lines in forty-five states and territories. In addition, several hundred miles have been graded and track is being laid on many lines as the year closes. The figures shown in the following table are not final, for there are some roads which have not yet furnished rull reports, and it is probable that the complete returns will show over 5,000 miles.

The fact that much of the track laid has been in sections which already were well supplied with railways is indicative of the cra of unprecedented prosperity which we are enjoying. Not only have new roads been built to share in the abundant traffic offered but the work of improving existing lines by constructing additional tracks, creeting stronger bridges, putting down havier rails and eliminating grades and the money so invested doubless equals that spent in the construction of new lines. The work of reconstruction is proceeding quietly but steadily and is almost lost sight of in the consideration given to the construction and projection of distinctly new mileage. Particularly has this been true during the last six months, when there has been so much discussion of the plans of the large western systems, which provide for the building of thousands of miles of extensions, including many competing lines.

Most Noteworthy Work.

Most Noteworthy Work.

The most noteworthy piece of construction during the last year was the extension of the See line from Thier River Falls. Minn. to Kenmare, N. D. a distance of 25 miles. Contracts for this work were not let until March and track laying was not begun until July, yet the road was completed ready for operation the latter part of November. The See line also built two branches in North Dakota, each nineteen miles in length, making a total of 35 miles of road built by this company. The extension in North Dakota penetrates the rich wheat belt of the northern part of the state, and to tap the same region the Great Northern has built five branches, aggregating 126 miles are region the Great Northern has built from its main line. Altogether the Great Northern laid 24 miles of track on extensions in Minnesota, North Dakota, Nebraska and Washington. The second longest line built was by the St. Louis Howard Houston, Tex. Other companies have laid track as follows:

Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, 214 miles in Texas, Louissiana, Indian Territory, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and California; Louisville & Nashville, 135 miles in Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama and Ken-

Little in New England. The only construction of any importance in New England was a branch built by the Bangor & Aroostook to the sea coast in Maine, 54 miles. The Central Vermont built a 5-mile branch in Vermont and the Boston & Maine a connecting link one mile long in Massachusetts. Reports thus far received from Canada show 716.4 miles of track laid in the Dominion on twenty lines, of which 628 miles have been built by the Cenadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern. The Grand Trunk Pacific, which has begun work on the new transcontinental line in Canada, has not yet reached the tracklaying point, but will probably complete several hundred miles during 1905. Six lines in Mexico report 273 miles of track laid since January 1 last, but the returns from that country are by no means complete.

SIXTY-EIGHT SCHOOLS IN CONFERENCE

Committee Will Consult Rules Committee and Take Independent Action Unless Reforms Are Secured.

NEW YORK, Dec. 38 -- A concerted movement toward reforming the game of foot ball in the colleges and universities of America was begun here today, when the representatives of sixty-eight institutions of learning agreed to act together in securing the adoption of rules and an enforcement of them that are expected to lessen the danger to players, do away with mass formations and secure permanent officials for intercollegiate contests.

The conference perfected a permanent organization and appointed the rules committee of seven, which will communicate with the representatives of Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Annapolis and Chicago university, constituting the existing committee on rules, asking for an amalgamation with that body. None of the above mentioned universities was represented at today's conference. If they refuse to join with the committee appointed today the latter will not independently and formulate rules for the guidance of the institutions ratifying today's action.

Nebraska on Committee. The committee on rules named by the conference is as follows:

Whereas. The game of foot ball as practiced under existing rules by the students of the educational institutions in the United States has developed undesirable features, the regularly accredited representatives of the faculties of the educational institutions from all sections of the country, in convention assembled in New York City December 28, 1905, in an effort to remove this objectionable phase of the sport, hereby Resolve, That this conference recommends that the academic authorities of this country hold themselves as utilimately respon-

Resolved, That it is recommended that the executive committee of the permanent organization take cognizance, among other things, of the vital questions of eliability of the conductive who take part in athletic games the other universities will be glad to come in with us."

Prof. Moore of Vanderbilt university doubted the ability of a faculty committee to cope with the experts in making rules for foot ball, and said he favored amalga mation with the rules committee. Nearly every speaker said that he was in favor of continuing the game of foot ball.

Instructions to Committee. The discussion was precipitated by resolutions offered by Captain Pierce of West Point favoring amalgamation with the present rules committee. Upon his suggestion the conference voted to appoint a rules committee of its own, fixing the membership of the committee at seven Captain Pierce proposed the following duties for this committee;

duties for this committee:

1. To communicate with the representatives of Yale. Princeton. Harvard. Pennsylvania. Cornell, Annapolis and Chicago university, who constitute the committee that has formerly governed foot ball, and propose that the committees be amalgamated into one which shall formulate rules under which foot ball be played.

2. If this amalgamation is refused then the above named committee of seven shall proceed to formulate rules under which fott ball shall be played by the institutions ratifying the action of this conference.

3. That the seven members elected by this conference shall be guided in their action so as to secure the following:

(a) An open game.

(a) An open game.
(b) Elimination of rough and brutal play-(c) Efficient enforcement of rules; making the rules definite and precise in all re-spects, such as the definition of brutal playing, holding, tripping and in general all infringement of the rules for which penalties are given.

SCHURMAN FAVORS FOOT BALL

President of Cornell Says Much Crit-SYRACUSE, N. Y., Dec. 28.—President Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell university in an address before the Associated Academic Principals of the State of New York placed himself on record as a stanch friend of foot ball, declaring that the record criticism of the game "if not hysterical and frenzied, is at least one-sided and unfair."

President Schurman urged that the game should not be abelished. Modify it, he suggested, so as to remove the extra hazards, but to abolish it, he asserted, would be to do away with the most popular sport of the youth of the country and of the American people themselves.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.-Members of the American Base Ball association, at their annual meeting here today, became involved in a dispute, and the final outcome was that President Joseph D. O'Brien will retain his office by holding over, as the league is equally divided in the controversy.

The dispute today started in the board of directors' meeting. Mike Kelly, who, as president of the St. Paul club last spring, was elected chairman of the board of directors, claimed that he still was at the head of the board and that his term did not expire until the end of the base ball year, some time in January. According to the constitution of the American Base Ball association Kelly ceased to be
